

CAMPUSOCIETY

WAK N ME EARLY MOTHER,
for I'm to be Queen of the May!
Everyone is wondering just who the lucky gal is, asking the maternal parent to perform that little service. Speculation is rife, of course, but on the Nebraska campus, speculation means a little less than nothing, and those who are clever enough to prophesy often find themselves laughed at. There are a few optimistic ones who have even bet on the outcome of Mortar Board and Innocents elections, and even more, that think they know who will attend, but we're pretty sure that the festivities tomorrow are going to be a surprise to most of the student body. So, people might as well resign themselves to the fact that they really don't know everything about campus politics, and wait for a few upsets in those important festivities today.

PHI GAMMA Delta announces the pledging of Rex Harching of Oakland and Lewis Peterson of Fremont.

AT THE University club tomorrow night, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain at a dinner dance. Decorations will follow the fraternity colors of purple and gold, and spring flowers will center the table. Prof. and Mrs. Karl Arndt and Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Lilley are chaperoning the affair, and Jacques Shoemaker is in charge of arrangements. About 175 are expected to attend.

THE SAME night at the Shrine club, Phi Sigma Kappa will entertain at the spring party. About 300 bids have been sent out, and the ball room will be decorated in fraternity colors, silver and magenta. Professor and Mrs. Charles Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Gregg McBride will chaperone, and Everett Chitenden is in charge.

MAYBE Jimmy Dunn of Los Angeles, who went to Nebraska and joined S. A. E. is in town for the dinner dance. At least he's here, and Sig Alphas always invite their alumnae to their little get-togethers. It adds that certain air of distinction that the brethren strive for unceasingly.

AND THE A. O. P.'s will entertain Sunday noon at a Scottie dinner at the chapter house. Decorations will follow the canine theme, with little Scotties centering the table, and Marjorie Bannister and Jane Temple are in charge.

AG FAIR ATHLETIC CARD HAS FISTIC, GRAPPLING PUNCH

Flasnick, Wurgler Matched In Feature Wrestling Go Of Exposition.

The athletic exposition of the Farmer's Fair at the Ag campus Saturday will be featured by a series of wrestling and boxing matches calculated to furnish one of the most colorful exhibitions of combative skill ever to take place on the agricultural site.

According to Harvey Widman, chairman of the athletic committee of the Fair, and Jerry Adam, Husker wrestling coach who is assisting with the grappling operations, the Exposition promises to be one of the highlights of the day. A good deal of work has been expended by both the wrestlers and boxers, and plans are all completed for a rapid-fire display of fistic and boxing ability.

The pugilist card will give Clare Dailey and Wesley "Dynamite" Dunn the main roles. The two jolters will be competing against each other for the second time, having battled to a three round draw in the Fair last year. The other boxing bouts will throw Hal Nootz, Harold Butler, Lois Schricker, Mark McCallister, and other last-minute entries into competition against one another.

Don "Flash" Flasnick, Omaha varsity ace who lost only one bout in the Husker dual wrestling competition, and Bill Wurgler, another Omaha lad who was not in school last semester but has seen his share of knot-tying at Kemper Military academy, will stage the feature bout of the wrestling competition. Both the first City wranglers have been working out under the direction of Jerry Adam, and are expected to turn out plenty of thrills in their ten minute battle. They are 165 pounders.

A burlesque wrestling match will also be staged, in which Verie Wendell and George Custard, ag grapplers, are scheduled to cut capers.

The remainder of the wrestling program follows: Verie Wendell vs. Julius Whitman; Howard Robinson vs. Everett Brandt; Leonard Focht vs. Howard Stahn; Gene Clare vs. Frank Meyers. Jerry Adam will referee all bouts.

K-AGS RETURN HUSKER DIAMOND VISIT MAY 3

Knights Win First Big Six Encounter at Manhattan 8-7 Saturday.

After nipping the Kaggie nine 8-7 in a slugfest at Manhattan Saturday, April 27, the Huskers meet the Wildcats in a return series on the ag diamond Friday and Saturday of this week.

Scoring eight runs against Kansas State to win their first Big Six game of the season, the Huskers gathered 13 hits, three of which were by Gene Stenberg who has been shifted from his berth in the outfield to third base. Earl Carstenson collected a single and a home run.

Jerry Spurlock hurled all the way and also he was hammered hard in the early innings for seven tallies, settled down to hold the K-ags scoreless the last six innings.

YESTERDAY was May day so we've been told and several of the more playful in our midst observed the time old custom of hanging the May basket. Professor L. C. Wimberly was the object of their attention and upon his desk they placed a dainty pink frilled basket filled with a lilac and a yellow gumdrop. The 1 o'clock English 226 class were the cheerful givers but said, tho it be, Mr. Wimberly appeared to be totally unaware of the gift.

