aha. Deadline on balloting is June 6, according to Alumni Secretary Ray E. Ramsay.

Candidates for vice president are Mrs. Norma Kidd Green, '15 of Lincoln, and Mrs. Helena Gray Robertson, '09, of Plattsmouth. Jean B. Cain, '13, of Falls City, and John L. Riddell, '20, of York will race for the three year term as member at large of the executive committee.

Board of Directors.

For the board of directors, elected for two year terms, three congressional districts are uncontested, William Schepman, 'x-25, from Tecumseh in the first district; Lucy Galloway, 'x-18, from Broken Bow in the fifth district are unopposed.

For the second district, Wilson D. Bryans, '19, Omaha, is opposed by Henning F. Nelson, '16, Blair. Carl H. Peterson, '21, of Norfolk has been nominated to run against Donald F. Sampson, '27, of Central City in the third district.

REICHAERT, NEWMYER TO HEAD BLUE PRINT STAFF COMING YEAR

Engineering Students Get Appointments to Publication.

New staff members of the Blue-print, engineering magazine, have been announced by members of the engineering publication board. New general manager is H. M. Reichart; editor, Lowell Newmyer; business manager, Emanuel Olson.

Associate editors are H. A. Langston and J. O. Mostrom; assistant editor, R. E. Dennis; art editor, C. H. Murphy. Assistant business manager is John Parker, Jr.

Assistants in the business department are George E. Heikes, G. R. Jameson, B. W. Wyman, L. V. Girardot, Don Woodward. Editorial assistants are G. K. Gillen and V. H. Paulson. These men are not definitely assigned to departments, but will be placed as they are needed, according to Prof. M. I. Evinger.

The magazine hopes to find additional men, depending on schedules, and is anxious to interview any engineering student who would like to serve, stated Evinger. Men are selected on a basis of scholastic eligibility, and their willingness to do extra work, appointments being made by the engineering executive board, which consists of the general manager, editor, business manager, Dean O. J. Ferguson and Profs. J. W. Haney, L. B. Smith, M. I. Evinger, D. H. Harkness.

BARB GIRLS TO RECEIVE RECOGNITION THURSDAY

A.W.S. League to Honor All Unaffiliated Women At Service.

Recognition services to honor barb girls who have made outstanding records in activities during the past year will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 21, at 5 o'clock on the ag campus, according to Dorothy Beers, president of the barb A. W. S. League.

Scheduled to serve as a culmination of all activities of barb women for the past school year, the services are open to all barb women students enrolled in the university, according to Miss Beers.

Following the services a buffet supper will be served on the lawn at ag campus and varied program is being planned as social entertainment for the meeting.

According to present plans, girls of the city campus who desire transportation to the agricultural campus may assemble on 14th and R, and transportation will be provided.

Prairie Schooner, New Edition, Features 20 of Nation's Best Writers

By Howard Kaplan. Authors from every part of the country have contributed to the summer issue of the Prairie Schooner, Nebraska literary magazine edited by Dr. L. C. Wimberly of the English department. This edition which will be comprised of 20 articles, poems, and short stories, will be on the news stands the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

A moving story "Footnote to Mortality," is the feature of the issue. It was written by Frank Mott, director of the school of journalism at the State University of Iowa. Dr. Mott is the author of "A History of American Magazines," the first volume of which was published in 1930. "The Man with the Good Face," which has become one of America's most famous short stories, is another of Dr. Mott's works. "Footnote to Mortality" depicts the mental suffering of its central character, a prison executioner. After putting 28 of the state's victims to death, he begins to imagine himself as being guilty of the murders. Dr. Mott very ably describes the poor man's agonies and actions as the horror of his deeds grows upon his mind, until he finally dies.

CORNHUSKER TO REVEAL CAMPUS BEAUTY QUEENS

Yearbook Out Wednesday to Picture Coed Winners of Contest.

Nebraska's six beauty queens will be revealed Wednesday when the 1936 Cornhuskers will be distributed to the public. Coeds who will be pictured in the annual have been judged by Carl Lacombe, famous movie producer. The book which is a complete pictorial story of the university campus, has red for a color scheme and has red leather cover.

