

HUSKERS SHOULD TAKE JAY'S SCALP.

Pitt Looks Good Over Army; Gophers Over Iowa.

By ARNOLD LEVIN. Kansas' impermeable line and Nebraska's fleetfoot backs seem to hold the answer to the 1935 Big Six football championship when the two schools step-off against each other here Saturday.

Science says something about when an irresistible force meets an immovable object, but anything might happen when the Scarlet jackrabbits try to run around Ad Lindsey's wolves, sniffing along the trail to a championship with all the fervor of Sir Galahad.

It's conceded Nebraska has a better set of backs than Kansas. But the comparative strength of the two forward walls is an open question before any house.

The Jays so far haven't been scored on by Big Six teams. Two touchdowns have been rung up on the Huskers' defense, one of them a gift. D. X.'s offense has failed to score in but one game—and that Kansas State encounter still is one of those things.

Betting odds in New York, say reports, are two to one on Nebraska. The Midwest will give points. Comparing the two elevens, the Scarlet should win. And my guess is that they will.

Along the national front: Pittsburgh vs. Army and Minnesota vs. Iowa are probably the most talked of games of the day. Pitt has been beaten and tied, Army dropped its first of the season last weekend.

It seems that Pitt is due, after their somewhat ragged showing when they were being outplayed by Fordham. Army showed the effects of two hard games as Mississippi State passed to victory. My guess right now goes to Pitt.

Iowa, before its tie with Indiana, was topping the Big Ten, with every possibility of knocking off Minnesota. That bad game might be all that's needed to step the Hawkeyes up to big time winning ways. And then, it might be an indication that Oze Simmons and Co. aren't a wonder outfit. The Vikings should have enough reserve power to wear Iowa down for a late killing. But if Dick Crayne plays and leads Simmons to a couple of early tallies, Minnesota's inspiring victory string might be at an end.

Over 100 'N' Men Come Back for Homecoming

Over a hundred "N" men will return to their native haunts to take part in the annual homecoming program scheduled for Saturday along with the Kansas-Nebraska game.

Omaha's group is being singled out for special honors this year. James Patton and Hugh E. Wallace will represent the 1901 to 1910 division.

Other Omahans are Paul W. Tipton, M. E. Gilbert, F. E. Walters, Vincent C. Hascall, Harold M. Diers, Clarence F. Moulton, Jim Gilbert, Herbert White, Donald Krause, Zack Homberger, Ivan Kish, Dave Noble, Wilson Bryans, "Chick" Justice, Lawrence Shaw, Frank Carman, R. H. Fair, and F. A. Milek.

the Sooners. Iowa State-Kansas State—the Wildcats should be sufficiently recovered after Kansas to win.

South Dakota-Creighton—South Dakota gets the nod on my sheet. Chicago-Ohio State—Buckeyes by a big margin.

Illinois-Michigan—Michigan's been coming along right fine; here's another for her victory string.

Iowa-Minnesota—I like the Gophers. Maryland-Indiana—the Hoosiers looked good last week; I favor them.

Notre Dame-Northwestern—the Ramblers keep on rolling. Wisconsin-Purdue—I think Purdue's got a little too much.

Columbia-Syracuse—Syracuse. Fordham-St. Marys—the Rams to do some hard bucking. Pennsylvania-Navy—the Gobs get 'em.

Penn State-Villanova—Villanova. Princeton-Harvard—the Tiger grows to a victory.

Yale-Brown—Brown takes another drubbing from the Eli. Michigan State-Markette—the State's tops on my list.

Alabama-Clemson—the Crimson Tide overwhelms its foes. Georgia Tech-Alabama Poly—Alabama Poly.

Louisiana-Mississippi State—Mississippi State looks good. Tulane-Georgia—Jawja, I don't think will win.

California-Washington—here's a poser, but I'll say the Bears. Oregon-Oregon State—State tops.

Southern California-Stanford—flip of the coin says Stanford.

Huskies Given Odds Over Kansas University (Continued from Page 1.) ing about all this unbounded Jayhawk enthusiasm and mobilization for action?

Huskies on Edge. The Huskies can't answer for the army and navy or the police forces throughout the country, but as far as they're concerned, every possible preparation has been made and the stage is all set for the entrance of the Kansans.

There's just as much of the same sort of determination and spirit in the Husker camp as in the Jayhawk, except that Nebraska's isn't keyed up to the race horse pitch that is turning the entire Lawrence campus into a cheering section.

It was a pretty well established and widespread tenet that Kansas State was in the bag, scalped, butchered and ready for market as soon as the Huskers boarded the train for Manhattan. What happened was neither pleasant nor funny, and the Huskers aren't going to let it happen again.

Nebraska is given a slight edge over Lindsey's students by the unbiased critics who haven't been smitten with the Kansas championship-itis fever and who realize that history has repeated itself and may do so again—this Saturday at Memorial stadium, for instance. Although the Jayhawks may have an equal line, it's highly improbable if their ball carrying department can come up to Nebraska's.

Husker Backs Strong. If the Scarlet leather-lugging quartet of Sam Francis, Lloyd Cardwell, Jerry LaNoue and Johnny Howell or Chief Bauer clicks—and from the way it functioned in the rubbery mud at Columbia it looks very much as if it will—Kansas is going to find that her forwards may be effective or they may not. And when those forwards are confronted with an opposing Scarlet wall that makes up for what it may lack in weight and skill with a never-say-die, go-get-'em spirit, the emphasis rests very largely on the "may not."

Aside from the fact that it's going to be a battle of Kansas' line against Nebraska's backfield, and mostly the latter, it's also going to be a battle in the clouds. Football bombs have been falling from the stratosphere onto both practice fields for the past week, and both teams will be hurling passes recklessly as a climax Saturday.

