IT WON'T BE LONG NOW.

That feeling that comes once in a lifetime certainly had its heyday at Thursday's festivities. Everyone is trying to relax after a strenuous day of shrieks and screams from the feminine spectators, and a series of handshaking and back slapping on the part of the more dignified males. No longer will furtive conversations be held to discuss who will and who won't—that is not for another year, at any rate... With this important event over so soon, attention is focused on the Farmer's Fair which will be all important on the ag calendar this week end. With several colleges dismissed today, and the opening of the fair, another week end is upon us with its round of parties and gala celebrations. Sunday is outstanding on the social calendar, with almost every fraternity and sorority planning affairs honoring their parents. It won't be long now, 'till we start counting on our fingers the days until vacation times, so now is the time for all socialites to make the best of the last few week ends.

SEEN AT IVY DAY.

Marion Smith, Delta Gamma Mortar Board and last year's May queen taking Alaire Barkes' place in the procession of Mortar Boards—Howard Agee in white flannels leading the black garbed Chi Phis... Bill Clayton rushing about armed with his camera, muttering something about "busy day"... Dick Schmidt glaring at the threatening clouds... little Jerry Jovenaut, train bearer, practically covered by the white silk net as he zealously attempted to do his duty... Innocents holding back the crowd at the gate to the grounds... junior attendants to the May queen breathtakingly lovely in blue... John Paul Heinke leading the Sigma Chis vigorously, all unawares that his picture was being snapped... Mary Yoder official and bustling when time for the sorority sing came round... Phi Mu's wearing red robes, in case it rained... Jimmie Harris congratulating Jean Walt, very soundly... Marylu Peterson and Barbara DePutron embracing over a chair, and not even noticing it... Rita Algiers confused over masking and tapping and Dave Deakins straightening her out... Hank Amen doing his best to hold Mary Austin and Lou Boyd, Kappas, above the crowd... a mob around Ted Bradley, before Jean Doty could even get a good start toward him... Fred Chambers, very unhappy about a rent in his robe and grass stain on his trousers... Helen McLaughlin wearing Lin Ryan's raincoat dashing madly across the greensward... Delta Gammas literally squealing with joy over their sing triumph... Dwight Perkins, able announcer, hopefully reminding the crowd to "stay off the field," "stand back please"... with almost no visible success... and the whole day one the Nebraska campus will not forget... that is not till next year!

FAITH ARNOLD SETS CORNHUSKER RELEASE TENTATIVELY MAY 20

(Continued from Page 1). Photographs of the spring Kosmet Klub show are included in the makeup. The annual is divided into eleven sections which include photographs of scenes in Nebraska, snapshots of social activities on the campus, and short descriptions of the purpose of the various organizations. The sections include administration, student government, features, beauty queens, social events, organizations, classes, sports and activities. The annual will feature photographs of the six beauty queens which have been chosen recently by Carl Laemmle, jr., well known movie producer. Sports will include pictures and statistics on football, basketball, track, baseball, women's athletics, intramurals and the minor contests. Professors and school authorities are included under administrators, and the campus snapshots are placed in the feature section. Under activities, honoraries, and professionals will be the activity organizations, scholastic honoraries, and departmental clubs. Fraternity and sorority pictures are included in organizations, while the junior and senior photographs are in the class sections.
