

POLL OF STUDENT OPINION ON PEACE TO BE CONDUCTED

Literary Digest, Association College Editors Plan Straw Vote.

BALLOTING HELD IN JAN.

Questions Include National Defense, International Cooperation.

About 200,000 students in 150 American colleges and universities, including the University of Nebraska, will cast ballots in the first Literary Digest-Association of College Editors peace poll early in January, according to announcement recently made from headquarters of the latter organization in New York City.

Included in the peace poll questions will be inquiry as to student opinion pertaining to national defense, invasion, army and navy forces, government control of armament and munition industries, conscription of capital and men in time of war, and the League of Nations.

College editors, both members and non-members of the Association of College Editors, have been co-operating this fall in an effort to stimulate interest of students in promoting international understanding and co-operation in the hope of ultimately achieving and ensuring international peace and security.

In the campaign carried on this fall college editors have approached the problem of arousing student interest from two angles.

First came the open letter to William Randolph Hearst, head of the Hearst chain of papers and the United States' most ardent nationalist. In this open letter were listed several questions referring to Mr. Hearst's policy and beliefs on international affairs and relations. This letter was published in the Daily Nebraskan on Armistice Day, Sunday, Nov. 11. Mr. Hearst's answer, address to the Association, appeared in the Tuesday, Nov. 27, edition of the Daily Nebraskan.

Second comes the peace poll to be conducted this winter. Results of the poll will be mailed to the papers of each school participating in the voting, and will be published in those various publications.

Unaffiliated Men and Women To Attend Function in Ellen Smith.

GET ACQUAINTED PARTY

Inaugurating a new means of helping barbs to become acquainted with each other, open house will be held for all unaffiliated students Sunday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith hall. All barb men and women are invited to attend, according to Evelyn Diamond, president of the barb A. W. S. league. If the affair is successful, similar functions will be arranged for next semester, Miss Diamond indicated.

A program of music has been planned for the afternoon, which will consist of an hour's radio broadcast of the symphony orchestra concert, piano selection by Lenore Teal, and violin numbers by Mrs. S. F. Bergen.

In the receiving line will be Evelyn Diamond, Dorothy Beers, Nora DeCoy, June Wegener, Ardis Graybell, Joe Stover, Burton Marvin, Wilbur Erickson, Joe Ruricka, Adolph Cimfel, and William Newcomer.

Special guests that have been invited for the afternoon are Chancellor and Mrs. Burnett, Dean Amanda Heppner, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Dean and Mrs. Thompson, Miss Bernice Miller, Dr. Elizabeth Williamson, Miss Marguerite Klinker, Miss Katherine Faulkner, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Kurz, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Frantz and Dr. and Mrs. Bouswama.

Rowena Swenson will be in charge of refreshments during the first part of the afternoon, and Ruth Longstreet will serve during the second hour. Eleanor Bell, Beth Phillips, Edna Lee, Virginia Pitchford, Gayle Caley, Iris Knox, Lillotte Jacques and Doris Riisness will assist.

Professors Attend State Teachers Meet

Teachers college professors from the university attended and took part in the delegate assembly of the Nebraska State Teachers association, which met in Lincoln Saturday. Dr. G. W. Rosenlof is chairman of the committee on public relations and Dr. F. E. Henszlik is chairman of the research council.

Miss Fedde Speaks On Life, Philosophy Of Ellen Richards

"Know better and you will do better," was Ellen Richards' philosophy, according to a talk given by Miss Marguerite Fedde at the annual Ellen Richards dinner, given by the Home Economics association in the Home Economics building.

Miss Fedde gave a brief sketch of Ellen Richards' life. She was the first woman to graduate from the school of Technology in Boston, and one of the founders of Home Economics associations, whose membership now totals 10,000 girls.

The program at the dinner consisted of special selections on the piano by Virginia Keim, an impromptu skit, and songs on home economics, parodies on old favorites, led by Ruth Carsten. Ardeth Von Housen, president of the association, gave the address of welcome and introduced Miss Fedde.

