STUDENT UNION FOR UNIVERSITY SAID CERTAINLY

Council Resolves to Collect Pledges for Campus Building.

A Student Union building on the Nebraska campus is assured. In line with the statement made to the Daily Nebraskan by Dean H. H. Foster, the Student Union building committee passed the following resolution concerning the collection of pledges:

1. That whether the construction is begun before the next school year opens or not, the building since the Board of Regents' approval is now a certainty and will definitely be constructed.

2. Inasmuch as many of the pledges made in the campaign staged earlier this year are in the hands of the campus organizations that pledged them, we feel that the organizations are bound to complete the payment this year. In almost every instance the funds were on hand, and it was the expectation that they would be paid before the end of the school year.

To Earmark Pledges.

3. In order to assure the student body that these pledges will actually go for the building, all checks will be made payable to the Board of Regents or to L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary. The funds thus collected will be placed by the University in an interest bearing account, and will be definitely earmarked to be used for furnishings. This is to guarantee that the pledges will go to a permanent and responsible agency, and will be used for the purpose intended.

4. If there are any misunderstandings concerning previous pledges, they should be communicated at once to Marylue Peterson, secretary of the Student Union building committee.

Latest Statement.

Irving Hill, chairman of the committee, declared Dean Foster's statement to be "the best news received concerning the Student Union building in a year. It positively disproves any justification for the rumors that no building will be built."

"A relief bill must pass congress before it adjourns in June. At present a majority of the house is in favor of amending the bill in committee to appropriate the sum to the P. W. A. in whose list

SCARLET FEVER FATAL TO FRANCIS G. KELLEY

Law Student Succumbs To Complications of Short Illness.

Francis G. Kelley, 2909 Vine, second year law student, died at his home Thursday morning at 1:30. Death was attributed to heart complications resulting from scarlet fever.

The 22 year old student became ill with a cold Saturday, and on Monday the disease developed. He was improving slowly when death occurred suddenly Thursday morning.

Kelley attended Lincoln high school, editing the Journal, the Advocate, weekly school paper, one semester. He had three years in the arts college of the university. He was a member of Sacred Heart parish.

Private funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday at Spain, Schnell and Griffiths, Rev. Terence Anglin, officiating. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George H. Kelley; two brothers, Raymond and Robert, Lincoln; sister, Mrs. Gerald F. Quimby of Rapid City, S. D.; grandparents, T. G. Kelley of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Bergers of Omaha.

LEWIS CASS IS CHOSEN HEAD SIGMA DELTA CHI

Journalism Fraternity Elects Snipes, Pipal, Burney Other Officers.

Lewis Cass, junior from Ravens, and editor of the Awgwan, was elected president of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, at a meeting of that organization in the Grand hotel Thursday noon.

Johnston Snipes, junior from Lincoln and news editor on the Daily Nebraskan, was elected vice president. Other officers elected were Willard Burney, sophomore from Hartington, secretary, and George Pipal, junior from Humboldt, who was re-elected treasurer. Both are on the Nebraskan staff.

DELIANS, PALLADIANS TO MEET TOGETHER.

Barb Clubs to Hold Annual Get-Together Observing Tradition

The Delian-Union Literary Society will host the Palladian Literary Society at the former's annual "Pal Nite" to be held in Delian-Union hall, Temple building, Friday, May 1.

Every year each society is in turn host to the other in one of the oldest traditions of these two major Barb organizations on the campus. Eugene C. Dalby, president of Delian-Union, is in charge of the program, and will be assisted by Miss Marie Willey, who is planning refreshments for the affair.

Definite plans have been made for the spring round-up banquet for all active members and alumni of Delian-Union to be held Friday, May 8, in the society's club room in the Temple building. Francis Johnson is making arrangements and is being assisted by Nancy Claire Mumford and Lucille Todd. Decorations and appointments will be in purple and gold, the colors of the society.

KOSMET CAST TO GIVE SHOW TODAY IN GRAND ISLAND

'Southern Exposure' Players Review Spring Musical For Last Time.

With Don Boehm, the male lead impersonator, playing before a home town audience, a cast of 35, and Jungbluth's and Beck's 12 piece band will present "Southern Exposure," Kosmet Klub's spring show, at the Lederkrantz theater in Grand Island tonight, sponsored by Lederkrantz, a musical organization of that city.

Leaving Lincoln at noon the show will hold a rehearsal at 4 o'clock and follow with the presentation at 7:30 o'clock. Together with accompanying members of Kosmet the players will travel in automobiles and a bus. A list of 24 who will go in the bus, leaving the Temple at 1 o'clock, is contained in the Daily Bulletin.

