

CHICAGO GAME RALLY TODAY

MARVIN EXPECTS LARGE CROWD AT SATURDAY PARTY

Billy Meyers Will Furnish Music for Varsity Affair.

DECORATIONS IN PLACE

Dancing Floor Put in Best of Condition for Event.

With music by Billy Meyers' well known Omaha orchestra, the season's second varsity party in the coliseum Saturday evening is expected to attract a large number of university students. The dancing floor has been placed in the best of condition and permanent decorations have been set up, James Marvin, barb council president, announced.

Having been playing at Omaha's better dancing clubs, Meyers' ten piece band is expected to present first class music for the party, Marvin stated. The orchestra has been appearing at the Ak-Sar-Ben and is scheduled to entertain at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball in Omaha next month. The past summer they toured throughout Iowa, Nebraska and other midwestern states.

"The dance floor is now in excellent condition," the barb council president declared. "The slippery condition of the floor at the last party will not be experienced Saturday evening as the excessive portion of the new wax preparation has been removed. A janitor's inexperience in applying the new wax caused the difficulty last week."

Chaperons for the affair are O. W. Reinmuth, O. H. Werner and D. A. Worcester, according to an announcement by Doris Weaver, vice president of the barb council and chairman of the chaperon committee.

Admission price will remain the same as the last week's varsity party, it was pointed out.

Murmurs By Ray Mur

Cremate Chicago! And then to demonstrate the virile virtue of sportsmanship supposedly present in the great American game the Huskers might respectfully gather the ashes of their victims from the stadium sod and ship them back home, there to be ceremoniously disposed of by scattering from the highest pinnacle in the Windy city.

Yesterday at the first coliseum convocation of the year the freshmen throng became full fledged members of the Universitas Nebraskanis, an institution whose soundness and worth will be tested for their benefit on Saturday afternoon beginning at 2 p. m.

Also for the edification of the neophytes was the upper-classmen courtesy demonstrated by the departure en masse of one-third of the convocation audience when the governor of the state arose to address the assembly. Last year at a similar occasion Nebraska's No. 1 solon, Senator George Norris, received an identical expression of student appreciation.

A little brown boy and a little white boy were discussing the late Baer-Louis fistic battle over in front of the Bancroft school on U street. They agreed that Baer had been knocked down three times before the final knockout, and that the Brown Bomber would pick Braddock. Neither said anything about the Negro being better than the white or vice versa.

Muscle-Inny (thanks to a friend) is determined to avenge the Adowa incident among other things. His attitude at the league and in general concerning his coming conquest demonstrates that if you have an army you want to use it. And now that he has gone this far his prestige will be ruined at home if he backs down.

Here is an interpretation of the Regents new regulation on smoking. The "NO SMOKING" followed by the heavy dark line of separation refers to smoking in general apart from the use of tobacco in the school buildings. The rest of the order means that all lighting of the sedative weed must be enacted within the university buildings and the enjoyment thereof of must be experienced while the partaker is stationary.

HUSKER MENTORS

DANA X. BIBLE

Dana Xenophon Bible believes that Nebraska can beat Chicago tomorrow, and the Cornhusker mentor has few exaggerated statements to his credit.

Roy "Link" Lyman, Nebraska graduate and recent addition to the Husker coaching staff from the Chicago Bears, promises a line to meet the offense of "Jumping Jay" Berwanger and his Maroon teammates.

AMANDA HEPPNER HONORS STUDENTS AT TEA THURSDAY

Music Panhellenic Presents Program at Annual Affair.

First of the social teas of this season was given by Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, for freshmen girls as well as upper classwomen, Thursday afternoon from 2:30 until 5:30 in Ellen Smith hall.

Miss Mary Edith Hendricks, A. W. S. president, headed the receiving line with Miss Heppner. With them was Mrs. E. A. Burnett, wife of the chancellor, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, assistant dean of women, Dr. Elizabeth Williams, social director of Raymond hall, Mrs. Ada Westover, employment secretary, Miss Kate Field, director of Panhellenic, and Miss Mildred Green, new W. W. C. A. secretary.

Members of Mortar Board served in the east dining room, while members of Alpha Lambda Delta freshman honorary served in the main court. Officers of A. W. S.; Y. W. C. A. and the Coed Council were present to welcome students. Lois Rathburn, member of Mortar Board, was in charge of the musical program, which was presented by Musical Panhellenic. Pianists during the afternoon were: Evelyn Stowell, Sigma Alpha Iota; Alice Redwood, Delta Omicron; June Goethe, Mu Phi Epsilon; Irene Kemmers, Mu Phi Epsilon. Eunice Bingham played a violin solo, Ruth Mary Jennings the marimba, and Frances Spencer the cello.

