

CADETS ENTER CAMP FOR R.O.T.C. TRAINING

Military Students Go Into Second Week of Drill At Fort Crook.

Into R. O. T. C. camp at Fort Crook last week went 146 university junior cadet officers, second lieutenants in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. These men will remain in camp for drill training until July 20.

Army officers, detailed as instructors at the university who will be in charge of the men are Maj. C. E. Speer, Maj. J. P. Horan, Capt. E. H. Connor and Capt. L. E. Lilley. University cadets are required to spend the summer in camp as part of their advanced course in military science

Keim Offers Course in Weed and Crops Study

An extension course in identification of weeds and crop plants, giving two hours credit, is being offered this summer by Dr. F. D. Keim, chairman of the department of agronomy at the university. This course, says Doctor Keim, is designed to acquaint people with the various weeds, and some of the more common grasses and legumes that are used in lawns and pastures.

Meeting first on Tuesday evening, June 18 at 7 o'clock, the class will be held twice a week, with field trips at those times. Students will have the opportunity to make mounts of both seeds and plants. Registration should be made through the extension division.

Hitchcock Scholarship in Journalism Offered Again

The Gilbert M. Hitchcock scholarship of $1,000 to the Columbia university graduate school of journalism will be renewed for next year, according to an announcement by Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the school. Graduates of a Nebraska college or university, or residents of Nebraska who are graduates of other schools are eligible. Applications can be filed at any time before Sept. 1. This scholarship is given in memory of the late editor and publisher of the Omaha World-Herald.

Pharmacy Firm Awards Fellowship to Miss Brew

Marjorie Brew of Cheney has been granted a fellowship for the summer at the university by Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago. Miss Brew held a scholarship from the same company during the regular school year. She will continue her study and research on the coating of enteric tablets, under the direction of F. S. Bukey, assistant professor of pharmacy at the university.

Students Visit Central With Free Food Coupons

University summer students have been tearing up last week's Nebraskan to take the 15 cent free coupons to the Central Cafe for food and fountain service. The Cafe made what it called a "new deal to students and faculty" whereby they merely took the coupon and exchanged it for restaurant merchandise.

Carl von Brandenfels, manager of the Central, says the offer will be open until midnight of June 21. The Cafe is at 1325 P street, and is well known to Lincoln people.

BOOKMEN'S EXHIBIT NOW IN GRANT HALL

School Supplies and Books In Campus Showing by Publishers.

An exhibit of textbooks and educational supplies will be on display in Grant Memorial hall thru June 26. Arranged each summer by the Nebraska Bookmen's association, the demonstration is of interest to teachers.

Everyone is invited to visit the exhibit, which includes textbooks for use from kindergarden thru college, and supplies of all kinds. Exhibitors are members of the association, and a few others who have joined this year's showing.

Among the companies represented here are: Allyn & Bacon; American Book; Ginn; D. C. Heath; Houghton, Mifflin; Iroquois Publishing; Laidlaw Brothers; Lyons & Scott; Foresman; Silver, Burdett; Southwestern Publishing; University Publishing; John C. Winston; and World Book.

M. B. Thompson, Lincoln, is president of the Nebraska Bookmen's association, J. W. Trusdale of Topeka, Kas., is vice president and T. R. Crawford of Lincoln is secretary-treasurer.
