

Death Says: "Thanks!"

Your Careless Driving . . . Feeds
My Insatiable Craving for Dead,
Maimed and Bleeding Victims."

I am Death. I glory in your reckless driving that offers up a sacrifice to my greedy hunger for bleeding victims. My greatest glory is to cut down someone in the prime of life. I am deaf to the grief of kin and friends. They themselves may be my next victims.

Reckless driving gives me my greatest opportunity. A careless moment, a single mistake at the wheel, is my cue. Give me the slightest chance and I will be there to claim my toll of human lives.

I thank you for your past co-operation—and plead with you for greater assistance.