Chaperons of various organized houses on the campus who served during the afternoon were: Mrs. Hattie Hill, Mrs. Eloise Tebbits, Mrs. Leo J. Schmittel, Dr. Winona Perry, Mrs. Julia Petermichael, Mrs. Gertrude Adams, Mrs. Ella Marshall, and Mrs. Hal Minor.

Decorations created a garden effect, by attractive grouping of large baskets of ferns, flowers, and palms.

Weaker Sex Isn't So Weak, Tests of Coed Grip Strength Show

Freshmen and sophomore women and those who major in physical education have been spending the last few days taking physical examinations. Added to the usual required information of height, weight, and "do you smoke," is the record of the power of their lungs, and the grip of their hands. The records of the amount of air the women several hundreds of women can blow thru a tube is hoped some day to prove that women are longer winded than men. The measurements of the grips of their hands may never prove anything, but the results do seem to show that the weaker sex isn't so weak after all.

Business College Graduate Studying In Czechoslovakia Relates Chances Abroad; Faith in Home Institutions

Convinced that a good education is the only road to business success, Victor J. Markytan, '34, says that his study and training that he received here has been indispensable for his year's graduate study which he has just completed in Europe. In a letter to Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the Bizad college, Markytan relates some of his experiences and observations he has made while in the graduate school of business, Prague, Czechoslovakia. Markytan went to Prague following his graduation from the Bizad college here. "I shall, of course," writes Markytan, "leave many fine things

CRITICS SEE CLOSE GAME

Scarlet Depends on LaNoue, Cardwell to Match Berwanger.

Nebraska fires the first salvo of a nine weeks gridiron campaign Saturday against the University of Chicago in Memorial Stadium. Critics viewing the impending battle from the nonpartisan "on the fence" lookouts, see a rank tossup, with as much support going for one team as the other. From all reports, Chicago, with the mighty Jumping Jay Berwanger behind the line, expects to come thru with a handy victory. Nebraskaans, while looking for a close, hair-edge decision, are certain their Scarlet and Cream will overcome the deeper-toned Maroon.

Berwanger Chicago Hope. Chicago will pin most of its victory hopes on the brawny Jay Berwanger, with Ned Bartlett a potential dark horse punch delivery. Berwanger is the big, fast type of ball carrier who shines at every department of the game. Last year he won All-American honors. His running mate, Bartlett, was kept out most of the season with a lame leg, but even so was accorded second all-Big Ten team choice.

Nebraska's two backfield test bets are "Wild Hoss" Lloyd Cardwell and speedy little Jerry LaNoue. It will be Cardwell's duty to keep pace with Berwanger, much the same type of player he is. LaNoue will be counted on to deliver punch with his speed and dashing fire.

AWGWAN PUBLICATION POSTPONED FOUR DAYS

More Time Needed to Secure Good Printing Job, Editor Claims.

Announcement was made late Thursday afternoon that the first Awgwan will not be released until Wednesday instead of Friday as was previously announced. "We had hoped to have the magazines on the stands Friday in order to sell them at the football game Saturday," said John Edwards, editor, "but this would so rush the printing of the pages that it would endanger the neatness of the job. For this reason it was advisable to postpone the issuance of the magazine."

FORMER STUDENTS VISIT ALMA MATER

Prof. F. F. Schramm reported several recent visits to the geology department by former university graduates. These included Earl M. Hayter, professor of history and political science at McKendree college, Lebanon, Ill.; Louis Lukert, geologist with the Texas company; A. P. Allison, now connected with the Sun Oil company at Houston, Tex.; Jess Vernon, with the Amerada Petroleum company at Shawnee, Okl.; John Watt and Frank Blanchard, both with the state highway department.

PROGRAM FEATURES KINSCELLA NUMBERS

Music by Former Faculty Member Played on Radio.

A program of choral compositions by Miss Hazel Gertrude Kinscella, faculty member of the University School of Music, and a graduate of the university, was featured by the NBC network on a nation-wide book-up Tuesday. The announcer referred to Miss Kinscella as "the well-known American composer."

Students May Receive Seating Assignments

All freshmen lecture students who have not already had seats definitely assigned in the Temple theater for the section which they attend are requested to call in the Freshmen lecture office former museum 103 before 3 p. m. Monday, Sept. 30. Tickets may be obtained daily 1 to 3 p. m. or Saturday from 10 to 12 a. m. N. A. BENGTON.

Historical Society Moves; Library Has New Shelving Space

If you are one of those students who has called for a book in the library and found the assistant somewhat slow in bringing it, we hope you have not become impatient. The library department is making several changes which will help make the most of the library situation.

