SKIT FILINGS FOR COLL-AGRI-FUN TO CLOSE ON NOV. 15

Program Given Dec. 14 in Student Activities Building.

BOARD MAKES CHOICES

Organizations Must Explain Performances to Committee.

Filing for Coll-Agri-Fun musical and dramatic skits must be in Dean Burr's office by Friday, Nov. 15 at 5 o'clock, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Bonnie Spanggaard, assistant manager of Coll-Agri-Fun board. The program will be given Dec. 14 in the student activities building on Holdrege campus.

Committees Named.

Committees for the annual program were appointed at the regular weekly meeting of the board, held Wednesday. John Bengston is chairman of the tickets and advertising committee. He will be assisted by Dale Smith, Earl Hendy, Glen Klingman, Milton Gustafson, Lois Lichtler, Lois Allen, Alice Soukup, Eleanor McFadden, and Hannah Srb. Members of the committee who will be in charge of advertising are: Iva Miller, Albert Mousman, Claire Glandon and Marjorie Francis. LeRoy Hanson was appointed chairman of the lighting committee, with Gordon Hubert, Glenn Elliott, and LeRoy Girardot.

Stage management committee will be headed by Ruth Carlson. Her staff members are: Elsie Egan, Iva Fern Hallstrom, Amelia Svoboda, Vincent Jacobson, Floyd Carroll, Oden Riddle, and Don Radenbaugh.

Virginia Keim and Ruth Schobert will be in charge of securing suitable judges for the program. A party is planned for after the performance. Bonnie Spanggaard will be in charge of the affair, with Donna Hiatt and LeRoy Hultquist to assist her.

Coll-Agri-Fun board discussed buying a new curtain for the student activities stage, and appointed Don Joy, LeRoy Hanson and Bonnie Spanggaard to investigate the matter.

BURSIK HAS WINNING HONORARY COLONEL PRESENTATION PLAN

Skits Selected for Military Ball Out of 8 Ideas Submitted.

Lester Bursik, Delta Upsilon, submitted the winning plan in the contest for presentation of the honorary colonel at the military ball, to be held Friday, Dec. 6. Eugene Pester announced Wednesday.

This skit was chosen as best out of eight ideas submitted by students before Saturday noon, Nov. 9, the closing date for all entries in the contest sponsored by the military department. "All skits entered were good, but the one chosen is unusually novel and attractive," stated Eugene Pester, chairman of the committee in charge. Bursik will be awarded a prize of $15 for his winning idea.

Other students who entered skits are: LaVerne Marcy, Bob Funk, Raymond Martens, Harriet Van Sickle, and Henry Brabow.

General committees to be in charge were appointed Monday. They are: Presentation: Col. Dick Rider and Capt. Eugene Pester. Construction: Capt. Eugene Pester, chairman and Capt. Jack Nicholas. Grand March: Maj. Jimmy Harris and Lieut. Era Low.

NEBRASKAN TO CONDUCT STUDENT OPINION POLL

Probing student sentiment on the new deal and particular phases of the Roosevelt administration, the Daily Nebraskan will conduct a poll next Tuesday. Date for the poll, one of the first to be held among colleges this year, was announced Wednesday by Jack Fischer, editor.

Questions to appear on the ballots have not yet been selected, but they will concern not only the new deal but will pertain to certain measures such as continuance of the AAA, legality of the processing law, and similar issues.

"Suggestions as to possible questions to be included in the poll, will be welcomed," stated Editor Fischer. "We are anxious to learn how the student is viewing political issues."

The paper plans to tie-up the project with the political debates,

COEDS EXPECT TO ENTERTAIN MANY AT PARTY TONIGHT

Little Sisters and Sorority Daughters Guests of Honor.

Approximately four hundred-fifty university women are expected to attend the plantation dinner and party sponsored by the Coed Counselors Thursday evening, Nov. 14, at Grant Memorial hall from 6 to 8 o'clock, according to Elizabeth Moomaw, president of Coed Counselors. Coed Counselors are to attend with their little sisters, and members of sororities will be present with their sorority daughters.

The program for the event will carry out the plantation motif for the party. A skit entitled, "In the Throes of Registration," written by the members of the dramatic hobby group, which is sponsored by the Coed Counselors, is to be presented by representatives of the hobby division. Those taking part include: Ramona Porter as a freshman girl; Haseloras Olsen, Coed Counselor; Nona Jane Moore, Tassel; Jane Winnett, Cornhusker salesman; Betty Lau, Augwan salesman; and Margaret Werner, Nebraskan salesman.

A tap dance given by several members of the tap dancing hobby group will be an additional feature of the program. Those who will appear in this number of the program are: Virginia Lea, Barbara Hart, Mary Catherine Davis, Mary Davison, and Betty Brown.