For their aerial maneuvers the Kansans will be relying largely upon the deadly arm of George Haggood, who pulled a scoreless tie with Buff Jones' Sooners out of the fire last weekend with a last-half-minute touchdown pass that was good for 45 yards. With Fred Harris, Lindsey's outstanding punt halfback probably on the sidelines, Haggood will be the main spoke in the Jayhawk backfield.

Bauer May Stand. Whether Chief Bauer will be on the starting Husker lineup was still a moot question Thursday afternoon, with the consensus of opinion inclining to Johnny Howell's getting the bid. Bauer was flipping passes on the No. 1 backfield, but was still favoring his ankle, and Johnny, the starter in the last three games, will probably get the call again Saturday.

Ladas Hubka, gradually assuming natural dimensions on the right side of his face, was handling left guard Thursday, protected by his special face guard. According to Hub, an X-ray taken Thursday showed that the cheek bone was broken in two places, but the physicians stated that he could play if he wished to. There's no question but that the Table Rocker wants to, but he'll probably retire in favor of Ken McGinnis in the starting roll call. The doctors opined that the injury would have recovered completely by the time the Huskers to Pittburgh next week to convince Doc Jock Sutherland's Panthers that the cornbelt is capable.

The rest of the Husker team which is tentatively scheduled to start the crucial Kansas struggle will have in the backfield, Lloyd Cardwell and Jerry LaNoue at halves, and Sam Francis, Missouri's Nemesis, at full. In the line will be Ernie Scherer and Les McDonald at ends, Fred Shirey and Jimmie Heldt at tackles, Johnnie Williams and McGinnis at guards, and Bob Mehring at center.

Ohio State Coach to Address Cornhusker Grid Banquet Dec. 4 Francis A. Schmidt, Ohio State football coach who since Saturday has been at the mercy of the barber shop debates, will speak at the annual Cornhusker banquet, Monday Dec. 4 at the University club. Schmidt is an alumnus and ex-graduate of the university. When in school in 1905, he held down a halfback post besides being an apt star of the maple court. His preparatory athletic training was received in Fairbury high school.

Since 1915, Schmidt has been at the helm of various outstanding football aggregations scattered over the country. His first coaching assignment was Tulsa university. There he remained for four years, switching to Arkansas U. in 1922. In 1929 he was named head of the athletics of Texas U. At the end of the 1933 season he moved on to Ohio State where he has been one of the most successful mentors the Buckeyes have ever had. His failure to overcome the Fighting Irish Saturday has caused a slight undecurrent of criticism, but he still stands as an idol of Ohio fans. His present eleven is touted as a strong contender for the national championship, and likewise the Big Ten laurels.

Malcolm Takes Position. Bernard L. Malcolm, working on a commercial engineering degree, has received a position with the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator company. An M. E. graduate in '33, he will take the company's two months training course after which he will be employed in the air conditioning department.

Miss Lee Speaks. Miss Mabel Lee, chairman of the women's physical education department, will speak at the physical education section meeting at the Minnesota State Teachers convention at St. Cloud, Minn.

BETAS BEAT A.T.O.'S IN INTRAMURAL SOCCER

Farm House, Lambda Chi Alpha Withdraw From Schedule.

Beta Theta Pi conquered the Alpha Tau Omega team in the first round of the intramural soccer competition Thursday. Ideal weather brought both teams out in full strength. The battle was even and waged in the middle of the field until Duke Nolte finally kicked a goal for the point to win for the Beta's 1-0.

Three other games scheduled were either called off or postponed. As the Farm House and the Delta Sigma Lambda teams have withdrawn, all fraternities will disregard their scheduled games with these teams.

Today in League II Sigma Nu will meet Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Kappa Psi will be pitted against Phi Delta Theta at 4 o'clock. In League IV Alpha Sigma Phi vs. Alpha Gamma Rho, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi games will be played at 5 o'clock.

League I and III teams are asked by the intramural office to appear bright and early Saturday morning for their games. At 9 o'clock the Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Phi Sigma Kappa game in League I will be played. At 10 o'clock in League III the Beta's will meet the Kappa Sigma team.

CAMPUSOCIETY

ANOTHER CLOSED NIGHT, AND this time there's really something to do! The Innocents, exercising their usual good judgement, have planned a party, a Homecoming affair to be exact, and with the cooperation of the Faculty committee, have gotten an orchestra. But it's not just a band, for Tom Gentry will enliven the Coliseum tomorrow night with his smooth syncopation. It's one of those parties that everyone goes to, and although it's a bit late to be getting the one and only, there's still a chance for someone. And we'd say that Tom Gentry is worth a poor dancer even if you have to sit on the sidelines and just listen.

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS: George Walquist remarking that one should never speak ill of the dead... Fred Webster wandering into the "Rag" office in search of Gene Pester, and believing all the time that it was the Cornhusker Louie Cass looking like a ward politician with a big black sear in his mouth... Jimmy Marvin remarking that Big Brother Bert is crazy at home these days... Chuck Wheeler in a new bear skin coat... Teddy Johnson and Turfy Hudson collaborating in the Moon... Some fellow telling another unknown that she must have done something to her hair... Marian Sherwood sailing along thru U hall... Johnny Williams and Jerry LaNoue expounding the theory that football players, altho they may be conceded other places, are not at Nebraska... Bob Stevens making an effort to break campus windows because another fellow took his girl home (couldn't take it maybe)... Three well known campus headlights in a lengthy discussion about the relationship of skirts and high heels... and Johnson Snipes famous soliloquy tube or not tube.
