IOWA STATE TEAM CHALLENGES GAGE TEAM OF SCARLET

Brownmen Favored to Win In Battle Tomorrow Evening.

Big Six Standings.	W	L	pts	pts	pts	pts
Kansas	5	0	100	235	43
Nebraska	5	2	74	200	240
Oklahoma	3	3	100	176	111
Missouri	2	4	133	173	203
Iowa State	2	4	135	162	207
Kansas State	1	5	187	177	203

Every game Nebraska plays from now on can truly be labeled crucial, for should they win them they will have one of the first outside chances to wear the Big Six crown that they have had for many years, but should they carelessly drop one, the bright as a coal miner's neck.

Tomorrow night Iowa State, the quint that turned the trick 41-40 once before, challenges Husker superiority.

The scarlet banner now flies higher on the staff than that of the Cyclones, but weird things happen when these two teams have a session, no matter where the scene. Last season Ames made the Husker humble by a 22-23 count. This score was the lowest registered during the Nebraska-Iowa State encounter two weeks ago, the two teams rolled up the largest count of the schedule, 41-40. The Brownmen were favored in both meetings just as they are for tomorrow's battle, so you see, anything may happen.

Home Floor Best.

So far, the Huskers have found their home floor to be their haven, losing not a single mix on this site. Thus, they look to the coliseum to serve as a storm cellar when the Iowa Cyclones come to town. This will bolster the spirits of the home boys as will the mumps which have taken Captain Thorvald Holmes from the game. Holmes was one of the top scorers in the scoring list, and his absence will be keenly felt by Coach Louis Menze.

The possibility of at least sharing the throne with the Jayhawkers is the tempter that keeps the Huskers in that ever onward spirit. Only the outcome from this game can cast enough light to change the Big Six shadow. This effect will not at first be noticeable, but when Kansas journeys to Lincoln next week end it will pop up in the inspired brand of ball.

Iowa Loses.

Iowa has lost consistently during their conference slate, but according to Nebraska they have not dropped the appropriate ones, for it was they who are responsible for the ultra slim chances of the Huskers. Revenge will be the motif in mind tomorrow night, so says Coach Browne, but he is not confident that the play will be the velvet smooth that it should.

"The boys are in tip top condition, I believe," Browne commented, although they did lose some vital sleep last week after the Kaggie game."

Cyclones Rest.

While the Huskers were being pressed for a conference win over the Wildcats, the Cyclones were resting and building up for Saturday's obligation. Both teams have been gnawing at each others' spines all week in practice, for it is this game that will give unsurpassable satisfaction to the victor. Menze's boys, while they have no basketball bone to pick with Nebraska, have a few things to settle that have been held over from the gridiron. It is not their desire that Nebraska athletes should straddle the top of the lists in both basketball and football, consequently they will be pitching their utmost for their second victory. The Jayhawkers meet Kansas State at Lawrence on the same night of the Husker-Cyclone meet, but this game will slice little cheese unless the apparently impossible should come forth and the Kaggies would trip Allen's men.

Charter Day Program

Friday, Feb. 14.

Morning.

10:15—Charter day address by Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue University, Coliseum.

Night.

6:30—Charter day dinner for alumni, University club.

8:00—Basketball game, Nebraska vs Iowa State.

Sunday, Feb. 16.

3:00—Concert by the university band, Coliseum.

This is unlikely, however, for aside from the fact that Kansas has the most well balanced team in the Big Six and the Wildcats the least. Another factor discouraging the invaders is that they, like Nebraska, put up their best scraps on the home boards and their best will be none too good Saturday.

Eye and Tooth Affair.

Oklahoma plays Missouri in what will probably be the most eye and tooth affair of the week. Neither quint can be singled out as the winner, for no where is there a basis for comparison.

Referring to the Nebraska fracas, it is found that the probable starters of the melee will be: game Captain Harvey Widman, to whom the game will be dedicated, and Bob Parsons, guards; Floyd Ebaugh, center; George Wahlquist and Henry Whitaker, forwards.

Menze will no doubt begin with Jack Flemming and Jack Cowen, forwards; Fred Poole, center; George Gibson, and Maurice Johnson, guards.

LINDSEY TO CALL FOR JAYHAWK SPRING GRID CANDIDATES MARCH 2

Ten Veterans Lost From '35 Eleven; Open Battle for Positions.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Spring football practice at the University of Kansas will begin Monday, Mar. 2, for all candidates not engaged in other athletics at that time. Sessions will be held for a period of six weeks, during which time there will be five two hour practice sessions each week.

With ten veterans lost from last year's team, nearly all of the team positions are wide open for the man who can offer the most to ward filling them. Among those lost by graduation or who have completed their three years' competition are four all-Big Six selections, Captain John Peterson, fullback; Rutherford Hayes, end; Ed Phelps, center and Dick Sklar, guard, who also was invited to play in the East-West game this season. Grant Barcus, substitute center who was counted on to fill the gap left by Phelps will be unable to compete because of ineligibility.

