

ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCES FIVE STUDENT PRIZES

Scholarships Include Four $100 Awards, One $20 Endowment.

Applications Must Be Filed In Finance Office by Noon, May 11.

Four $100 scholarships for upperclassmen, and one $20 freshman prize are being offered again this year by the administration through the generosity of outside donors.

The scholarships, for which any undergraduate above sophomore standing may file, include the Jefferson H. Broady award, the Dr. George Borrowman scholarship, the Henry C. Bostwick scholarships, and the junior prize.

Dr. and Mrs. John D. Clark, graduates of the university, are donors of the perpetual $100 a year scholarship in memory of the late Judge Jefferson H. Broady, former faculty member and prominent Nebraska lawyer.

Dr. George Borrowman of Chicago, holder of two degrees from the university, has endowed a perpetual scholarship of $100 to be awarded to a worthy student in the department of chemistry or geology.

Award to Worthy Student. Prof. R. P. Crawford, class of 1917, has again made available a prize of $100 to be presented to a junior non-fraternity who is best triumphing over heavy odds.

FIVE HUNDRED PREP STUDENTS CONVENE FOR JUDGING MEET

Public Speaking Champion To Enter National Competition.

Five hundred high school farming students convened on the agricultural campus Thursday for the two day annual state judging contests, ending today.

Title holders in the western agricultural judging contest recently held in North Platte attended the meet to try for additional distinction.

The meet opened Thursday with judging contests in dairy, poultry and grain. Defeating eleven opponents, the winner of the public speaking competition will represent the state in national competition next fall.

Friday's program will close the meets with judging in cattle, sheep, horses and hogs by forty teams. There will also be contests in Babcock testing of cream and milk, competition in farm machinery, grain and egg grading.

APRIL NEBRASKA BLUE PRINT APPEARS TODAY

Magazine Contains Complete Plans of Engineering Week Program.

The April edition of Nebraska Blue Print, official organ of the university engineering department, appears on the campus stands for distribution Friday with the highlight of the issue an article on "Finding Oil with a Seismograph," written by W. Bernard Robinson, a graduate of the electrical engineering department here in 1930.

According to the announcement received from the publication, the magazine will be sent to all of the high schools of the state. The complete program for engineers' week early next month is contained in the edition, telling of the different exhibits to be held and other activities of the seven days.

Being an oil prospector, Robinson, relates the field operations in locating oil by use of an instrument called the seismograph. He explains how after a dynamite charge has been set off around 50 or 100 feet below the earth's surface, the instrument detects the sound waves from which can be determined where oil is likely to be found. He also tells of the conditions affecting the location of oil in the different sections of the country.

STARLINGS MUST BE DESTROYED—SWENK

Professor of Entomology Addresses Isaak Walton Group. Prof. M. H. Swenk, chairman of the department of Entomology, urged that the starling bird which destroys fruit and vegetables be stamped out of Nebraska immediately, when he addressed the Lincoln Isaak Walton league conservation committee recently.

SENIOR CLASS TO MAP PROGRAM OF FUTURE ACTIVITY

Easterday Names Fischer Head of Publicity Committee.

Sub-Committee Appointed To Plan Ways of Organization.

Appointment of two sub-committees and consideration of further events to be undertaken along the line of class activity were the major accomplishments completed by the senior committee on class organization when they met Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Student Council office in University hall.

In an effort to work out additional plans for senior activities, the committee decided to appoint sub-committee of small membership headed by a member of the main committee which will investigate the various suggestions for future functions and work them out for presentation to the class.

Two committees, one to consider ways and means of enrolling the senior class under the banner of organization and the other to look into a definite program to be carried out and some manner of publicity, were named by Class President Don Easterday. Jack Fischer was appointed head of the first committee, which will consist of (Continued on Page 3.)

AWARDS BANQUET TO CLOSE ANNUAL ENGINEERS' WEEK

Scholarship Trophies Will Be Presented at Dinner Friday.

Climaxing engineers' week, the college's annual banquet will be presented for the approval of its students Friday evening, May 3, at the Lincoln hotel ballroom, at which time awards in recognition of honors received during the past year will be given.

Gov. Roy L. Cochran, according to a recent announcement by Hugh Schmidt of the engineers' week executive committee, will address the dinner assembly as main speaker on some topic of general engineering interest. The governor is a university graduate of the department and for eight years was state engineer.

Following the dinner, Prof. O. E. Edison of the electrical engineering department will present the Sigma Tau freshman scholarship medal to John T. Parker. Two trophies will be awarded by Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the chemistry department, the O. J. Field award to Edward L. Beachler and the chemistry engineering scholarship key to Ray Hickok.

