Murmurs By Ray Mur

IT is the acrid opinion of some of the academic pedagogues on this and other campuses that football coaches get too much money.

In this connection it might be pointed out that the football coach receives two salaries, one from the university and one from the athletic association.

To relieve any seriousness that may have pyramided in the above remarks here's the gist of the best song of the month for group singing.

Article by Dooley Lauds Coach Bible For Team-Handling

Paying tribute to the team handling tactics of Coach Dana X. Bible, Edwin B. Dooley, former All-America quarterback, states in an article for The Elks Magazine that "when Bible takes the floor to address a team, every player is sold on what he says because he knows full well that his coach is talking sense and not bunk."

WOMEN ACTIVITY LEADERS EXPLAIN WORK ON CAMPUS

Convocation Scheduled for 11 O'clock Today In Temple.

Activity organizations and their importance on the campus will be explained today to all new women students by leaders of the various groups.

Miss Heppner inaugurated the plan of orientation and adjustment in the university last year and feels that it has filled a long felt need of new students.

Aims, purposes, and projects of the major women's organizations will be discussed for two minutes by presidents of the various groups.

Somewhere the dean of the law college had heard the name Huey Long before. It seemed that the name had some significance other than its connection with politics.

SCHWENK OPENS FILINGS FOR '35 KOSMET REVIEW

Fraternities and Sororities Must Make Separate Entries.

CHANGE SKIT JUDGING

Klub to Use Large Number Of Curtain Acts This Year.

Kosmet Klub will receive applications for skit entries in the 1935 fall show until Tuesday night, Oct. 8, according to Clayton Schwenk, president of the organization.

During previous years, the Klub allowed fraternities and sororities to collaborate in skit presentations; due to a ruling by the faculty committee this year this will be discontinued.

Another change in judging this year will be the addition of a faculty committee, appointed by the Klub, which will select the winners.

That a larger number of curtain acts will be used this year was indicated by Schwenk, who urged that some groups without time or talent enough for a complete act prepare shorter skits that could be presented between the regular ten minute skits.

PEPSTERS RALLY FOR TEAM BEFORE JOURNEY TO IOWA

Corncobs, Tassels Plan Big Sendoff Friday Night At 6:45.

BAND WILL PLAY SONGS

Players Will Leave at 8 on Ak-Sar-Ben Train For Ames.

Student pepsters will gather in a big sendoff rally for the Cornhusker football team, which is journeying to Ames, Iowa, for a Saturday battle with the Iowa State Cyclones, at 6:45 Friday evening at the Burlington station.

Led by the Corn Cobs and Tassels, spirited backers of the team will be led in several cheers and will sing to the accompaniment of the university band. The men will take the Ak-Sar-Ben train, which is scheduled to leave at 8 o'clock.

"We would like to have a good-sized group at the train tomorrow night," Pester declared. "The team needs to feel that the student body is squarely behind it even more when they are playing away from home than when they play here, for they lack that support during the game on a foreign field."

Next week, as a buildup for the Minnesota game, spirit will be unleashed in a big bonfire rally to be held on Friday night.

PART OF UNIVERSITY BAND WILL PRESENT PROGRAM AT PAWNEE

Musicians Will Entertain At County Fair on Oct. 4.

Under the direction of William T. Quick a 65-piece university band, picked from the mammoth corps of R. O. T. C. musicians, will make a trip to Pawnee City on Friday, Oct. 4, to play a varied concert for the Pawnee County Fair.

The two buses for the trip, which are being supplied by those in charge of the Fair, will leave the Temple at 4 p. m. on Friday and return to Lincoln the same day following the concert.

Soloists at the concert will be Ernest Green, who will play Hebert Clarke's trumped number "Sounds from the Hudson," and Lenard Williams will sing two vocal solos with hand accompaniment, and his selections will be the popular songs, "Smiling Thru" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

The remainder of the concert which was announced by Director Quick as more or less tentative is as follows: the overture, "Thedre," by J. Massenet; "Amina," serenade by Paul Lincke; the characteristic selection, "Rocking Horse Parade" by Ring-Hager; a novelty, "Two Guitars," by Horlick; and Victor Herbert's musical comedy, "The Serenade." The program will be concluded with "The Cornhusker."

TASSLS WILL KEEP SALES CONTRACT FOR 1936

Approximately 1,200 University Players tickets have been sold to date and reservations are still coming into the office.

"This year's sale, while not wholly successful, is in no way a failure and its chief result should be an added impetus toward a successful future," stated Armand Hunter, business manager of the Players today.

The campaign did not quite reach the peak of former years but with better co-operation of the part of both the players and the Tassels, Mr. Hunter predicts that next year the Tassels will surpass anything they have done before.

"The rumor that the University Players contract with the Tassels has been broken is entirely false. The contract has not been broken and the Tassels still have the sale of tickets for next year," Mr. Hunter added.

Because the provisions of the contract stated that the goal must be reached in order to receive the individual prizes, such offers as a free ticket and cash gifts were not awarded. However, the Tassels will receive the straight commission on the amount of tickets sold.