Distribution will begin Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at the Cornhusker office. One thousand copies will be available to purchasers Wednesday, while 250 books will be brought from the printer both Thursday and Friday.

Students are urged to call for their annuals as soon as possible. The office will be open from 8 to 5 all day Wednesday and during the remainder of the week. To aid much extra work and confusion receipts should be presented at that time.

The books of those who have paid only $1 of the installments will be placed on sale immediately. Those who desire these copies will be charged $4.25 for them.

Activity Women Will Hold Mass Meeting

Representative activity women from the leading women's organizations on the campus will meet at a mass meeting being held on Wednesday evening, May 20, from 7:45 to 8 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall, under the sponsorship of Mortar Board.

Leaders from the following groups are asked to attend the meeting on Wednesday: A. W. S., Agricultural college, Barb A. W. S., Barbs, Coed Counselors, Publications, Student Council, Tassels, W. A. A., and Y. W. C. A.

PFEILER ADDRESSES MINISTERIAL GROUP

Professor Upholds Policy of Enlightened Nationalism.

Favoring what he termed an "enlightened nationalism," Dr. William Pfeiler of the German department spoke to members of the Lincoln Ministerial association Monday morning. He declared "an enlightened love for your own country helps you to understand the love of others for their nations."

Dr. Pfeiler, upholding his contention, quoted from the Bible that Jesus advocated that people love themselves and care for themselves. He went on to paint a picture of the failure of propagandists for international good will. He stated "America will never lead the way to peace by saying, 'Look here, how good we are, and see how bad you are.' With understanding comes sympathy."

SIGMA XI INDUCTS 57 ASSOCIATE AND ACTIVE MEMBERS

Initiate Two Professors in Ceremonies on May 25.

Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific research organization for both men and women, will initiate 57 into their ranks as active or associate members following the banquet planned for Monday evening, May 25.

Of the 57 to be honored, 17 will be taken into active membership. From the faculty two have fulfilled the necessary requirements for membership. They are Prof. Earl Hoyt Bell who has qualified in the field of anthropology, and Prof. Earl Emmet Lackey in the science of geography. The only alumnus to be initiated at this time is Eugene E. Lindquist who has done research in civil engineering.

Ten associate members of the organization have fulfilled the requirements and will be promoted into active membership. Charles Warren Bliven and Marjorie Bennett Brew have been chosen from the field of physics and pharmacy; Allan P. Cowgill, mathematics; James Madison Dille, pharmacy; Alvin H. Friedman, biochemistry; Edward Augustus Holyoke, anatomy; William Russell Johnson, conservation and survey; Marion Luhman, zoology; Warren Wesley Nedrow, botany; and Benjamin Franklin Skiles, chemistry.

From the graduate students of the university, Loren Corey Eiseley has been accepted from the paleontology department; B. Ira Judd, agronomy; Eugene C. Reed, conservation and survey; and George Russell Thornton, psychology.

Twenty-one graduate students have been elected to associate membership of the organization. For work in the subject of agronomy, Edward Doll and Elver Myron Hodges have been chosen; from anatomy, John Warren Henderson; from biochemistry, William Osheroff; from botany, Thomas Reginald Porter; and from chemistry, Albert F. Beguin, Walter F. Holcomb, Theodore B. Lefferdink, Dale K. Mechem, James J. Urban, and Alfred Weltkamp.

For work in the field of electrical engineering, George Wesley Addison Pentico was selected; from geology, John C. Maher and Herbert Waite; from horticulture, Ralph Ernest Lincoln; from mathematics, Wendell A. Dwyer and Robert Sewell Pate.

From physics, Henry William Baur and Wilbur Walwood Hansen have been chosen; and from zoology, (Continued on Page 4).

26 GIRLS ELECTED TO MEMBERSHIP IN PEP SOCIETY ON CAMPUS

New Tassels Entertained at Picnic This Evening At Shrine Club.