The State Historical society which has occupied part of the basement of the library has been moved to new quarters, which leaves several empty rooms. A new staircase connects this basement space with the main library reserve rooms, thus increasing book storage by almost a third. New stacks are being installed to put more books within convenient reach. So when you call for a book, consider that the assistant has to look through piles and piles of books in aisles and passage ways, and be patient, because service will be better as soon as the books are placed in their new positions.

AG STUDENTS TO ATTEND FACULTY PARTY SATURDAY

Guests to Meet Holdrege Campus Professors at Reception.

Dancing, games, and the opportunity to meet members of the Ag college faculty, and some of the board of regents, awaits all Holdrege campus students who attend the annual faculty reception at Ag college. The affair will be held Saturday, Sept. 28, at 8 p. m. in the student activities building.

Indications are that attendance will be larger than at any previous Ag college faculty reception and all students on our campus are urged to attend," stated Prof. C. W. Smith, publicity chairman. Ag college graduates and Ag engineering students are also welcome to attend the affair.

At the beginning of the reception student guests will meet Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the home economics department; Dean Amanda Heppner, Miss Florence McGahay, and members of the board of regents who will all be in the receiving line.

Tommy Tompkins and his band will furnish music for those who wish to dance. Games and contests are planned for part of the crowd. The ball room will be transformed into a garden for the evening, with lanterns, lattice work, palms and potted plants as decoration.

Corn Cobs, Tassels, Band, 'N' Club, Innocents Lead Campus Parade.

Stirring the fires of Cornhusker spirit, evidences of student enthusiasm will be released this evening when loyal supporters of the Scarlet and Cream gather in front of the Temple theater at 6:45 o'clock for the initial football rally of the year before the Nebraska-Chicago university game Saturday.

Corn Cobs, Tassels, band, "N" club, and the Innocents will all form to lead the parade down fraternity and sorority rows to the stadium where members of both teams will be presented to the student body.

In order to prevent interference with all university church night, the gathering will terminate at 7:30, Fred Chambers, president of the "N" club and head of the student rally committee, announced.

The band, followed by the pep and honorary organizations, will head the procession down R street to 16th where they will pause for cheers and songs. Gathering new recruits on the way from the houses, the marchers will continue to 16th and Vine where they will head directly for the stadium.

"It is not only the eleven men on the field that are playing Chicago Saturday," Ted Bradley, president of Corn Cobs, declared, "but it is the whole school whose athletic reputation is at stake. Each and every student owes his allegiance to the university. It is our duty to get out and bolster the morale of the team who will be fighting for the honor of the school."

MARGARET PHILLIPPE WINS TASSELLS PRIZE

Pep Group Sells Close to 1000 Uni Players Tickets.

Margaret Phillippe won first place Thursday in the daily report of the progress made by the Tassels in their extensive campaign for the University players. Thursday reports showed a decided increase in sales. Up to date close to 1,000 tickets have been sold. Mildred Holland and Jane Holland are tied for second place.

Arnold Hunter, director of the Players, extended the ticket sale to Friday so that the Tassels could contact every one in order to make more sales and put the Players over again this year.

Elizabeth Shearer, president of Tassels, assigned two girls to each fraternity house on the campus to give pep talks during the dinner hour, urging the men to come to the football rally that will be held Friday night.

Dr. Emerson, Graduate, Visits Campus This Week

Dr. R. A. Emerson, class of 1897, and for many years professor of horticulture here, visited old friends on the campus this week. On leaving Nebraska in 1913, he became Dean of the Graduate school at Cornell. He now holds the title of professor of breeding at that school and is recognized as one of the world's outstanding geneticists.

Nebraska's Rolling Highway Builders To Use No Defective Materials While Testing Department of School Exists

Builders of Nebraska's rolling highways will use no defective material in their operations as long as the state highway testing department of the university continues to exist. The department, with a mechanical and chemical array of apparatus, checks for imperfect workmanship all the materials going into the state's principal highways. Specimens from cement, gravel, oil and asphalt roads arrive daily in the highway laboratory, located in the old power plant and the A. M. building. Here tests are made to ascertain whether or not materials furnished by contractors meet the requirements and specifications as laid down by the state

Dean of the Nebraska back field, smooth-passing Henry George Bauer will captain the scarlet machine in the opening battle tomorrow afternoon.

CITY'S CHURCHES PLAN RECEPTIONS FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Religious Welfare Council Arranges Evening for Students.

Churches throughout Lincoln will be hosts to old and new students Friday night when they will carry out extensive programs planned for the annual all university church night, according to R. B. Henry, Presbyterian student pastor who is in charge of publicity for the affair this year.

Under the sponsorship of the University Religious Welfare council, this evening has been arranged so that all students may become acquainted with the church of their preference. The local churches also desire an opportunity to extend an open invitation to the students to regularly attend Sunday and week day services.

