

Law Students to Honor 3 Seniors

Men to Receive Order of the Coif; Prizes Awarded to 2 Winners of Club Court Trials Held Recently; Banquet to Follow Today's Meeting.

Three university law seniors will receive the Order of the Coif, the highest honor to which law students are eligible, this morning at 11 o'clock, when all law students will meet for an assembly.

In conjunction with the meeting will be the awarding of prizes to two winners of club court trials held recently, the final arguments of which were presented before three Nebraska Supreme Court members. A baseball game will be held at 2 o'clock, and events of the day will be concluded with a banquet at the Annex cafe this evening.

Three Seniors Chosen.

The three seniors to receive the Order of the Coif are David Ross Warner of David City; Flavell Allen Wright of Omaha; and Seymour Stevens Sidner, Jr., of Fremont. They were chosen for the honor by the faculty vote. As this does not fill Nebraska's quota for the ancient organization, the remainder will be chosen following this semester's examinations.

The Order of the Coif originated in England with the Norman conquest, about 1066, admitting to membership only judges. Having since died out in England, it was brought to America, where it was organized in universities. Only the best law colleges have the Order, confining membership in each to 10 percent of the senior class.

Court Contest Winners.

Winners of the club court contest are George W. Pillers of Lincoln and LaVerne H. Holcomb of Beatrice. They were the Blackstone club court and will be presented with law dictionaries. Competition which they won was contested among law classes conducted as a regular tournament.

United States District Judge T. C. Munger of Lincoln will be the principal speaker at the dinner tonight. He will speak on "Procedure in the Federal Courts." Entertainment will be provided, the dinner starting at 7 o'clock.

Committees from the newly formed Nebraska Law School association will have charge. Banquet committee: Harry L. West, chairman, Palmer King, and Adrian Tolson; entertainment committee, Russell Struthers, chairman, and Victor Eitel; ticket sales committee, Meredith Nelson, chairman, James Begley and Piny Moody.

WOMEN TO TEACH SHOULD BE YOUNG, SINGLE, PERSONABLE

While in every line of work personal appearance and personality enter in, there are certain other prime requisites which must be remembered by those desiring to enter the teaching field, Prof. R. D. Moritz, director of the university summer session, writes in a recent bulletin from his department.

"A woman majoring in what is traditionally regarded as a man's field (science or mathematics) is at a distinct disadvantage," he says. "Although religious affiliation was specifically listed as a requirement in only 176 instances, it is fully as significant a factor in fully nine-tenths of the vacancies reported."

Age is another important factor. Women over thirty-five no matter how fine the qualifications, experience much greater difficulty in securing consideration than younger candidates.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK STARS THREATEN TO UPSET STATE MARKS

Crack Array of Prep Cinder Artists to Open Annual Championships Meet.

Long standing state records are destined to oblivion when the 34th annual state track and field championships opens up Friday and Saturday. Never before has such a great array of prep school talent signified their intentions of taking part in the state classic.

Field events will receive a great amount of attention this year. The state records in the shot put, discus, javelin, and broad jump haven't much chance of remaining in the archives of prep history when the high school hopefuls swing into action.

Bill Pfeiff, Lincoln high, and Vike Francis, Hebron, are the two prep weight men who are slated to erase Bob Mill's shot put record from the books. Pfeiff, Mill's former teammate, has done 53 feet 3 inches in competition this year, and is the ranking prep shot-putter of the state. Francis, "Sam's" kid brother, has been doing some fine shotputting with his best mark at 51 feet 10 inches.

Quick of Hordeville is the dark horse in the shot. He has been nearing 53 feet regularly with a competitive distance of 52 feet 1 inch.

Discus Mark Doomed.

Pursuers of that Hellenic art, discus throwing, are threatening to remove the 144 feet 11 inch mark established by Hardwick of Parks in 1934. Wilbros of Wolbach is perhaps the outstanding candidate for the new championship, as he has been averaging between 135 and 145 feet all season.

