

CAMPUSOCIETY

AND THIS IS THE TIME OF THE year that those two traditional events, years and years old, appear on the list of campus social functions: one, the Phi Mu spring party at the Cornhusker, and the other, the annual Chi Phi blowout, known to gullible gals and men as the Fireman's Ball. The spring party is one of those enjoyable events that you send corsages to your dates and wear evening clothes, but the Fireman's Brawl—oh no! The men come to that little affair in blue shirts and red suspenders, and their dates in red dresses. The whole chapter house is turned into sort of a barn with old fire trucks and hose here and there, and this time, as an innovation, there will be a Kansas City orchestra and dancing on all three floors. Sounds like a happy evening for Chi Phis and their dates, and of course, anyone else who wants to crash the party.

AT THE PHI MU house before the spring party, members of the chapter will entertain their dates at a formal dinner. Decorations for the affair, the color scheme of green and white, and tapers and carnations will center the tables. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kemmer will be honored guests at the dinner.

OUT OF TOWN guests coming for the party include Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Long Pine; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Groth, Omaha; Winifred Shalross and Virgene McBride, Omaha; Ruth Penney, Auburn; Mildred Swanson, Pender; Evelyn Schoonover, Aurora; Wilma Posson, Holdrege; Christine Nesbitt, Columbia, Mo.; Ruth Mitchell, Reno, Nev.; Paul Huber, John Roseau, Jim Davis, all of Omaha; Olive Humbert and Jim Harrison, Oakland, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kemmer, (Harriet Cruise). Mrs. Kemmer will sing for the formal later.

THE CHI PHI Fireman's ball will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Peterson and Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Pool.

ANOTHER spring party will be given tomorrow night at the Lincoln by the brothers of Phi Gamma Delta. Chaperons for the affair are Professor and Mrs. L. B. Orfield, Professor and Mrs. C. B. Nutting and Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Van Sant. About 125 bids have been sent out and streamers and balloons will decorate the ballroom to carry out the theme of spring.

OUT OF TOWN alumnae and guests coming for the affair are Harry Sinclair and A. K. Studebaker, both of Chicago, A. C. Holmquist Jr., Keith Hopewell, Dick King, Frank Raine, Austin Temple, Bill Gordon, Pete Lowe, and Glen Cunningham, all from the Kansas chapter.

ENTERTAINING in honor of the actives at the chapter house, tomorrow night, are the Sigma Alpha Mu pledges. Chaperons for the affair are Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Zolot, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Marx, and David Fellman.

CORRECT wear to Alpha Chi Omega house party tomorrow night is cords and cotton dresses. The affair, given by the pledges for the actives, will be closed, and chaperons are Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Finney and Mrs. J.W. Bishop.

A BUFFET supper will be in the order of the evening when the gals at the Theta house entertain their dates preceding the house party Saturday Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Farrell, and Mrs. Myra Cox will chaperon the affair.

AND ANOTHER house party coming Saturday night, will be held at the Theta Xi house. Chaperons for the affair are Major and Mrs. John P. Horan, Mrs. Anna Hyland, and Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Aakhus.

S. A. E. chaperons for the house party tomorrow night are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis LaMaster, Mr. and Mrs. Rex A. Smith, and Mrs. Hal Minor. The pledges, under a bit of stress just now, are keeping the decorations a secret, but we think they're going to be St. Patricks, or something like that.

ON THE AG campus tonight the Tri-K's will entertain at a party at the Student Activities building. Chaperoning the affair, properly called a mixer, are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Newell, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cushing.

WE WONDER what the trouble was out in front of the Theta house yesterday noon? The police came dashing around the corner and in practically no time at all a radio which was standing on the Phi Psi front porch was spirited

A Los Angeles Junior Collegian snapper found this one: "Now it turns out that a sports writer on the Indiana Daily Student did not pick Red Grange for his mythical eleven after Red's sophomore year, explaining that all Grange could do was run. The Illinois U. 'Daily Illini' printed the explanation and remarked: 'All Galil Curci can do is sing.'" ball, George Kimball, Herb Bloch, and Robert Bellamy, will also provide a share of the evening's entertainment. Lilyann and Grace Kratky will render a violin and cello duet.

Special guest of the affair is to be Rev. Max Adams, of Philadelphia, head of the department of Presbyterian work of the United States, who will arrive here in Lincoln Friday to survey the problems of the Presbyterian work at the university. He will speak before group B of the university religious welfare council Friday morning at 11 o'clock in 205 of the Temple building, and before the Westminster foundation board members at a luncheon meeting to be held at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday noon.

William Hammond will serve as master of ceremonies for the Friday night affair and will direct group singing and mixer games. Head of the committee in charge of the arrangements is Dorothy Cather. Other members of the committee are Marjorie Calder, Betty Hammond, Joe Henry, Burdette Miller, Harold Hustis, Emil Paroulek, Janet Ogden, and Dorothy Ogden. All friends of Presbyterian students are welcome, stated Mr. Henry.

Iowa State looks to their veterinary division to supply them with their best wrestlers. Three present practicing veterinarians are former stars and titleholders for Cyclones, and two members of the 1935 team, Ralph Ruggles and Frank Linn, are veterinary students, as is Robert Streever, one of the most promising freshman recruits.

Marvin Gustafson, 135 pound varsity Cyclone wrestler, is over 6 feet tall. Quite a contrast to the usual short, squatly men who rattle at this weight. He should be able to wind around opponents like an octopus and tie himself into knots around them, which is just an effective means of winning a bout as any other. Wonder if they call him "beanpole."