The theme of the dinner, the home of plenty, was carried out by decorations of bowls of fruit. Favors were little houses typifying homemaking.

CHECKUP REVEALS ONLY FEW CLOTHES RECEIVED IN DRIVE

Y. W. to Stage Active House to House Canvass to Bolster Campaign.

With but few donation received thus far in the Daily Nebraskan-Y. W. C. A. old clothes drive to aid needy Lincoln families, leaders of the drive Saturday revealed that an active campaign including house-to-house canvass of the fraternities and sororities will be staged this week in an attempt to make the drive a success.

Plans for the week made at a meeting of the committee in charge Saturday include the appointment of representatives in each sorority house to supervise collection of old clothes, and the preparation of posters which will be distributed among fraternity houses this week. An attempt will also be made to secure someone to take charge of collecting clothing in each fraternity house, it was indicated.

To date but three organized houses have submitted donations, according to Kathryn Winquist, who is chairman of the drive. Houses or individuals desiring to contribute articles to the drive may bring them to the Y. W. C. A. office in Ellen Smith hall, the Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple, or to the Daily Nebraskan office.

Publication of the honor roll has been deferred until after the first day of the fraternity-sorority house drive.

Girls supervising the drive in their respective houses are: Eleanor Kelly, Phi Mu; Mildred Holland, Delta Delta; Doris Brandes, Chi Omega; Alice Black, Alpha Chi Omega; Carol Umberger, Alpha Delta Theta; Marjorie Kryger, Alpha Omicron Pi; Regina Hunkins, Alpha Xi Delta; Jane Barbour, Delta Gamma; Hazel Bradstreet, Gamma Phi Beta; Georgeanna Lehr, Kappa Delta; Dorothy Bartos, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jane Holland, Pi Beta Phi; Doris Ehlers, Raymond Hall; Betty McGrew, Chi Omega; Betty Hoyt, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Members of freshman commission meeting this week have been asked to bring enough material to work on during the meeting period. Two girls from each group are in charge of making personal contacts with needy families and distributing the clothing.

According to a survey made by the chamber of commerce, sponsors of the drive, there are 3,718 families with children in Lincoln who are living off reb-f rolls.

ENGINEERS DISCUSS METHODS OF REFINING

Students Report on Plants Visited During Summer Thursday Evening.

Methods of operation, plant personnel, research, and development in several of the oil refineries of the middle west were discussed by members of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at a meeting, Thursday evening. Speakers on the program were four chemical engineering students who the past summer made inspection trips to various refineries.

Earl Hoffmeyer, who visited refineries at Casper, Wyoming, brought out the difference between the cooperation in laboratories of several plants due to personalities of the head chemists. Howard Cain who was at Cyril, Oklahoma, presented facts concerning asphalt, and Hugh Gray who visited Borger, Texas, discussed the carbon black plants of that state.

James Urban, who visited plants at Eldorado, Arkansas City and Augusta, Kansas, gave a resume of the new process for recovering litharge from doctor's solution in the treatment of gasoline.

At the business meeting following the program, the group voted to join the national society of the American Institute of Chemical engineers.

Teachers to Confer With Moritz Dec. 11

All students interested in securing teaching positions for the school year 1935-1936 are invited to meet with Mr. R. D. Moritz, director of the department of educational service (The Teachers' Bureau) on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 4 o'clock in Social Science auditorium. Students having classes at this hour may secure excuses from Dean Thompson's office in order to attend the meeting.

ENGINEERS SCHEDULE TOUR OMAHA PLANTS

Electrical Communications Subject of Program At Dinner.

An inspection tour thru several Omaha plants to be followed by a dinner and program on electrical communications is scheduled for the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Thursday, Dec. 13th.

In the afternoon the Telephone Building, radio station WOW, the arc furnace of the Omaha Structural Steel company, and the Nebraska Power company are to be visited by the engineers. At 6 o'clock the society will attend a dinner at the Omaha club which is to be followed by a program consisting of motion pictures with sound, illustrating, some of the technical aspects of network broadcasting, ship-to-shore telegraphy, and other communications equipment.

