HEAVY FIRST DAY OF REGISTRATION IN ALL COLLEGES

Estimate of 600 Students File for Classes Monday.

CLOSING DATE JAN. 18

No Sections to Be Completed Until After Middle of Week.

One of the heaviest first-day registrations in the university's history was made by students Monday when an estimated number of 600 filed for their second semester classes, according to A. R. Congdon of the assignment committee.

"Registrations were especially heavy Monday morning," Mr. Congdon stated, "and I believe it is the largest number that have ever registered during the first-half day. The heavy run also continued through the afternoon."

No Exact Number. The exact number of students completing their filings was not reported, the committee chairman pointed out, as the secretaries in the various colleges were so busy that they were unable to make complete checkups during the afternoon.

Reports from the dean's offices of the various colleges were that first day registrations were much greater than in former years. Many filings were reported in the Arts and Science, Teachers and Business Administration colleges.

It is believed no class sections will have to be closed until after the middle of the week. Students wishing to register for certain classes should do so during today (Continued on Page 3).

ADVANCED STUDENTS ON RECITAL PROGRAM

Musicians to Appear on Temple Theater Stage Tomorrow.

Ten advanced students of the university school of music will appear in a recital for the thirteenth musical convocation at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 15 in the Temple theater. Eleven students, including some who will perform in the advanced recital are also appearing with Wilbur Chenoweth, instructor in the school of music, in a studio recital on Wednesday afternoon.

Those who will appear in the recital at the Temple include Raymond Bauer and Houghton Furr, who are instructed by Prof. Chenoweth; Betty Joe Koehler, student of Prof. Schmidt; Margaret Phillippe, who is under the direction of Mr. Kirkpatrick; Marcia Laus and James Fitch, students of Miss Wagner; Henrietta Sanderson, directed by Mrs. Gutzmer; Merlene Tatro, who is instructed by Miss Morley; Alice Terrell, student of Miss Dreamer and June Goethe, who is a pupil of Mr. Wishnow.

Studio Recital.

The eleven who are scheduled to take part in the studio recital are: Raymond Bauer, Euliah Beam, Ruth Dean, Marie Fricke, Betty O'Shea, Eleanor Rogers, Henrietta Sanderson, Desta Ann Ward, Winifred Hyland, David Andrews and Norma Westphal. Representatives of the school of music will also be heard at other presentations during the coming week. Bettie Zabriskie, associate professor of cello, and Herbert Schmidt, professor of piano, will broadcast the weekly musical program at 2 p. m. this afternoon over KFAB.

Taking part in the musical activities of last week was Eleanor Pabst, student with Edith B. Ross. Miss Pabst served as the guest organist at the Zion Congregational church on Sunday evening, Jan. 12. "The Old Woman and the Peddler," a trio for women's voices by Hazel Gertrude Kinsella of the piano department, was sung over the NBC chain on Sunday by the vocal ensemble of Norfolk, Va., as a part of the program offered by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Additional performers of last week included Elizabeth Moomaw, student with Lenore Van Kirk, who sang a group of folk songs for the D. A. R. meeting Friday afternoon and for the S. A. I. musical at Ellen Smith hall on Monday afternoon; Hazel Fricke, student with Ethel Owen, who played several numbers at the agriculture meeting last Tuesday and James Fitch, student with Alma Wagner, who sang for the parent-teachers association meeting on Thursday at Bancroft school, accompanied by John Erickson.

RELIGIOUS WELFARE COUNCIL HOLDS MEET

Delegates to Volunteer Convention to Make Reports.

Members of the Religious Welfare Council will hold their monthly meeting at the Grand hotel on Wednesday noon, Jan. 15. According to Miss Grace Spacht, Baptist student secretary, chairman of the council, this will be a meeting of special interest with students who attended the Student Volunteer convention in Indianapolis during the holidays, each speaking briefly of the thing he considered most significant at the whole convention. R. B. Henry, Presbyterian university pastor, who also attended the convention, will introduce the speakers.

During the business session, reports of the standing committees of the council will be considered.

NEW COUNCIL OF WOMAN LEADERS MEETS THURSDAY

Miss Barkes Presides Over Group Organized to Promote Harmony.

Members of the newly formed Inter-organization council, composed of leaders of all women's activities on the campus and sponsored by Mortar Board, women's honorary, will meet for the first time on Thursday noon in the W. A. A. room, under the direction of Alaire Barkes, president of Mortar Board and presiding chairman of the new group. This is the first time that a group of this type has been established on the Nebraska campus and has been created through the desire of women's groups on the campus to work together in closer harmony and co-operation.