Filling the positions left vacant by retiring members of the organization, 26 girls were recently elected as members of Tassels, women's pep organization on the Nebraska campus. Those who have been named as new members of the group will be entertained by present members of the organization at a picnic to be held this evening at the Shrine Shelter house at 6 o'clock, according to Margaret Philippe, president of the pep organization.

ENGINEERS MEETING TO FEATURE TWO MOVIES

Executive Board Presents Showing of Automobile Pictures May 20.

Double features will be offered at the engineering convocation, May 20, held by the engineering executive board. Contributed by Chevrolet Motor company, the first picture will show complete manufacture of an automobile, with musical accompaniment by the Philadelphia symphony orchestra, in the Chaplin manner. No effects are spoiled by talking, since all necessary statements are shown in sub-titles.

Reality of the picture has caused much comment in places where it has been shown. Particularly outstanding is the fact that no advertising is introduced until the very end. "This subordination of advertising is quite unusual for an industrial picture and adds to its interest," declared Ted Schroeder, executive board head.

In keeping with the main program interest, the second feature will be on "Safety Driving." All students are urged to see the picture, stated Schroeder, since it will have special interest for all car owners and drivers. The meeting will start at 7:30 in Social Sciences auditorium.

Doane Asks Financial Aid for 'Hopelessly Inadequate' Library

May Alumnus Issue Honors Graduating Class Of 1916.

Special honor is paid to the graduating class of 1916 in the current issue of the Nebraska Alumnus magazine, preparatory to the celebration of the 20 year reunion of the class, planned for June 7 and 8.

Nine pages of pictures and excerpts from letters recount the exploits of the honor class since it left the campus, and the program for the roundup and commencement week is given.

Richard C. Patterson, jr., class of 1909 and executive vice president of the National Broadcasting company, is the author of "Microphone Careers," which outlines the broad field open in the radio industry for college graduates.

Describe Ag Experiments. "Ghuda Would Not Be Chief" is the title of an interview with Student Charles Blooah, who ran away from his native village in Liberia and is now studying at Nebraska. After he has finished his graduate work, he plans to build a school in his native country.

In answering "Did Glacial Men Inhabit Nebraska?" Dr. E. H. Barbour and C. E. Schultz of the Morrill hall museum, trace the advances made by scientists in solving the problem, and illustrate their article with interesting photographs of excavation work.

Other special features include "Place Names of Nebraska," explaining the derivation of appellations for Nebraska towns and topography, and "Experiments in Agriculture" by R. T. Prescott, agricultural editor of the Alumnus.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS AT LAST MEETING

Commitmen to Present Summary Reports Wednesday.

Newly elected and retiring members of the student council will meet for the last meeting of the year on Wednesday of this week at 4:30 in the council chambers. Election of officers for next year's body will be the main order of business.

Complete summary of reports made during the year will be submitted by committee chairman. A detailed financial report will also be given in winding up the affairs of the council.

According to Irving Hill, council president, the group will also have to set the dates for campus closed nights of next year.

MISS BERG TO RECEIVE HONOR IN FRENCH

Dr. Kurz to Award Medal at Luncheon This Thursday Noon

Marjorie Berg, senior in the college of arts and sciences, will be honored for superior work that she has done in the department of romance languages at the last French luncheon of the year to be held Thursday noon at 12 o'clock at the Grand hotel, according to Dr. Harry Kurz, chairman of the department.

Dr. Kurz will award Miss Berg with a medal, indicating that she has done the most outstanding work of any student in the French department. Announcement of the award was made at the recent honors convocation.

Committee Announces Raynor Rigg's Election As Greek Head Illegal

The interfraternity committee on committees, headed by Prof. E. F. Schramm and composed of council members and faculty, met yesterday and decided that election of Raynor Rigg, Beta Theta Pi, to the presidency illegal.

A member of the Greek Council will be elected whose fraternity was in the old Green Toga faction. This eliminates all houses that have changed factions or have dropped out of one, including Beta, which was formerly Green Toga and is now independent.