The tour of the Omaha plants will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the engineering group will leave Lincoln at noon Thursday according to Prof. F. W. Norris, sponsor of the society. Approximately forty are expected to make the trip.

FOUR FROM FACULTY TO IRRIGATION MEET

Burnett, Ferguson, Burr, Condra Leave for North Platte.

Among the university faculty members who will attend the convention of the Nebraska State Irrigation association in North Platte Monday and Tuesday are: Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering, Dr. G. E. Condra of the conservation and survey division, and Dean W. W. Burr of the college of agriculture.

'MESSIAH' WILL BE PRESENTED IN LINCOLN DEC. 16

Thirty-Ninth Consecutive Year Production Has Been Given Here.

For the thirty-ninth consecutive year "The Messiah" will be presented in Lincoln Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16, at 3 o'clock, in the university coliseum. Again the Lincoln Symphony orchestra joins with the university choral union in presenting this annual prelude to the Christmas holidays. Howard Kirkpatrick, director of the university school of music, is to direct the production for the eighth time.

Soloists to appear this year with "The Messiah" are able and well known performers in the field of singing. Mary Ann Kaufman Brown of Chicago will carry the soprano, and Louise Harrison Glade, also of Chicago, has been chosen for the contralto. Parvin Witte, professor of voice at the university, will be the tenor soloist, having carried the same parts with the production last year. Hermann Decker, associate professor of music theory here, will appear as bass soloist.

Mary Ann Kaufman Brown, soprano, has a wide reputation as an oratorio singer. She has appeared often as soloist with musical organizations, notably the Chicago (Continued on Page 4.)

Manter Tells of Meeting Notorious Group on Charles Island During Trip To Galapagos January, February

Long before a tuna-fishing ship discovered two bodies on Marchena island, some 3,000 miles from Los Angeles, Dr. H. W. Manter of the university zoology department visited the Galapagos. Before American newspapers and magazines began running stories and pictures of the inhabitants of these isolated islands, Dr. Manter talked to the acts of Baroness Eloise Bosquet de Wagner Wehrborn are not based on fact, Dr. Manter believes. He described her as being a brilliant and eccentric woman, who spoke five languages fluently, and who had hoped to build a huge hotel there for vacationers.

FACULTY SENATE VOTES APPROVAL LIBRARY REPORT

Action Features Saturday Morning Meeting of University Men.

PLAN GOES TO REGENTS Committee Recommends the Board Ask Legislature for New Structure.

Approval of the report of the library committee favoring a new library building at the University of Nebraska with the recommendation that it be placed before the board of regents for their consideration featured the meeting of the University Senate this morning. The desired structure would probably cost about $1,000,000.

As a result of its survey, the library committee of the University Senate recommended in its report that the board of regents of the university be requested to ask the legislature of 1935 for a library building, to allow the University Senate to name a committee of its members which shall cooperate with the administration in selecting the site and approving the plans of the proposed library, and to recommend to the legislature that it enact legislation whereby the Nebraska Public Library shall be incorporated in the University library and its activities placed under the jurisdiction of the board of regents. They also recommended that all printed matter and documents which are purchased with university funds shall be recorded in the catalogues of the University library.

The University Senate is a group composed of ranking faculty members of the various colleges and acts in matters that concern more than one college of the University. The library committee was composed of Dean C. H. Oldfather, chairman; Prof. S. M. Corey; Prof. W. L. DeBaur; Prof. G. L. Peltier; and Dean F. W. Upon.

Hunting Cat Newest Addition to Breed Museum Collection

A cheetah, or hunting cat is the most recent mount to be placed in the University Museum in Morrill hall. It was killed in Africa by Adam Breede, and is a part of the collection which he presented to the museum.

Among its distinctive features are claws that do not draw in and out as do those of ordinary cats; its long slender legs and long tail; and its cream, black spotted fur. For years its ancestors were the cats of the royal households of India.

