KOSMET ORDERS INITIAL TRYOUTS FOR SPRING PLAY

Members Begin Selection of Players Wednesday Night In Temple Theater.

SHOW HAS 33 IN CAST

Klub Appoints Eight Workers Production Committees at Tuesday Session.

First tryouts for the cast of the 1935 Kosmet Klub spring show, "Kiss Columbus," will be held on the second floor of the Temple theater building at 7 o'clock Wednesday night...

"We want all fraternities to send candidates to try out." Flansburg stated, "especially those with musical or dancing talent." Final elimination and judging of all the songs and specialty numbers will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday night in the same rooms.

Individual tryouts have been planned for this year, in place of the appearances before all other contestants, to afford the Klub a better opportunity to determine the ability of the entrants.

Kosmet Klub workers will hold their first meeting in preparation for the spring show Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Kosmet Klub offices. Eight workers production committees were appointed Tuesday by President Tom Davies.

On the production committee, Ted Bradley, Duke Reid and Floyd Baker were assigned, Bill Stenten, Hugh Rathburn, Bob Shallenburg, Bob Funk, Roy Kennedy and Lewis Cass were named to work on the business committee.

Jack Pace, George Ramel, Dwight Perkins and Charles Alexandre will assist with scenery and stage management, and Gene Franz, Lloyd Friedman and Ross Martin will work on the properties committee.

Bill Marsh and Vance Leininger will serve on the music committee, and George Pipal on publicity. On costumes and makeups, Bill Col- (Continued on Page 2.)

CAPTAIN SCOTT TALKS TO Y.M.C.A. MEMBERS

Organization Will Discuss Both Sides of World Peace Question.

MEETING ON WEDNESDAY

Speaking on "Preparedness as a Means to World Peace" Captain W. T. Scott of the university R. O. T. C. unit will address the Forum group of the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, Feb. 20, in the Temple building.

It was stated by Charles Hulac, president of the Y, that while the organization is definitely against preparedness and constantly works to abolish the compulsory feature of the drill course on the campus, the members are nevertheless anxious to hear both sides of the question.

Joe Nuquist, chairman of the Y program committee, has announced that a discussion of both views on the best way to the common goal of world peace will be offered after Mr. Scott's talk. It is hoped he said that proponents of the preparedness view will be present.

Dysinger Believes There Is Too Much Memorizing Today

Agreeing with the belief which Dr. William Mayo, noted physician, pointed out in a recent article that there is too much learning by ear today, Prof. D. W. Dysinger of the psychology department commented that there is too much memorizing done by the students in their courses today.

"We are an eye people," says the eminent doctor. "We have some chance of really learning by eye. Whereas, by the ear method, about all we can do is try to remember what we have heard."

On the other hand, T. T. Bullock, professor in economics and business law, commented, "Recently I have been told that many students can learn better by ear than by eye, and since being told that, I have thought more highly of the lecture method than before."

TRAVEL CONTEST PRIZE WINNER TO SAIL ON JUNE 26

Essays for Vacation Cruise Must Be Submitted by Middle of April.

Sailing from New York on June 26, aboard the S. S. Aquitania, an undergraduate student who presents an original and before April 15 the best "Study of the Educational Value in Travel" will set forth in his or her essay, why the student desires to travel, the bureau of university travel is offering this prize vacation cruise for the best essay on the above topic.

Any college student, who has the signed approval of the college advisor, and has presented his application to the bureau of university travel prior to March 15, is eligible. Italy, Spain, Africa, Portugal, England, Paris, Rome, and Oxford, are just a few of the important centers to be visited. The essay is to be based on personal experience, the purpose of travel, why the student desires to travel, and suggestions by which travel might be made more educational.

The article, which is not to exceed 2500 words, will be judged on its contents, the manner and form of presentation, and its neatness, by a committee appointed by the president of the bureau of university travel.

Applications must be in by March 15, and papers by April 15. The winner will be announced the fifteenth of May. The committee reserves the right to publish part or all of any paper. The including of postage with the essay will insure its return to the writer.

The group will leave New York June 26, aboard the S. S. Aquitania, and will return, aboard the same ship, Sept. 6. Applications, which may be procured through the office of Dean Oldfather in SS 112, are to be mailed to the Vaccation Cruise Contest, Bureau of University Travel, Newton, Massachusetts.

NEBRASKA DEBATERS ENGAGE IOWA STATE TEAM ON WEDNESDAY

Teams Present One Contest Over Radio, Other at Lincoln High.

Two debates, one to be broadcast over KFOR and the other to be held at Lincoln high, will be presented Wednesday by Nebraska debaters against Iowa State. Present activities also include preparation of a former debate for publication in the Intercollegiate Debate Handbook.

Herbert Kaplan and Harold Soderlund are scheduled to uphold the negative side of the proposition, "Resolved, That the Agricultural Adjustment Program of the Federal Government Should be Abandoned at the end of the 1935 Crop Season," against an affirmative Ames team, composed of Alfred Hasterlo and Glenn Brockett, seniors in the college of engineering.