To Be Continued.

Definitely established by Mortar Board, this organization will be continued from year to year, with the Mortar Board president as its head. Women's groups on the campus who will have representatives participating in the activities of the Inter-organization council will include Mortar Board, W. C. A., Coed Counselors, W. A. A., Tasseis, A. W. S., Panhellene, Barb A. W. S., Daily Nebraskan, Cornhusker, and the Home Economics association. If additional members are added to the group, selection will be made by members of the council.

In commenting on the goal of the first Inter-organization council, Miss Barkes stated, "Mortar Board hopes that through this committee the various women's activities of the campus will work together to attain the highest degree of co-operation and inter-organization harmony."

EDUCATOR TALKS IN TOWN HALL SERIES

Mrs. Mary B. Harris Will Address Audience Tuesday.

"Whose Children Will Go to Prison?" is the title of the lecture to be given by Mrs. Mary B. Harris, famous American educator and social worker, on the Town Hall series Tuesday evening at the Cornhusker. The Junior League is sponsoring the series.

At present Dr. Harris is the superintendent of the government's industrial institution for women at Alderson, W. Va. Under her guidance this has come to be known as a superior training school for women and it is in this work that she has sponsored successful experiments in reform methods that have made her widely known.

Hicks Asserts Government Can Pay Money to Farmers

Through the "general welfare" clause of the constitution, the federal government can expend its money to aid agriculture, even though it cannot regulate it, thinks Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, bizad college faculty member. The only restriction will be to refrain from levying a tax exclusively upon the commodity or field to which the aids or bounties are offered.

To get around the recent AAA decision, Professor Hicks believes production control in agriculture might be set up in the following manner: 1. "A federal law would be enacted providing for the payment of grants on stipulated conditions to cooperative associations of producers, or to state bureaus of production control, if such were the corporation laws, and such amendments as may be required to legalize control agreements.

Should Meet Demand. 2. "Such associations should take for their purposes the gathering of agricultural statistics, fostering production at a volume which the demand can absorb, and fostering soil erosion and crop rotation practices. Fostering the

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED TO DIRECT FRATERNITY BALL

Seven Groups Are Appointed Instead of Usual Single One.

NEGOTIATE FOR BAND

Orchestra Budget Will Be Increased; Roth Is Chairman.

Directing the 1936 Interfraternity Ball, to be held February 8 in the coliseum, will be seven committee chairmen and their assistants, a departure from the single committee system of previous years, according to Jack Fischer, president of the Interfraternity council.

Ralph Eldridge, Kappa Sigma, heads the committee on committees, the executive body of the several groups. He will be assisted by Joe Roth, Beta Theta Pi; Paul Minkten, Beta Sigma Psi; Bernard White, Zeta Beta Tau; Victor Wragge, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Frank Cherry, Phi Gamma Delta.

ROWENA SWENSON, JANE KEEFER SEEK PRESIDENCY OF Y. W.

Offices of Christian Group To Be Awarded at Polls Jan. 15.

Speculation as to the 1936 Y. W. C. A. officers is running high among activity minded girls as the election is scheduled to be held Wednesday, Jan. 15, in Ellen Smith hall and the Home Ec. building on Ag campus from 9 to 5. Miss Mildred Green, Y. W. secretary, urges all students intending to vote to check with the files in her office before Wednesday to be sure they are members.

Jane Keefer and Rowena Swenson both juniors with three years of service in the organization to their credit, are candidates for presidency of the Y. W. Running for vice president are Caroline Kile and Frances Scudder, also juniors who have worked on all projects of the Y. W. The post of secretary will be between two sophomores, Maxine Durand and Winifred Nelson. The only untested office is Y. W. treasurer, now held by Barbara DePutron, who is running again. Nominee for president of the Ag campus organization are Ruth Schobert and Alice Soukup.

The selection of the nominating committee was based on the following nine points: Vision, executive ability, a sincere friendly and democratic attitude, knowledge of the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Christian movement and intelligent leadership.

All girls running for office will be presented Tuesday, at the week's 5 o'clock vespers service in Ellen Smith hall and at the Home Ec building at 12:20.

Attendees at the polls, Wednesday, will have lists of Y. W. members and names will be checked as ballots are cast to insure against students voting twice. Girls will not be allowed to vote unless they present their identification cards.

UNION CAMPAIGN HEADS CANVASS CAMPUS GREEKS

Fraternities and Sororities Support Drive With Contributions.