Special guests who will attend the party and dinner are to be the two sponsors of Coed Counselors, Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Letta Clark; Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women; Miss Mildred Green, Y. W. C. A. secretary; and Mrs. Ada Westover, assistant to the dean of women.

Chairmen in charge of the affair include Doris Weaver, posters and decorations; Marjorie Bannister, program; Gladys Klopp, food; Jean Marvin, waitresses; Erna Bauer, tickets; and Rowena Swenson, general arrangements and closing tables.

FORMER GRID PLAYER REPORTED NEAR DEATH

Hulbert Sustains Injuries in Accident Returning From Game Saturday.

Corwin Hulbert, former University of Nebraska football star, was reported to be near death Wednesday evening as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on his return from the Homecoming game Saturday evening. The accident occurred four miles east of Scottsbluff when the car in which he was riding skidded off the highway and overturned.

The former Nebraska tackle's skull was fractured and both legs injured in the accident. Andrew Farrell of Omaha was badly hurt and is expected to recover attending physicians announced. Other occupants of the ill-fated car were not seriously injured.

Hulbert graduated from Nebraska in 1932 and is now employed as an officer in a CCC camp near Mitchell. He was a varsity Cornhusker lineman for three years while attending the University. The injured officer was a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity while in school.

SPIRITS SOAR AS HUSKERS DEPART FOR PITT TUSSLE

Campus Rallies to Fray in Huge Sendoff Parade Wednesday.

TEAM IN GREAT FORM

Students Cheer as Captain Williams Says 'We're Goin' to Win.'

With a rousing revival of the seemingly deceased Cornhusker spirit, a godly group of student enthusiasts led by the organized pep organizations gathered at the Burlington station to bid the newly christened conference champs a glorious adieu as they boarded the special train for their journey to the "Smoky City." Led by the Corn Cobs, Tassels, Innocents, and N club the rallying student body demonstrated a typical Nebraska spirit which has been so pitifully lacking thus far.

Corn Cobs Canvass Campus.

Introducing the evenings pep festivities, the Corn Cobs made an organized house to house canvass of the fraternities and sororities along sorority row in an effort to rekindle the fire of student spirit which has ebbed to one of the lowest marks in the history of the Nebraska football since the royal demonstrations previous to the long heralded Minnesota clash.

Their efforts proved fruitful as the Cornhuskers pulled away from a pep demonstration duly fitting to the champions of the Big Six as they embark to meet one of the strongest aggregations of the far east.

Team Spirit Up.

The rally reflected the spirit of the rallying student body in great form as they displayed an air of confidence and fight. In a short talk to the pepsters shortly before the special began its eastward

JUNIOR COMMITTEE CONSIDERS PROJECT TO ORGANIZE CLASS

Plan Details Not Divulged Following Meeting Wednesday.

Plans for junior class organization got well under way Wednesday when it was learned that the student council committee had met and was considering a project which they believed would bind the class members together. Committee members refused to divulge details of the plan but hinted that they would be forthcoming soon.

Following a meeting at 5 o'clock Wednesday with the committee, Jane Keefe, co-chairman of the group, stated, "I feel that the idea we are considering will unite the class into a working group and although I can not reveal it, I feel sure the student body will receive it enthusiastically."

Members indicated that the plan was selected from several ideas submitted at the meeting Wednesday and was chosen because it contained more points that would unite the class than did the others.

Students attending the committee meeting were: Jane Keefe and Bill Newcomer, co-chairmen; George Pipal, class president; Frances Scudder, Bob Funk, Vance Leininger, and Marylu Petersen.

50 RESERVE PLACES AT CLASS LUNCHEON

French Session Sponsors Affair at Grand Today.

About fifty students have made reservations to attend the first meeting of the French Luncheon Session which will be held Thursday noon in the Grand hotel. The luncheon will be over in time for all students to attend their 1 o'clock classes. Miss Katherine Townsend, French instructor, will sponsor this new activity in the Romance Language department.

Only French will be spoken at the session and will afford an excellent opportunity for all beginners in the language, announced Miss Townsend.

The luncheon sessions will be held probably once a week or as often as the students desire them. Tickets should be purchased as soon as possible from any instructor in the French department.

Zounds! the Chief's Gone! Ahh—It's Only Double-Sightedness

Call the cops! the fire department! the marines! Call the militia! Call—oh lord, call anybody!

The Daily Nebraskan typewriters usually rattle along pretty steadily and uninterrupted, except when an over-ambitious staff member starts cracking puns or orating Cicero, or when an under-ambitious one starts dodging epithets and curses from a managing editor enraged because copy won't come thru. But everything stopped dead for 15 frenzied minutes Wednesday evening when an unconformer reported that it Henry Bauer, No. 1 quarterback on the Cornhusker football team, had failed to make the trip to Pittsburgh.

