COSGROVE, TOM CHENEY R.O.T.C. CORPS LEADERS

Lincoln Seniors Are Chosen To Head University Military Unit.

NEW PROMOTIONS OUT
Col. Oury Reveals Roster Of Second Semester Officers.

Sherman Cosgrove and Tom Cheney, arts and science seniors, will head the roster of cadet officers of the local reserve officers training corps for the second semester, according to a recent release of midyear promotions. Cosgrove, who last semester served as lieutenant colonel, will command the first regiment, while Cheney has been chosen as cadet colonel of the second regiment.

Both cadet colonels are Lincoln products and both have made enviable records in their work with the local ROTC unit. The two will fill the position held by Richard Rider during the past semester, it having previously been the practice to select only one cadet colonel and one lieutenant colonel.

Ascending to the rank of lieutenant colonel are Raymond Elliott, who will serve as executive officer of the first regiment, and James Harris, executive officer of the second regiment. Both lieutenant colonels as well as Colonel Cheney have previously held the rank of cadet majors.

Other seniors who featured in the promotion included nine who were given the rank of majors and thirteen who were named captains. The complete roster of promotions and assignments is as follows:

To be cadet colonel: Sherman Cosgrove, Lincoln, commanding first regiment (F-1); Tom Cheney, Lincoln, commanding second regiment (F-2).

To be cadet lieutenant colonel: Raymond Elliott, Omaha, executive officer, first regiment (C-1); James Harris, Lincoln, executive officer, second regiment (C-2).

To be cadet major: Adjutant First Regiment, Ealon Standeven (F-3); Adjutant Second Regiment, Carl J. Ernst (F-2); Commanding First Battalion, First Regiment, Lennie M. Ryan, Beatrice (C-1); Commanding Second Battalion, First Regiment, Jack Stafford, Omaha (G-1); Commanding Third Battalion, First Regiment, (C-1).

AG BOARD SPONSORS VALENTINE CARNIVAL

Games, Contests, Features Of Executive Board Party Tonight.

An executive board is sponsoring a valentine carnival for all agricultural college students in the student activities building at 8:30 tonight. The admission price is 15 cents and the party will be given on a non-profit basis.

A new theme has been used in planning the party. Doc Cook's orchestra will play for those who wish to dance and games and competitive contests have been arranged by the program committee for those who do not care to dance. Prizes will be awarded during intermission and favors and paper hats will be handed out at the door.

Chaperons for the affair will be Dean and Mrs. W. W. Burr, Prof. and Mrs. D. K. Crowe, Prof. and Mrs. D. F. Keim, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rosenquist and Prof. and Mrs. T. H. Gooding.

Genevieve Bennett, chairman of the publicity committee, announced "the party has been planned to include all students, something that has never been attempted before on the university campus."

EXPECT GOOD CROWD AT LUTHERAN PARTY

Valentine, Leap Year Theme Of Church Club Program.

With an evening's entertainment featuring valentine and leap year festivities, the University Lutheran club of the Missouri synod will sponsor a Valentine party this evening in room 203 of the Temple.

DELIAN UNION HEARS VAN ROYEN TODAY

Geography Professor Gives Illustrated Lecture on Holland.

Dr. W. G. Van Royen, assistant professor of the geography department, will be main speaker at an open meeting of the Delian Union Literary Society at 8:45, Feb. 14, in room 303 Temple building.

As a feature of the program Dr. Van Royen will give a talk describing his native country, Holland, and will illustrate the speech by showing slides of Holland.

Included in the program will be a clarinet solo by Edwin B. Fischer and French horn selection by Clarence Mock accompanied by Marie Willey.

Games and refreshments carrying out the leap year valentine motif will culminate the program. Guests who attended the previous meetings are invited to be present this evening.

LAWRENCE RELATES OWN EXPERIENCES AT JOURNALISM SMOKER

Lincoln Editor Addresses Sigma Delta Chi on Thursday.

James E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, and instructor in the school of Journalism, addressed a journalism smoker sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalistic society in the N club rooms last night. Speaking on the general subject "Off the Record," the editor related interesting features of his journalistic career in Lincoln.