Coach Adrian Lindsey is expecting nearly all the lettermen and other varsity squad members of last year to report. Freshmen who received their numerals last fall will also be on hand when practice swings into stride. Coach Lindsey feels that there is some good talent on the Hill which is not showing itself for some reason or other.

"There are probably some fine football players here at the University of Kansas who have not reported for football. Although they may feel that they haven't sufficient time for football, aren't heavy enough, haven't enough experience, come from too small a school, or haven't a chance to make the team, for some other reason, I wish those men would report for spring practice. They will be given plenty of chance to win a berth on the team. I'd like to have as great a number of candidates as possible from which to select a squad, and I want these unknown football men to feel that they are entirely welcome at the practice field," said Coach Lindsey.

Spring practice will be spent in developing passers and kickers to replace those lost last year and will give a good chance for judging the ability of the men who check out suits.

ELLIOTT TELLS GROWTH OF SCHOOL SINCE 1891

It is indeed a different University of Nebraska to which I return to deliver the sixty-seventh anniversary address, from the University of Nebraska that I attended over forty years ago," Dr. Edward G. Elliott, chancellor of Purdue University stated in an interview with a Nebraskan reporter Thursday evening. When the Purdue president enrolled in the university in 1891, the entire institution was bounded by a heavy iron fence for the purpose of keeping out wandering cows and other inquisitive domestics, he stated.

At that time the only buildings which went to make up the school were: U Hall, which at that time possessed the other two stories that have by now so noticeably been removed; the chemistry laboratory, now the college of pharmacy; the armory or Grant Memorial hall, and the old boiler plant which has long since passed into oblivion. During his attendance at the library which has been the chief "gripe" of student liberals of recent years was built. There was no agricultural campus and the entire city campus was centered in four blocks, Dr. Elliott stated.

Although at that time fraternities had not yet reached the top in popularity there were three Greek chapters on the campus, namely, Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, and Beta Theta Pi. The feeling was considerably stronger between the barb and the affiliated man at that time and it was only those who had a bounteous financial supply who even so much as thought of such a life. A few years later several other chapters were founded on the campus and among them was Phi Kappa Psi of which the chancellor is a member.

During his study at the university the military department was more or less the center of activity, and held a much higher place among student interests than at present. When told of the considerable comment both favorable and otherwise on that particular phase of the institution at present, the former Cornhusker, stated that he should attribute much of the department's popularity at that time to the efforts of the honorable John J. Pershing who was his head at that time.

Chancellor Elliott stated that he was extremely interested in the campaign the students of the university have been conducting in quest of a new student union and further continued that the union on the Purdue campus was undoubtedly the most important building of the institution. He announced that their union is controlled by the student body under the supervision of a faculty committee, and its construction was financed thru an $8 per year union fee from all students. Also the tax is considerably larger than will be charged on this campus, there has never been a complaint since its construction, the chancellor boasted.

When questioned concerning interesting features of the Indiana university, the president stated that it was not generally realized that Purdue is a state institution, and that it was originally the Indiana agricultural college. It acquired the name of Purdue, he explained when a wealthy Lafayette merchant offered to grant 100 acres of land and $2,000 in cash, when that was a might lot of money, if they would name the school after him, and as a result

HUSKER GRAPPLERS INVADE MANHATTAN FOR MATCH TONIGHT

Kaggie Matmen Fresh From Victory Over Navy Wrestlers.

To defend their undefeated standing in the Big Six, the "Stucker" grapplers will invade Manhattan tonight against a squad which Coach Jerry Adams considers, "Probably the toughest in Big Six competition."

The Kaggies have the edge on Nebraska according to the dope bucket. They recently returned from an eastern trip where they defeated the Navy midshipmen 18-11. Their competition against Oklahoma A. & M., Missouri, and Navy already this season might have their men in better condition for the tough time we intend to show them, but we'll see," said Adams.

The squad left this morning for the meet this evening at 7:30 p. m. The squad and their weight divisions are: Fred Webster, 118 lbs.; Cleo Smiley, 126 lbs.; Julius Wittman, 135 lbs.; Ray Larson, 145 lbs.; Fred Mallon, 155 lbs.; Don Flammick, captain, 165 lbs.; Loren Simmons, 175 lbs.; and Bernard Funken, heavyweight.

ACACIA QUINTET TAMES PHI PSI'S IN 11-8 VICTORY

Greek Basketball Sweeps Into Fourth Round of Play Thursday.

Featuring a narrow 11-8 victory over Phi Kappa Psi, last year's titlist, by the strong Acacia outfit, Greek "A" basketball swept past the fourth round Thursday evening. League competition comes to a close next Tuesday, Feb. 18, with the championships of most of the leagues hanging on the outcomes of the final games.

The Acacia-Phi Psi affair was hotly contested, the score being 8-8 up to the last minute and a half of play when Marv Plock cashed in a lone free throw to put the Acacia lads ahead, the winners going on to put in a field goal in the last two seconds of play to cinch the matter. This game concludes the Phi Psi's schedule with but one game remaining on the Acacia's program. The other League 1 game was Kappa Sigma limiting Zeta Beta Tau to one free throw to emerge victors in 22-1 walkaway.

