

KOSMET SELECTS FINAL LINEUP FOR COMEDY CHORUS

Ten Men Named Tuesday by Director of Dance Routines.

Ten men, who will don wigs high heels, and lipstick to parade before the footlights in Kosmet Klub's spring musical comedy, "Southern Exposure," were named today by Kosmet's president, Bob Pierce.

Final selection of the comedy chorus was made Tuesday by "Doc" Ireland, director of the dance routines. It includes Thurston Phelps, Exeter; Ward Powell, Minden; Bill Pugsley, Genoa; Jerry Vitamvas, Fremont; Norman Shaw, Lincoln; Buzz Fonda, Omaha; John Johnson, Cordova; Malcolm McFarlane, Omaha; Neil Parks, Ashland, and Edward Markytan, Clarkston.

The chorus will appear four times, once in each of the first two acts and twice in the third. It is being used in "Southern Exposure" more times than in any previous show, this being made possible by narrowing the class down to 10. The men will appear in a dark number, to be followed by a jig-time rhythm, an old fashioned waltz, and a modern dance.

Feature of the musical comedy is a double quartet. It was decided to use it as an outstanding group in order to use as many as possible of the student contributed songs, considered far above normal by directors. Dr. Ralph Ireland, alumnus Klub member, is directing the quartet, and Joe Iverson, likewise a former member, is directing the double quartet.

CHARM SCHOOL HEARS MRS. MINTER SPEAK ON SOCIAL ETIQUETTE

Speaker Discusses Correct Introduction Rules and Voice Modulation.

Developing the subject of "Social Graces," Mrs. C. C. Minter, wife of Claude Minter, associate professor of vocational education, spoke before members of the charm school hobby group at their meeting held last evening at 7 o'clock in the Social Science building.

Two major topics were discussed by the speaker, including an explanation of the correct procedure and rules in introductions and a discussion of the importance of cultivating a well-modulated voice. In speaking on the subject of introductions, Mrs. Minter pointed out, "The purpose of an introduction is to create friendships, and constant study and practice are required in order to become adept when presenting one person to another."

"Business, as well as social life necessitates a thorough knowledge of the proper method to follow in introducing persons," the speaker explained. She concluded this part of her discussion by enumerating the various types of introductions and the correct manner in which to handle each type.

In considering the topic of cultivating a pleasing voice Mrs. Minter stressed the importance of clear enunciation and pronunciation. "There is nothing more characteristic of good breeding," she commented, "than a soft well-modulated voice." The speaker suggested that development of poise and self control would aid in acquiring dignity and ease of manner in speaking.

At the conclusion of her address, Mrs. Minter opened the meeting for discussion and answered questions concerning proper etiquette in introductions and ways in which one may train one's voice to be well-modulated and more pleasing.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH FOR FARMER'S FAIR RALLY

400 Ag Pepsters Gather for Third Dance; Receive Poster Publicity.

Enthusiasm mounts higher for Farmer's Fair with each Ag rally dance, as evidenced by the 400 students who gathered Tuesday night in the student activities building. Posters explaining the activities of the fair were given to all attending the pep dance to take to their home towns this vacation, according to Burr Ross, manager of the project.

Miss Mengers Thesis On C. Peguy Receives Favorable Criticism

"Most favorably reviewed" in a Paris publication is the thesis of Miss Marie Mengers, of the romance language department, according to Dr. Harry Kurz, chairman of the department. In the March 15 issue of "Universite," a biweekly publication in the Place de la Sorbonne, Paris, an article is devoted to Miss Mengers' study on the "Personality of Charles Peguy, as shown in his Poetic Works."

NEBRASKA TRACK TEAM POINTS FOR BIG KANSAS RELAY

Schulte Puts Distance Men Through Paces on Tuesday.

"Just working out every day for the Kansas Relays," is Coach Henry F. Schulte's daily comment on the 1936 Husker track team, who are slated to be one of the biggest contenders for various championships in the annual Kansas track and field meet, April 18.

Coach Schulte's biggest individual hope lies in the strong left arm of Sam Francis who has been going great guns during the past indoor season. Sam has captured the indoor Big Six and Texas Relays shot put championships, and stands a great chance of winning the Kansas weight title.

Francis Improves. Sam is also showing marked improvement in the discus throw, as he hurled the plate 135 feet twice Monday. He will be Nebraska's entry in the discus throw.

RAMBLERS WIN BARB VOLLEYBALL CONTEST

Champs Take Two Straight Games From Panthers For Crown.

The Ramblers completely dominated the finals of the barb volleyball competition by taking two straight games from the Panthers, 15-1 and 15-4.