Another smoker of the same nature to be held at some later date will be announced by the group soon, when others who have had considerable experience in the various phases of journalism will be asked to speak.

Tap-Dancers Begin First Classes This Week Under Kuklin

"One-two-three, full of originality," echoed loudly thru the coliseum Thursday morning as Nebraska's first tap dancing class began. Over seventy smiling faces greeted "Professor" Irving Kuklin, freshman and formerly a professional dancer, who is tutoring the tap minded Cornhuskers to follow in the steps of Fred Astaire.

"This course is free and open to all students interested," announced Charlie Miller. As many other schools have such courses in their curriculum, Charlie wanted to see how Nebraska students would receive it.

The class will meet every Thursday morning in the coliseum at 11:00 a. m. Everybody, whether they have ever danced or not, is invited to join the group. In the future they will be divided into beginners and experienced members, and after instruction will be free to practice at their leisure. At the present the group is seeking a phonograph to furnish the "music goes round and round," for in Cornhuskerdom "everybody's truckin'."

McNeill Discusses American Adaptability to Cooperation

Kagawa's Plan Meets a Spending Psychology, Rather Than Thrift; Would Necessitate Change in Economic Thought of Masses.

In answer to the question, "What Attitude does Kagawa, the great Japanese promulgator of economic Christianity who speaks in Lincoln on Friday and Saturday of this week, face in this country?" Prof. C. E. McNeill of the university economics department hazarded this answer: "America is characterized by a spending psychology rather than one of thrift. In this country we are inclined to want service at any price. These elements in our economic philosophy will make the advances of the co-operative movement slower in this country than in others."

"In order to make a consumer cooperative movement successful in this country," Prof. McNeill continued, "we would have to have a great deal more economic pressure on the masses than there is at the present time. The progress of the cooperative movement here will also depend upon the functioning of the economic system with respect to the status of the farmers and laborers," he stated.

Speaking of the efforts that have been made to establish cooperatives in this country, Prof. McNeill said, "Lack of realization of the vital importance of efficient management has resulted in the failure of numerous cooperatives started in the United States during the last fifty years." He stated further that a sustained educational program designated to cultivate a loyalty toward cooperative activity is essential to this movement here.

In Dr. McNeill's opinion, Toyohiko Kagawa was brought to this country by the Cooperative League of America for the purpose of inaugurating an educational campaign in promotion of the cooperative movement. McNeill stated that the peculiar contribution of Kagawa to the cooperative movement consists in his linking it with Christianity. Kagawa believes with all the vigor of his passion for humanity, demonstrated by his incessant devotion to the poverty stricken classes of his own country.

KAGAWA LEADER CHRISTIAN MEET PROGRAMS HERE

Social Worker to Address Delegates From State Colleges.

Toyohiko Kagawa, famous Japanese social worker, will lead the conference of the Student Christian Movement which opens here today and continues thru tomorrow. Approximately 350 student delegates from eight schools in Nebraska are expected to be present to hear the noted Christian leader.

Any students or faculty members who wish to attend the two lectures by Kagawa on Saturday may register as conference guests at Ellen Smith hall or the temple, it was announced by Miss Mildred Green, Y. W. C. A. secretary. Students may register as regular delegates to the conference if they desire.

Delegates are expected to arrive Friday afternoon and registration will begin at 4 o'clock. Members of the conference will gather in the basement of St. Paul M. E. church at 7:30 where they will listen to Kagawa's speech on "World Peace." After the lecture the delegates will participate in a general "get-acquainted" party, also to be held in the church basement.

Saturday Session.

"Spiritual Life" is the subject of an address and forum which will be led by Kagawa at the Saturday morning session of the conference to begin at 8:30 at the Plymouth Congregational church. At 11 o'clock informal discussion groups will be held. The discussion will be centered around the topic, "How Can We Carry These Ideas Back to Our Country?"

SKIT SUMMARIES FOR COED FOLLIES REVUE DUE ON FILE TODAY

Names of Candidates for Best Dressed Girl Appear Sunday.

With the deadline for handing in skits for the Coed Follies set at 5 o'clock today, the names of the groups submitting scripts and the names of the candidates for Best Dressed Girl will be released Sunday. Jean Wall, chairman of the A. W. S. committee in charge of arrangements announced the names of the nominees for style show models will appear Tuesday, she stated.

