

Seniors Aim At Complete Organization

TRI-K CLUB HOST TO AG CAMPUS AT MIXER SATURDAY

Leroy Baughan's Ten Piece Orchestra Plays for Spring Dance.

BLUE SINGER FEATURED Chairman Marion Jackson Names Chaperons Thursday.

Dance-goers from both the city and ag campuses will hear the music of Leroy Baughan's ten piece band at the first spring mixer, sponsored by the Tri-K club, honorary agronomy organization, in the large activities hall on the farm campus Saturday evening, March 16, starting at 8:30.

According to the Tri-K dance committee, comprised of Marion Jackson, Ray Person, and Roland Wiebel, an improved wax preparation has been applied to the floor for dancing.

His recent engagements include jobs at the "Frogshop" floor in St. Joseph, Mo., at the university campus at Manhattan, Lawrence and Ames and at the Paxton hotel in Omaha.

Because we have maintained the usual low price for this mixer, despite the fact that we have secured a large orchestra and gone to considerable other expense to make the party a success.

Chairman Jackson stated, "we are expecting a large crowd from both down town and ag. There should be at least one identification card per couple, he said.

CORNHUSKER STAFF BEGINS ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN IN OMAHA

Drive Among Merchants to Continue Until March 22.

The Cornhusker business staff, consisting of Gene Pester, Don Shurtleff and Maynard Miller, will drive to Omaha Wednesday, March 20, to solicit advertising for the 1935 Cornhusker.

Section by section the new 1935 Cornhusker is gradually going to press.

The opening section has already been sent and the administration or college section will follow the first of the week. A typical page for the administration section will include a picture of the dean of each college and a letter written by him to the students.

The Beauty Queen section will be sent to press in a few days with the Junior and Senior sections. This year there are 390 Senior pictures taking up 15 pages.

The Military section will be larger this year than ever before, taking up about 35 pages.

FACULTY INVITED TO ATTEND SUNDAY TEA

Home Ec Group Sponsors St. Patrick's Day Social Event.

Home Economics association will entertain at a St. Patrick's day tea in the home economics parlors on the Ag campus Sunday from 3 until 5 o'clock to give the faculty and students more opportunity of knowing each other.

Invitations have been issued to Home Economics faculty and some faculty on the downtown campus who have Ag girls in their classes.

Y.W. SOCIAL DANCING CLASS MEETS FRIDAY

Lee Thornberry to Teach Group Gathering at Armory.

Sponsored by the Y.W. social staff, and tutored by Lee Thornberry, Lincoln dancing instructor, the social dancing class will hold their usual weekly meeting Friday night, from 7:30 to 8:15 in the Armory.

Evelyn Diamond, chairman of the social staff, is in charge of the class. She is assisted by the members of the staff, who are: Lillian Seivold, Dorothy Beers, Ruth Longstreet, Hazel Baier, Mora DeCorey, Alice Perrilli, Eleanor Bell, Iris Knox, Dorcas Crawford, and Mary White.

Staff members have invited all university students to attend the class, which is the first one to be conducted by Mr. Thornberry. A large turnout Friday night may result in a series of lessons by the dancing instructor, it was stated.

FILM VERSION OF HUGO'S DRAMA IS SHOWN SATURDAY

'Les Miserables' Tickets on Sale by French Class Members.

Sponsored by the university, the movie version of Victor Hugo's famous novel, "Les Miserables," which was produced by the International House Film company will be shown at the Stuart theater on Saturday morning, March 16, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Harry Kurz, chairman of the romance language department, declared that Nebraska is fortunate in being one of the first western universities to show the film. Prof. J. R. Wadsworth of the French department states that of all the foreign films put out by the International House corporation in the last two years, part I of "Les Miserables" is considered the most popular.

Considered one of Hugo's greatest works, the representative story of the French peasant, Jean Valjean, is familiar to all students who have taken French. Miss Barbara Sperry, French instructor, who has seen the production, reports that it is an excellent show and a production worthy of the book by the same name.

Many colleges and universities throughout the country are making arrangements to show the picture. Having been shown at Chicago, U. on March 4 and 5, Part I is scheduled to appear during March at the State University of Iowa, Alabama college, University of Cincinnati, Oberlin college, and Harvard university.

Large Crowd Assured.

A large crowd is assured at the Saturday morning show, according to advance sale of tickets, the student committee in charge of the sale reported. Many students and faculty members of the Lincoln high school have indicated that they will attend, and the sale of tickets on the campus has been satisfactory.

"Les Miserables" has been brought to Lincoln thru the efforts of Dr. Kurz and Dr. Wadsworth. Students who have helped with arrangements are: Mary Yoder, Evelyn Diamond, Selma Goldstein, Joy Hale, and Marjorie Smith.

