TWENTY HOUSES CONTRIBUTE TO WELFARE DRIVE

(Continued From Page 3.) for his own children," she added. All clothing has been sorted and stacked in the basement of Ellen Smith hall, and is ready for additional repairing, fitting, and packing by freshman commission workers, who will spend their meeting periods this week in preparing it for distribution. The bundles will be taken to families during Christmas vacation, up to the Monday before Christmas.

Names of nine dependent families have been obtained from the Lincoln Social Welfare offices to be recipients of the gifts. Two representatives of each commission group have visited one of the families to discover their needs. On Monday, some groups took mothers of the families shopping for gifts made by individuals in the commission.

Lack of articles of men's clothing in contributions was pointed out by Elaine Fontein, Y. W. C. A. president, who asked that fraternities still bring any bundles that they could prepare within the next few days to Ellen Smith hall. "We need not only larger articles such as boots and overcoats, but sweat shirts, socks, belts, ties, shoes, and handkerchiefs as well," Miss Fontein aid. Sponsors of the drive indicated that there was an excess of a few articles, which would be turned over to the Social Welfare offices and the Red Cross society. The campaign has been handled in sorority houses by freshman girls appointed from commission groups. Members of the Y. W. C. A. committee heading the drive are Kathryn Winqvist, chairman; Mildred Holland, Eleanor Kelley, Dorist Burnett, and Virginia McAdams.

SIGMA ETA CHI GIVES CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Congregational Sorority Holds Party Sunday Evening. Pledges of Sigma Eta Chi, Congregational sorority, entertained at a Christmas party Sunday night at the home of Henrietta Sanderson. Those in charge of the party arrangements were Eileen Honnold, Helen Mrasek, and Marian Hullfish. A piano solo by Peggy Heald opened the Christmas program. Other numbers on the program included a vocal trio, composed of Mary Cassel, Martha Leffers, and Eileen Honnold, and a Christmas story told by Gertrude Harford, sponsor. After the program the evening was spent informally. Gifts were exchanged around the Christmas tree, and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.