Reminding all groups that skit summaries must be turned in at Mrs. Westover's desk in Ellen Smith hall by 5 o'clock today, Betty Cherny, publicity chairman, emphasized the fact that the name of the person in charge of the act should accompany the script. Each group is allowed to nominate six models for the style show and a candidate for Best Dressed Girl. These nominations are also due at 5 o'clock.

Selection of the acts to appear in the Coed Follies, March 27 at the Temple theater, will be made by a judging committee from the A. W. S. Board within the next few weeks. Style show models will also be selected at this time. The identity of The Best Dressed Girl, whose presentation will climax the annual production, will remain a secret until she is presented.

Nebraska Blue Print, student engineering publication, issued its February number to students today with its principal feature an article, "Grade Crossing Elimination Problems in Nebraska" by H. G. Schlitt of Lincoln.

Walter Gloor, mechanical engineering senior, also writes in the issue on "Present Day Trends in Automotive Design." Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college discussed in his column the "Relation of Engineering to Politics."

Schlitt, who is an engineer in the state bureau of roads and irrigation and C. E. Gads, considers the railway crossing problem in Nebraska which is responsible for many disastrous accidents each year. He outlines the types of dangerous crossings in the state and the various methods which might be used to solve the problem. The solution to the situation at present, Schlitt points out, lies in building overpasses or re-routing the road.

Photographs of overpasses at Fort Crook and Saddle Creek in Omaha accompany the article. A discussion of their construction is presented.

In his article on automotive design, Gloor tells of the extent to which streamlining is being used and the effect that it produces. Gloor also presents pictures of a super-streamlined car which is used by a St. Louis company for experimenting purposes.

A full page of Sledge, Jr., humor column edited by Franklin Meier, appears in the Blue Print along with the regular Engine Chatter, Automawns and Enginews.

Cover design, prepared by the architectural department, is a view of a siphon spillway on the Sutherland project.

Nebraskan Establishes Lost and Found Bureau

Lost articles will have a chance of being returned to their owners with the establishment of a lost and found bureau in the office of the Daily Nebraskan. A classified ad describing each lost article turned in to the bureau will be published in the Nebraskan and the owner may get his article back by identifying it and paying for the advertisement.

Special Feature Issue Free at Uni Drug Store

Sunday's edition of the Daily Nebraskan will be a special feature edition in tabloid size. An unlimited supply of free samples will be accessible at the Uni Drug store for those who do not live in organized houses and who usually have to wait until Monday morning to read the week end edition. Anyone who desires may secure a copy anytime Sunday by simply requesting it at the drug.

Ag students may acquire their free copies at the Ag cafeteria.

CORNHUSKER STAFF TO SELECT MODERN TYPE COVER DESIGN

Movie Producer to Judge Thirty Candidates in Queen's Contest.

Decision upon the design to be used for the cover of the 1936 Cornhusker will be made next week, according to Faith Arnold, editor of the publication. Although the finished design is still indefinite, it is to be of a modern type, in keeping with the inner part of the book and will be done in the motif of red and white.

Photographs of the thirty candidates for beauty queens of this year's Cornhusker are to be submitted to Carl Laemie, Jr., Hollywood movie producer and Cornhusker beauty queen contest judge within the next week according to Miss Arnold.

Work for the completion of the book is progressing rapidly at the present time and panels for the junior-senior sections are being made up.

There has been a great increase in junior and senior, fraternity and sorority and other group pictures, taken for the Cornhusker this year. Fraternity and sorority picture panels have been sent to the engravers. All organizations desiring panels should see Richard Hufnagle, campus photographer at the university studio.

ALICE SOWER TELLS AG STUDENTS TO SET GOALS OF LIFE WORK

Authority on Education Of Youth Addresses Crowd of 200.

Stressing the opinion that young people of today should plan their lives by firmly setting goals and preparing for emergencies, Miss Alice Sower, national representative of the Parent-Teacher congress in Washington, addressed a crowd of over 200 students, and faculty members at the first All-Ag convocation Thursday morning.

