PRICE 5 CENTS

FOUR COEDS FILE FOR 1936 HUSKER PROM GIRL HONOR

Hitchcock, Bishop, Alter, Adelseck Eligible for Contest.

Four senior girls will contest for the honor of Prom girl to be presented at the annual Junior-Senior Prom on March 6. The girls, Lorraine Hitchcock, Bonnie Bishop, Nola Alter, and Lorene Adelseck, were declared eligible Monday afternoon by the dean of student affairs office.

There has been a dispute as to the eligibility of one candidate, a matter which will be set right Tuesday, and should she be eligible, the name will be announced in Wednesday's Nebraskan.

Miss Hitchcock, who is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, is from Lincoln in the Business Administration college. She has served as president of the Y. W. C. A. and as a member of the student council. She was on the board of the Coed Counselors last year and was chosen as a member of Mortar Board last spring.

Miss Bishop is president of her sorority, Alpha Phi. She is registered in teachers college and her home is at Haddam, Kas. Miss Alter is a member of Pi Beta Phi and is enrolled in the Arts and Science college. She is from Alma, and is a member of the Y. W. C. A. and the Dramatic club.

Miss Adelseck is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and is from Hastings. She is in the college of Arts and Sciences, is a member of the A. W. S. board, and secretary-treasurer of the Estee's Cooperative. She is on the staff of the Cornhusker and a freshman commission leader in the Y. W. C. A. and was an executive in the Y. W. C. A. finance drive. She was an R. O. T. C. sponsor at the military ball.

The 1936 prom girl will be chosen on the night of the prom, March 6, from among the four candidates by those attending the affair. Voting will be from 9 until 10 o'clock and plans have been made to hold the presentation at 10:30.

A novel plan of presentation, originated by Robert Funk, is being arranged for this year's prom. Arrangements for a nationally famous band to play for the affair are being made according to Jean Walt, in charge of music for the prom. The name will be announced in the near future as soon as final negotiations are complete.

Fifty Extra Copies of Cornhusker Available

Only fifty extra copies of the Cornhusker will be available to students who have not yet purchased them, according to Gene Pester, managing editor of the yearbook. Fifteen hundred copies have been ordered to be printed, and of this number, all but fifty have been sold.

These extra copies may be purchased in the Cornhusker office now. Students may buy them at the same rates as were offered last fall. Books may be had for four dollars in cash or for a down payment of one dollar with two monthly payments of one dollar each and a final installment of $1.25.

Regular monthly meeting of the University of Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi will be held in the auditorium of Morrill Hall, Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 7:30. Vernon Leo Hollister, professor of electrical engineering will give an illustrated lecture on "Economic Considerations in Reference to Water Power."

The meeting is open to the public and visitors are invited to attend.

CAMPUS SOCIETIES TURN IN CHARTERS FOR COUNCIL FILES

Governing Body Strives to Finish Records, Improve University.

Announcing that over 50 charters of campus organizations were submitted during the student council drive to complete its files, the committee on organizations expressed its appreciation Monday to the groups which co-operated, and met the deadline set by the governing body.

"Never have the files been complete enough for the council to regulate and aid university groups, properly but now we feel we are in a position to govern the groups to the betterment of their own interests as well as the council's," stated Eleanor Clizbe, chairman of the committee on organizations.

Groups Fail to Comply.

"There are still many worthwhile organizations which have not handed in their constitutions, but we hope they realize that until they have met the request they cannot be recognized by the council, should any difficulty arise resulting outside aid," declared Irving Hill, president of the council. These groups will be allowed to hand in their charters even though the deadline is past, as it is hoped this will prove a test of the organizations right to exist.

"It is to the advantage of every group to submit a charter, as they will receive fuller protection should any campus business arise affecting the organization. The council can then refer to the files and not bother the group," stated E. W. Lantz, sponsor of the council.

Files Inaccessible.

No one but members of the organization committee, officers of the council, and authorized people will have access to the files. This measure is taken to exclude "information seekers," according to committee members.

The committee which has been working on the project includes, Elizabeth Busher, Bill Newcomer and Miss Clizbe.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY HOLDS OPEN MEETING

Visitors are invited to attend Wednesday's meeting of American Chemical society to be held at 7:30 in the general lecture room of Chem hall. High light will be a talk on "The Aging of Crystalline Precipitates," given by Dr. I. M. Kolthoff, of the University of Minnesota. The lecture is expected to have unusual technical interest. This will be the 165th regular meeting of the society.

CARNIVAL CROWD TO VOTE ON BEST SORORITY BOOTHS

Novel Manner of Tabulation Arranged; Award Prize As Climax.