Fortune Awaits Poet Who Writes an Ode to the Goat

Wanted—an ode to the goat!
A brand new crisp, five dollar bill awaits the author of an ode to what Webster refers to as the genus Capra of the family Bovidae but which in old-fashioned English is termed a goat. Dr. Nels A. Bengston, chairman of the department of geography, will be the donor of the gift: someone with a love for the butting bovine will be the recipient.

Dr. Bengston is writing a new geography textbook, and wishes to include the goat because of his (or hers) adaptability to varying conditions. The goat, according to Dr. Bengston, occupies an important niche in the life of man and in his activities.

In desert climates, high altitudes and in northern latitudes where forage is of meager quantities and qualities, the inhabitants tend to count their wealth in the terms of the flocks or herds of this animal, as under such conditions the goat furnishes milk and food for these peoples, as well as wool and hides for clothing, and in many instances for shelter as well.

Therefore, in honor of this universal mammal, it is Dr. Bengston's desire to incorporate in his future publication an ode to the genus Capra of the family Bovidae.

And here is an opportunity for some writer to achieve fame, distinction and a five dollar bill, as well as to be preserved for posterity in Dr. Bengston's new book.

Dr. Bengston has announced that he will not judge the odes submitted, but will turn them over to professors in the English department for acceptance or rejection.

35 ENTER FARMERS' FAIR RIDING CONTEST

Contestants Can File Until 4 O'clock Saturday With Fowler.

Lyman Fowler announced today that 35 girls have signed up for the annual inter-sorority riding contest, a popular feature of the Farmers' Fair Saturday. The Tri-Deltas, winners of last year's contest, are out full force in the effort to keep the trophy at home on the Tri-Delt mantlepiece for another year.

They lead the other eight sororities thus far entered in the number of girls riding, totaling eight. They are Vera May Peterson, Clark Oberlies, Katherine Longworthy, Anna Louise Bodinson, Priscilla Eiche, Mary Ruth Simpson, Helen E. Lawrence and Joan Gramlich.

The Kappa Alpha Thetas are next with seven entries. Mary Helen Davis, Maren Dobson, Doris Foreman, Jane Cleary, Flora Mae Rimmerman, Margaret Uptegrove and Mary Anne Martin.

Phi Beta Phi has entered Pat Weaverling, Mary Quigley, Margaret Walker, Helen Truhoff and Mary Bell Bates.

Edith McMann, Henrietta York and Marjorie Lawrence will ride for Alpha Chi O's. For Alpha O will be Janet Swift, Dorothy Base and June Wilson. Helen Lutges and Brownie Bess Berquist will represent the Alpha Phis.

Katheryn Shike, Gamma Phi Beta; Katheryn Long, Phi Mu; Bonny Spanggaard, Carrie Belle Raymond hall; and Marjorie Everette, complete the list of entrants to date.

Fowler stated that it would be possible to enter the contest right up to the last minute, and that to make it easier for the girls to get horses, Shreeve's were making a special rate to girls in the contest. It is scheduled to start at 2 p. m. Saturday.

UNIVERSITY CADETS TO PARADE MONDAY

In preparation for the annual R. O. T. C. cadet corps inspection, slated for Wednesday and Thursday, May 3 and 4, Col. W. H. Oury has called a skeleton parade Monday, May 6, at 5 P. M. noncommissioned, guides, and guidon bearers are required to be present at the parade. Companies will assemble in front of Andrews Hall.

Inspecting officers will be Col. George H. McMaster and Maj. Van Vleet of the seventh corps area at Omaha.

Classes will be dismissed Thursday at 3 p. m., when the formal parade and inspection will be called.

ANNUAL SCOUT CIRCUS TO BE STAGED FRIDAY

Governor Presented With 10,000th Ticket Tuesday.

W. L. "Bill" Day is in charge of the program for the third Cornhusker council Boy Scout circus which will be held at the stadium the night of May 3 under floodlights which will be installed for the event.

Bob Gillaspie, president of troop number 2, presented Governor and Mrs. Cochran with numbers 10,000 and 10,001 yesterday.

Troops in several Nebraska cities have been making preparations since the first of the year to take part in the event. Scouts from McCook, Grand Island, Hastings, Nebraska City, Seward, Burwell, Fairmont, Wymore, Sargent, Cozad, Falls City, North Platte, Grant and Lawrence have signified intentions of attending the circus.

The program will include the prologue, grand entry, cubbing, scout games, out of door skills, signaling, safety first, relay games, story of the stars, parade of wonders, types of fires, sea scouting, pioneering and a closing act.