Russell Bradford, Mitchell decaathlon athlete and champion, set a broad jump record of 22 feet 9 5/8 inches last year, but the record is still held by a tall Mather of Arapahoe, one of Nebraska's great prep broad jumpers, has jumped 23 feet 5 inches and is bidding for the pit crown. Bradford is also working to set his record higher and is reported to be jumping close to 23 feet regularly.

Holder of the state high jump record at 6 feet 2 1/8 inches, but something is expected to happen in this event. Mather of Arapahoe, Kahler of Grand Island and Delahoy of Edgar, are the big three in high jumping circles, along with the returning champ. These men have all surpassed the record in various local meets and

PROFESSORS SOLOISTS AT CONCERT.

When the Little Symphony orchestra of the university presents its homecoming concert Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Paul church, Carl Steckelberg, left, professor of violin, and Mrs. Lenore Burkett, professor of voice will be guest soloists. The symphony conducted by Raymond R. Reed, clarinet instructor in the School of Music, returned recently from a four day concert tour of Nebraska. The Sunday evening program will include the overture to Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," Schubert's Symphony in B minor, Mendelssohn's Concerto in E minor, Sarasate's Zigeunerweisen, and Glazounov's Baccanale from "The Seasons."

SHOE STORE'S VERNACULAR INCLUDES COLORFUL TERMS

Lincoln shoe store clerks will have to adopt a different shoe store vernacular in order to fool students of Miss Mamie Meredith's business English class. These students have made an extensive study of the jargon employed by shoe clerks in various Lincoln stores.

Some of the slang words discovered by business English students are as follows:

"Andy" or "Albert"—a shoe of A width.

"Benny"—a shoe of B width.

"Charlie"—a shoe of C width.

"Danny" or "David"—a shoe of D width.

"Earl"—a shoe of E width.

"T. O."—a turnover when one clerk gives his customer over to another clerk, possibly a more experienced salesman, to prevent a walkout. Some number previously agreed upon, such as "33," "66," or "99" may be used as a signal instead of "T. O."

"Walkout"—a customer who leaves without making a purchase.

"P. M." or "Spiff"—an old style shoe which the company is eager to sell and for which salesmen receive a direct commission or bonus.

"Slog" or "Slock"—a profit made by overcharging a customer.

"P. M." or "Post Mortem"—a sale indicative of small articles such as polish, brushes, sponges, shoe laces, etc.

"Wrapup"—a sale that is particularly easy to make. It may apply also to the customer who desires to buy, and being shown a pair of shoes, makes the purchase.

"Doubles"—two pairs of shoes sold to one customer.

"Jiffy"—a special sale of shoes included in a special sale.

"Shopper"—a fake customer sent out by the manager to check sales ability and sales methods of the clerks.

"Cowhide and Keg of Nails"—a pair of work shoes for men.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA TO PRESENT CONCERT SUNDAY

Soloists will be Mrs. Lenore Burkett Van Kirk, professor of voice, and Carl Steckelberg, professor of violin. The program includes the overture to Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," Schubert's Symphony of B minor, Mendelssohn's Concerto in E minor, Sarasate's Zigeunerweisen, and Glazounov's Baccanale from "The Seasons."

HUSKER TRACKSTERS MEET KANSAS TODAY

Cinder Fans Will See Close Contest Between Two Big Six Teams.

Nebraska's last home dual track and field meet will be staged in Memorial stadium this afternoon against Kansas State, the winner of which will be touted as the ranking contender for the Big Six championship. Both the Cornhuskers and the Wildcats have been pointing toward this dual meet, and dope experts have not been able to agree on the winner.

Haylitt Optimistic.

Wildcat Coach Ward Haylitt, who is almost as pessimistic as Coach "Pa" Schulte, has conceded the victory to the Huskers, although he has claimed possible wins in the 880 yard run, mile run, two mile run, mile relay, javelin, and high jump. Haylitt, along with others, believes that the Huskers will win the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 220 yard high hurdles, 120 yard high hurdles, broad jump, pole vault, and shot put.

Considering the above possibilities, therefore, it appears that the outcome of the meet will rest in the discus throw and the 440 yard run. Coach "Pa" Schulte (Continued on Page 2).

DEAKINS TO HEAD NEW UNIVERSITY LAW ASSOCIATION

King, Nelson, Moody, Chosen For Offices at First Formal Meeting.