Sorority attractions at the Coed Counselor Penny Carnival will be judged by those attending the annual affair Saturday, Feb. 22, it was announced Monday by Elizabeth Moomaw, president of the organization. Voting will be carried on from two to five o'clock at Grant Memorial hall where the carnival is to be held, and votes for the 11 booths entered by campus groups will be tabulated in a novel manner before the carnival crowd. To climax the carnival festivities, an award will be made to the group presenting the booth which receives the highest number of votes.

Committees from the Coed Counselor Board working on the carnival are: competitive attractions, Rowena Swenda; refreshments, Emma Bauer; tickets, Jean Marlin; publicity, Elizabeth Busher; program, Marjorie Bannister; voting, Betty Magee; dancing, Phyllis Jean Humphrey; Coed Counselor side shows, Theodora Lohmann; and favors, Doris Weaver. Elizabeth Moomaw is in charge of general arrangements.

Program Enlarged.

By enlarging the carnival program with the innovation of group competition in the side shows, and by featuring dancing during the afternoon, the Coed Counselor board anticipates increased attendance. A floor show will be presented, both men and women students taking part. In addition to the competing booths, the board will erect at least five other attractions.

Groups that have entered side shows are: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Delta Tau, Howard and Wilson halls, Alpha Chi Omega, Barb A. W. S., Alpha Xi Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Staff members who are assisting Miss Cherny in preparing the program are: Lois Cooper, Irene Selgers, Jean Hoffman, Doris Smith, Frances Spencer, Edna Lee, Lillian Seibold, Virginia Nolte, Ernestine Jones, Maxine Weriman and Evelyn Taylor.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER TO GO ON STANDS FRIDAY

Spring Number of Literary Magazine Celebrates Tenth Birthday.

Celebrating its tenth birthday, Prairie Schooner, Nebraska's literary magazine will appear on stands Friday, Feb. 21, according to Prof. L. C. Wimberly, editor. The issue, formerly called the winter number, will be known as the spring number this year, and the change in title will be accompanied by a change in cover. The new cover is the work of Barbara Ross, of Lincoln.

With "West Dakota College," a satirical article on the Utopian university, a Prof. Stephen M. Corey, of the Educational Psychology and Measurements department at the university, makes his first appearance in the Schooner.

Other Nebraska writers who contribute to the spring number are Rudolph Umland, of Lincoln, who wrote "The Rise and Fall of Woleben," a story; A. H. Hartman and Nellie J. Compton, formerly assistant librarians at the university library.

"Mr. Stover's Pants," a humorous story after the manner of Mark Twain, is by an Iowa writer, Jacqueline Wright. Mrs. Frances Crawford, of Milwaukee, contributes "A Man from Cos," the story of a "mercy" killing, and from Phoenix, Ariz., comes a first short story, "Suzanne," by Dorothy Marquis.

Twelve poets appear in this number of the Schooner, most of them for the first time. Harold Vinal, of New York, is the author of an epilogue, taken from Hurricane, a narrative poem soon to be published by the Stephen Daye press. Verne Bright, of Aloha, O., has had about 1,000 pieces published in various magazines and has had poetry included in more than thirty anthologies, is also a contributor.

Other poems published in the spring Schooner were written by (Continued on Page 4).

R.O.T.C. BAND DRAWS GOOD CONCERT CROWD IN SPITE OF WEATHER

1,000 Turn Out to Hear Program Directed by 'Billy' Quick.

Variety was the feature of the annual midwinter concert presented by the R. O. T. C. band Sunday afternoon at the coliseum. In spite of the inclement weather, an audience of about 1,000, including several outstate high school bands, heard the band under the direction of William T. "Billy" Quick.

Mrs. Lenore Burkett Van Kirk, Lincoln soprano, presented the "Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss and "Ciriibirin" by A. Pestalozza. Austin Garrells, a sophomore from Brunswick, rendered a baritone solo, "The Bride of the Waves" by Clarke, and also a popular piece as an encore.

Brass Quartet Adds Variety.

Still further variety was provided with a brass quartet rendition of Grieg's "Sailor Song" and the "War Song" by MacDowell. The quartet consisted of Ernest Green, student director of the band, Concordia, Kas., Phil Kleppinger, Beatrice, and Richard White and Charles Webster, both of Lincoln.

One of the most popularly received selections was "Dear Old Nebraska U" played in a new arrangement by the band. The music is by Harry Pecha and the new arrangement by Harry Alford of (Continued on Page 4).

