"EITHER YOU CAN TAKE IT OR you can't" may be the slogan of the Hawaiian barefoot boys' football team, but something stronger than that probably defines the army's feelings in yesterday's parade. Ley winds and brick pavements cannot be particularly conducive to spirit, and in the words of an officer, "more fun." Masculine pride might be helped a bit, however, to know that there really is something about a soldier that sets feminine hearts beating a bit faster. Booted and spurred "second-louies" in new R. O. T. C. uniforms look like captains, and the captains, umum! Even the basic, defined by some army men as the lowest form of animal life, seems to have a certain attraction, and when cold winds blow, and breezes drift thru khaki, remember—pride keeps the wise man warm.

BOARDS are given for more than discipline among the brethren of Delta Upsilon. To be a member of the exclusive Library Sitter's club, each aspirant must take a bit of a board. The organization, for the benefit of those who do not know, meets every Sunday night in the D. U. library.

AT THE chapter house yesterday, alumnae and actives of Gamma Phi Beta met for the annual Founder's day banquet. About sixty guests were present, among them, Miss Dorothy Jennings, province director. The decorations were carried out in brown and mode, the sorority colors, and Bernice Frouse was in charge of arrangements. Miss Jennings and Miss Marguerite McPhee spoke.

LIBERTY SEES ARMMENT TAKE WITH NEW ERA OF IMPARIALISM

(Continued from Page 1) brought the British people to the point where they are willing to resume a peace-time burden of armaments which they have never carried before. But the whole movement appears to be a backward step so far as the goal of international disarmament is concerned.

Backward Step.

That Britain is taking a backward step in the direction of the policy of disarmament is also the conclusion of Prof. David Fellman, instructor of political science. He adds concerning this trend, "One would question the sincerity of the British government in its attitude toward the League of Nations, for it seems inconsistent that it should support an organization standing for peace and at the same time spend a huge amount on rearmaments." Professor Fellman points out that the conservative party in its election platform is using the threat of Italian-Ethiopian invasion to frighten the people into supporting plans for a larger navy. Thus the situation at present is described by this instructor as a naval war going on all over again between Italy, Germany, Great Britain, and Japan.

Francis Goes Over Kansas Line for Touchdown

Sam Francis plunges through here for the second touchdown for the Cornhuskers. The play came in the second quarter and gave Nebraska a 12 to 6 lead at the end of the half. The final Nebraska six points was also scored by Sam in the third period and with his extra point on the kick gave him 13 points for the day's work.

exceptionally fine team this year and have a good chance for a victory over our traditional enemy," remarked Jane Walcott, member of the rally committee.

"Every Tassel will be at the station to send the team off to a victory over Pittsburgh," said Tassel President Elizabeth Shearer. "I hope that every other student on the campus will be there to do the same." Voicing the spirit and enthusiasm felt by Nebraska students, Dick Schmidt, innocents president, stated, "We know our team is capable of defeating Pittsburgh. Let's all be at the station Wednesday to show them that."

The first collage cheer is credited to Princeton students, who got the idea from an unknown private of the Seventh Regiment of New York, as the outfit mobilized for war in April, 1860.