WATER FLUCTUATIONS STATE SURVEY PROBLEM

Mr. Waste Seeks Condra's Aid in Study Irrigation Possibilities.

Mr. H. A. Waste of the Conservation and Survey Division and United States Geological Survey called on Dr. Condra during the past week in order to discuss some of the problems connected with his work of determining ground water fluctuations in Nebraska.

Mr. Waste's work largely consists of checking the water level in three hundred and twenty-five wells in the state every six weeks. This study is made to determine ground water fluctuations in response to precipitation, irrigation, stream flow and in some cases pumpage.

Although the study will reveal significant data on ground water levels in all parts of the state, it is watched with particular interest by people in irrigated districts or in sections where irrigation is contemplated.

Post-Vacation Usually Brings Cases Over-Eating

Doctors and nurses in the student health department at the university found new cases last week of overeating and indigestion after the Thanksgiving holidays. Dr. R. A. Lyman, director of the department, finds that student vacations of more than a few days brings an increased number of students with colds and sickness to the offices for treatment, however.

The November report for the department showed 1,621 students taken care of by examination or treatment during the month. This included 671 men, and 442 women; and 141 treatments at the college of agriculture campus. Inspections at the nursery school amounted to 240. Doctors made 24 house calls, and took 20 X-ray pictures.

Various other student services were given in the regular routine of the department, with 59 examinations for swimming and intramurals, 18 examinations for FERA students and workers, and 364 prescriptions filled at the dispensary. A few cases of sore throat and cold caused 83 hospital days to be spent in the infirmary by students, the doctors reported.

LION'S SHARE OF BIG SIX MEETS AWARDED HUSKERS THIS YEAR

Conference Championship Tilts Will Be Staged In Lincoln.

Conference championship meets in swimming, outdoor track, golf, and tennis were awarded Nebraska at the Big Six conference meeting in Kansas City Friday and Saturday.

Other title meets awarded were wrestling to Ames, and indoor track to Missouri. Championship meets are to be known in the future as enterprises, it was decided. By this arrangement, the lion's share of conference championship meets was donated to the Huskers. The swimming, outdoor track, and tennis meets were held in Lincoln last year.

Sitting in their annual session overseers of the Big Six conference also officially recognized golf as a part of the valley schools' athletic programs, reinstated baseball to that position, and restored the fourth official in football games. They then turned their attention to developing the 1936 and 1937 gridiron schedules.

1935 will bring a restoration of the field judge on the grid, a position vacated for two years. The task of timing still will be delegated to the electric clocks, leaving the field judge to act solely as an aide of the other officials and confere in case of indecision.

Another important change was made in basketball squads. The nine player limit imposed on coaches was increased to 10 as a consequence of the introduction of the quadruple round-robin, in which all conference schools except Nebraska and Iowa State will participate in the season about to get under way.

All members except Kansas, which has no team, agree to take part in the race for the Big Six baseball championship, with a minimum of eight conference games each. No title was awarded in baseball last season, but will be in 1935.

Nebraska's nine-game football schedule for 1935, including, in addition to the five conference foes, games with Chicago, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, and Oregon State, was the only one complete.

ALUMNUS TO APPEAR IN MODERNISTIC COVER

Old University Hall Will Be Sketched in New Style Saturday Issue.

Old University hall appears in modernistic dress on the cover of the December issue of the Nebraska Alumnus, which will be leased next Saturday, according to Violet Cross, editor of the publication. The cover design was drawn by Marvin Robinson, assistant instructor in the department of architecture.

Departing from the usual policy of the magazine, the December issue will include a Christmas short story, "Yuletide Ride," written by Hoyt Barnaby, a senior in the school of journalism.

Photographs of skits from the Kosmet Klub fall revue will occupy a page of the magazine, grouped around a picture of Nebraska's Sweetheart of 1934, Miss Sancha Kilbourn. An interview with Ingeborg Oesterlin, German exchange student in the chemistry department, is written for this issue by Lorraine Campbell, junior in teacher's college.