Alpha Gamma Rho enjoyed a field day at the expense of Phi Sigma Kappa, totaling twenty-seven tallies to the nine accumulated by Phi Sigma Kappa. The other League 2 game was not played, Sigma Chi electing to take a rimout powder and forfeiting to Sigma Nu.

League 3 competition found the favored Delta Tau Delta crew disposing of Pi Kappa Alpha, 13-9, while Alpha Sigma Phi ran up a total of thirty-six points in the process of taming Sigma Phi Epsilon, the Sig Eps being unable to garner more than four tallies.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon wound up their campaign by losing an important game to the up and coming Alpha Tau Omega quintet, the final count being 21-11 in favor of A. T. O.'s. A. T. O. has one game remaining on its slate before it deserves the title of champion in League 4. In the same league, Theta Chi asked that their game be postponed when the Phi Delta Theta quintet failed to show up.

Beta Sigma Psi took Sigma Alpha Nu in its stride, 13-2, in the only League 5 engagement.

With one round of play remaining Acacia has the inside track on the crown in League 1, with Sigma Nu and Chi Phi battling it out in League 2. Delta Tau Delta appears to be in as League 3 titlist while Alpha Tau Omega has the edge in League 4. Beta Sigma Phi and Phi Gamma Delta are deadlocked for first place in League 5.

Standings for Greek "A" teams at the conclusion of four rounds of play are as follows:

SKETCHES

He once confidently wagered that if the coach would so much as give him the opportunity to play in one game, that his name would be perpetuated on the squad roster. Well the time came. Mentor Browne pointed a selective digit toward him and said, "Widman get in there, or something like that, and ever since that time Harvey H. Widman has been a member of the Lincoln Journal staff.

From Lincoln Journal man.

His making good is attributed to his ambitious style of play the like of which no other team member has. Whenever he is responsible for a portion of Nebraska's team play, he believes that his share should be no less than one-fifth and consequently works like a beaver in a flood throat.

Most cagers come to this brain factory sitting substantially on a sound prep foundation of all state honors or that equivalent. This particular athlete arrived sans all attained glory, save the fact that he was the member of the class B championship Mead high school team in 1932. Upon his arrival he saw his handicap, so rolling up his sleeves he went to work. He has been an indispensable fraction of the Husker squad ever since.

Well, for three years as a varsity man and one as a freshman, he has labored without compensation except of enjoyment of the game, but tomorrow night he will be partially rewarded as he pilots his fellow mapiesters in a conference conflict dedicated to him. The next two ensuing games at home will be similarly played in partial behalf to the squads other two seniors, Whitaker and Wahlquist.

There are probably few that haven't noticed the way that Widman's face turned the color of an initial horseshoe ride when he is in a heated basketball struggle. The same thing happens when mild ribbing occurs. The rosiest hues are produced when mention is made of his heart flutter to whom he wrote at least one letter per day on all road trips.

At the present date the aggressive guard hankers to have the title reverend before his other initials, altho he is now matriculated in teachers college. His 6 foot and 185 pounds of sincerity should furnish an excellent background for any pupil.

Greek affiliations are not a part of his life, for he believes that books and firmer stuff make up a university.

A younger Widman is now in the Ag college and may come to town next year to grace the coliseum court. He, like his brother, was a stellar player in Mead, Nebraska.

K-AGS SIGN FORT HAYS FOR 1936 GRID SEASON

Wildcats Seek Revenge for 3-0 Licking Received Last Fall.

MANHATTAN, Kan.—Kansas State college has just completed its nine game football schedule for 1936 by contracting for a game with Fort Hays, Kansas State college, the David which last season slow the then defending Big Six champions 3 to 0 in a stunning upset here.

The 1936 game is to be the season opener here September 26. In six previous meetings, dating back to 1919, Kansas State has scored 91 points to 16 winning five and losing one.

The 1936 schedule will confine the Wildcats to their home territory more closely than in several seasons. The longest jaunt will be to Marquette at Milwaukee. The only other trips will be short visits into neighboring states, including Nebraska at Lincoln, and trips to Stillwater, Tulsa and Norman, in Oklahoma.

Last year the defending Big Six titleholders went to Pittsburgh, Pa. to meet Duquesne's Night Riders. The previous year they went to New York where they met Manhattan college at Ebbets field in Brooklyn.

The complete nine game 1936 schedule which includes four home games and five away:

Sept. 26—Fort Hays State at Manhattan.
Oct. 3—Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater.
Oct. 10—Missouri at Manhattan.
Oct. 17—Marquette at Milwaukee.
Oct. 24—Kansas at Manhattan.
Oct. 31—Tulsa at Tulsa.
Nov. 7—Oklahoma at Norman.
Nov. 14—Kansas State at Manhattan.
Nov. 21—Nebraska at Lincoln.

Recently, a gripe was mailed in from a certain fraternity house that the sorority next door had its coal delivered at 6:30 o'clock in the morning and it waked everybody from his beauty sleep. Later developments revealed that it was coal being delivered to the fraternity, source of the complaint. Apologies were then in order.