LAWYERS SURRENDER TO FEMINE ONRUSH, PUT CORN COBS AWAY

Men's last haven in a co-educational institution—law college—was surrendered Wednesday. Following the announcement by Dean H. H. "Shimmy" Foster that feminine registrants increased 57 percent this year, a white petticoat was run up at half mast to replace a virile skull and crossbones.

Crestfallen because of the loss of their classroom smoking privileges, the revelation came as the final straw for dejected barristers, now seen along Tenth street, heads in hands. In law library, future advocates-at-the-bar no longer keep their heads buried in Blackstone; the disturbing rustle of skirts has made study impossible.

"There is only one thing I have to say, one assertion to prove," pounded out one ardent attorney on his desk "before we surrender the college lock, stock, and barrel. I want to deny the vicious rumor circulating in the Moon that we will hold our dances in the auditorium."

TWELVE HOUSES ASSESSED $5 FOR RUSH VIOLATIONS

Pledge List Fine Slashed By Interfraternity Council.

Nominal fines of five dollars each have been imposed on twelve Nebraska fraternities who violated rushing rules by revealing names of new pledges to the Lincoln Journal before the deadline set by the Interfraternity council, it was announced by the council's judiciary committee which levied the fine.

Those chapters incurring penalties are Acacia, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Theta Xi.

Failure to pay the fine will result in suspension of all chapter activities, according to council by-laws. Action was taken by the committee after an open discussion of the matter at the last interfraternity council meeting.

Members of the judiciary committee said the usual $50 fine had been set aside because of methods employed by the paper in inducing the several chapters to release their pledge lists. Practically every offending house was led to believe that the official list had been released by the council, the committee declared.

A formal protest charging that the paper's night staff employed will be presented to the Journal some time this week, it was unfair methods in obtaining the pledge lists has been prepared and learned.

UNI PLAYERS TICKET DRIVE REACHES 1200

Tassels Will Keep Sales Contract for 1936.

Approximately 1,200 University Players tickets have been sold to date and reservations are still coming into the office.

YEARBOOK HEADS APPOINT 65 NEW STAFF MEMBERS

Additional Positions Created Due to Huge Number of Applicants.

WORK BEGINS AT ONCE

Rinehart-Marsden Receives Picture Contract for 1936 Cornhusker.

Appointments to the staff positions on the 1936 Cornhusker year book were announced late Wednesday by Faith Arnold, editor, following approval by Gayle C. Walker, head of the publications board.

Those receiving offices are expected to report to the Cornhusker office in U. hall immediately.

Due to the large number of persons applying for positions, additional places were created on the staff.

The picture contract was awarded Wednesday to last year's photographers, Rinehart-Marsden, and students may begin Thursday having pictures taken for junior, senior, fraternity and sorority sections. These divisions will be closed before the Christmas vacation period this year, so it is important that students act immediately. Miss Arnold stressed, in order that satisfaction can be given.

Cass Senior Editor. Lewis Cass will serve as senior editor, and Ross Martin as editor of the junior section. Fraternity and sorority editors will be Floyd (Continued on Page 2.)

COBS OUTLINE WAYS TO INCREASE INCOME

Support Pledged in Drive For Regenerated Student Pep.

The Corn Cobs, men's pep organization, pledged their full support to the innocents and student council in their drive for a regenerated student spirit and a greater emphasis on university traditions at their meeting held at 7:15 Tuesday evening in U. hall. It was also decided that the organization would take over the sale of Awgwan subscriptions and a football pennants as means of raising money for Cob activities.

In addition, a new plan, the full identity of which will be announced soon, will be worked out as a further method of finance.

A house to house canvass of all fraternities will be made Monday night to impress freshmen on the campus with the importance of wearing freshmen caps. Several committees will be appointed by Ted Bradley, president, to cover all houses.

Bob Hutton and Harry Hammer were chosen by Bradley to head a committee on Awgwan sales, assisted by Clare Wiley. The committee on the pennant sales is in charge of George Eager, Milton Whitman, Bill Crittenden, Bob Stieffer and Dave Bernstein will assist him.

DEBAUFRE ADDRESSES STUDENTS OF A.S.M.E.

Professor Says Engineers Profit Much Through Membership.

Declaring that mechanical engineers will profit greatly by membership in the national American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Prof. W. L. DeBaufre of applied mechanics department addressed the student chapter of the national organization, Wednesday evening.

The speaker, who is head of the Nebraska division, told of connections and co-operation between the student and the national society.

The student junior membership award to the Nebraska chapter will again be presented this year, Prof. DeBaufre pointed out. The student who writes the best paper on mechanical engineering will receive junior membership in the national organization.

George Heiser, chairman of the committee in charge of the student chapter's program, outlined activities for the year. Prof. A. A. Luebs of the M. E. department, honorary chairman of the local A. S. M. E., also spoke to the large group of students attending.

SORORITY DISCUSSES RULES FOR RUSHING

Rushing rules will be discussed at a meeting of Phi Chi Theta, honorary business sorority, when members assemble tonight at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall for the first regular meeting of this semester. Carol Galloway, president of the group, will preside.
