ANN ARBOR, Mich.—It's 'You're the Top' or 'You're a Flop' that University of Michigan students are singing to their athletic teams this year. In other words, the Wolverine squads this year have either won the title or slumped to the bottom of the pile in Big Ten competition.

He has collaborated on many musical productions including 'The Cocoanuts,' and 'Animal Crackers,' which featured the four Marx brothers; 'Helen of Troy,' 'Be Yourself,' 'Strike Up the Band,' 'The Band Wagon,' and 'Of Thee I Sing.'

The first and last acts of the play take place in the home of 'Martha Temple,' a part in which Veronica Villnave is seen in her last role. This home is a brownstone front in the 1850 period, which has been the property of a theatrical family for years, and whose interior is arranged in a theatrical fashion.

Among those who are making their last appearance on the Temple stage in this production are Armand Hunter, Melvin Fielder, Veronica Villnave, Elsa Swift, and Art Bailey. Hunter has been seen in major roles in more than a dozen plays. He was seen in 'Road to Rome,' 'Porgy,' 'Camille,' and 'Romeo and Juliet' during the 1932-33 season, and in all six of the plays last season, including

FRENCH DEPARTMENT SHOWS SECOND PART OF 'LES MISERABLES'

Students to See Movie Made Abroad Saturday at Stuart.

French students and others interested who saw the first of the three parts of the film production of Victor Hugo's 'Les Miserable,' when it was brought here by members of the French department on Saturday, March 16, will have an opportunity of seeing the second part of the film Saturday morning, April 13, at the Stuart theater, according to Prof. J. R. Wadsworth, who is making arrangements for the showing of the film.

'If the interest in the second part of the picture is as great as that shown for the first part, it will probably be possible to have the third and concluding portion shown also,' stated Mr. Wadsworth.

Selma Goldstein is in charge of ticket sales for the film and tickets will be distributed in the various French classes Tuesday and Wednesday. Those who were successful in selling tickets for the first production will probably be successful again this time, altho no definite announcement has been made.

The story is considered one of Hugo's greatest works, and is a representative story of the French peasant. Jean Valjean, Part II takes up the story where the real identity of Valjean is revealed.

Thirty nationalities are represented in the University of Chicago dormitory which houses 100 foreign students.
