

NEBRASKA CAMPUS SOCIAL WHIRL

MODES AND COMPARISONS.

Enthusiasm and expectation about the results of the Nebraska-Oklahoma basketball game, punctuated by various skids and slides into extremely wet and unpleasant mud puddles, seemed to be the main news and activity on the campus these days. With everyone so surprised about the weather and new spring clothes that they have no time to do or say anything exciting, we seem to take it for granted that the only thing for poor struggling society editors to do is either to wait for Spring to bring forth its usual budding romances, or turn fashion editor and tell you all about the new styles in hip boots, gaiters, and what-have-you. The main difficulty today is in finding a successful method of crossing streets. Queen Elizabeth may have had her fling with Sir Walter Raleigh in ye goodie olde days, but Raleigh couldn't have been much more bodacious and gallant than are our own Raleighs of today. Our Raleighs should carry a good-sized board to stretch across the swirling waters and lessen enormous cleaning bills or if a Raleigh is strong and the Elizabeth isn't too tall and wide he can just sweep her off her feet and jump during which he can pray to light on dry land.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made recently of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Helen Davis of Lincoln to Lane Monroe Axtell of Omaha. Miss Davis was graduated from the University with Phi Beta Kappa honors and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Axtell attended the University of Arizona and went on the College World cruise in 1928-29.

PROVINCE president of Sigma Alpha Iota, Miss Edwina Fowler, arrived Monday to spend a few days in Lincoln to inspect the active and alumnae chapters. The alumnae entertained at a buffet supper at the Cornhusker for Miss Fowler Monday evening, and a formal musicale will be given by the active chapter Wednesday evening at the University club to honor Miss Fowler.

FORMAL initiation services of Theta chapter of Delta Omicron, professional music sorority, were held Saturday morning at the University club. Those initiated were: Misses Molly Wyland, Betty Van Horne, Virginia Keim and Mrs. J. P. Williams as patroness. An active and alumnae luncheon attended by thirty followed the ceremony. Appointments were carried out in the sorority colors of grey and rose with corsages for each initiate.

OF interest in University circles is the announcement made of the engagement of Lola Eberly of Lincoln to William J. Beeman of Chicago. Miss Eberly is a graduate of the University and a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

GRAMLICH ADDRESSES BUTCHERS GATHERING

Two Day Course Is Offered On Ag Campus for Meat Dealers.

Declaring that Nebraska is famed for the livestock and meat it produces, Prof. H. J. Gramlich, chairman of the animal husbandry department, spoke at the opening session of a two day course for state meat dealers and butchers at the college of agriculture, Monday. Many meat dealers from other states were reported present at the meetings.

Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, in charge of the display in the meat laboratory explained the purposes of meat in the human diet. The purpose of the short convention is to discuss means of increasing meat consumption in the state. Speaking along this line, M. O. Cullen, of the national livestock and meat board appeared as one of the chief speakers on the Monday morning program. Miss Edith Carse, of the home economics department, spoke on the afternoon program. The sessions will continue Tuesday.

SURPRISES at the Theta and Sig Alpha houses Sunday: Jane Winnett of Eldora, Ia., and John Ellis of Omaha informally announced their engagement with the customary passing of candy and cigars.

DELTA Omicron alumnae met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Guy Chambers, with Mrs. Harry Ziegenbein, Mrs. J. M. Elwell, Mrs. Edgar Cole, and Miss Mildred Chapin as the assisting hostesses. Following the regular business meeting the group studied four composers, Schubert, Schumann, Mendelssohn, and Massenet. The program consisted of a paper on the lives of Schubert and Schumann by Miss Colita Aitken; vocal solos, Mrs. H. J. Lehnhoff; violin solos, Mrs. Clyde Bolton and vocal solos, Mrs. Ryle Danielson. Mrs. F. E. Bodie and Mrs. Paul Holm concluded the program with two piano numbers.

MISS Pauline Gellatly returned Sunday from Baltimore, Md., where she attended the Junior League children's theater conference. En route she stopped in Washington where she visited Miss Jane McLaughlin and Miss Blanche Carr.

SUNDAY seemed to be an especially popular day for candy-passings and what-have-you. Marion Miller of Hershey and Fred Seifer passed the candy and cigars at the Alpha Xi Delta and Farm Houses, respectively, to announce their engagement.

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS.

Several enjoying to extremes this sudden change in weather for instance... Dick Colburn swimming, practically, in the street between the Kappa and Sigma Nu houses... Elizabeth Edison giving someone a snappy slap on the back... the Bennett and Rosenkrans combination still on "tops"... pledges shoveling snow and slush out of driveways... Al Meron either spinning along in his tan job or whipping by in his funny little roadster... many playing "piggy-back" across the intersection rivers... Clifford Ogden in town again and planning another journey to the coast... Rowena Swenson going into Ellen Smith... Jack Friedback and two of his following talking things over... Kermit Hansen washing for hip boots... Charlene Oman walking brick by brick down S street... Henry Remington refusing to pass the candy... that he won in the bean guessing contest... Joe Shramick and his stogie, walking around and about Sunday afternoon... Ruth Sears looking very happy—John Bundy was in town last week-end... and everyone being elusive of the streets that are filled with mud-splattering cars and fun-loving people that love to jump into the middle of a puddle thus spraying all "looker-onners."

