

LET'S EXPAND. Playground Would Aid Our Athletic Facilities.

by Arnold Levin. Athletic facilities expansions have come to a temporary halt in Cornhuskerland. The varsity has its stadium, single practice field, coliseum, and in the opinion of the many, sufficient to satisfy its every need.

Over 30,000 people crammed Memorial stadium for the Minnesota mixup. The year previous Fitt drew 33,000 screaming partisans of the grid. The Iowa game that season found close to 30,000 onlookers.

Accommodations Few. Obviously, accommodations at Nebraska, both from the matters of participating athletes and spectators are not of the best.

This situation is not necessary at Nebraska. We have room for expansion if we will. It will cost money, yes, but within two years indebtedness on the coliseum will be removed, and the athletic department can start on an expansion venture.

Complete Stadium. One of the first steps would be the completion of the stadium, the rounding off of the north end into the natural horseshoe construction intended by the builders.

Completion of the horseshoe would beautify the stadium, remove the decayed, unseemly board fence, finishing the project in true style.

There is need at Nebraska for a playground large enough to accommodate the intramural department in its sport schedules, provide training ground for freshmen and varsity football men, and furnish a diamond for the baseball team to practice and play on.

Natural expansion in this line would be north of the stadium and east of the coliseum. There are numerous little houses in that space, belonging to the university, which might easily be razed.

This ground could be cleared, leveled, and would provide adequate space for all necessities. Dressing rooms in the stadium and coliseum would be easily accessible.

Baseball at Ag. The baseball team at Nebraska must now practice at Ag college and play its games on the Municipal diamond to have any kind of representative crowd.

Eleven men sign up for all-university fistic meet Dec. 18. Petz receives tournament entries in intramural office.

Eleven entries have been received by intramural department officials for the All-University boxing tournament to be staged on the main floor of the coliseum, Dec. 18.

There will be eight weight divisions. In the 115 lb. class George Hossack is the sole entry. There are no entrants in the 125 lb. class.

Entries can now be made with Harold Petz at the intramural office or with Harold Matthews, assistant boxing instructor.

Dr. Anderson Makes Address. Dr. Esther S. Anderson of the department of geography is scheduled to address the Yankee Hill Community gathering at the school house southwest of Lincoln, the evening of Dec. 13.

TEAM SELECTION PUZZLES BROWNE

Cornhusker Cage Coach Has Week Before Season Opener With Brigham Young to Pick Five Men For Tuesday's Starting Positions.

SPORTSWRITER EVALUATES 17 CANDIDATES

Whitaker, Leacox, Wahlquist Seek Forward Berths; Parsons, Amen, Dohrmann in Guard Money; Widman Leads Center Competition.

Coach Harold Browne, who has called the cards for Cornhusker basketball teams since 1930, has turned this season from directing basket shooters to character acting.

Reason for Coach Browne's dual personality stunt appears in the fact that he doesn't quite know what to make of his 1935-36 cage squad.

Also in the picture are Leland Hale, Lincoln, and Howard Baker, Grand Island, veterans, and George and Cliff Scott, Lincoln, sophomores.

Harvey Widman, Mead, leads the center competition. An excellent tipoff man, he is strong enough offensively to surpass two Empire State sophomores in Lawrence Nelson, Curtis, and Floyd Ebaugh, Superior.

Not far behind in the guard race are Earl Daft, Waverly, and Dick Kosman, Omaha. Also out for forward honors are John Osborne, Lincoln, and Lloyd Wampler, Lincoln.

BIBLE ANNOUNCES NEBRASKA SPRING SPORT CALENDAR

Schedules Incomplete, Only League Competition Tabulated.

The Cornhusker spring sports card, featuring indoor and outdoor track, swimming, wrestling, baseball, golf, and tennis, was announced Monday by Athletic Director Dana X. Bible.

Indoor track opens Feb. 22 with three home meets before the Big Six conference championships at Columbia, March 13-14.

A tentative meet with Missouri is on the books for Jerry Adams woodchoppers, Jan. 31, followed by bouts with Kansas, Kansas State, and Iowa State.

Golfers and racquet-wielders will do their battling on the same days and places, winding up their season with the week of the outdoor track festival.

Wrestling. The schedules are incomplete, but the spring sports at Nebraska U. are outlined.

Baseball. April 9-10-11—Oklahoma at Norman; 13-14, Missouri at Columbia; 27-28, Iowa State at Lincoln.