HARDWIG ARRIVES FOR Y.M.C.A. CONFERENCE

General Field Secretary Comes to Lincoln Thursday.

James Hardwig, general field secretary for the Y. M. C. A. and popular speaker on this campus in past visits, arrived in Lincoln Thursday afternoon, April 24, for a series of conferences under the sponsorship of the university Y. M. C. A. Hardwig has traveled in all parts of the country lately and his talks, based on his experience in the social-work field, are both interesting and instructive according to C. D. Hayes, Y. secretary.

Speaking before dinner groups at unaffiliated men's houses on Thursday evening, Mr. Hardwig discussed the topic, "A Man's Religion." The meeting at 1410 Q street was arranged by Joe Nquist and that at 1507 R by Howard Kaitenborn.

Acting as a retreat leader for a mixed group from both the ag and city campus on Friday afternoon and evening, Mr. Hardwig will talk on some phase of religion. This retreat will be a picnic provided the weather permits, otherwise it will be conducted in the Hi-Y building.

Returning from a week end in Omaha where he will speak at the state conference of Hi-Y officers and sponsors, Hardwig will talk at the ag Y and Ag Boarding club groups on Monday evening, April 28. On the same evening he will conduct a boarding house session at 330 North 13th street. Other men in the vicinity of these houses are welcome to attend these meetings.

The girls who were pledged were: Jane Barbour, Genevieve Bennett, Myrtle Berggren, Lois Breuer, Elizabeth Cherry, Mary Evans, Elizabeth Freudenberg, Gertrude Grosvenor, Marjorie Johnston, Marie Kotouc, Lila Kryger, Marvyn, Martha Morrow, Alene Mullikin, Winifred Nelson, Agnes Novacek, Theora Nye, Jane Pennington, Helen Rosker, Doretta Schlaphoff, Celia Sterner, Florence Steuterville, Wilma Vlasak, and Marie Vogt.

FRATERNITY MEN TO HEAR COCHRAN AT ANNUAL EVENT

Tickets for Banquet Placed On Sale at Council Meeting.

Governor Roy L. Cochran will address fraternity men at the annual interfraternity banquet April 30 in the Cornhusker hotel. He will be introduced by Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary, and toastmaster, Claude S. Wilson, alumni interfraternity council president, will also be heard on the evening program.

Ticket sales for the annual dinner got under way Tuesday evening when Duward Jackson, member of the committee in charge, distributed the tickets to council members. Tickets will be available in the pastry shop at the Cornhusker the remainder of this week and the first of next.

One of the main features of the banquet, fraternity scholarship standings, will be announced and plaques awarded to the fifteen organizations having attained the highest ranking during the past year. Intramural athletic awards will also be distributed at the banquet, it was learned.

Large replicas of chapter badges will decorate the dining hall for the banquet, stated Joe Rhea, interfraternity council president, who urged that council representatives concentrate on ticket sales during the five days remaining before the affair.

AG SUMMER SESSION STAFF ENLARGED BY NOTED INSTRUCTORS

Visitors Will Teach Family Relations, Course in Wise Buying.

Two nationally known instructors in specialized fields of home economics have been secured for the staff of the 1935 summer session, according to Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the home economics department. Consumer education will be the course matter taught by Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, and family relationships will be covered by Miss Flora Thurston in classes open to all students.

Mrs. Woodhouse, former student at the universities of Chicago, Toronto and Berlin, has been connected with the bureau of home economics in Washington for several years. She will concern herself with giving future homemakers sufficient information to buy intelligently in her courses here, as well as instructing those who will teach others the art of buying.

Miss Thurston's courses in family relationships are intended to help each student make a satisfactory adjustment to her family. She has nearly completed her work for a doctor's degree at Columbia university, where she has been studying with Dr. Robert Lynd, author of "Middletown." As executive secretary of the National Council of Parent Education, she prepared a number of bulletins in the fields of family life and parent education.

PEACE CLUB ELECTS PROF. HILL OFFICER

Group Decides to Protest Navy Appropriations Measure.

Prof. Norman Hill of the university department of political science was elected corresponding secretary at the second organizational meeting of the Lincoln Peace Council at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday noon.

NEW OFFICERS OF PEP GROUP TO BE NAMED SATURDAY

Phi Sigma Chi to Select National Song at First Meeting.

PLAN TOUR THRU CAPITOL

Five Big Six Schools Send Delegates to Annual Convention.

Election of officers for the coming year will be the main business of the Phi Sigma Chi, girls' national pep organization, convention to be held in Lincoln Saturday, according to Louise Hossack, president of the group. Delegates from the University of Kansas, Kansas State college, the University of Missouri, the University of Oklahoma, and Nebraska will attend.

