CAMPUSOCIETY

THE GALS MAY KEEP THEIR DATES waiting, but it's very seldom that they get them mixed, and that's more than a good many men can say. We heard about a fellow who climbed into his tux Thursday evening to go to the Alpha Sig dinner dance the next night, and was just about to call for the "object of his affections" when his roommate reminded him that he was a little premature. And, more recently, about Jack Fischer, who got himself a date for the park opening with a town girl who had to argue with her mother for some time for permission to go out on a week night, only to find that the big occasion came next week. It's an insult to feminine intelligence to mix dates in such a manner, and we suggest a campaign or something against it.

SEEN ON THE campus: Bob Pierce, slithering thru the door of "U" hall attired in overalls, an old green sweater and a blue shirt—Kay Davis, with the ever-present Bill Stenten waiting outside of "Sosh"—Smith Davis asking Professor Scott if he might be going to the performance of MacBeth, put on by the Midland Players—Leola Schill achieving that transparent look as only she can do it—Owen Johnson smoking a big black cigar—The elevator in Andrews Hall coming down, (we didn't know there was one in the building)—Burt Marvin and Graham Howe walking down the street, each of them with bandages on the left side of their faces—Lois Rathburn in a grey wool suit with a wide red leather belt—Dick Schmidt doing a sort of a hop in a scarlet ballet skirt—Little Virginia Amos, practically swamped by the steps of Grant Memorial—Lamoine Bible wearing a coat in the rag office where about two out of every ten men wear them—Mary Jane Mitchell griping because her name wasn't listed in the group of Kappa officers—and Sancha Kilborne recuperating after the Phi Phi initiation.

IT'S JUST too bad when an official sorority banquet comes the same night of the Corn Cob dinner dance. The Delta Gamma's are holding their annual banquet April 13, and already ten little Cobs have had to break dates, to say nothing of hearts, for the occasion. We don't know what to suggest, the Daily Nebraskan is not a matrimonial bureau, but if anyone else can think of something, get in touch with Carlisle Meyers.

BETA SIGMA PSI announces the initiation of Rudolph Schmidt, of Deshler, Gilbert Kufahl of Omega, Kansas, and Homer Bartling of Winslow.

NEW INITIATES of Kappa Kappa Gamma are Mary Austin, Lincoln; Dorothy Bartos, Wilber; Dorothy Beacher, Lincoln; Margaret Blaufuss, Omaha; Mary Ellen Crowley, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Mary Heaton, Omaha; Mary Frances Hughes, Omaha; Mary Jane Hunt, Omaha; Dorothy Hustead, Scribner; Marie Kotouc, Humboldt; Helen Jane Johnson, Sterling; Mary Jane Mitchell, Council Bluffs; Carmen Moss, Omaha; Marjorie Mullen, Falls City; Eloise Redfield, Shennenslow; Grace Rice, Norfolk; Betty Romans, Lincoln; Jean Rowe, Lincoln; Jane Sawyer, Pawnee City; Gretchen Stein, Edgar; Ruth Talhelm, Crete; Louise Thygeson, Nebraska City; Jane Walcott, Lincoln; and Helene Wood, Lincoln.

YESTERDAY, Doris Rissness, Elizabeth Bushue, and Hallette Haxthausen, and Miss Matilda Shelby of the physical education department, left for the University of Chicago where they will attend the W. S. A. district convention. They will be gone about three days.

PUSHING, pulling, and cajoling, the Alpha Chi Omegas lead their little white goat up and down fraternity and sorority row. It seems that the pledges are required to get one such animal each year, and keep it near the house, but heretofore, the tradition has been just a tradition. Now it's a reality, and baa—baa—sas of the goat mingle with the cherry chatter of the "sisters." One of those things you know, it gives atmosphere.

RECENTLY initiated into Gamma Phi Beta were Dorothy Aldrich, Lincoln; Hazel Bradstreet, Grand Island; Mercedes Drexler, Herndon, Kansas; Julia Greene, Hastings; Martha Johnson; Viola Jones, Grand Junction, Colorado; Joyce Liebendorfer; Pawnee City; Ellen Macy, Lincoln; Jean Mehlof, Sutton; Katherine Rommel, Waterville, Kas.; Ruth Reames, Red Cloud; Margaret Russell, Fullerton; Katherine Simpson, Lincoln; and Cornelia Wieland, Lincoln.