It was more or less a contest of football against basketball. Bob Parsons and Floyd Ebaugh of basketball fame opposed Charley Brock, the first string center on the football team playing with the Panthers.

Besides these men, Bob Belka stood out for the Ramblers and O'Gary and Funk for the Panthers. Other players included Erickson, Rosenbaum, Haner and May for the Ramblers and Letterdink, McCorkerdale and Searle for the Panthers.

SILVER DEBATING GAVEL WINNER IS SIGMA ALPHA MU

Delta Theta Phi Loses Final Interfraternity Tourney By 3-0 Decision.

Delta Sigma Rho's silver gavel will go this year to Sigma Alpha Mu debaters, who won over Delta Theta Phi in the finals of the interfraternity debate tournament last night by a 3-0 decision.

Ervin Green and Arnold Levin, representing Sigma Alpha Mu, upheld the negative case of the question, Resolved: That the United States should have the largest navy in the world. Bruce Smith and Bill Carsten defended the affirmative side of the question.

Judges were Elmer Scheele, Byrle Shuck and Arthur Smith, members of the varsity debating squad. John Stover presided as the chairman at the contest, which was held in Andrews hall and attended by a crowd that filled the assembly room.

Sigma Alpha Mu debaters were also victors in 1933 and 1934. Last year, the gavel, which has been offered by Delta Sigma Rho for the past five years, went to Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Betas Victors Greek Volley Ball Tourney

After conceding the first game to the Phi Psi's in the finals of the intramural volleyball competition, the Beta's came from behind to take a hard-fought deuce game, 18-16, and then coasted to the championship in the third game by the score of 15 to 3.

The Sig Eps won the consolation match by taking two straight games from the Phi Psi's in the semifinals. The Beta's battled their way into the finals by winning League IV round robin competition and then downing the Pi K. A.'s in the semifinals.

To say that the Sig Eps won the consolation match by taking two straight games doesn't tell the whole story. The Sig Eps won the first game by the score of 15-11, but at one time in the second game the ledger read 14 to 6 in favor of the Pi K. A.'s. The Sig Eps then took 10 straight points to win the second game and gain third place honors.

Standouts for the winning Betas included George Wahiquist of tennis and basketball fame, and Nolte. Delos Gay sprained his ankle in the game and was replaced by Woolery, Christensen and Gavlin were the Phi Psi's standbys.

In the consolation game, Douglas, Zuspahn and Elliott were prominent among the third place Sig Eps. Fager, Watkins and Lynde did yeoman work for the losers.

Other players among the Betas included Tassie, Whitaker and Begley. Completing Phi Psi's roster were Holbert Weaver and Benton. Other Sig Eps were Winky and Diers. The Pi K. A.'s included Larson Tichy and Rapp.

Wilson Defeats Landis For Ivy Orator's Post By 296 to 229 Majority

Which Faction Won the Ivy Day Orator Election

BY POLITICUS VI. Who won the election?

Political observers, including the newspaper columnists, make much of elections that precede the annual spring balloting as a test vote that should prove the comparative strength of political factions. But what does Tuesday's election indicate?

Politicians, often condemned for becoming too involved and taking too much for granted, will try to be lucid and clear in this story, going way back to the beginning for background.

Only three candidates filed in the race for Ivy Day orator, and all three were represented in the Progressive party. The candidate who finally went on the ballot as the Progressive nominee was John Landis, who was also the nominee of the new Greek Council, successor to the Green Toga party.

The entire difficulty could probably be traced to Frank and John Landis coming down to school, pledging different social fraternities, but failing to differ on the professional fraternity. With two choices for party affiliation, they split, Frank becoming president of the Green Toga and Greek Council factions, John becoming a leader in the Progressive party.

Probably to repay the Progressives for nominating their Frank Landis for senior at large representative on the Student Council last year to allow him to run on both tickets, (a superficial observation, indeed), the Greek council nominated John for Ivy Day orator.

The Progressive candidate, Lawrence Ely became ineligible because his attendance at Denver U. last year cut him short of the 12-27 hours activities eligibility ruling and the Progressives nominated John Landis to run on their ticket.

John Wilson, member of Delta Theta Phi, a legal fraternity in the Progressive fold, entered the race as an independent, and stayed in as an independent, to win by a not too large margin.

Here's where the dopesters stop guessing and let the readers guess: Did the Greek Council turn out for a show of strength, support Wilson, and defeat the Progressive candidate, once their nominee, and Independent Candidate Beats Progressives' Man in Election.

John O. Wilson, independent candidate, defeated John Landis, progressive, for the post of Ivy Day orator in the heavy vote cast in Tuesday's campus wide election. Wilson polled 296 and Landis received 229 votes. Wilson will deliver the senior oration in traditional ceremonies on May 7.

