YEARLING CINDERMEN PREPARE FOR SECOND TRICOLOR WEDNESDAY

Brilliant Frosh Assemblage Promises Smashing of Track Records.

The spotlight on the dirt track under the east stadium shifted Monday from Glen Funk's record smashing 1,320 yard and Harold Jacobsen's record tying 60 yard races last Saturday to preparation for the tricolor cinder competition this Wednesday. Funk's time of 3:12 for the three-fourth mile and Jacobsen's clocking of 6.2 seconds in the 60 yard sprint took a back seat in track competition as Coach Henry Schulte's yearling cinderites turn to last minute primping for the second tricolor engagement of the season.

5 foot 10 inches. Frank edged out the high scoring champ in the lows, however, beating him to the string in 6.4 seconds. Frank also took a first in the high sticks, and a fourth in the high jump, raising his compilation to 15 for second place. Cecil Dodd, Gothenburg pole vault ace who copped the state title in that event last spring, put in 14 counters for a third berth rating. Dodd skimmed the bar at 11 feet 11 inches in his specialty, and took a second in the broad jump and a fourth in the low sticks. Andrews' firsts in the mile and half mile put him in the fourth level with 12 points, and Turner's 10 1/2 counters placed him fifth in the array.

33 MEN REPORT FOR BASEBALL PRACTICE

Weather Fails Halt Diamond Aspirants Reporting at Ag Monday.

Although the blizzard blew the spirit of baseball clean out of the atmosphere, thirty-three men reported to Coach Wilbur Knight's first call for practice Monday afternoon at the Ag gym. Reed Poore was the only one of last year's lettermen not present but is expected to report later.

Among those out were Max Graham, Ed Orcutt, Ed Pohlman, Bob Joyce, and Ed Spurlock, lettermen from last year, and Ed Stenberg, reserve. Others were Fuelscher of Big Springs, Bardo of Lander, Wyo., Jackman of Lincoln, Kuska of Fairmont, Kaiser of Lincoln, Hiller of Hebron, Moller of Grant, Carsten of Clatonia, Foreman of Palmyra, Newton of Franklin, Dunn of Purdum, Jacobson of Bradish, Larson, Davis, Schnabel of Broken Bow, Pitzer of Neligh, the Graham brothers of Lincoln, Caley of Springfield, Mattieson of Hebron, Colo., Davidson of Casper, Wyo., Hansmire of Reynolds, Sundstrom of Louisville, Hansen, Nedrow of Lincoln, and Daft of Waverly.

The afternoon was spent limbering muscles and toughening the hands to harden the men for outdoor practice.

TUMBLERS PLACE LAST IN HAWKEYE GYMNASIIC MEET

Charlie Miller's Acrobats Are Unable to Keep Up With Iowa, Illinois Men.

Nebraska's Scarlet gymnastic quartet didn't quite possess the goods necessary to compete with Illinois and Iowa universities' highly drilled and polished acrobats Friday at Iowa City and returned home from their first meet of the season Saturday night with a third-place ranking. Illinois' gymnasts romped off with top position in the tri-meet arranged by the Hawkeyes, writing 1,083 points into the scoring book to edge out the Iowans, who finished with 1,051 markers.

But there were no sour grapes in the Cornhusker camp Monday bemoaning Nebraska's third-place showing. Coach Miller appeared highly satisfied with the performance of his acrobats and accorded them high praise for their efforts.

The four man squad which made the trip to Iowa City for the meet, which opened the second year of intercollegiate competition at Nebraska, was composed of Edward Reynolds, all-university champ in 1934-35; Jack Green, university flying rings champ; Floyd Herman, all-university winner in 1933-34; and Edward Bignell, tumbling veteran. Richard Kelly, the fifth man on the lineup, was forced from practice because of an injured hand and was unable to make the journey.

Despite their last-place performance, Coach Miller noted great improvement in his acrobatic aggregation. Eddie Reynolds, who competed in the parallel rings and side horse, displayed his best form of the season, and Edward Bignell, tumbling craftsman, scintillated in his event, but stepped over the mat and was disqualified.

Nebraska's lack of contestants was the main factor in their lack of points. Each school was allowed three representatives in each event and Iowa and Illinois were fully represented in each of the five acts.

Iowa Has Era. Nissen and Whetstein of Iowa, and Rehner of Illinois were the high point performers of the fracas. Nissen is the Big Ten tumbling champ. Rehner sparkled in the horizontal bar, and Whetstein was the all-around participant.

Member of First Graduating Class In University Tells Early Anecdotes

By ELEANOR CLIZBE. The one person who connects the present hour with the first morning of student registration at the university, almost the first student, himself, and the university's first and only corporation secretary is Judge J. S. Dales.

Although no longer an active member of the university community, Mr. Dales is still seen on the campus as a frequent visitor, and always a friend of the students. During his sixty-two years of university contacts and more than fifty-seven years of unflinching service to the school, Mr. Dales has seen 150 thousand students come and go. He first enrolled in 1871 with 129 other students; today, in 1935, we have approximately 10,500 in attendance.

When asked about his first days at the university, "Judge" Dales chuckled, his brown eyes snapped, and he replied, "I was alone in my class until I hunted up W. H. Snell and persuaded him that with my help he could register as a junior and we could then be classmates."

Mr. Dales went on to say that in 1871 there was only one open college, Arts and Science, although these five others had been provided for: Agriculture, Law, Medicine, Engineering and Fine Arts. We had only six faculty members as compared with the approximate number of 350 which we now have. The story of Mr. Dales entering the university in 1871 as the first student with advanced standing, of his being one of the two in the first graduating class of 1873, of his work as a law student (before there was a law college), of his becoming general secretary in 1875, and of his re-

4-H CLUB STRIVES TO CONSERVE WILD LIFE

As sponsored by the extension service at the ag college, a 4-H club movement to conserve and restore wild life in Nebraska was made known at a recent meeting of state 4-H leaders. L. I. Frisbie, state club leader, announced that all rural boys and girls who belong to clubs will be eligible to compete in a $500 prize contest where they will study conservation of all wild life in the state and attempt to restore it.

The movement is designed to arouse interest among the rural boys and girls in preserving and restoring the state's animal and vegetable life. In the form of a contest the plan calls for the setting up of a conservation camp at Seward in the latter part of August and winners in competition will go to the camp with all expenses paid. The state is to be divided into eight districts with five winners representing each section. Ten local leaders will also attend the camp.

Present at the Saturday meeting were Frank O'Connell, secretary of the Nebraska game and forestation committee; George McCullough, former state game commissioner in Minnesota; Earl G. Maxwell, extension forester at the ag college; M. H. Swenk, chairman of the entomology department; O. S. Bare, extension entomologist, and Ward Betzer, president of the Nebraska Izaak Walton league.