The first debate, which is the one to be broadcast, will be on the air from 10:40 a. m. to 11:30. At 3:10 the school's debate classes.

The copy of the debate which Kaplan and Soderlund presented in a duel against Kansas State on Jan. 8 at Beatrice is the one that has been chosen for printing in the debate handbook, which is published yearly by the H. W. Wilson Co. of New York. In today's afternoon debate, the speeches which are to be published will be given, and stenographic notes will be taken as a final check before copies of the debate are sent to New York. It was announced by G. A. White, debate coach.

Supreme Court Gold Clause Decision Gives Rise to Considerable Comment On University Campus by Instructors

The decision of the supreme court Monday in regard to the gold clause has caused considerable comment on the campus—what with the lawyers arguing the impairment of contracts involved, and others interested in the rational application of certain provisions which may be varied with the change of conditions.

Prof. Harold Stoke of the political science department says: "The decision simply means that the right to establish the value of money lies within the discretion of congress."

Basketball Crowd Uses Coins to Stop Ping Pong Tourney

Recalling the days of lords and dukes, when shillings were thrown from high carriages to beggars, and rivaling the basketball game itself for fast play and tumbling, was the display of the philanthropists during the half at the Oklahoma game Monday night. Never since, the last time we bought a spring wardrobe at Penney's have we seen such a deluge of cents.

Starting in order to stop the ping pong players, the shower of coins continued, as Nebraska's future rulers (now in overalls or knee pants) scrambled and fought for the possession of the little copper discs. Those sitting on the side lines from whom the pennies came could not be determined, but conclusions that they were not university students might be drawn from usual crowds at the drug stores after the game.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER WINTER ISSUE ON SALE WEDNESDAY

Popular Edition Contains Magazine's First Humor Story.

The Prairie Schooner's late winter edition, containing the much talked of humor story on Santa Claus and a short biography of the governor, will be placed on sale tables in Social Sciences and Andrews at 1 o'clock Wednesday and downtown stands the same afternoon. Limiting its classical fiction in this issue and emphasizing popular magazine material, the editors have made the winter Schooner a "campus appeal" edition. H. P. Behlen, business manager, has also announced that the price has been cut to fit the student purse.

Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising sorority, has undertaken to put this popular issue over to the students. Members of the organization are managing the newsstands on the campus as well as a corps of individual saleswomen. Prof. L. C. Wimberly, who is the Schooner founder and present editor, stated that he is awaiting with interest the reception of this issue which contains the first humor story in the magazine's eight years of existence, as well as a number of new feature departments, and the usual array of poems and short stories.

Perkin's Story Appears. Dwight Perkins' laugh getter entitled "A. W. Voding vs. the Claus Company" is written in the form of a series of letters. Perkins is an arts and science student in the university. The first epistle is from Voding Jr. who is seven (Continued on Page 3.)

BLUE PRINT DESCRIBES COLLEGE HEATING UNIT

New Issue Announces Prize For Best Article by Student.

In presenting a discussion of the products of nitro-cellulose and a consideration of the features of the new heating unit at Moulton Holyoke college, the March issue of the Nebraska Blue Print has two articles written by engineering students whose names are unannounced. It was revealed by Marvin Nuernberger, editor of the student engineering publication. The magazine will go on sale Friday, March 22nd.

In the dean's column, Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college will present his views on the registering by the state of all engineers in Nebraska. The article considers the advantages that would be gained with the licensing of the engineering profession.

TERREL SPEAKER AT WORLD FORUM LUNCHEON TODAY

Peace Representative Gives Views on International Movements.

AFFAIR AT GRAND HOTEL

Lincoln Address Terminates Lecture Series in Midwest.

Harry Terrel, western representative of the National Council for Prevention of War, addresses a World Forum luncheon today at noon in the Grand hotel. In discussing his subject, "Has the Student Peace Movement a Chance?" he will present his views on the probable effect recent college newspaper peace crusades will have on future peace of the nation.

Terrel will probably analyze the Literary Digest and Association of College Editors peace poll, recently conducted throughout the nation, giving his explanation of the significance of national student opinion, linking this phase of the talk with the general peace movement on American campuses. He will also present his opinion on the effect governmental changes in Germany would have on students were they applied in the United States.

Terrel has spent considerable time in Germany studying conditions relating to international peace. His address before the World Forum today terminates a series of lectures in midwestern colleges. His speaking tour has taken him to Wyoming, Colorado, and Missouri institutions. Following his Lincoln appearance he will return to Des Moines, his headquarters.

World Forum managers have planned the appearance of J. Frederick Libby, national executive secretary, National Council for Prevention of War, during the second week in March. He will address another Forum luncheon at that time, as well as numerous other groups in Lincoln and on the campus.