"Southern Exposure" played for a week at the Temple April 20 to 24 with Don Boehm carrying the male lead and Bill Strong impersonating the heroine. Others in the cast are Irving Hill, Paschal Stone, Sidney Baker, Bill Flax, Bill Marsh, Bob Martz, Vance Leininger, Jacques Shoemaker and George Markley. There are also a pony chorus of 10, a double quartet and others acting as guests at a southern mansion. The eight songs were composed by Imogene Souder, Marge Souder and Bob Pierce, while the plot was written by Chauncey Barney.

A meeting of Kosmet Klub was held yesterday to make final arrangements for transportation and for carrying costumes and make-up. Contract for the appearance in Grand Island was obtained by William Garlow, business manager, and Robert Pierce, president.

Heldt Addresses Chamber On University Activities

University students will give the Chamber of Commerce an idea of university life and activities today at the chamber's noon luncheon.

James Heldt, who represents activities and scholarship on the campus, will speak on what the university is like.

Marjorie Souder will play a few selections on the piano. Among them will be several Nebraska songs.

Dr. Beynon Will Speak on Life of McCollum May 5

Dr. Lisabeth Beynon will be the guest speaker at an open meeting of the Iota Sigma Phi, honorary Chemistry sorority, at 7:30, May 5, in Chemistry hall. Dr. Beynon will speak on the life of Dr. McCollum, famous for his work in dietetics at Johns Hopkins university.

All home economics, chemistry, pharmacy and pre-medic women are invited to attend.

1912 Queen Rode in Jinrikisha First University May Fete Colorful

When Nebraska's May queen for 1936 makes her appearance this year before the usual admiring crowd of onlookers, it will probably bring to the minds of the university's older alumni, thoughts of that day twenty-four years ago when the first crowning took place, and the queen rode in state to her green throne in a jinrikisha, which had been given the late William Jennings Bryan in Japan, and which he had loaned for the occasion.

Louise Barr Queen. The first queen, Miss Louise Barr, now Mrs. Lewis R. Anderson of Lincoln, ascended her throne in 1912 and watched a much different affair than the scenes which the twenty-fifth May queen will view on next Thursday, May 7. It evidently was a colorful event, according to those who were present, and many loud colors were displayed in contrast to the pastel shades that the attendants and the queens have been wearing during the past few years.

Student Union Approved

The Student Activities Building project has received the approval of the P. W. A. Administrator for Nebraska for a federal grant of 45 percent of construction cost. On account of some peculiarities of Nebraska law that have to be observed in financing the University's share of the cost of the project, various legal questions arose. After conferences with the Attorney General of Nebraska, the attorney for the P. W. A. Administrator for Nebraska, and correspondence with the general counsel at Washington, there is now entire agreement that the method of financing proposed by us is legal and can be accomplished in compliance with the Act of Congress and the Rules and Regulations of the P. W. A.

The sole question that remains is whether or not money will be available from the federal government. Money will not be available without an additional appropriation by Congress. The president has recommended to Congress an appropriation of a billion and a half for relief work for this year. As originally framed the bill will appropriate the money to the W. P. A. and not to the P. W. A. A group of congressmen are attempting to have $700,000,000 of this amount set aside for P. W. A. projects which are listed. The Student Activities Building at this University is included in this list. We are reliably informed that there is an even chance for success.

Even if it should be impossible to start on the construction of the building this year, this project is of such value to the University that none of us should give up hope as to its consummation within a few years.

West Cheerful, Confident of Business Recovery, Says Dean

LeRossignol Returns From Journey Thru Eastern States, Canada.

The East is not as cheerful and confident of business recovery as is the west, especially with the house of representatives passing the administration's new tax bill, is the observation of Dean J. E. LeRossignol, who Wednesday returned from an eastern trip.

"The east," the Bizad dean said, "is pretty much against the Roosevelt administration." Spending three days in Canada, LeRossignol said Canadians generally were skeptical of the new deal and its philosophy. He said Canadians are vitally interested in the United States, as the condition of their business is closely correlated with that of the United States.

Dean LeRossignol attended two conventions in Cambridge, Mass., Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary Bizad fraternity, and the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

At the latter meeting, numerous talks looking into the past and future of colleges of Business administration were given. One outstanding address was given by Prof. W. O. Douglas of Yale university who declared legal education in America is a generation behind the times.

He said lawyers must understand economics, business and social problems to a greater degree than at present, and business schools over the country will do much to remedy this.

At the meeting of Beta Gamma Sigma, E. W. Hills, professor of business law at the University of Iowa and a Nebraska graduate, was elected secretary-treasurer. Dean T. R. Shavely of the University of Virginia was selected as president.