With official action back of their efforts, the Student Council committee for a union building continued their campaign for funds Monday night by sending representatives to each fraternity and sorority house. The following pledges were made by organized houses:

Phi Beta Phi—$100.
Phi Kappa Psi—$50.
Phi Kappa Phi—$50.
Alpha Omicron Pi—$50.

Universal acclamation among students greeted the decision made by the Board of Regents Saturday to apply for a $400,000 loan from the government PWA agency to finance construction of the new building. The terms of the application provided for a 45 percent grant and a 55 percent loan, to be retired in thirty years.

At the request of the regents, the union building committee will prepare a list of estimates and recommendations for furnishing the new building, which will be submitted first to the Student Council, which meets Wednesday afternoon in University hall.

Further progress of the second hand book department in the regents' bookstore will be reported by the council's bookstore committee, leaders in the movement that won another victory at the meeting of administrative officials Saturday.

CONDITION OF WELLS, HIT BY STOKES'S AUTO SOMEWHAT IMPROVED

Victim of Saturday Accident Confined to Bryan Hospital.

Condition of Dr. F. A. Wells, confined to Bryan Memorial hospital from injuries received when he was struck by a car driven by Prof. Harold W. Stokes of the political science department, somewhat improved Monday, according to hospital officials.

Professor Stokes, driving west on D, said Dr. Wells, who was apparently walking to his car parked on the south side of the street, stepped off the north curb directly into the path of his car. By swerving his machine and stopping immediately Professor Stokes said he was able to prevent the car from running over Dr. Wells.

Dr. W. C. Becker, who attended Dr. Wells, reported his injuries to be a brain concussion, fracture of the left leg just below the knee, injured left elbow, cuts and bruises.

ITALIAN ART DISPLAY IN U HALL CORRIDOR

Posters, Pamphlets, Books and Drawings Are Included.

Colorful posters, pamphlets, books, and drawings have been put on display in University hall in commemoration of Italian week. In the corridor are posters depicting scenes of Italy, and on the bulletin are colored pamphlets on the country's arts, customs, costumes and travel.

Early printing dating as far back as 1548 and including important editions of Dante, Petrarch, and Boccaccio are in the department library. The peculiar type and old bindings are illustrated in the display. Here, too, are shown reproductions of Italian paintings, among them a representative collection of those now in the Paris art exposition.

These displays will stay on the walls for two weeks, according to Prof. R. F. French, who is in charge.

IDENTITY OF ICE CARNIVAL QUEEN REMAINS SECRET

Mrs. R. L. Cochran to Crown W.A.A. Affair Ruler Wednesday.

12 CHOSEN ATTENDANTS

Races, Novelty Events on Skating Program for Participants.

From a list of some forty nominations, the queen of Wednesday's ice carnival was chosen late Monday night, though her identity will remain a secret until her presentation at the ice festivity. Twelve girls, running close in the competition for the queen, were selected as her attendants. She will be crowned by Mrs. R. L. Cochran during the first part of the evening.

Sarah Meyer, reporting latest developments in the plans for the carnival, announced that busses would leave from the corner of 16th and "R" streets for Oak Creek Park, where the event is to be staged, at 7 o'clock and at 7:20. Busses will return to the campus at 9 and at 9:20 o'clock. Special permission has been granted to freshmen women, who will be given an hour's extension on the usual 8 o'clock rule.

Entry blanks for the evening's events may be found in The Daily Nebraskan, and should be filled out and left at the Nebraskan office or deposited in the box in the entry way of Crant Memorial. Prizes for the winners will be presented by George Wahlgvist, and contests will be referred by William E. Horney and Henry Bauer. Included in the carnival program are 50 yard and 200 yard races for women, and 150 yard, (Continued on Page 2).

BIZAD STUDENTS TO HEAR CAMPBELL AT CONVOCATION TODAY

Retail Merchandising Theme Of Lincoln Business Man's Address.

Classes in the Bizad college will be dismissed Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock for the convocation in Social Science auditorium when R. E. Campbell, Lincoln business man, will speak and scholastic honors of the college will be awarded.

Mr. Campbell, vice president and general manager of Miller and Payne, will use as the subject of his address, "Recent Developments in Retail Merchandising." Awards which will be made include the William Gold keys, Phi Chi Theta scholastic key, membership to Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary Bizad scholastic fraternity, the Alpha Kappa Psi scholastic awards and the announcement of the ranking 10 percent of each class in the Bizad college of last year.

The convocation, which is a replacement of the Bizad recognition banquet which has been held for the past several years, is under the direction of the Bizad executive council.