HONORING the senior members of the football team, and in particular Jerry LaNoue, Harold Holmbeck and Frank Crabill as outstanding seniors at the Chi Phi house, Mrs. Daniels, house mother for the organization, is entertaining the team and Coach Bibb at dinner at the chapter house tonight. Three special guests at the occasion will be Dr. Pool, Clarence Hinds, and Jim Crabill.

TED Lewis and his band attracted a party of Sigma Nus to Omaha Sunday afternoon. Those that enjoyed the show were Tommy Davidson, John Wertz, Harry Hainschild, Paul Reichstadt and Harold Peery. During the show some playful person threw Hainschild's hat upon the stage asking Ted Lewis to fill it with peanuts as is a custom of his, but this time there was some difficulty in getting the hat back without the peanuts. The party went to Walgreen's after the show and handsome as they all are the waitress thought they were members of Lewis' band and offered them free meals. The "impostors" carried the bluff until their consciences dictated otherwise, then they broke down and condescended to pay the bill themselves.

JUST announced is the marriage of LaVerne Brauer of Crete to Stanley Bartos of Wilber which took place Feb. 17 in Omaha. Mrs. Bartos attended the University of Colorado, and Mr. Bartos is a graduate of Wentworth Military Academy and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the university.

Hoopsters Score by Halves.
Peculiar to the score compiling was the fact that Wahlquist and Parsons, the two high men, did their work by halves. Wahlquist utilizing the first and Parsons the second. Little Henry Whitaker, evening's game captain, was usually pulls some fast feets, but definitely off the first period, but redeemed himself in the last by grating off eight counters and turning in some oily pivot work. Widman worked like a retrieving hound under both backboards to spite the invaders on many of their scoring endeavours.

Whitaker would have no doubt been among the highest in points had it not been for John Remy, Sooner guard, who was only a sub for Needy, a regular, but who stuck like a mustard plaster to St. Joe senior and infallibly batted down sure-fire setups. Needy did the best work from the net stand point, collecting ten coveted markers. Livingston, a lad who possesses only two fingers on his right hand, went to the showers only after accounting for himself in an admirable way in every phase of the game as did Connelly, who made seven points for second high honors. Most Freshmen Read Time, Nebraskan Exclusively

English Department Group Reveal Choices of Best Books.

What books are freshmen reading now? Or aren't they reading? Or can't they read? From the freshman English department comes the answer that aside from books required in their courses, first-year students for the most part are content to sit back with Time magazine or the Daily Nebraskan and let the rest of the world go by.

Freshman themes reveal that the books which the students consider to have influenced their lives were on the whole the books which they had been required to read in high school. Of these the one most frequently mentioned was a Tale of Two Cities, closely followed in popularity by The House of Seven Gables, Ben Hur, Hamlet, The Scarlet Letter, and Main Street.

Douglas's Books Popular.
Second only to Tale of Two Cities was Lloyd Douglas' Magnificent Obsession, which ranked first in the list of books not required in high school.

A few freshmen listed books concerning only one subject, one girl choosing several works on Queen Elizabeth, and one boy expressing a preference for books about "men of the world." Elsie Dinsmore and the books of Horatio Alger were jokingly listed by two students as influences in their lives. Many noted a weakness for detective stories, although these were decidedly in the minority, perhaps from a desire to impress the English faculty.

Principles of Sigma Nuism was named by one boy as a powerful factor in his life, and the Boy Scout handbook headed another's list, while a book on cornet playing was tops with a third freshman.

NEBRASKA GYMNASTS ENTER DENVER MEET

Gymnastics Coach Charley Miller today accepted an invitation to enter the Rocky Mountain A. A. U. gym meet being held at Denver Saturday, Feb. 29. He is very optimistic over the team's chances to win the championship because last year they captured first place by a wide margin, but were not awarded the championship because of sectional differences.

The team will leave Thursday to enter a series of meets prior to the A. A. U. contest. They will play the Greeley State team Friday evening, the University of Colorado at Boulder on Saturday afternoon, and then the big meet that evening.

It was learned that over eight full teams and many unattached entries have decided to join the meet. The Colorado U., Colorado Aggies, Greeley State, Wyoming U., several Y. M. C. A. teams, and the Turner club of Denver teams will furnish some excellent competition.

The eligibility of Eddie Bignell is troubling Coach Miller. "Without the team being in full strength we can not place," he said, "but with it up to par, I think Nebraska will come home the champs!"

Dr. E. B. Walker, professor of botany, will present an illustrated talk on "Hawaii" at the Seminal Botany meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7:15 in Bessey Hall, 118. The public is cordially invited to attend.

English Department Group Reveal Choices of Best Books.

Many girls mentioned books of Bess Streeter Aldrich, Willa Cather, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, and Gene Stratton Porter—especially A Girl of the Limberlost, Idyls of the King was also mentioned.

