Dauntless Husker Spirit Fucks Team

CAMPUS STAGES TWO BIG RALLIES FOR VIKING TILT

Classes Dismissed for Huge Mass Meeting Friday At 11 O'clock.

PRACTICE SONGS, YELLS

Evening Demonstration to Be Broadcast Over Radio Station KFOR.

The rousing Cornhusker spirit, which has been raging on the campus all during the past week, will reach its peak Friday, when the entire school turns out for two stupendous rallies, to be staged by Nebraska's rally committee.

"The most colorful exhibition of student spirit ever demonstrated by a Nebraska student body." These are the words of Eugene Pester, innocents' member of the committee.

The first of these colorful demonstrations is scheduled to begin at 11 a. m. when all classes will be dismissed and the entire student body will assemble at the west door of Social Science hall.

Mimeographed sheets of new songs and yells will be distributed among the students by the Corn Cobs and Tassels. Dean Parvin Witte, glee club director, will lead the songs for the group, and yells will be led by the regular cheer leaders. After a series of yells and songs the crowd will parade down 12th street and thru the business section of the city behind a police escort.

The fire of student spirit will reach its peak Friday evening when the students will again meet for the second rally which will be broadcast over KFOR. Students will meet at 6:45 in front of the Temple theater and from there will take the usual route around the campus. The procession will be led by a sound-equipped truck which will carry the cheer leaders and speakers. The truck will be followed by the band, Corn Cobs, Tassels, Innocents, Mortar Boards, and the largest student body to assemble for a student rally in years, Pester announced.

Bonfire Featured. Broadcast will begin at 7:15, when the group will march behind the coliseum for the largest rally in the history of the school. A large bonfire has been prepared by the Corn Cobs and Innocents and the team will see a true demonstration of the backing they will have on the field Saturday.

Speakers of the rally will be Max Towle, county attorney for Lancaster county and a former member of the Cornhusker squad, who threw the winning pass when Nebraska last defeated the Norsemen in 1915; James Heid, acting captain for the fray; Coach Dana X. Bible; and Gordon Beck, receiver of the renowned pass thrown by Towle.

From the bonfire the body will parade to the Stuart theater where all students will be given a special price of admittance of 25 cents. Pep demonstrations will be conducted from the stage before the presentation of the picture.

Pester urged that students refrain from spontaneous rallies in classrooms and corridors and save their pep for the scheduled demonstrations.

Murmurs By Ray Mur

GATHERING on the horizon of the north is the shadow of a great joy or a great sorrow. A potential plague threatens the sturdy agriculturists of a great farm state. . . gophers, giant gophers, powerful gophers are coming to ravage on the most sacred field. This pestilence of rodent-like mammals is coming to despoil our escutcheon by digging a great hole in the field of our honor. Shall we grid ourselves with a fiery spirit that will singe the very hides of the invaders, shall we subdue the little beasts, shall we discipline them to do our bidding, so much so, that every one of our houses may have a parlor pet? Thus can we turn this pestilence into a blessing. May we suggest a demonstrable "will to win" as a substitute for the old Egyptian remedy of prayer against plagues. In other words, when (Continued on Page 4.)

Unless You're a Spirited Backer of the Game.

Saturday's the day! At 2 o'clock the powerful Vikings from Minnesota will invade the Cornhusker stronghold to do battle with the fighting Cornhuskers. The team is ready. Are you? Are you, the student body, prepared to inspire the team with your spirit at tomorrow's game? With you and your whole hearted support the team cannot help but ride the crest of victory wave.

The administration is demonstrating its co-operation with you by backing a rally today at 11 o'clock. Classes will be dismissed, so let's not get too anxious and break up any classes before the appointed time. When the time does come, though, everybody be there and get into the spirit of the occasion with all your heart and soul. At the big bonfire rally tonight, work up all the enthusiasm you can muster and carry it into the stadium with you tomorrow.

Remember this—both national radio hookups will carry this game to all parts of the nation. It is up to you to show people everywhere that Nebraska has a hearty school spirit. When the cheer leaders want you to yell, YELL. But yell in unison. Make the cheers and the songs well organized. If the team should be behind, don't give up. They're still fighting, and you should, too. They hear your cheers, and if you support them every minute, you'll spur them on to their mightiest efforts. Be sportsmanlike at all times but don't go back on the team at any time.

If you'll promise to do all this, and do it as Nebraskans should, our colors will come through. Nevertheless, win or lose, we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we were squarely behind the team for the entire sixty minutes and we'll show the nation that this university produces real spirit and real support for its team.

NOW LET'S GO-FUR THE GOPHERS!!! THE CORN COBS.