Bauer was calling signals on the first string Wednesday afternoon in practice, and was listed on the starting lineup against the Panthers, but a spectator at the student rally reported that Chief was shaking hands with Bernie Scherer and Johnny Williams and "wishing them good luck" just before the train pulled out.

After some tall telephone ringing, in which just about everyone who had ever been seen in Memorial stadium was called to give his version (the entire coaching staff accompanied the team to Pitt), and the sports departments of the Lincoln Star and Journal had been excited into hysterics, it was finally concluded that the rumor had been seeing twins.

Fraternities and Sororities To Have Individual Time Limits.

Separate dead lines have been set for the members of each fraternity and sorority to have their pictures taken for the 1936 Cornhusker, according to announcement made Wednesday by Faith Arnold, editor of the publication this year. Dec. 21 has been set as the dead line for pictures to be taken for the class sections.

"Sororities and fraternities have been notified of individual dead lines, which must be observed, since we are expecting an increase of more than four hundred pictures in the fraternity and sorority sections as compared to the number appearing in the Cornhusker last year," stated Miss Arnold.

Organized Houses to Send Telegrams to Team Friday

To keep spirit high among Husker team members who have journeyed to Pittsburgh for the game Saturday and to let them know that they have the support of the entire student body, the rally committee has initiated a campaign to encourage every organized house on the campus to send a telegram to the team Friday evening, it was announced Wednesday by Fred Chambers, chairman of the committee.

"The team is a long way from home, and it will mean a lot to the players to receive words of encouragement from their classmates, especially since the group of followers will not be as large as is customary at the games nearer home," stated Chambers. Bible Backs May Find Tough Going Against Beefy Forward Wall; LaNoue Chief Threat—His Speed May Conquer Heft.

BY DICK KUNZMAN.

Nebraska's football delegation, spangled with Big Six trophies, sallied forth with fierce heart and an unswerving determination to do battle with Dr. Jock Sutherland's Pittsburgh Panthers.

Not since 1921 have the Huskers spanked Pitt, and that was on the first game of the Nebraska-Pittsburgh series. Relations were resumed on a yearly basis in 1927, and in the subsequent tussles Pitt has emerged victorious five times, interspersing three ties through the records.

EDITORS TO ISSUE PRAIRIE SCHOONER FIRST NEXT WEEK

Literary Magazine Contains Many Stories, Articles and Poems.

Fall issue of Prairie Schooner, Nebraska's widely recognized literary magazine, which is completing its ninth year of publication, is expected to appear on the newsstands Monday or Tuesday of next week, according to L. C. Wimberly, professor of English and editor of the magazine. Copies may be obtained at the college book stores and downtown newsstands.

This issue is considered outstanding because of its cosmopolitan content. The magazine contains five stories, six articles, and eight poems, by authors not only from the university, and Nebraska, but from points all over the United States, and several foreign countries.

Professors Have Articles.

Professors from the university who have material appearing in the fall issue are M. S. Ginsburg of the classics department, Dr. Harold Stoke, political science, and Dr. Martin S. Peterson, English.

Many professors in the publication's nine years of existence have found the Prairie Schooner a desirable medium of publication. In recognition of their services, and for the benefit of readers who may be interested, they are: Gilbert Doane, head of the library staff, and contributing editor of the magazine; Nellie J. Compton, also of the library department; Louise Pound, English; R. T. Prescott, editor in chief of agricultural bulletins; Dean J. E. LeRossignol, business editor in chief of agricultural bulletins; Dean J. E. LeRossignol, Business Administration; Hermann Decker, Fine Arts college; J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the sociology department, and J. N. Rinehart, Sociology.

Diers Writes.

Theodore Diers, director of the university radio service, has written numerous articles for the publication. Other contributors are: Mrs. Alice Hupp, English; Horace G. Deming, Chemistry; W. F. Thompson, Kenneth Forward, and Margaret Gannel, English; Herbert Yenne, dramatics and Llnus B. Smith, of the architecture department.

JUGBLUTH BAND TO PLAY FOR ANNUAL PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Dairy Club Sponsors Varsity Affair at Activities Building.

Eddie Jungbluth and his orchestra will play for the annual varsity Dairy Club party at the Activities Building Friday evening, Nov. 15, according to Al Pearl, chairman of general arrangements for the affair.

Chaperons for the party will be Miss Martha Park, in charge of the agricultural college cafeteria, Prof. L. K. Crowe, associate professor of dairy husbandry, and Mrs. Crowe, and Prof. Martin A. Alexander, associate professor of animal husbandry, and Mrs. Alexander.

The entire hall will be decorated with various colored balloons for the party, which is one of the big affairs of the season. Prof. and Mrs. Downs, Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Davis, Prof. and Mrs. E. L. Reichart, Prof. and Mrs. R. F. Morgan, Prof. and Mrs. I. L. Hathaway, Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Schindler, and Prof. and Mrs. Milton L. Pester will be special guests at the annual ball.