In developing her topic, "Facing the Future," Miss Sower suggested that people study themselves, and ask the question, "Am I dependable?" She believes this characteristic to be the basis of living successfully with others, and the goal to be reached by education. The speaker pointed out that the kind of people who get and hold positions are those who are prepared; do more than is expected of them and do it well.

Miss Sower's theory is that anyone can take a job and make it a big one by use of 50 percent imagination, and the other half, ability and hard work. She feels that an understanding of any line of work, coupled with the ability to learn from past experience.

Phi Upsilon and Omicron Nu, honorary home economics societies, under the leadership of Viola Johnson and Mary Doderil, sponsored the program.

Charter Day Is Celebrated By Alumni in Dozen States

Graduates, Former Students, Friends of School Hold Birthday Program in Cities Thruout Nation Next Week.

Cities in twelve states throughout the nation and in sixteen counties in the state of Nebraska are holding charter day celebrations in conjunction with the university during the next week, according to reports received by the university Alumni office.

In addition to the university observance on Feb. 14, celebrations will be held in two other states of the union besides Nebraska, including one in the San Francisco Bay District in Calif. and another in Sioux City, Ia., where Ed Weir, assistant athletic coach of the university will be the guest speaker.

Alumni in cities of seven states will participate in charter day activities, Feb. 15. Festivities will take place in Des Moines, Ia., with O. J. Ferguson, dean of the college of engineering as the main speaker; Indianapolis, Ind.; Helena, Mont., where Governor Holt is to speak; Portland, Ore., with Fred Hunter giving the

W.A.A. STUDENT LOAN NOW MADE OUTRIGHT GRANT

Scholarship Specifications Revised at Thursday Council Meeting.

Members of the W. A. A. council completed the revision of the organization's scholarship specifications at the regular meeting Thursday at 5 o'clock in Grant Memorial. The scholarship, previously offered as a loan to one girl each semester, will, in the future, consist of a gift to a sophomore, junior and senior each year, it was decided at the meeting.

A scholarship of twenty-five dollars will be given to an applicant from each of the three upper classes at the annual mass meeting of the W. A. A. in the fall. The organization will receive applications for the scholarships in the fall.

Qualifications for receiving the gift will include scholarship, participation in the W. A. A. program, and need of financial assistance, the council voted. In order to apply the applicant must have a scholastic average of 80 percent through her college career. During the previous year she must have participated in or refereed one intramural tournament or one sports club, or have been an intramural representative, a member of the sports board, or a worker in the W. A. A. concessions. Need of financial assistance will also be considered in making the awards.

Other business of the meeting included the setting of the election date for March 9. The election of the W. A. A. officers will take place at a 5 o'clock meeting of all intramural representatives, sports board members and council members in Grant Memorial.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM GIRL FILINGS CLOSE AT 5 O'CLOCK FRIDAY

Election Set for Evening Of Annual Affair, March 6.

Filings for prom girl candidates which opened Monday, Feb. 10, are to close at 5 o'clock this afternoon, according to Marylu Petersen, co-chairman of the prom committee. All groups wishing to enter candidates before the deadline are urged to submit their nominees at the activities office in the coliseum at once.

Any girl in the university having 30 credit hours, 27 of which were earned during the preceding semester, is eligible to file.

Election March 6.

Election of the prom girl will take place on March 6, when the annual Junior-Senior prom is staged. Polls will be open from 9 to 10 o'clock and each couple attending the ball will be entitled to one vote. The presentation ceremony is scheduled to take place at 10:30.

Expressing the desire that a large number of candidates file for this election, Dorothy Bentz, member of the publicity committee for the prom, commented, "We hope that anyone who is at all considering filing will not hesitate to do so before deadline today, since we wish to have a large group of candidates from which the prom girl will be chosen."

HORNEY ILL; MISSES INTRAMURAL MEET

Sports Mentor Recovering From Severe Cold in Infirmary.

With the intramural program so thoroughly planned and barely launched, Director Bill Horney was hustled away to the university infirmary too soon to see his work develop.

Horney was stricken by a severe cold last week and Monday it prohibited his coming to the intramural office for duty. He is now convalescing in the infirmary from what narrowly missed being pneumonia, but he will be dismissed too late to attend any of the games, except perhaps the finals.