The Librarian's Page, written by Gilbert Doane, university librarian, has been made a regular feature for the remainder of the year. On the campus, News of the Classes, and other regular departments will be included in this issue.

Norris Gives Demonstration. Prof. F. W. Norris of the electrical engineering department presented an electrical demonstration at the Everett junior high school last Wednesday.

PRESENTATION OF VIOLET CROSS IS CLIMAX OF BALL

Nation's Largest Advanced Cadet Corps Pays Tribute to Honorary Colonel.

5,000 ATTEND AFFAIR

Colorful Grand March Ends Impressive Ceremony Friday Night.

With the largest advanced cadet corps in the nation standing at attention in her honor, Violet Cross, university senior from Fremont, was presented as Nebraska's new honorary colonel at the university's twenty-sixth annual Military Ball Friday night in the Coliseum. Miss Cross, who is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, is president of Mortar Board, president of Theta Sigma Phi, journalism sorority, and editor of the Nebraska Alumnus.

Clad in full dress uniform of scarlet and cream, Miss Cross stepped from a huge disc occupying the center of the coliseum stage, and bearing the coat of arms of the U. S. army, while some 5,000 dancers and spectators looked on. Above the disc, which was on a raised platform, were the words "honorary colonel" while beneath it was Miss Cross' name.

Flanked on either side by sponsors of the various units and members of a crack Pershing Rifle squad, Miss Cross was met by Cadet Colonel Chas. Galloway who presented her with a bouquet of white flowers and escorted her from the stage down the arch of sabers which senior officers formed the length of coliseum. They were followed by Lt. Colonel Elmer Brackett and Miss Phyllis Jean Humphrey, regimental sponsor. Sponsors then joined their cadet officers and followed the colonel and honorary colonel as the first unit in the colorful grand march for which the R. O. T. C. band, directed by Billy Quick, played. Sponsors wore cream overseas hats trimmed in scarlet.

Miss Cross Addressed Crowd. Following the grand march, Miss Cross addressed the crowd over the amplifying system. At this time officers presented their dates with miniature silver sabers inscribed with "N. R. O. T. C. '34." This practice will be made an annual tradition, it was indicated after the ball.

The ball, which ushered in the university formal season, was a gala event with the grand march at once a military review and colorful formal fashion parade. More (Continued on Page 3.)

FALL NEBRASKA LAW BULLETIN OFF PRESS

Article on Legislation by Merrill Features New Issue.

TEWELL AUTHOR ESSAY

The fall quarterly edition of the Nebraska Law Bulletin, official organ of the State Bar association, and edited by the law school, came of the press Friday ready for distribution.

An article by Maurice H. Merrill, professor of law, entitled "Legislation: Subjunctive and Amendment," features this issue. For the State Bar association section, J. Leonard Tewell, judge of the thirteenth judicial district, Sidney, has written an essay on "Admission to the Bar and Disbarment."

Two student notes, which are lengthy discussions of law cases, and twelve recent cases comprise the student section together with a page on the news of the law school.

Faculty editor-in-chief of the Bulletin is Prof. Lester B. Orfield, who is assisted by fourteen student editors who edit the notes and recent cases. Each year these editors are chosen from the junior and senior law classes on the basis of scholarship.

Serving as student editor-in-chief is W. Merrill Whitman, and as associate editor, Wilbur L. Johnson. Other student editors are Henry Hubbard Foster, Jr., Meredith Nelson, Duane K. Peterson, Robert H. Rathbun, Herman S. Rosenblatt, Donald J. Shirley, Seymour S. Sidner, Jr., David R. Werner, Homer G. Witae, Justin R. Wolf, Flavell A. Wright, and Harry West.

At the conclusion of the edition a letter from Scott M. Loftin, president of the American Bar association, is printed expressing the purposes of the organization. Also in the bar association section appears an announcement of the association's thirty-fifth annual meeting, Dec. 27 and 28, in Omaha, at which Judge Oris L. Phillips, U. S. court of appeals Tenth circuit and Honorable Charles S. Whitman, former governor of New York, will speak.
