The association went on record as endorsing FERA student aid, and that the allotments be increased both in amount and in number, stated Mr. Gunderson.

INTERCLUB COUNCIL TO ELECT HEADS TUESDAY

Retiring President Praises Work of Past Year's Group.

Officers of the Barb Interclub council for next year will be elected at the final meeting of the year Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in U hall, stated John Stover, retiring president.

Stover declared that this year has been one of the most successful which the council has witnessed. The social functions have been better attended than ever before, and many new barb activities have been inaugurated. The former president hopes that the following council will continue the activity of this year's group and develop an efficient barb organization.

New officers to be chosen include secretary, treasurer, athletic chairman, and social chairman. The vice president's post will be filled by the chairman of the Barb council which will be elected Tuesday.

YEAR BOOK STAFF URGES STUDENTS SECURE ANNUALS

Miller States Purchasers May Get Cornhuskers Tuesday.

The 1935 Cornhusker is out! 350 students splashed to University hall Monday to obtain their copies of the first limited printing while members of the business staff prepared the second lot for distribution.

"Sufficient supply will be available for all purchasers with cards Tuesday," declared Business Manager Maynard Miller, "and we hope that you will call for your copy as soon as possible, to facilitate distribution."

Between the attractive, dark red covers of the new yearbook, readers found a map design of the state as an inside cover frontispiece. The map, drawn by Dwight Kirsch, includes county divisions, and is illustrated with early events in the state's history.

"Over the Housetops," an etching of the state capitol, introduces the section "Our Nebraska," a new feature of the annual. Photographs of the pine ridge country, Chadron state park, state fisheries, Arbor Lodge, badlands, and the Platte and Niobrara rivers cover seven pages, preceding photographic scenes of the campus.

Major divisions of the book are Administration, Classes, Activities, Features, Organizations, and Athletics, each preceded by a framed etching drawn by Dwight Kirsch.

UNION PETITIONS CAMPAIGN SHORT 3,000 NAME GOAL

Committee Reveals Several Hundred Signatures Lacking.

DRIVE ENDS WEDNESDAY

Building Plans, Construction Costs Given Regents This Week.

Still lacking several hundred student union petition signatures, executive committee members prepared Monday to launch final efforts in a strong-finish attempt to attain the 3,000-signature goal. Wednesday the drive is to end.

Jack Fischer, executive committee chairman, urged again Monday afternoon that members of the special committee of 100 double their efforts during the last two days of the drive. "If every member of the committee can secure ten additional names we will have reached our goal," he stated. There were slightly more than 2,000 names the last of the week.

Plans for the building, along with construction and labor cost data, are expected to be completed by Wednesday, and with the signed petitions will be presented to the board of regents at their next meeting, which is believed to be scheduled the last of this week.

Book store petitions, sister document to the union petition, will be turned over to the board at the same time.

Mr. Walter Wilson of the firm of Wilson and Davis, architects, is drawing plans for the proposed union building. He expects to have the completed plans ready in time for presentation to the regents. The plans will be sent to the PWA administrator after their presentation to the regents, together with formal application for federal funds, it was announced.

WORLD PEACE RESTS ON OPEN MINDEDNESS WITHIN UNIVERSITIES

J. H. Eichelberger Declares Students Hold Hopes Of Future.

Hope for world peace rests in the fact that students are open minded—willing to make unprejudiced studies of world affairs, was the declaration of J. Herbert Eichelberger, field secretary of the League of Nations association, at the conclusion of a series of five addresses given in Lincoln Sunday and Monday.

This hope further rests on the fact, he maintained, that the majority of college papers, including The Daily Nebraskan, are fighting the bigoted Hearst press. Mr. Eichelberger spoke before the history classes of Prof. L. B. Pfeiffer, executive secretary of the local association.