Razors Are Out! Nebraskan Beard Contest Starts Today

For the first time in the history of Nebraska university, there has been a dividend declared on whiskers—and no beating around the bush! Believe it or not, Joe College can now sleep till five minutes after class starts instead of just two, because from now till March 23rd stubbles are given free reign and shaving passes into the discard.

The shrubbery may be groomed in any style from the handiebar moustache of the gay 90's to the flowing grace of a Santa Claus beard. All Nebraska University students have to do to win the $15 put up by the Stuart theater is to grow a beard!

The contest, inspired by the funny faces in "Ruggles of Red Gap," is open to every male student in the college who can grow a beard! And on the face of it the stunt will no doubt alter many a campus map!

RAMSAY STAR OF PLAYERS COMEDY OPENING MONDAY

Fred Ballard's New Show in World Premier on Temple Stage.

BAILEY SECOND LEAD

Small Nebraska Town Is Setting for New Production.

Ray Ramsay, secretary of the Alumni association, will play the leading role, that of Eggleston Sterns, in the University Players' coming attraction, "My Lucky Stars," which will open on the stage of the Temple theater starting next Monday, continuing until Saturday. The comedy, which is making its debut on the Nebraska stage, was written by a former Nebraskan, Fred Ballard, now a popular New York playwright.

Ramsay, in portraying Sterns, usually referred to as "Eggs," will picture a character who is a great believer in astrology and who thinks that because he was born in December, under the sign of Capricornus, the world is against him. To this unlucky sign he also accredits his rheumatism, and gives up all attempts to earn a living. Remembering the outstanding success that Ramsay made in "The Late Christopher Bean" which was presented by the players last year, his ability to portray this comedy role to the perfection is unquestioned.

Bailey Takes Co-Lead. Playing the other leading part with Ramsay will be Art Bailey, who takes the part of a fifteen-year-old tramp kid, who has got

FIVE COLLEGES SEND DELEGATES TO ASME DISTRICT CONVENTION

Nebraska Society Granted First Conference of Student Groups.

With delegates from five neighboring colleges and universities here March 21 and 22, the first annual district convention of the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be held on the Nebraska campus with the local ASME chapter in charge. The Nebraska society was granted the first district conference because of its activity in the national organization, it was pointed out by officers of the group.

In former years before the ASME was reorganized the annual conference was held in Chicago, but with the increase in the number of student chapters it became necessary to divide the branches into smaller districts. The delegates coming here next week represent schools in Nebraska's district and are attending their first district meeting here.

The program for the two day gathering consists of technical papers on engineering subjects as presented by the delegates. The reading of these papers along with the promotion of student fellowship is the primary purpose of the conference, officers of the society stated.

University of Missouri, Kansas State, North Dakota Agricultural and Mechanical College, Missouri School of Mines and University of Kansas are the schools sending representatives.

now on—starting today and lasting till March 23rd, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Five. Any campus mug may enter! It's wide open to everyone who can grow a beard—except bearded women! And, as a special inducement to enter the contest early, the first two men from each fraternity and the first ten non-fraternity men who register as contestants at the office of the Daily Nebraskan today will be invited as our guests to see the preview of "Ruggles of Red Gap," tonight at the Stuart theater.

BAPTIST STUDENTS HOLD PARTY FRIDAY

Marguerite McGregor to Direct Games for Gathering.

Young people of the four Lincoln Baptist churches will have a St. Patrick's party Friday evening, March 15, at the Baptist Student House, 1440 Que Street.

Miss Marguerite McGregor will direct the games. The program will feature a vocal solo by William Miller, violin duet by Misses Lois Ogle and Della Kramer, accompanied by Miss Twyla Ogle, and a stereoscopic view of western Nebraska, shown by Mr. David Koch of the geography department.

The house will be decorated with shamrocks, and refreshments will carry out the same idea. All students are welcomed.

Stella Spurlock Guest Of Y.W. March 13, 14

Miss Stella Spurlock, secretary of the Rocky Mountain region of the Y.W.C.A., was a guest at the university Y.W. Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Spurlock came through on a tour of the Y.W. organizations in her region. She left Thursday afternoon.

FIRST FARMERS' FAIR PEP RALLY HELD THURSDAY

Committee Assignment List Is Posted Following Demonstration.

Students on Ag campus gathered at Ag hall at 7 o'clock Thursday for the first rally in preparation for Farmers' Fair, all day celebration to be held May 4.