Upon his journey to Lincoln, Dean LeRossignol stopped at the University of Iowa where he addressed three sections of the money and banking class there. He spoke on the subject "In Search of Recovery."

PURITANS CORRECT DECLARES DANCER America Couples Dance Too Close Together.

Here at last is a dancing teacher who sees eye to eye with the Puritans!

"The chief fault of modern dancing in America," says young Fernando Valentino, professor extraordinary of the Grand Markley. There are also a tango, the rhumba, the bolero, the castanet and the bull-fight dance, "is that couples dance too close together. For perfect balance and ease, there should be a good three inches between the bodies of the young man and his feminine partner, and this three inches should be kept throughout the entire dance."

Mr. Valentino has been holding classes in the individual room of the Armory for the past few days from five to six o'clock Friday afternoon. May 1, will see his last class at this university, for Monday he will be on his way to Chicago where he will dance at night clubs and theaters. Students of dancing and Spanish are his chief pupils here; this is the first university class he has ever held, although he has had classes of every other kind.

Born in Vigo, Spain, the son of a Spanish officer and a famous dancer, Valentino was trained by an officer, like his father, but at the age of 17 he decided he did not care for the army and became a professional dancer, like his mother.

NEXT SEMESTER REGISTRATION TO START ON MAY 11

Students Must See Advisers Before Noon Saturday May 16.

Registration for the first semester of the 1936-1937 school year begins Monday, May 11. All students except those in the College of Agriculture have until noon Saturday, May 16, to see their advisers. Agriculture College students have only until Wednesday, May 13.

Students should present their identification cards at the Registrar's office for their credit books. After seeing their advisers they should leave their application for registration and a statement of their outside activities with the dean of their respective colleges. A late fee will be charged all students who do not see their advisers or who have not presented their applications to their deans by noon Saturday, May 16.

Fees must be in the Finance Secretary's office not later than Sept. 3, 1936, otherwise a late registration fee will be charged. Fees may be paid either in person or by mail. Each student will receive a mailed statement of his fees before Aug. 15, 1936. Students who do not receive these statements are requested to notify the Finance Secretary's office immediately. They are also requested to notify this office of any change in their addresses.

New students and those not in school this semester are to see the Registrar in the Coliseum Sept. 15 and 16. There they will be directed to see advisers, deans of colleges, and to pay fees.

PATERSON TO SPEAK BEFORE PSI CHI ON WORK ADJUSTMENT

Minnesota Professor, One Of Nation's Leading Psychologists.

Prof. Donald G. Paterson, of the University of Minnesota, will speak on the subject, "Studies in Occupational Adjustment," before the members of Psi Chi, National Psychological Fraternity, May 4, in the social science auditorium at 8 p. m.

Prof. Paterson, director of the Committee on Individual Diagnosis and Training, Employment Stabilization Research Institute at the University of Minnesota, is one of the nation's outstanding applied psychologists. In his lecture he describes not only the work being done at the University of Minnesota, but also that at the Cincinnati Employment Center, Cincinnati, O., where he served last year as research supervisor. His lecture is a presentation of the scientific contributions psychologists are making to modern employment problems.

Former Big Shot Approves Factions

BY ED MURRAY. Altho candidates for the Nebraska Unicameral legislature will be elected in the fall on a non-partisan basis and campus politics be the supposed breeding ground for future politicians, Dr. David Fellman, instructor in the political science department does not believe that factions should be abolished in student elections.

Dr. Fellman, who wrote the clause providing for the representation of the various colleges in the present student council claim in his undergraduate days, claimed that he had lost contact with the intricately strung campus political set-up, and then proceeded to drop several hints as to the worth of campus political activity from the standpoint of the faculty.

"Campus politics are pretty much of a lark," he smiled indulgently, "and non-partisan elections would rob this student diversion of much of its zest and fun." In a reminiscent vein, he disclosed, "We used to get a great

Psychology Professors Write Technical Papers

Current articles from the department of psychology include "Exploratory Experiments in Color" written by Dr. W. E. Walton and appearing in the Journal of Genetic Psychology.

Another, by Charles L. Wible and Arthur Jenness, appears in the "Journal of Psychology" under the title of "Electrocardiograms in Sleep and Hypnosis."

"Changes in the Pitch and Tones when Melodies are Repeated," written by J. P. Guilford and Helen M. Nelson, appears in the "Journal of Experimental Psychology."

"The Visual Fixation Method as a Measurement of Attention Value" by Roy E. Hackman and J. P. Guilford, is published in the current number of the "Journal of Applied Psychology."

AWGWAN EDITOR TO RELEASE MAY EDITION MONDAY

Levin, Murray Write Leading Articles; Cartoons of Exchanges Appear.