Mr. Eichelberger attributed all the adverse sentiment toward the League in this country to selfish politicians. In his opinion the initial refusal of the U. S. to enter the world community and the defeat of any measures furthering this purpose since have been due to politicians who have flouted the fear of foreign entanglement before the voters simply because this fear was a vote-getter.

"That is why Hearst with his twenty-three newspapers is one of

Engineering Students Given Broadcasting Station Description.

With the issuance of the Nebraska Blue Print today, engineering students are presented an engineers description of the Columbia Broadcasting Station at Chicago. The May number is the last to be published by the present editorial staff.

E. L. Plotts, university engineering graduate and transmission engineer of the Columbia Broadcasting station in Chicago, writes in the student engineering publication with the article, "Problems of the Columbia Broadcasting System."

Mr. Plotts lists the various engineering aspects of broadcasting, the types of equipment used and their construction. The presentation of over 600 programs during November and other activities of the station are related.

A second article, "Welding as an Engineering College Requirement" by Dean Robert Spencer of the engineering college at the University of Delaware, appears in the issue. Reasons why welding is an engineering requirement at Delaware are pointed out.

Dean Spencer additionally advances argument to show that such a requirement should be made at all engineering colleges.

Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college in "Spending Other People's Money" declares that the engineering profession is most efficiently and effectively spending the money handed out by the federal government. Funds spent by the engineer, he points out, are not squandered and are permanently established theories.

A radio design produced by members of the architecture department, appears on the Blue Print's cover this month.

AG STUDENTS, BARBS BALLOT ON REPRESENTATIVES TODAY

Large Number of Candidates File for Thirteen Offices.

HEAVY VOTE FORECAST

Ineligibilities Leave Only One Board Position Uncontested.

Ag students will go to the polls Tuesday to elect thirteen men and women to fill the board positions of executive importance in planning next year's activities on the Holdrege campus. Polls are open from 8 until 5 o'clock in Dean W. W. Burr's office.

Although political affiliations are not recorded on the ballots, interest has been aroused and a heavy vote is forecast by Ruth Wolfe, publicity chairman of the ag executive board. A larger number of candidates than usual have filed, according to the list announced by the dean's office, but ineligibilities and withdrawals have taken toll.

Only one position was made uncontested by ineligibilities, the office of women at large on the Coll-Agri-Fun committee. Virginia Kiem is the student who will be named for this place officially Tuesday evening.

Ten File for Executive Board.

Women at large filing for the ag executive board are Sylvia Koehne, Margaret Deeds, Bernice Pickett, Emily Spangaard and Lois Allen. One will be selected. Men at large, one to be elected, are Raymond McCarty and John Clymer. Two men enrolled in the ag college will be chosen for the board from Floyd Carroll, Ogden Riddle and Frank Svoboda.

From six women at large running for positions on the Farmer's Fair board, three are to be named. The candidates are Janice Spangbell, Ruth Carsten, Emily Spangaard, Ruth Henderson, Kathryn Jones, and Jean Nelson. Three men at large will be elected from Albert

FRESHMEN MEN FAIL TO APPLY FOR AWARD

Applications for $100 Simon Scholarship Must Be In Saturday.

No applicants have filed for the $100 Simon scholarship being offered to a freshman man for the coming semester, according to word received from Dean C. H. Oldfather's office Monday. Names must be turned into the Dean's office no later than noon of Saturday, May 25.

The first man to use the scholarship fund set up last summer by Harry and Charles Simon in memory of their brother, the late Joseph Simon, will be selected from the list of applicants by the university committee. In the group of judges are Dr. C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences, chairman; Dana X. Bible, director of intercollegiate athletics, and Dr. S. M. Corey of the teachers college.

Requirements established by the donors are that the applicants must be university students who possess literary and scholastic ability. The winner of the $100 award must have the "qualities of manhood, truth, courage, and the moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates," and a "fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports."

Students interested are urged to file immediately, stated Dean Oldfather.

R.O.T.C. PARADES FOR LEGION HEAD THIS AFTERNOON

Frank Belgrano, Jr., Speaks On 'National Defense' At Coliseum.