L. K. Crowe, professor of dairy husbandry, showed pictures of last year's fair in order to create interest and enthusiasm for the project. Prof. H. P. Davis, chairman of the department of dairy husbandry, told of the purpose of the fairs.

Group singing was led by Don Joy, with Gladys Klopp accompanying at the piano. Louis Schick, fair board member, presided at the gathering, and Charles Rochford, fair manager, spoke to the group.

The list of committees for work on the project were posted following the rally. The list included the name of everyone on ag campus. The Farmers' Fair Mixer to be given March 22 is the next function planned by the executive group in preparation for the fair.

Y.W.C.A. EXECUTIVE SECRETARY SPEAKS TO NEBRASKA GROUP

Helen Morton Emphasizes Worth of Voluntary Service.

"A student Y. W. organization which is the servant of other groups and whose members use it as a stepping stone for personal prestige cannot be vital," stated Miss Helen Morton, executive secretary of the National Student Council of the national Y. W. C. A. in a talk at a special meeting of all Y. W. members held in Ellen Smith hall Thursday afternoon at 5.

Miss Morton declared that one of the primary objectives necessary to carry on a successful organization is that all work must be done voluntarily. She does not favor the method employed by some colleges of having all women students automatically become members of the Y. W. C. A. With this method, she believes, the organization can have no real religious significance for its members.

Voluntary Service Best. "Voluntary service," Miss Morton continued, "is the only justification for our continuance. We must work our years' plans out with brains and not merely rely on the traditions of an organization."

She gave a short sketch of the national organization describing the various regions and the makeup of the national staff of the Y. W. C. A. and of her experiences at a Canadian and other international conferences.

STUDENTS, FACULTY ATTEND TEA FRIDAY

Shamrock Favors Planned For Weekly Social Science Meet.

All graduate students and faculty of the Social Sciences are invited to attend the weekly tea given in SS 217 on Friday, March 15, from 4-5:30. Shamrock favors will be presented to the first twenty people who attend.

BAKER, GRAHAM CAST FOR ROLES IN KOSMET PLAY

Characters of Princess and Captain Cook Assigned Each Respectively.

ARRANGE SECOND DANCE

Art Bailey, Duncan Sowles Take Leads in Klub Production.

In the roles of Princess Joanna of Spain and Captain Cook, her hero, for the Kosmet Klub's 1935 spring musical revue, to be presented April 1-6, Howard Baker and Fred Graham have been cast, respectively, George Holyoke, the Klub's vice president, announced Wednesday.

Pete Baker, sophomore from Grand Island in the college of business administration, and also a member of the Husker basketball squad, portrays the Spanish princess who falls in love with Captain Cook. Baker has sung for various dance bands, and has an excellent singing voice for the part, according to Casting Director Joe Iverson.

To further complicate matters in the play, Fred Graham as Captain Cook, the explorer, adds a surprise turn to the plot by discovering Spain in the name of America, which situation results in many comical scenes. Graham is a student in the Arts and Science college from Falls City.

The second dance number has been completed by the male and pony chorus, and according to the directors, Dr. Ralph Ireland, the dances are looking exceptionally well after only a little more than two weeks of rehearsal. There will

PRESBYTERIAN GROUP PLANS TO ENTERTAIN IN UNIVERSITY MANSE

Program Includes Famous Skit, Piano Numbers, Mixer Games.

St. Patrick's day will be celebrated with all its accompanying features by Presbyterian students and their guests at a party Friday night at 8 o'clock in the University Manse, 333 No. 14, according to an announcement by Robert B. Henry, head of the local university Presbyterian group.

"We expect between 100 and 150 Presbyterian students and friends having made accommodations for them, and we have a full evening of entertainment in store for them," Mr. Henry stated Wednesday. "Decorations will be in St. Patrick's day colors, including green shamrocks, Irish pigs, clay pipes, and other symbols of the ancient traditional day."

The feature entertainer of the evening will be Harlan Easton, Lincoln, who will present his nationally famous skit about the champion hog caller of the world. It is an original skit in which Mr. Easton impersonates various small town people welcoming the home town boy who made good by winning the hog calling crown of the world, also mimicking the victor himself.

A group of Irish songs will be presented by Dee Derkes, Lincoln radio singer, and Milan Lambert, Westminster organist, will offer a few piano selections. The fireside quartet, composed of Richard Kim-

Bauer Acts Parts of Convict, Mayor in French Photoplay

Harry Bauer, one of the most dazzling stars of the Parisian cinema, made himself famous overnight by his acting in Victor Hugo's version of "Les Miserables," according to Miss Barbara Sperry, instructor in French, who has seen the film. Miss Sperry believes his portrayal of three completely different characters, a convict, mayor, and a poor old man, surpass the acting of all others taking part in the film, and that he is "perfection itself."