Appearing on campus news stands Monday morning, May 4, the May Awgwan will feature the articles "Notes From the Opera" by Ed Murray and "A Sportsman Gets to the Peary Gates" by Arnold Levin, according to Lewis Cass, editor of the Husker humor publication. Exchange cartoons drawn by comic artists from other college humor publications will appear in the issue.

The Awgwan presents to readers its candidate for the United States senate, a Mr. Christian Goldfarb. With several cartoons and the article, "Goldfarb Wins Primaries With Awgwan Support," the publication opens a campaign for the "Gol Durdust Fighntest Candidate Since Jackson." Presented is Goldfarb's platform, founded with an eye to campus problems and pertinent to Nebraska affairs.

Gives Account of Opera. In his "Notes from the Opera," Mr. Murray as a reporter gives an account of the manner in which a middle western city, Lincoln, "the city of overalls," received the program of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

Levin in his article writes of the day of reckoning for a sportsman and provides the setting for a tragedy in one act. It is the story of the newspaperman who receives his due for his ability to predict incorrectly the outcome of the nation's major sport events.

Campus Research Appears. Campus Tempo, the Awgwan editorial page, appears with its humorous comments on events of the day. Again shown are some "more of those letters that never came."

"May Medley," the society column written by Eleanor Clizbe, society editor, discusses the proper wear for the season. Completing the issue are a lengthy Gore column and Bill Hollister's campus research which reviews resistance techniques.

Contributors to the issue are Howard Dobson, William Clayton, Frances Meier, Robert Kasal, Jane Walcott, Louise Magee, Edmund Steeves, Lynn Leonard, Henry Remington, and Pat Jensen.

George Thornton Head Psychology Fraternity

TRACK TAKES SPOTLIGHT

'Pa' Schulte Say Kansas Sprinters Will Offer Much Competition.

Track once more will step into the sport limelight when the flock of Jayhawk tracksters fight it out with Nebraska's Schultemen Saturday, May 2 at Memorial Stadium. It will be the end of a most successful relay season, and the inauguration of the outdoor track and field season for Nebraska.

"I'm going to be interested in seeing the boys perform Saturday," said Coach "Pa" Schulte on Thursday, "to determine just what they have for the coming Kansas Aggies, Oklahoma, and Big Six meets. We're pointing for the Big Six conference meet," he added, "and we are going to open up Saturday with a great show."

Noble Holds Record. "Kansas has some mighty fine sprinters in Foy and Richardson," Coach Schulte remarked, "and their mile relay team of McNow, Cox, Trotter and Wiles is plenty fast." The Jayhawk quartet won fourth in the mile relay at the Drake Relays last week, and the K. U. sprinters are expected to give Jacobsen, Cardwell and Fischer a fast race.

Ray Noble, vet Jayhawker, holds the Big Six conference record at 13 feet 7 inches in the pole vault, and nothing short of a miracle will put "Sherm" Cosgrove over that height. "Sherm's" best height is 13 feet 4 1/4 inches. Galloway and Dodd are the other Husker vaulters who should win.

Lawrence "Nelly" Nelson, lanky basketballer, Gus Peters and Eldon Franks will throw against Wellhausen and Sklar in the javelin throw. Wellhausen has cleared over six feet in the high jump and looks like a cinch for first place, despite Ebaugh, Cardwell and Nelson, Husker high jumpers.

Hurdlers Look Good. Husker hurdlers look especially good. Frank Chapman and Haight will skim over the 220 yard low hurdles, and Gish, Chapman and Haight will try out the 120 yard high hurdles.

Y.W. STAFF SPONSORS ALL-STUDENT SOCIAL DANCE CLASS FRIDAY

Mrs. Luella Williams to Give Instruction; Ballroom Dance Follows.

All university students are invited to attend the social dancing class, sponsored by the social staff of the university Y. W. C. A., on Friday evening, May 1, at 7 o'clock in the armory, according to announcement made by Betty Chery, Y. W. cabinet member in charge of the classes.

An instruction class, under the direction of Mrs. Luella Williams of the Williams dancing studio in Lincoln, will be held during the first part of the evening from 7 until 8 o'clock, according to the plans of the committee. Following the class on ballroom dancing, a dance will be held as the remainder of the program for the evening.

"Those who attended the first dancing class at the second semester, have made repeated requests that another be held. Since the class has proved to be successful during the meetings of the school year, we hope that a large number will plan to be present for instruction and a social hour on Friday evening," Miss Chery stated.

Virginia Nolte, Edna Lee, Lillian Seibold, and Evelyn Taylor are making preparations for the program on Friday evening, while Lois Cooper is in charge of posters for the class.