More than a thousand cadets of the University of Nebraska R. O. T. C. regiment will parade in honor of Frank N. Belgrano, Jr., of San Francisco, national commander of the American Legion, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The parade will precede the commander's address at the coliseum at 5 o'clock. Mr. Belgrano's only university address this year, "National Defense," is the topic of the speech, to be given at the public convocation.

The American Legion has chosen Nebraska university as the school for the national commander to inspect this year, in accordance with their custom of naming one school annually for inspection.

American Legion posts over Nebraska are planning to send their members to the convocation, and the Lincoln legion drum corps will lead the university band in furnishing music in the coliseum. News reels photographers and the National Broadcasting network have arranged to cover the commander's address.

Twenty-Two Students Seek Offices on Barb Council.

VOTING STARTS AT NINE

Last Year's Board Members Supervise Balloting Places.

Twenty-two students today seek office in the barb council, as unaffiliated students vote on the city and ag campuses to fill seven vacancies. Polls open at nine this morning in the Temple and at activities buildings, and will close at five o'clock this afternoon. The twenty-two candidate slate is the largest in years, according to students in charge of the election.

Two seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores will be elected. Five candidates have filed for the senior posts. They are: John C. Bishop, Marion Jackson, Emory Johnson, Francis Johnson and Edwin Speth.

Juniors contesting for two seats in the council are: Carl Alexis, Nat Feder, Ardis Graybell, LeRoy Hansen, Bert Hartzell, William Kuticka, Lowell Newmyer, James Riisness, Victor Schwarting, Eunice Werner, Milton Whitman and Lenore Teal.

Sophomore office seekers are: Wilbur Beesley, Gretchen Budd, Burly Shuck, Richard Nims and Clarence Summers. Last year's council members are supervising the polls, with Wilbur Erickson in charge at the Temple polls and Aletha Forrell in charge of ag campus. Five council hold-over members who will serve with those to be elected today are Jim Marvin, John Stover, Alvin Kleeb, Doris Weaver and Bill Newcomer.

Polling on ag campus will be handled in connection with the barb A. W. S. election, it was announced.

BARB WOMEN ELECT FIVE NEW MEMBERS A.W.S. LEAGUE TODAY

Seven Girls Apply for Five Vacant Positions on Governing Body.

Barb women will choose five new members for the Barb A. W. S. league when they go to the polls Tuesday to vote on the seven nominees for the positions. The polls will be open from 9 o'clock until 5 in the drawing room of Ellen Smith hall, Evelyn Diamond, president of the Barb A. W. S. league, announced.

The withdrawal of the name of Gayle Cayle left seven applicants for the five positions to be filled. Those still in the running are Rowena Swenson, Mary White, Catherine Cahill, Ruth Fulton, Fern Bloom, Aileen Honnold, and Jean Marvin. The nominees were introduced to the barb women at a tea, Sunday, at the home of Prof. O. E. Edison.

Gretchen Budd will open the polls at 9 o'clock, with Jean Marvin in charge at 10. Elizabeth Edison will be on duty from 11 to 12. Evelyn Diamond, from 12 to 3, and Ardis Graybell, from 3 to 5.

FRATERNITY COUNCIL TO SELECT OFFICERS

Four Offices at Stake in Annual Elections Tonight.

Interfraternity Council members will elect new officers Tuesday evening. According to reports from Joe Rhea, council president, the committee on committees has completed its nomination slate from which the council will select its officers for next year.

Four offices are at stake. They are president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer. The nominations include two candidates for each office. Interfraternity council rules require that offices be evenly divided between the two political factions, and rotated each year. Rhea urged that every fraternity be sure its representative is present.

FERGUSON WILL TALK TO SENIOR ENGINEERS

Dean Plans Discussion of Problems in Finding Positions.

Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college will address the seniors of the engineering college with his "final chat" at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in M. E. 206.