Plans for the day begin with a 9 o'clock meeting in Ellen Smith hall. Each chapter will present a song from which the national Phi Sigma Chi song will be selected. Tassel chapter plans to offer "The Honor of Phi Sigma Chi," written by Jean Palmer, Rose Steinberg and Margaret Phillippe.

Pioneer Park will be the scene of a picnic luncheon when visiting delegates are entertained there, it was revealed by Elizabeth Shearer, Tassel president. Following the luncheon an outdoor meeting will be held when representatives of the various chapters will discuss problems.

120 STUDENTS TO TAKE GEOGRAPHY JAUNT SATURDAY

Classes to Study Land in Eastern Nebraska on 100 Mile Trip.

One hundred and twenty students of the geography department are anticipating an all day field trip Saturday to study glacial drift, loess capped hills, drainage patterns, and land utilization of Eastern Nebraska. Over a hundred miles will be traversed during the excursion.

The trip is part of the laboratory work that geography 71 classes are conducting. Another trip, covering the same territory as Saturday's excursion will be taken next Thursday, and geography students are given the option of choosing either one of these two days, according to an announcement made Thursday by Dr. N. A. Bengtson, chairman of the department.

The groups will leave Lincoln about 7 a. m. and move to Weeping Water where the first stop will be made. There a study of the gorge of Weeping Water creek, and the bedrock that forms the valley sides will be made. Falls of Weeping Water are of historic interest, according to Dr. Beaton.

W.A.A. CABIN WILL BE FINISHED IN 10 DAYS

Chairmen of Committees Give Year's Reports To Councils.

A report by Beth Taylor at a meeting of the old and new council members Thursday, revealed that the W. A. A. cabin being built eight miles east of the campus, will be completed within ten days, but not formally opened until next fall.

The first function to be held in the cabin will be a picnic in May for the new and old executive W. A. A. council, sports board and intramural representatives.

Among the other reviews given by council members was a report by Faith Arnold on the new W. A. A. room which was recently opened for all university women, purposely for study and rest. The room is furnished in maple, with a color scheme of rust and green.

Chairman Give Reports. Sara Louise Meyer reviewed the annual Christmas party given for children at Whitehall. Other reports which were given were: Past president's report, Jean Brownlee; intramurals—Haleene Haxthausen; secretary's report, Doris Rissness; assistant concessions, Maxine Peckwood; expansion chairman's report, Doris Weaver; mimeograph, Jean Palmer; Cornhusker, Eleanor Neale; activities, Alice Beekman; treasurer's report, Elizabeth Bush.

Plans were made for the new and old executive council to usher at the Dance Drama of Orchestris to be given May 17, and for intramural representatives to sell tickets. At an intramural meeting Monday noon in the old W. A. A. room, tickets will be distributed.

PALLADIAN WOMEN TO HONOR MEN MEMBERS

Literary Society Holds Progressive Dinner Saturday.

Feminine members of the Palladian literary society will entertain the men at a progressive banquet, Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The arrangements are in charge of Beth Stillebauer, who announced that each course of the three course meal would be served at a different house.

Members of the committee assisting Miss Stillebauer with the arrangements are: Decorations, Jean Marvin; first course, Aetha Forell; second course, Evelyn Osborn; and third course, Ada Petria.

BARB STUDENTS TO HOLD SUNDAY MORNING PICNIC

Two Unaffiliated Groups Plan Fun Fest at Antelope Park.

Rain or shine barbs will gather Sunday morning from 6:30 until 9 o'clock at Antelope park for their second picnic of the year. The affair is under the joint sponsorship of the Barb Interclub council and A. W. S. league.

"Whether the weather is favorable or not, everyone wants to be sure and attend fun fest, as there will be a surprise in store if it rains," Evelyn Diamond, president of the Barb A. W. S. league, emphasized. "And if the sun shines, a most enjoyable time will be had," she declared.

Transportation and entertainment, which will include baseball and various other games, is being arranged by the Interclub council under the direction of its president, John Stover. Cars will pick up the picnickers at 14th and R streets, and Idlewild at Holdrege. Tickets for the event are 15 cents and can be secured from officers of either of the sponsoring organizations. Elizabeth Edison is in charge of the food.

"All unaffiliated students are urged to come whether they have participated in barb work before or not," declared Miss Diamond. "This will probably be the last affair of the year at which the Barb girls and fellows will be able to get together."

Faculty sponsors for the affair are Prof. and Mrs. S. M. Corey and Prof. and Mrs. U. W. Reinmuth. The first picnic was held last fall.