According to R. B. Henry, numerous entertainments and many surprises have been planned by the various churches to attract students. He hopes that many will take advantage of the hospitality offered by the Lincoln churches. An innovation this year is the New World Cruise being planned for the Presbyterian students by Mr. Henry. The home port where the journey will start will be the Manse at 333 No. 14th. Battleship flags have adorned the home for the past few days, and other realistic decorations such as a gangplank and life preservers.

Details of the trip have been kept in secret by the students who have worked on the project. Many interesting souvenirs have been made for the 300 students expected to attend this entertainment, cars will take the passengers to the various ports during the evening the identity of which have been concealed. The first stop will be "Port Vision" where the students will hear what the cruise is (Continued on Page 2.)

E. HARRISON TO GIVE MUSIC CONVOCATION

Piano Instructor Opens Annual Series of Programs.

Earnest Harrison, professor of piano, will open the annual series of musical convocations Wednesday, Oct. 2, at 4 p. m. at Temple theater.

His selections will include Beethoven's Sonata Opus 26, and a group of Chopin numbers which include Balade in A flat Major, Nocturne in B Major, Waltz in E Minor and Etude in A Minor. Professor Harrison will conclude his recital with a descriptive selection, Veils and Minstrels by Debussy and Tarantelle by Liszt.

Concerts are free of charge not only to music students but to the public as well.

1500 FRESHMEN HEAR COCHRAN AT ANNUAL MEETING

Hill Administers Cornhusker Oath to Class of 1939.

MEET IN FIELD HOUSE

Coach Bible Asks Backing Of Neophytes in Athletics.

Fifteen hundred freshmen became the official class of 1939 of the university Thursday morning at 11 o'clock as they were formally initiated at a convocation held in the coliseum. Governor Roy L. Cochran, university officials, and heads of campus activities, all gathered in the huge field house to welcome the largest freshman class in years and to pay tribute to the school and its traditions.

The governor, who arrived at the ceremony late because the train on which he was returning from the American Legion convention in St. Louis was unexpectedly delayed, delivered the morning's feature address. He spoke of his years as a student in the university and stated that it thrilled him to see the large gathering of college students.

Record Class. Richard Schmidt, president of the Innocents acted as master of ceremonies at the convocation. In his opening remarks, he welcomed the incoming students and outlined for them a picture of their college career. "In becoming a member of the class of 1939," Schmidt declared, "you have associated yourselves with one of the largest and finest groups ever to enter Nebraska university. As a university class, you are, at present, only two weeks old, and the days of your university education are ahead of you."

At the conclusion of his talk, Schmidt introduced Chancellor E. A. Burnett who extended his greeting to the freshmen and gave several bits of advice to the newcomers. He pointed out that every student must organize his time properly to gain the most benefit from his schooling. "School is not all books," he said. "A student's activities must be well regulated and sensibly divided among studies, extra-curricular activities, and leisure." He emphasized the importance of scholarship and urged everybody to maintain a high standard in their studies.

Extends Invitation. Alaire Barkes, president of the Mortar Boards, senior women's honorary, was next on the program. After welcoming the freshmen, particularly the girls, she presented Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women. Miss Heppner proclaimed her pleasure at having such a wonderful new class and asked that all freshmen girls feel free to come to her at any time with any problems which might confront them. She also invited all of them to attend the tea held yesterday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall where they would have an opportunity of meeting Mrs. Burnett and other women connected with the university.

Pursuing the athletic side of the university Coach D. X. Bible, in his speech, emphasized the need for sustained loyalty of the student body for Husker teams. He asked that all freshmen interest themselves in the athletic enterprises of the school, and, if possible, participate in some form of athletics. "We must build up and sustain a real spirit of loyalty and interest," Bible remarked. "We need continual backing from the student body, not just hoping and praying."

Following Bible's remarks, the Cornhusker Oath was administered to the freshmen by Irving Hill, president of Student council. In stirring, forceful words Hill outlined the purposes, traditions and principles of the university before giving the oath. Led by Bill Garlow, the gathering then gave several Cornhusker yells.

Concluding the program Dean J. Thompson introduced the governor. The first citizen of the state traced his own life as a student and construction engineer to those present. "I am vitally interested in the university and its students," Governor Cochran declared. "I am interested as one concerned with state affairs and as one who has had the opportunity of going thru it myself. It always inspires me to see and talk to a group of young people who are about to begin their college life." He stressed the importance of scholarship and participation in campus activities and advised everyone to become interested in some phase of college activity.

After the ceremony was completed, pictures of the group were taken by Prof. E. A. Grote of the mechanical engineering department and the University News and Feature Service. Music was furnished by the university band, under the direction of William T. Quick.