STUDENTS OBTAIN INFORMATION FOR SUMMER SESSION

Latest Bulletin Describes Courses Offered; Lists Instructors.

Preliminary announcement of the plans for the forty-second summer session, for those interested in attending the university during the summer, were made recently by R. D. Moritz, director of the department of education service and director of the summer session.

According to Prof. Moritz, a preliminary bulletin has been issued to enable students to plan their summer school program and the complete announcement of courses will be ready for distribution on, or about, March 1, for those interested. This bulletin will contain a full description of courses offered, a complete list of the instructional staff, and general information regarding the summer session.

Master's Requirement Shortened. The summer school program is designed to meet the needs of all classes of students, with the curriculum ranging from undergraduate courses to graduate courses leading to the Master's and Doctor's degrees.

Equivalent in method, character, and credit values to those offered during the regular school year and, in some departments, superior to the work offered at any other time, the summer courses in most departments are designed in such a manner that graduate students may complete their requirements for a Master's degree in four consecutive summers.

Courses which will be offered this summer include a long session from June 9 to August 7, a short session from June 9 to July 17, an all-state high school, orchestra, band, and chorus course, and a short course for school custodians, beginning June 22 and ending June 27.

Hold Education Conclave.

Announcement of the third annual education conference to be held on June 23, 24 and 25, was also made in the preliminary bulletin issued by the summer session director. The conference this summer will concern itself with curriculum construction and guidance, both elementary and secondary.

DISCOVERY POTTERY MAY SOLVE PUZZLE

Indian Culture Find May Bring Answer to Grooved Ax Problem

Pottery of a prehistoric Nebraska Indian culture, which may lead to a solution of the Midwest archaeologist's "problem of the grooved axe," was disclosed by Dr. Earl H. Bell, professor of anthropology. Two distinct types have been discovered, representing two divergent types of culture, in excavations near Bassett.

Official notification of his election to fellowship in the Society for American Archaeology was received Saturday by Dr. Bell, who has been an affiliate member of the group and was honored in recognition of his contributions to the science.

Famous Foodman Real Person

Salesman Becomes New Institution

By JEAN WALKER.

Pages of history are filled with exultant cries which have caused hope to well up in the hearts of the populace. One of these is "Lafayette, we are here!" But by striking a dramatic attitude and shouting up the front stairs of a sorority house that "We are here," little immediate action would result.

But try yelling "The foodman's here" about 2:00 some night and just see what happens. If the walls of your house don't bulge and sway with people trampling over each other's faces on the way downstairs, it's just because they've eaten too much dinner. For the foodman is becoming almost as much a campus institution as U Hall or the clock in Sosh. He's a collegiate counterpart of the Good Samaritan who can't bear seeing students suffer hunger pangs during that dead period between dinner and bed.

Wait impatiently. Although houser near the campus impatiently await his arrival each night few know anything about him. The foodman is a very real person. His name is Forest Eno and he hails from Sharpsburg, Ia. Until this semester he's been registered in teachers' college.

Each evening at about 8:00 he sets out with his man sized basket of nickel edibles of variety and so-called fraternities and sorority houses. And when he gets through feeding starving pledges it's usually about midnight.

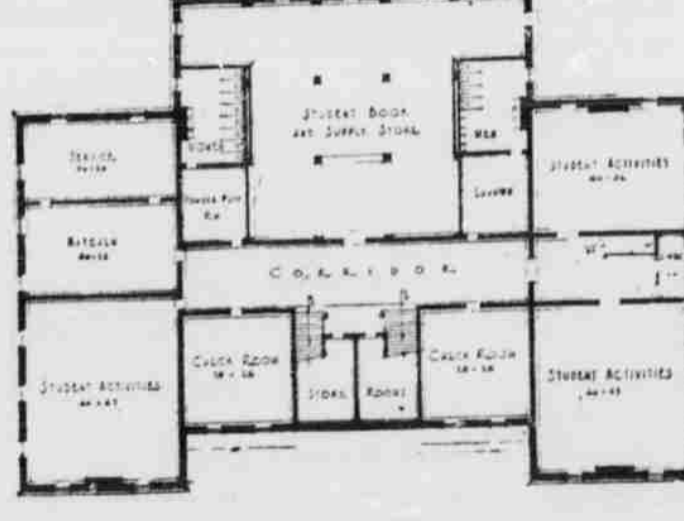

Since the fall of '32 Eno has been trudging nightly through driving rain, knee-deep snow drifts and other elements of which only Nebraska weather is capable. Furthermore, he has never missed a night in all that time.

When he first thought of the scheme, like Mohammed and his mountain, of taking his goods directly to pledges who were forced
