A.S.M.E. CONVENTION FEATURES TECHNICAL ENGINEERING PAPERS

Nebraska Host to Sectional Student Conference March 21, 22.

Featuring its program with technical papers on engineering subjects, the first sectional convention of the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be held on the university campus March 21 and 22 with the local student chapter as host, it has been announced by officers of the society.

Delegates are to come from five neighboring colleges and universities, including the North Dakota Agricultural and Mechanical College, Kansas State, University of Missouri, and Missouri School of Mines.

Because of its activity in the organization, the Nebraska chapter was granted the first annual convention, it was pointed out.

The conference has as its purpose the promotion of student fellowship among the A. S. M. E. branches and also to encourage presentation of technical papers on engineering subjects.

In former years before the reorganization of the society, conferences were held annually in Chicago, but with the increase in the number of student branches it became necessary to divide the branches into smaller districts.

The delegates coming here next week represent schools in the Nebraska district.

The technical papers to be presented on the program include: Nebraska—Howard R. Simonson, "The Regenerative Vapor Cycle"; and E. D. Beachler, "Diesel Boilers."

Other speakers from the university will take part in the exhibition on Friday night.

Apparatus work, fencing, boxing, wrestling, football, and track will be among the sports to be demonstrated by the men students.

A group of women athletes will exhibit the technique of giant volleyball, soccer-baseball, and bombardment.

Mixed teams will also demonstrate badminton, tennis, and shuffleboard.

At the men's athletic section meeting on Thursday afternoon, Coach Henry Schulte will speak, and will introduce some of the Scarlet track stars in a demonstration of track techniques at the coliseum, Friday night.

LIESEN TO EXPLAIN FUNCTIONS OF A.S.C.E.

Engineers to Hold Annual Spring Banquet March 15.

Colonel T. M. Liesen, general manager of the Metropolitan Utilities for the Omaha district, and a member of the board of directors of the American Society of Civil Engineers, will speak on the functions of the national and student chapters of the organization at the ASCE annual spring banquet to be held at the Grand hotel, Friday, March 15 at 6 p. m.

R. M. Green, consulting engineer of Lincoln, will discuss the proposed bill now pending in the state legislature requiring registration of engineers in Nebraska.

Tickets to the affair may be obtained from any officer in the ASCE. All interested are invited to attend.

CORDNER, PILLING HEAD COMMITTEE ENGINEERS' WEEK

Students Select Chairman, Secretary-Treasurer Wednesday.

Walker Cordner, a senior electrical engineering student from Lincoln, and J. Robert Pilling, a senior mechanical engineer from Omaha, were elected to head the committee for Engineers' week at an election held by members of that college Wednesday.

Three hundred twenty-four votes were cast. Cordner, a representative of A. I. E. E., and a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, was chosen general chairman over Marvin Nuernberger, and Pilling, a former innocent and former president of the Corn Cobs, was named secretary-treasurer over Howard Cain.

The work of the committee for the spring function of the engineers is to control the general plans for the week, the banquet, the convocation, and the picnic.

Ballots were cast from 8 until 5 yesterday, and the polls were under the supervision of the student executive board of the college.

The four candidates were selected last week from representatives of the various engineering societies.

HUSKER COACHES SPEAK IN OMAHA MARCH 20 TO 23

100 Nebraska Athletes to Give Demonstrations At Meeting.

Athletic demonstrations and speeches by various prominent physical education heads of the country will feature the program of the convention for the Central District society of the American Physical Education association, which will be held at the Fontenelle hotel in Omaha, March 20-23.

It will be attended by many Lincoln and university faculty members and students.

Dana X. Bible, athletic director and head football coach, is to speak to the general session Thursday morning, March 21, on "Value of Athletics in the Educational Program." In connection with a physical education demonstration to be given at the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum Friday night, Bible will present some of the University of Nebraska football players in illustrating football technique.

One hundred or more students from the university will take part in the exhibition on Friday night.

Apparatus work, fencing, boxing, wrestling, football, and track will be among the sports to be demonstrated by the men students.

A group of women athletes will exhibit the technique of giant volleyball, soccer-baseball, and bombardment. Mixed teams will also demonstrate badminton, tennis, and shuffleboard.

At the men's athletic section meeting on Thursday afternoon, Coach Henry Schulte will speak, and will introduce some of the Scarlet track stars in a demonstration of track techniques at the coliseum, Friday night.

Charles E. Miller, of the department of physical education here and coach of the gymnastic team, will preside at the round table discussion on "The Teaching of Apparatus and Tumbling," also on Thursday afternoon.

STUDENT PEACE GROUP DEBATES MILITARY DRILL

Soderlund Takes Negative, Stover Affirmative in Argument.

MILITARISM IS SCORED Petitions Opposing Naval Maneuvers Circulated And Signed.

Debating on the subject, "Resolved that compulsory military science should be abolished in land grant colleges," was the principal part of the program of the student peace organization meeting that was held Wednesday evening in the Temple theater.

Harold Soderlund defended the negative side of the argument with John Stover upholding the affirmative side.

Stover, in seeking abolishment of compulsory training, began with a short history of the land grant colleges and proceeded to break down the three main arguments of those in favor of compulsory drill, namely, that it creates a spirit of patriotism, and that it is physically beneficial.