JUNIORS GIVE RECITAL THURSDAY IN TEMPLE

Joint Program Presented By Ruth Hill, Helen Luhrs.

Unusual ability and skill was displayed by Ruth Hill and Helen Luhrs when they presented their junior recital together in the Temple theater Thursday afternoon, April 25. Miss Hill is a student with Earnest Harrison and Miss Luhrs studies violin with Emanuel Wisnow.

As the first part of the program, Miss Hill played Bach's "Fifth French Suite" with the following movements: "Allemande," "Courante," "Sarabande," and "Gigue." Mozarts "D Major Concerto" with "Andante Cantabile" and "Allegro" was played next by Miss Luhrs and was followed by Beethoven's "Sonata, C Minor, Op. 13," with "Adagio Cantabile" and "Rondo," played by Miss Hill.

Miss Luhrs continued with "Air for the G String" by Florile-Vidas and "Pavane Pour Une Inrente Defunte" by Ravel, and the program was concluded with the following numbers by Miss Hill: "Valse, A Flat Major, Op. 42" by Chopin, "Nocturne, F Sharp Major, Op. 15, No. 2" by Chopin, and "Jardins Sous La Pluie" by Debussy. Marian Munn was at the piano.

HONORARY BAND GROUP INSTALLS 12 MEMBERS

Gamma Lambda Entertains at Banquet Honoring New Initiates.

MASS PETITIONS FOR BOOKSTORE, UNION PREPARED

Formal Requests Addressed To University Board Of Regents.

SEEK NON-PROFIT STORE

Bursik, Shurtleff, Fischer Speak to Committee Of 100.

Initiative petitions for a student union building and university used book exchange were distributed to the "committee of 100" at a meeting held Thursday night in Social Sciences auditorium, opening the Student council drive to secure signed student support for the two new projects.

Student union petitions were explained by the Bursik, secretary of the special Council committee, and Don Shurtleff, member of the bookstore committee, discussed request blanks for that group. Jack Fischer, council president, urged members to circulate the petitions among their organizations to insure signatures of the majority of the student body.

The bookstore request, addressed to the board of regents, asks establishment of a non-profit exchange to operate under university supervision, following the plan of aid suggesting eventual consolidation with the present Regent's bookstore.

Substance of the union document asks "the construction of a student union building, which would be secured by a PWA allotment, the part loaned by the PWA to be amortized by means of a compulsory fee paid at registration not exceeding $3 per semester per student, with proportionate fees levied to students registered in the college of agriculture and summer sessions... for the mutual benefit of the entire student body..."

FREMONT EDITOR TO BE SIGMA DELTA CHI INITIATION SPEAKER

C. S. Ryckman, Pulitzer Prize Winner, to Talk Friday.

C. S. Ryckman, editor of the Fremont Tribune, and winner of the Pulitzer prize for the best American editorial written in 1932, will speak at the Sigma Delta Chi initiation banquet Friday evening at the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. Preceding the dinner six pledges of the honorary journalistic fraternity will be inducted into active membership. Initiation ceremonies are scheduled to be held at 6 o'clock.

The six who will be initiated are: George Pipal, Humboldt; Gifford Swenson, Bertrand; Grant Parr, Minden; Lewis Cass, Ravenna; Irwin Ryan, Lincoln, and Don Shearson, Lincoln.

Time for initiation was originally set for 5 o'clock, but due to the fact that several of the members must take part in a parade at that time, ceremonies will take place an hour later.

Serving as members of the committee in charge of the proceedings are Burton Marvin, president; Henry Bostrom, vice president; Eugene Dalby, secretary; Prof. Gayle Walker, chapter advisor, and Hoyt Barney.

SERIOUS DUST STORMS ENDED, SAYS DR. LUGN

Geology Professor Asserts Recent Drouth Is Broken.

Indicating the drouth and the breaking up of natural vegetation as the main causes of recent dust storms, Dr. A. L. Lugn of the university geology department, stated that the drouth is undoubtedly broken and the days of serious dust storms about over, in his address before the Knife and Fork club Thursday noon.

Dr. Lugn expressed his belief that the amount of precipitation in the middlewest will undoubtedly increase and hold the dust down. He also stated that dust removed or deposited on the soil did little to change its value.

"About half of the soil in the state of Nebraska has materialized from ancient dust storms," he pointed out, showing specific locations where the deposits range in depth from 15 to 200 feet.

Dr. Lugn recalled that precipitation was near an absolute minimum last year resulting in an unpleasant situation. He added that the generous rains we are now receiving indicate the absence of future storms.