CLASS LEADERS PLAN TEA DANCE

Affair to Be Held at Carrie Belle Raymond Hall March 22 According to Announcement Made at Meeting Thursday at 5 O'clock.

FACULTY MEMBERS EXPRESS THEIR APPROVAL

Function to Serve Purpose of Acquainting Classmates With Each Other Says Herman Rosenblatt, Speaking for Senior Committee.

Seniors will start the ball rolling toward complete class organization at a tea dance to be held at Carrie Belle Raymond hall Friday afternoon, March 22, from 4 until 6. That was the announcement made at a meeting of senior leaders of all campus organizations held in Social Science auditorium Thursday at 5 o'clock.

NICKLAS DEFENDS MILITARY DRILL IN MARCH ALUMNUS

Twenty-Five Charter Day Meetings Reported in New Issue.

"Service—to the people who as taxpayers, support the university," is a fundamental reason for compulsory military training, writes Fred Nicklas, in the March alumnus, which was placed in the mails Thursday afternoon. "University compulsory military drill is a true unit of our national defense, and the army has no reason for 'conscientious objectors,'" Nicklas declared.

Separate writeups for twenty-five separate charter day meetings are contained in a special article of the March edition, including the newly elected officers and their celebration programs. Opposite appears a full page of photographs of the university glee club and choral union, which are anticipating state wide tours during spring vacation. The dream of a young Filipino lad, whose ambition to be a doctor was realized at Nebraska, is described in a feature by James Cox. The story of Dr. Rufino Macagbra was recalled by recent letters from him to Miss Kate Field of Lincoln, inquiring about Lincoln and his alma mater. Dr. Macagbra received his bachelor of science degree in 1926, and graduated from the school of medicine in 1927.

In addition to the "Librarian's Page," "With the Undergrads," "News of the Classes," and other regular features, a page chart of "How the University Dollar was Disbursed," during the last school year is printed. Dr. Francis Everett Townsend, class of 1903, and author of the Townsend old age revolving pension plan, is the subject of a special article that fully described his "Letter economic proposition."

Flashbacks from last month's article, "Down with Compulsory Drill," by former Nebraskan editor, Burton Marvin, are found in the "Mailbag" column. Two graduates, one for and one against the drill system, voice their opinions in the March alumnus.

WESLEY ACTORS SEE 'MIDNIGHT FANTASY'

Mrs. F. L. Blewfield presented a reading, "The Loper Scene," from "Ben Hur" at a recent dinner meeting of the Wesley Players. Other entertainment was furnished by Florence Tow and Dorothy Hedtwalker who gave a short play, "A Midnight Fantasy."

Bauer Acts Parts of Convict, Mayor in French Photoplay

The Pathe-Natan production headlines other French favorites such as Henry Krauss, Charles Vanel, Charles Dullin, and Marguerite Moreno. J. Kruger, the photographer of the picture, is one of the best known in Europe. Arthur Honegger, arranger of music, will probably be known to those who follow the symphony. Raymond Bernard, the director of the production, with the help of A. Lang, Kruger and others on the technical staff, has succeeded in realizing on the screen the real spirit of the novel. Miss Sperry's verdict of the talking picture is that it is marvelously done for a French film, as they usually are considered inferior to American productions.

DOLLAR LINE SHOWS TRIP AROUND WORLD PICTURES THURSDAY

Film, Shown Under Auspices Geography Department, Depicts Seaports.

Showings around movie film "A Trip Around the World," representatives of the Dollar Steamship Line entertained students and faculty members in social science auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The moving picture was shown under auspices of the geography department.

Scenes from the portable movie tone set-up pictured principle seaports of the world. Living conditions, and harbors of the principle stopping places in America, tropic, oriental, and Mediterranean seaports were explained by men who were present when the picture was actually filmed. Native languages spoken in the various countries "visited" were reproduced with the film.

The film was shown on portable equipment designed to equal stationary machines in efficiency. During the coming week is representative of the Dollar Lines will be at a Lincoln hotel to interview students interested in arranging travel tours.

WYLAND TO TALK ON 'IS A LIE STILL A LIE?'

Minister Makes First Speech In Ten Commandment Series.

"Is a Lie Still a Lie?" will be the subject of Rev. Benjamin F. Wyland when he gives the first of a series of talks on the ten commandments of modern behavior Sunday morning at the First Plymouth church. Dr. Wyland's speech was inspired by remarks by a Lincoln attorney who said "Lying is a national pastime," and a member of the Law school faculty who spoke of the several witnesses at the Hauptmann murder trial whom he believed were perjured.