He stated that there are many other forms of exercise that would be more beneficial physically and advocated a compulsory physical education course for boys as well as girls.

Patriotism, according to Stover's argument, must not be forced, but must be voluntary. Therefore, any patriotic spirit aroused by compulsory drill cannot be sincere.

Petitions in opposition to the coming naval maneuvers in the Pacific ocean within striking distance of Japan were passed around at the meeting for signatures.

DOLLAR LINES STAGE WORLD TOUR IN FREE SOUND PICTURE SHOW

Geography Department to Sponsor Showing in Social Science.

Under the auspices of the geography department, an illustrated sound picture entitled "A Trip Around the World" will be put on by the Dollar Steamship line in social science auditorium Thursday evening, March 14, at 8 o'clock.

According to Dr. N. A. Bengston, chairman of the geography department, this free entertainment offers students an excellent opportunity to get a glimpse of actual seaport conditions in every part of the world.

"Advance reports preceding the film, have termed it as well worth while," Mr. Bengston stated.

Along with the illustrated scenes of port conditions and life at the principle stopping places of world travelers in American, tropic, Oriental, and Mediterranean harbors, the film features descriptions by men who were present when the actual scenes were photographed.

The native tongues spoken at each of the ports were recorded by the sound apparatus and will be reproduced in conjunction with the film.

The full movie-tone set-up of the steamship line is portable equipment, but is designed to equal the stationary machines in efficiency, according to the reports of this entertainment. A representative of the Dollar-Steamship line will receive callers interested in arranging a travel tour during the coming week at one of the Lincoln hotels, Dr. Bengston stated.

Her first appearance will be at a luncheon meeting Thursday at 12 o'clock at the city Y. W. C. A. She will speak on "Trends in the Student Movement in the United States." At 5 o'clock Thursday she will speak at a special meeting at Ellen Smith hall, to which all Y. W. members are invited to attend, according to Miss Pernice Miller, Y. W. secretary.

Miss Miller also announced that all staff meetings on Thursday would give way to Miss Morton's schedule.

Miss Morton comes to the university after a tour of the country, in which she visited 368 student Y. W. C. A. organizations. Last summer she attended the World Student Christian Federation which met in Switzerland.

SENIOR LEADERS CONVENE TODAY

Committee on Organization Calls for Meeting Thursday To Decide on Course of Action for Initial Measure Toward Class Unification.

FACULTY APPROVES STEPS TAKEN BY GROUP Graduating Heads of All Campus Activities and Senior Honoraries Asked Attend Conference in Social Science Auditorium This Afternoon.

With faculty approval safely tucked away, the committee on senior organization completed arrangements Wednesday for a senior affair to be held Friday, March 22, as the initial step in formulation of class unity.

The exact nature of the function will not be divulged, however, until this afternoon, when senior leaders of all campus organizations will meet in Social Science auditorium at 5 o'clock.

The senior presidents of all fraternities and sororities, heads of all barb organizations, and the senior honorary groups were notified of the meeting and proposed plans by a letter from the committee which was sent out yesterday.

"The senior class," it announced, "has formulated several plans for class organization which should prove of utmost interest to all seniors, but before we can present these plans to the seniors at large, it will be necessary to get your co-operation."

It is stated in the announcement that "organization is no longer a forlorn hope, but has become a real and actual possibility."

This beginning step in the direction of complete organization has been consummated by a committee of eight seniors who were appointed to lay plans by Don Easterday, class president.

Members of the group, in addition to the president, are: Lamoine Bible, Violet Cross, Herman Rosenblatt, Jack Fischer, Marian Smith, Marjorie Filley, and Burton Marvin.

In commenting on the accomplishment of the committee, President Easterday stated, "I am gratified that the faculty has also seen the need of a senior class organization and has given us permission to go ahead with our plans."

The committee has done its work, but the real job will fall on the senior leaders of campus organizations. I sincerely hope that each and every one of those leaders will attend the meeting called for tonight so that we may proceed without further delay."

A.W.S. BOARD VIEWS ASPIRANTS FOR BEST DRESSED GIRL TITLE

Winner Revealed as Climax to Follies Style Show.

Fifteen of the campus' best dressed girls appeared before the A. W. S. Board members Wednesday noon. This appearance was only the beginning of the tryouts which will determine the university's best dressed coed, whose presentation will climax the Coed Follies and Spring Style Show, March 29.

The girls will be observed on the campus during the coming week, and the selection will be made by the A. W. S. Board members next week. The identity of the winner will not be revealed until her presentation after the style show.

The judgment will be made on taste in clothes, rather than the quantity and costliness. Posture, general appearance, poise, appropriateness, and personality of the wardrobe are also being considered.

Lois Rathburn, A. W. S. Board member in charge of the Follies, announced. Elizabeth Whitney was judged last year's best dressed girl.

Those girls who are candidates for the honor are: Janet Mathews, Cathleen Long, Jean Tucker, Margaret Higgins, Delores White, Muriel Hook, Helen McFarland, Pauline Vetter, Helen Elizabeth Lawrence, Ruth Sears, Betty Andrews, Jane Cleary, Carol Emory, Alice Mae Livingston, and Penny Cosmos.