Students Turn Flippant in Presidential Nominations

The typical college "Joes" and their feminine counterparts had their inning in the recent student political poll as early tabulations indicated several amusing combinations of possible candidates in the coming election. Ballots cast by this small corps of flippant voters varied from such personalities as that of Miss Ardena Hepper, champion of the 12:30 clause for Nebraska coe's, to the ever popular Mae West, buxom blond of theatrical fame, and from Nebraska's stately physics instructor "T-square" Smith to the star of the comic strips, Moon Mullins.

Selassie Leads Mussolini. Haile Selassie and Benito Mussolini, who have been carrying on a pre-season political campaign in a rather militaristic manner for the last few months, showed an indisputable capacity for drawing votes with the ebony Ethiopian a slight favorite.

Lloyd Cardwell and Sam Francis, co-defenders of the Bible Cornhusker program during early winter campaigns seemed to have split affiliations as they polled commendably among student admirers, neither of which carried a sufficient majority to warrant any definite prediction in favor of either. BROWNMEN LEAD PLAY FROM START

'Dutch' Witte's Quint Threatens Scarlet Lead at Close Of First Half, But Second Period Defense Keeps Margin Intact to End.

WAHLQUIST, PARSONS TIE FOR HIGH SCORE

Huskers More Consistent Than in Mizzou Engagement; Floor, Passing Game, Headed by Whitaker, Dazzles With Speed, Accuracy.

Coach Willard "Dutch" Witte, crossing from the prairies of Wyoming to the plains of his former Nebraska haunts Friday evening, found a Husker crew of brone-busters a little too adept in the arts of hardwood court riding, and was forced to concede the representatives of his alma mater a 31-22 victory as he saw the tough-riding Cowboys tumbled out of the saddle. Official figures showed 4,800, one of the largest to pass into the Husker fieldhouse.

Nebraska Always Ahead.

Specializing in a web-tight defense headed by Lew Young and Stan Christensen, the Wyoming outfit was kept too busy hitting down Nebraska's passes to do any racetrack scoring of its own. Coach Brown's pupils led the parade from the starting signal to the last, quite a different procedure from the four-period overtime conflict earlier in the season, in which the Huskers barely managed to nudge out a 46 to 42 victory.

But while the Brownemen were never forced to manufacture a scoring spree and come from behind, they were never, after the first few minutes, any too comfortable in their position of advantage. Firing in 10 points in the last five minutes, the Cowboys emerged from a 14 to 5 underdog position to an 18 to 13 contending booth at the half. And during the entire final period, the Huskers were never able to relax, for the Cowboys were never more than 8 points behind until Harvey Widman sank a bucket a half-minute before the concluding bark.

Cowboy Defense Excels. The Huskers, a trifle ragged in their conflict with Missouri Friday evening, were more consistent, but none the less lightning-quick Monday in their floor and passing game, which is now firmly established as the crowning feature of their play this season. Igniting a fast-breaking pass-relay that advanced with difficulty up to the front lines, they were forced to wait for a split-second opening and then dart thru with uncanny rapidity.

HONORARY HEAD ASKS SCHOLARSHIP FILINGS

Deadline on Mortar Board Loans Is Friday, Jan. 17.

Since the closing date of filing for Mortar Board scholarship loans is Friday, Jan. 17, Alaire Barkes, president of the honorary, urges all senior women to give the project serious thought this week, so that the organization will obtain a desirable selection.

"One of the main aims of Mortar Board is scholarship," stressed Miss Barkes, "because of this we are anxious to award the loans to worthy girls and are anxious for them to file immediately."

Application blanks may be secured at Mrs. Westover's desk in Ellen Smith hall, and must be returned there before 5 o'clock, Friday, Jan. 17, the deadline. Applications should be addressed to the Mortar Board scholarship committee.

The two loans of $50 and $75 have been given to two senior girls every year since 1933. Selection of worthy girls are made on the basis of need, scholarship, and service to the school.

The six rules governing the awarding of the loan include: 1. Applicants must be senior women.

2. All loans made shall be based on the need, scholarship and service of the applicant.

3. The Mortar Board scholarship committee shall pass upon all applications for loans, and if any loan is approved, shall see that a proper note with security is taken therefor. All loans made shall have the approval of the faculty adviser. Loans shall be made for two years.

4. The amount of the loan shall be in the discretion of the committee, but no loan to any one person shall be less than $50 nor more than $75.

5. There shall be no interest on the loans until after the recipient of the loan has graduated. Then interest will be charged.

6. In case the recipient leaves school or otherwise fails to graduate, interest shall start accruing immediately.