CHI Omega's newest members are Doris Brandes, Fairbury; Eleanor Clize, Valentine; Kathleen Coleman, Gordon; Carolyn Davis, Lincoln; Marjorie Fredenhagen, Lincoln; Lois Erma Hiatt, Lincoln; Hazel Kolves, Beaver City; Lila Krayer, Neligh; Martha Leifers, Lincoln; Betty McGrew, Seward; Ruth Birdell-Mitchell, Lincoln; Rosalie Mott, Mullen; Mildred Peppmiller, Herman; Ruth L. Rider, Lingle, Wyo.; Elizabeth Ann Widener, York; and Kathryn Winquist, Holorege.

NEW INITIATES of S. A. E. are Donald Akin, Corning, Ia.; Bill Beachley, Lincoln; Harold Bookstrom, Lincoln; Dick Brown, Papillion; Max Coover, Lincoln; Jim Davies, Fremont; Bill Downs, St. Joseph, Mo.; Roland Ecklund, Greenham; Bus Fonda, Omaha; John Fowdick, Sioux Falls, S. D.; George Frey, Lincoln; Chuck Hooge, Oak Park, Ill.; Ralph Ludwick, Lincoln; Bud Lutz, Columbus; Webb Miller, Omaha; Bob Morris, Lincoln; Bob Nieman, Omaha; Harry Stickler, Omaha; Bill Strong, Great Bend, Kansas; Bob Thornton, Lincoln; John Upson, Lincoln; and Harry Williams, Lincoln.

INITIATED into the Kappa Delta chapter recently were Muriel Johnson, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Dorothy Pease, Lincoln; Althea Swift, Lincoln; Wynona Smith, Stickley; and Jean Tucker, Lincoln.

they are developing today are nothing more than puppets all cast in the same mold and all good state material," Mrs. Hanna stated. In closing her talk, Mrs. Hanna stated that the United States has as need to fear communism as long as we maintain normal or nearly normal conditions. If we were to exchange students, professors and business men with the cradle of communism, the certainty that some form of democracy is the only answer to the need of government in every country would be firmly established both here and in Russia, the speaker concluded.

Fast steppin, hard driving Harold Brill, Cornhusker freshman, is creating a furor among followers of Scarlet football fortunes. The backroom, over-the-counter coaches see in the Kansas lad a combination of everything that any Husker back has ever had during the last few years. Run? Sure, look at those gallops during the last game, in which he scored four touchdowns. Punt? Come on out and see for yourself sometime. Pass? Like a well sighted, precise gun. Tackle? Sure and hard. Nebraska fans are counting on keeping a watchful eye on him next fall, what with those slippery sidesteps, that speed, and general all around effectiveness.

Nebraska is going to have more capable backs on the gridiron next fall than has been the case for several years. Returning lettermen are Henry Bauer at quarterback; Ron Douglas, Bob Benson, Toby Eldridge, Lloyd Cardwell and Jerry LaNoue, halfbacks; and Sam Francis, fullback. From the frosh, there are Harold Brill and Jack Dodd outstanding halfbacks; Art Ball and Harris Andrews, quarterbacks, and Johnny Howell, tops at fullback. Allan Turner, reserve quarterback, has been unable to report this spring but will be available for active duty next fall.

When Wayne Martin, of Oklahoma, pinned Gail Thomas at the mat in the 145 pound finals of the Big Six wrestling meet, his Sooner teammates dusted their craniums and came out with the following: "Martin took a fall from Gail of the Cyclones with a twister hold in 2:10, winning in a breeze." Just in case—it's a pun.

Two Sooners who didn't work very hard for their laurels: Herman Nelson and John Remy worked out for two days with the track squad immediately after the close of the basketball season. Then they placed in the high jump during the Big Six indoor track meet, winning their "O" sweaters.

SALES FIELD OFFERS BEST OPPORTUNITIES

Arts Education Better Bet For Success, Boston Speaker States. (By Associated College Press.) MIDDLEBURY, Vt.—College men about to graduate from liberal arts college will have a better chance of securing positions after commencement than technically trained men, students at Middlebury college were told by Stanley C. Lary, vocational guidance expert from the University club of Boston.

"Heavy industry, the major technical field, is still at low ebb, and until its upturn comes, the demand for engineers will be light," Mr. Lary said. "Business men are afraid to hire these men for the positions now open, for they fear that they will not remain with them once an offer of a technical position is received. The field in which there is the greatest opportunity today is in salesmanship."