Twenty-five junior men were selected by upperclassmen to be eligible for election to Innocents society, senior men's honorary. Their names will not be announced until after spring vacation. Prof. E. W. Lantz stated, as their grade average and eligibility standing must be checked at the office of the registrar.

Wilson Is Law Senior. Wilson is a senior in the law college and a member of Delta Theta Phi, professional law fraternity. He entered the race as an independent against John Landis, progressive party. The Green Toga faction failed to enter a man in the contest for the traditionally honored office.

Selection of potential Innocents Tuesday does not imply membership in the senior honorary society. Rules of organization and selection of members set up in 1934 following protests of organized campus groups require a preliminary election in which all junior and senior men in the university may choose outstanding campus leaders. From this group Innocents selects its membership for the coming year. Stipulations in the revised constitution of the organization limit the total number to 17 but leave to the discretion of the society the actual number of initiates.

All Junior Men Eligible. All junior men in the university were listed at the two polling places set up in the Temple theater and at Ag hall. From this list each voter selected five names. The 25 (Continued on Page 2).

GOLF PROSPECTS BRIGHT WITH SIX MEETS ARRANGED

Nebraska Linksmen Prepare To Play Host to Big Six Conference.

A bright golfing season is in prospect as Nebraska linksmen face a schedule of six contests and prepare to play host to a Big Six Conference meet at the close of the year. Opening the season will be a meeting, called by Dana X. Bible, athletic director, on Wednesday, April 15, for all interested.

A schedule of qualifying rounds, which will be held Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18, will be given at the meeting and plans of general interest will be discussed. All potential candidates are urged to attend.

Five lettermen are returning for competition. They include Ralph Reed, Lincoln; Jerry Hunt, Lincoln; Gene Susspan, Goodland, Kansas; William Glenn, Falls City; and Willard Kremer, Lincoln. Close behind them will be Gordon McIntyre, Lincoln; Donald Wiener, Omaha; Verne Alder, Pierce, and others who may develop.

Qualifying rounds April 17 and 18 will determine the four who will journey to Ames to encounter Iowa State the following week. In each of the meets the four men will team up in pairs to play 18 holes in the morning, to be followed in the afternoon by 18 holes of individual play. Before the contests separate qualifying rounds will be held to give all golfers a chance. The four turning in the lowest score will be chosen.

The schedule is: April 21, Iowa State at Ames; May 1, Kansas State, Lincoln; 8, Kansas at Lawrence; 9, Kansas State at Manhattan; 15, Kansas, Lincoln; 21, Iowa State at Lincoln; 26, Big Six Conference at Lincoln.

Kentucky Celebrates University's Founding

An aerial view of the University of Kentucky campus, taken for the celebration of their school's founding, shows the development of the university from a small plot one hundred years ago to the present attractive campus. Such a campus Nebraska can have with concerted efforts to landscape and plant the present barren walks and plots.

BARB COUNCIL ELECTS HOLD-OVER MEMBERS

Five Unaffiliated Students Chosen at Meeting Wednesday.

Doris Weaver, James Riisness, Lenore Teal, Alvin Kleebe and Byrle Shuck were elected holdover members of the barb council at a meeting of the organization, Tuesday afternoon in University hall.

Plans were made for the election of new members. The election will be held in the latter part of April. Two sophomores, three juniors and two seniors will be chosen from the unaffiliated students on the campus.

Present officers of the organization are James Marvin, chairman of the council; Doris Weaver, vice chairman, and Alvin Kleebe, secretary-treasurer.

Y.W.C.A. HAS VESPER DEVOTIONAL SERVICE; CHOIR PARTICIPATES

Miss Phillippe Reads Story Of Crucifixion on Program.

Easter vesper services, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. were held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall, with Margaret Phillippe, director of the vesper choir, and Y. W. cabinet member in charge.

The service was opened with a processional by the vesper choir and a call to worship given by Miss Phillippe. Devotionals and a litany entitled, "An Act of Adoration" followed, with Miss Phillippe again acting as leader.

As a special musical number, the vesper choir offered the selection, "Reproaches," which is sung each year as a traditional Easter number. Marguerite Tramp sang the solo parts of this selection. The story of the Crucifixion and Restoration of Christ was read by Miss Phillippe, as a closing feature of the program.

A musical benediction, sung by vesper choir members concluded the service. Jane Hopkins, vesper choir pianist, accompanied the group. Members of the choir who performed in the service include: Roma Sue Pickering, Sara Harmon, Emily Lorenz, Jean Wade, Dorothy Sar, Helen Lively, Lois Vaughn, Maxine Titer, Louise Wenzlaff, Ethen Jane Mauer, Jane Austin.