Huskies Out to Win Viking Tilt for 'Doc' McLean, Ill Trainer

"We're goin' to win for 'Doc,'" is the by-word of the Nebraska football men this week, a tribute to their trainer, Martin J. "Doc" McLean, who is seriously ill in Lincoln General hospital due to a kidney infection.

The Scarlet footballers, for all of whom he has at one time or another as if by magic straightened twisted ankles and wrists, dedicate the Minnesota game to "Doc," and express their determination in that simple sentence, "We're goin' to win for 'Doc.'"

The Viking-Husker conflict will be the first game McLean has missed in his fourteen years of service to the Huskers. A radio has been installed in his hospital room, and he will follow his team on a play by play broadcast.

Tickets for the first Nebraska appearance of Rear Admiral Byrd on Oct. 24, at the coliseum will be placed on sale Friday noon on the first floor of Miller and Paine. A special section of choice seats will go on sale at $1.50, with a large block of the reserved section priced at $1.10.

Sales and reservations will be handled in a special booth at the service desk in the rear of the main aisle.

Polar territory and polar seas which the eye of man has never before glimpsed will be flashed on the screen as Admiral Byrd and his gallant crew swooped over them in their huge Condor plane, or ploughed through clashing pack-ice in the Expedition's barkentine, the famous old Bear of Oakland.

The preparations for building Advance Base, the shack set up 123 miles south of Little America where Admiral Byrd spent five months of the terrible Antarctic winter night, living alone in complete isolation from his comrades, will also be shown, and the Admiral will outline his purpose in maintaining the world's southernmost weather station and its notable accomplishments.

MINNESOTA HOLDS EDGE IN POUNDAGE

Bible Plans to Make Up for Lack of Weight With Sure Fire Speed in Line; Husker Backs Given Rating Over Bierman Coached Ball Carriers.

VIKING COACH INTENDS START VET ELEVEN

Scarlet Show Strong in Last Hard Workout Thursday; Frosh Smothered by Accurate Passing, Hard Running; Physical Condition Good.

Memorial stadium is the place and Saturday afternoon is the date. And the occasion, which is attracting to Lincoln the second largest crowd in the history of Cornhusker football, and which is eagerly awaited by the American pigskin public as one of the epics of the season, is Minnesota versus Nebraska.

Football affairs in both the Husker and Gopher camps receive their crucial test this weekend, even though the season is but three weeks old. The ultimate success of both teams, which happens to be a very momentous question this season, may depend very largely upon the result of this nationally headlined pow-wow in the Scarlet grid theater.

Big Test for Huskers. For the Huskers, it is The game and the golden opportunity which may result in Rose Bowl recognition for the men of Coach Dana X. Bible.

For the Gophers, who occupied an envious, but unchallenged, position as the greatest, strongest, and most formidable team in America last year, it may prove the turning point to the downward trail.

The question, therefore, that is uppermost in the minds of Midwestern fans, echoed by over the shoulder gridiron followers thruout the nation, is: "What is going to happen in Memorial stadium Saturday?"

Woe be unto him who attempts an absolute answer. Who's going to be the winner Saturday is a matter of pure speculation, and the man who makes an outright choice is flirting with disaster, with two teams as evenly matched as these, picking the winner is a well nigh impossible task.

Gophers Given Edge. The Gophers, by virtue of their invincible squad of last season, are given a slight advantage by some. But the names of Lund, Alfonso, Kostka, and Marson are gone from that great eleven, and even the veterans who remain can hardly hope to make the team of 1935 comparable to the team of 1934.

Certain it is, however, that it's going to be a glamorous, evenly fought battle—a battle of Minnesota's line and Nebraska's backfield.

There's no question but the line is Bernie Bierman's forte. With veterans manning most of the forward posts, as in all the backfield positions, he's going to place almost explicit faith in their ability to stop the galloping Husker ball carriers.

But Coach Bible, with the aid of Gargantua Roy "Link" Lyman, has developed a line of his own which is worth talking about. Which will excel? Let's compare them.

At the ends Bernie Bierman is going to rely mostly upon Dwight Reed and Ray Antil, altho he's bringing seven pass jugglers to Lincoln in an effort to make up for his two stellar wingmen of 1934. Three men, McDonald, Dohrmann and Scherer, will do the most of the Nebraska catching, with reserve ability in Richardson, Hale and Amen.

Pledge Support To Team

Coach Bible and his Cornhusker grid players can depend upon us for enthusiastic support of the team in its coming battle against the Minnesota Gophers Saturday. We feel that the student body has the purpose and the will to cheer the team on to victory in every effective manner from the beginning to the end of the fray.

With the combination of demonstrations of Nebraska pep and a fine team, we feel confident of victory.
