Champ Quint Undefeated in Tourney Play: Callihan Leads Way to Crown.

Al May's Panther basket-hawks, having cleaned up all the avail-able competition in League One of the initial barb basketball tourney and ripped a swath up to the final championship round Wednesday evening, proceeded quite deliberately to annex the tournament crown to their trophies by swamping Y. ment, the Panther aggregation, plainly the class of the competi-tors, had as little trouble licking the League Three champs as a professional wrestler has in coveying the exact shade of his unbear-able agony to the fans. The Y quintet, midgets alongside the formidable Panther trio of Brock Callihan, and McDonald, fought determinedly but vainly holding to a 10-20 disadvantage at the half. The classy Panthers were never forced to make a game of it and held down the Y offensive attempts

Bill Callihan guided six field cals and a brace of free throws through the hoop for high scoring honors, with Charley Brock, freshman football ace, trailing by a single point. Bender's eight points were high for the losers.

Coach Charlie Miller's Scarlet gym team, after furnishing a novel thrill to Cornhusker basketthe last two home games, will pit its skill against the University of Minnesota capercutters Friday in a dual meet at Minneapelis. Coach Miller, confined to his home with an attack of chicken-pox, will be unable to make the trip, and Dr. R. G. Clapp, head of the physical education department, will take his place.

You probably recall, also, that Missouri took both games of a double header last year, and definitely crowded Kansas from all hopes of a conference championship. Missouri is a 'home' team, and regularly wins from the visiting teams.

Dr. Allen also grew pessimistic at the approach of mid-year examinations, recalling that several times in recent years he has lost a valued player just as the basketball season was getting well under way. If one of the five "iron men," should have scholastic difficulties, and such a thing, Dr. Allen said, is not impossible, then the whole team that has been functioning so well this winter will have to be re-arranged and a new combination sought.

After viewing dark possibilities for a time, Dr. Allen looked over the records again, and found that opponents had been held to 17 in both the conference games, and California scored but 18 in the second game of that series. That reminded the coach of the 1924 season when opponents, except for two games, were held to scores of less than 20. "Keep 'em in the 'teens," was the slogan that year. In its two games, Kansas has averaged 33 points to opponents' 17, or a ratio of almost 2 to 1. Nebraska and Kansas State also are ahead of opponents.