Boys preferred the blood and thunder of the Three Musketeers, the White Company, The Count of Monte Cristo, and Captain Blood. They liked Admiral Byrd and Richard Halliburton as well.

Mari Sandoz' Old Jules was extremely popular with both masculine and feminine readers, although one admirer of the book spelled the title Old Jewels. Pearl Buck, Booth Tarkington, and Rudyard Kipling were also favorites, as were the books Mutiny on the Bounty, Anthony Adverse, Goodby Mr. Chips, and Bridge of San Luis Rey.

Professors Pleased.
English professors expressed pleasure over the substantial following of students for the writings of George Santayana, John Galsworthy, and Somerset Maugham. Many students had read and liked The Forsyte Saga, Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens, Ludwig Lewisohn's Upstream, Theodore Dreiser's American Tragedy, James Trueblood Adams' Epic of America, War and Peace, Crime and Punishment of Human Bondage, and Will Durant's Story of Philosophy.

"Freshmen read more than we credit them with reading," stated one professor, who teaches first-year English. Another insisted that although a few freshmen read widely if they are not already established in good reading habits when they enter the university, they are not likely to acquire them. A third professor disagreed. "Students frequently begin their sophomore or junior years to take a new interest in books," he stated. "Few students, however, start reading widely in their senior year."

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE EXAM APPLICATIONS DUE

Open competitive examinations for positions in the Nebraska state employment service and in the national re-employment service in this state have been announced. Positions in both the administrative office and in the local employment offices are to be filled from eligible lists to be established through these examinations.

Application forms, announcements and information may be obtained from Dr. C. O. Swayzee, college of business administration, who has been designated as special representative of the United States employment service to cooperate in the execution of the examination program. March 13 has been set as the closing date for filing applications.

"Great care has been exercised to insure fairness in these employment examinations. The very great importance of getting as many unemployed persons back into private business makes careful selection of the best available personnel imperative," said Dr. Swayzee.

Examinations.
Examinations will be held for the following positions in the state administrative offices: Director, field supervisor, and statistical supervisor. Positions in local employment offices for which examinations are scheduled are manager, senior and junior interviewer, statistical assistant, clerk, typist and stenographer. All examinations are open to both men and women.

Minimum requirements for admission to the examinations are set forth in announcements which may be obtained upon application to Dr. C. O. Swayzee.

The minimum requirements in terms of experience and education vary in accordance with responsibilities and duties of the position. A general requirement, however, is that competitors must have had a background of full time paid employment definitely providing a knowledge of occupations and employment problems and practices such as is entailed in establishments and organizations in industrial, commercial, professional, and labor fields. Qualifications for admission to examinations for various positions, in addition to the general requirement, are as follows:

Director: Minimum age 30; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 10 years of full time paid employment including 4 years of special experience or (2) 4 years of college or university training and 6 years of special experience or (3) in lieu of record of formal education, 12 years of full time paid employment including 8 years of required special experience.

Field Supervisor: Minimum age 25; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 8 years of full time paid employment including 4 years of special experience; or (2) 4 years of college and 4 years of special experience; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 10 years of full time paid employment including 5 years of special experience.

Statistical Supervisor: Minimum age 25; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) high school graduation and 8 years of full time paid employment including 4 years of special experience; or (2) 4 years of college and 4 years of special experience; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 10 years of full time paid employment including 5 years of special experience.

Senior Interviewer: Minimum age 21; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 4 years of special experience; or (2) 4 years of college and 2 years of special experience; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 10 years of full time paid employment, including 6 years of special experience.

Junior Interviewer: Minimum age 21; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 2 years of special experience; or (2) 4 years of college and one year of special experience; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 5 years of special experience.

Statistical Clerk: Minimum age 18 years; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 2 years of required experience within the last 5 years; or (2) high school graduation and successful completion of a unit college or university course in statistics and 1 year of required experience within the last 5 years; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 4 years of required experience within the last 7 years.

Clerk, Typist, Stenographer: Minimum age 18 years; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 1 year of required experience; or (2) in lieu of formal education, 3 years of required experience.

For example the requirements for the position of director are as follows:
Minimum age 30; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) high school graduation and 10 years of full time paid employment including 6 years of special experience or (2) 4 years of college or university training and 6 years of special experience or (3) in lieu of record of formal education, 12 years of full time paid employment including 8 years of required special experience.

Requirements for a typical local employment office position, that of junior interviewer, are:
Minimum age 21; alternative combinations of education and experience: (1) High school graduation and 3 years of special experience; or (2) 4 years of college and 1 year of special experience; or (3) in lieu of formal education, 5 years of special experience.

Those applicants who meet the specifications as set forth in the announcements will receive an admission card to the written test; applicants who are rejected will also be notified.

The Nebraska employment service, under the Wagner-Peyser act of 1933, will draw part of its funds from the federal government, the remainder coming out of state tax funds. For the time being, offices will be set up to service the eastern part of the state, the national re-employment service continuing to serve the remainder.

It should be pointed out that, unlike the national re-employment service, the Nebraska state employment service is being set up as a permanent organization. Its primary function, of course, will be to assist unemployed persons to get employment and employers to find an adequate supply of suitable labor.