Home Economics Convention. The Nebraska Home Economics association will hold its annual convention March 29 and 30 in the Hotel Fort Kearney at Kearney, Nebraska. The association is unusually fortunate in having two fine speakers for the annual meeting, Miss Maude Williamson and Mr. Leo W. McManus. Miss Williamson is head of the Teacher Trainer Department in Home Economics at the Colorado College of Agriculture, and Mr. McManus is a buyer for the Thomas Kilpatrick store in Omaha.

The program for Friday afternoon will be taken up by visits to the State Tuberculosis Hospital and the Industrial Home for Boys. In the evening there will be a dinner at the Fort Kearney hotel with dinner music by the Kearney High School orchestra. After dinner the convention will be officially welcomed by Frank E. Hollingsworth, of the Kearney Chamber of Commerce, and George E. Martin, president of Kearney State Teachers college. The speakers of the vning will include Miss Maude Williamson, from Colorado Agricultural college, Fort Collins, Colorado; and Superintendent H. H. Burke of Kearney. Miss Williamson will talk on "Integration of Education for Home and Family Life and Our Place in It." The subject of Mr. Burke's address will be "The Value of Home Economics."

Saturday will be occupied by meetings of the various departments and will feature a talk by Angeline Phillips, Dietitian of the University of Nebraska Hospital at Omaha, on "Requirements for Student Dietitians." Leo W. McManus will address the convention on "What the Consumer Needs to Know About Textiles." "Our Blood Spots" will be the subject of another paper by Miss Maude Williamson. The last speaker of the day will be Florence Atwood, Supervisor of Nutrition, Nebraska Emergency Relief, whose subject is to be "The Home Economist in the Rural Rehabilitation Program."

The Home Economics students of State Teachers college and Kearney High School will give a tea for the members of the convention in Eva Case hall, on the college campus from three to five o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Enid Guard, Who Made Good, Goes Back to School

NORMAN, March 27.—Omar "Bud" Browning, Oklahoma's newly named all-American basketball guard, was back at school Monday making classes after a big week at Denver, Colo., where he helped the Kansas City State Stage Liners win the national A. A. U. title. The slender Enid lad is the second Sooner to make an all-American basketball berth with a championship A. A. U. team while still a senior at the university. In 1928 Vic Holt, center on Oklahoma's all-victorious five, played with the Kansas City Cook painters in the national tourney and made the all-American team at center.

It was Browning, a hard-driving youngster developed in Coach McDermott's quick-breaking school, who started the rally that brought the Stage Liners from behind and shot them to a glorious 45 to 26 victory over the McPherson, Kas. Oilers, in the championship game. With McPherson leading 16 to 11 early in the second half, Browning got started as the following play-by-play account from the "Kansas City Star" shows.

"Browning scored on a pass from Piper. Browning drew the Liners up one point short with a carefully-aimed shot from mid-court. Wallace Stewart's long pass was batted by Browning by Piper as he jumped over the end line and Browning scored under the basket. Browning raced down thru open territory for an easy goal, widening the margin to four points, and the crowd howled in appreciation at the rally."

Browning's feat of scoring 20 of the Stage Liners' 26 points at Boulder in a pre-tournament game against the Denver Pigs, was acclaimed by the Colorado press. Ham, Colorado, "Boulder Daily Camera," wrote: "A human Browning machine gun furnished the most brilliant one-man basket-shooting show we have seen since the shining days of Pete Middlemist, Vic Young, Stu Beresford, Dutch Clark and other master guards. Omar, the Basket Maker, scored nine field goals and two free throws. The secret of Browning's success besides the fact he delivers a higher-arched shot than most present day marksmen, is that he works to get shots."

Bill White, also of Boulder, wrote: "The Pigs won, 28 to 26, but the night's top honors rested on the shoulders of little Bud Browning, pint-sized State Line forward, who gave the grandest one-man show seen in years, cracking one-handed shots from all and sundry angles and almost overshadowing the combined work of this region's hopes for a national title."

A fight for the life a radium worker will soon focus the eyes of science on Massachusetts institute of Technology when Dr. Robley Evans, research worker who reputedly cured another victim last year, attempts to cure Mrs. Kathryn Wood. More than forty American factory workers have assertedly succumbed to the dread disease which eats away bones of the human body. Mrs. Wood contracted the poisoning between 1920 and 1925 while painting watch dials.