As the modernistically decorated club room of the Nebraska law school association was completed, the board of directors met yesterday and elected officers, headed by William Deakins as chairman. The board then adopted bylaws and election rules to complete the constitution of the newly-founded organization.

Directors Appointed.

Other officers are Palmer King, vice-chairman; Meredith K. Nelson, secretary; and Piny M. Moody, treasurer. Directors include class presidents as ex-officio members and two representatives from each class. In addition to officers the directors include Harry West, senior; Vernon Clemons and Jim Begley, juniors; Adrian Tolson and Bert Durkes, freshmen.

Purpose of the association conceived by Dean H. H. Foster, is to promote friendship and to integrate law school activities. Events that it will sponsor include the annual law school day, management of club court trials, law school banquet, bringing of bar members to speak to freshmen, and others.

Modernistic Clubroom.

Green predominates in the club room redecorated by the association. Walls and shades are light green, with the modernistic furniture done in green, red and black. Simplicity is the keynote of decorations. They consist of rare and famed cartoons of English judges taken from "Vanity Fair," dating about 1868.

These completely encircle the room and the only other picture is one of the late Prof. Charles A. Robbins, who formerly taught at the university. Drapes, more cartoons, and furniture yet remain to be obtained.

STUDENTS STAGE 'CERIALIA,' AG PAGEANT, TWICE

Festival of Grains Given in Natural Amphitheater Thursday.

Concluding Farmers' Fair activities for this year, "Cerialia," a festival of grains pageant staged by over 400 students of the agricultural college was presented for the second time last evening in the natural amphitheater at the agricultural campus.

Opening with symbolic dances typifying the governing elements in cultivation of grain, an atmosphere of the theme of the pageant was created in the presentation of nature, by various dances portraying the sun, rain and wind.

Greek Fable Re-enacted.

Episode I of the presentation re-enacted the scene of the ancient Greek fable of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture, her daughter, Persephone, and Hades, and their influence over cultivation of grain. Preceding the following episode, Intertide I provided, the dances of the wind and sun, a background for Episode II, which depicted cultivation at the time of the Egyptians, and told the story of Joseph and the seven years of plenty and the seven years of drought.

Episode III presented the scene of an old English manor, and methods of planting and harvesting were shown, followed by a boon feast and the Mummer's play. The concluding episode, divided into two parts, showed the American Indian and his primitive corn planting, and the pioneers learning to cultivate corn from the instructions of the Indians. Both the closing episode and interludes carried the story of the pageant up until the time of the present day grain cultivation.

Goddess Presented.

Climaxing the entire presentation, Ruth Henderson was again presented in the role of goddess of agriculture, reigning supreme over corn and all the elements.

Elsie Buxman and Vincent Arthaud acted as co-directors of the pageant.

ENGINEERS WILL SEE AUTOMOBILE PICTURE

Executive Board Sponsors Movies at Convocation May 20.

The picture is shown with vital music accompaniment, but no talking. Sub-titles are used in place of vocal descriptions. Because of the reality of the movie, it has caused much comment in organizations where it has been shown.

There will also be a feature on "Safe Driving." The convocation is held under the sponsorship of the engineering executive board. All students are invited to attend the meeting.

Educational Service Reports Increase in Teaching Positions

Prof. Moritz Says Calls for Instructors Exceeds Number for Any Year of Past Ten; States More Registrants Placed Also.

Figures from the department of educational service of the university for the year 1934-35 show that the number of teaching placements made as well as the percentage of registrants placed is greater than for any year during the past ten. Furthermore, says Prof. R. D. Moritz, director of the service, the number of calls for teachers exceeded any year of the past ten with the exception of 1928-29.

"This is not to say that unemployment has ceased to be a problem, that the depression is over so far as teacher placement is concerned, or that there are not other serious problems needing adjustment," states Professor Moritz. "The situation was not ideal even in the twenties. Salaries have risen as rapidly as living costs and have not been restored to their former levels, but improvement is clearly evident."

A review of the report revealed that the number of teaching positions received by the university has jumped from the low of 1117.