Tennis. April 24—Iowa State at Ames; May 1—Kansas State at Lincoln; 8, Kansas State at Manhattan; 9, Kansas State at Manhattan; 15, Kansas State at Lincoln; 21, Iowa State at Lincoln; 22-23, Big Six conference at Lincoln.

ALL-UNIVERSITY MAT MIX DRAWS 66 COMPETITORS

Annual Open Tournament Gets Under Way Tonight.

With 66 entries filed and still more expected before the deadline tonight, the annual all-university wrestling meet will get under way at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon at the coliseum.

Entrants in the meet will be required to weigh in Wednesday between 8 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Only one weigh in will be required during the event.

Lettermen Referee. Varsity lettermen will referee the meet, and if the number of entries and the class of competition have anything to do with results in the events they will have plenty of trouble keeping law and order among the title aspirants.

Entries received up until this time include Darrel Bauder, Jim Knight, Hugh Miller, Martin Farnen, Allen Frederick, Roy Plummer, Don Desjardien, George Petzold, Ken Brown, Willard Burney, Pat Glenn, Jack Hutcherson, Milburn Knight, Jack Nicholas, Bill Doherty, Herb Thimm, Jim Culbertson, Ed Daniels, Fred Webster, Sol Levine, Julius Whitman, Leonard Focht, Lyle Rolofson, DeLo Johnson and Carl Yost.

Jerry Adams, Richard Adams, Harold Benn, Ray Cruise, Will Eichenberger, Ron Buschult, Al Rippen, El Rolofson, Clark Moore, Howie Schmidt, Dewey Regier, Roger Rosenkrans, Neil Getch, Virgil Krick, Urban Newark, Keith Preston, Lyle Kraft, Floyd Miller, Bill Lake, Claire Marshall, Dale Anderstrom, Jack Ellis, Lowell English, Chub Manory, and Ed Sauer.

Eugene Yost, Jack Wagner, Don Kvasnicka, Dick Trealkle, Russ Moore, Era Lown, E. L. McGrew, Official approval of the low bid for paving on the university agricultural college campus was given Thursday by John Latenser, Jr., state public works administration engineer at Omaha.

Forward hard at work this year include Tee "Moose" Connelley, 195-pounder who last year was chosen on the all-"Big Six" second team; Edgar "Fudge" Warren; Jerome "Shokey" Needy; Elmo Southard; Denton Livingston; Jack Baer and Harley Shirik, the last four sophomores and squad men.

Fresh Footballers to See 1935 Game Movies

Coach Ed Weir announced that he will show 1935 Cornhusker action football pictures to all freshmen football men Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the south dressing room of the stadium.

Freshmen numerals will not be awarded until the end of the first semester, when scholarship standings will aid in determining which frosh will be given numerals.

Roger Smith, John Williams, Fred Wilson, Norm Lewis, Vernon Stanley, Bob Reichstadt, George Seeman and Howard Gray.

Football athletes entered in the tourney include Jack Ellis, Pat Glenn, Lowell English and Bill Doherty. Frosh footballers are Reichstadt, Buscholt, Hutcherson, Seeman, and Luke.

Coach Charley Miller, Five Gymnasts En Route Tomorrow.

Coach Charley Miller and his university gymnastics team will leave Lincoln Wednesday morning for three dual intercollegiate meets in Chicago.

WAHLQUIST HIGH SCORE

Nebraska Hoop Future Looks Bright After Monday Exhibition.

Don't plan on attending very many of the Cornhusker basketball tilts this season unless you've had your eyes examined by a physician.

Piling up a 77-20 account with Morris Fisher's freshmen, the Husker varsity Monday afternoon gave a two-hour exhibition of passing marksmanship that bodes great things for Nebraska this season.

The first string variety, composed of Whitaker and Wahlquist, forwards; Ebaugh, center; Widman and Parsons, guards; and Bob Leacox alternating at forward, sending Widman to center and Wahlquist to guard, rolled up a 25-2 lead before retiring.

Browne's second lineup, listing George Scott and Howard Baker at forwards; Nelson, center; and Amen and Dohrmann, guards, didn't do so badly itself, and took a 17-6 count to leave the half-time score 42 to 8.

Coach Fisher, using nineteen men during the workout, found his frosh completely unable to keep up with the pace set by the varsity machine-gun passes.