Elect Other Officers. Prog suaves will be elected vice president and secretary while a Green Council will receive the office of treasurer. These elections will follow the laws of the council, the committee decided. It has been set by precedent that two factions will alternate with the two positions of president and treasurer

Degree Applications Should Be in May 20

All students who are candidates for degrees in August should file their applications in the registrar's office, room 9, by May 20, if they have not done so previously. Office hours are from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Candidates for the junior certificate or the teachers certificate, issued by the state superintendent of public instruction, should file their applications also, according to Miss Florence I. McGahey, registrar.

47 APPLICATIONS FILED FOR POSTS ON PUBLICATIONS

Nineteen Filings for News Editor on Nebraskan Sets New Record.

While only one application was submitted for positions of editor Awgwan, an all-time record was set as 19 applied for the five positions of news editor on the Daily Nebraskan, as filings for publications closed at 5 o'clock. The publications board, headed by Gayle Walker, department chairman of journalism school, will meet the latter part of this week or early next week to decide on applications.

A total of 47 students filed. Editorships contested were for Daily Nebraskan and Cornhusker, each having two applicants. Six filed for managing editor and 19 for news editor. On the business side three students desired the position of business manager and four filed for the jobs of assistant business manager.

In addition to two applications for editor of the Cornhusker, four filed for managing editor. Two applied for business editor and two for the positions of assistant business manager.

For two positions open on the Awgwan three submitted application forms. One was for editor and two for business manager.

Last year at this time 41 students filed for publications and the year before that 62. The board, composed of faculty and students, will announce its decisions immediately after its meeting.

Members of the publications board are: Prof. Gayle Walker, chairman, Dr. Nels Bengston, Dr. Harry Bradford, John K. Selleck, and student members, Dwight Perkins, Paul Amen, and Clare Wiley.

BARB COUNCIL PLANS NEXT YEAR'S ACTIVITY

Final Meeting of Interclub Group Set for Tuesday Evening.

Closing of the past year's business and plans for the coming year will be taken up at the final Barb Interclub council meeting for the year to be held Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30 in room 8, University hall.

Plans have been completed for a picnic set for Sunday, May 24, under the sponsorship of the Barb Interclub council and the Barb A. W. S. league.

Past year successes sponsored by the Barbs have been unusually successful, featuring more extensive intramural athletics. Barb parties, and the All Barb banquet, which received a large increase in attendance over the affair held last year.

Librarian Takes Case to Outstate Citizens for Contributions.

Depicting the "hopelessly inadequate and antiquated" condition of Nebraska's storehouses of knowledge, Librarian Gilbert H. Doane launched an editorial campaign for financial aid in the May issue of the Nebraska Alumnus. In an article headed "An Open Letter From the Librarian," Mr. Doane directs his plea to outstate citizens, who may aid in building the library thru the newly-created University Foundation.

"We are allowing generation after generation of our students to graduate from the University without finding out what a library is," he charges, "what it means to know books and to see them fittingly housed. The present building is so old, its facilities so inadequate, its staff so short-handed that students do not come to the library unless they are forced to by insistent professors; the faculty as a whole is reluctant to insist upon outside reading, because it knows that the library cannot supply the books, has not seating capacity for the students, and not enough trained librarians to properly serve them."

"Reading maketh a full man," and the ability to use books is one of the most obvious marks of an educated man. Yet our students read but little, mainly because they have so little opportunity to read in the library. There is no attractive reading room where a student can browse in the great body of literature which is our heritage and become intimately acquainted with the great books of the world.

"We need not only a modern library building on the city campus and endowment funds for books and library administration, but also a separate library building on the agricultural college (Continued on Page 4).

ELEANOR CLIZBE TO SERVE AS EDITOR OF 1936-1937 'N' BOOK

Richard Becker Selected as Business Manager for Publication.

Eleanor Clizbe and Richard Becker will serve as co-editors of the 1936-37 "N" book, it was recently announced by heads of the university Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations which jointly sponsor the publication designed to aid freshmen students in becoming acquainted with the university.

Miss Clizbe, who heads the publications staff of the Y. W. C. A., will be in charge of the editorial side of the book, while Mr. Becker, of the Y. M. C. A., will manage the business part of the enterprise.

To Use New Colors.

This year's book will contain short reviews of all campus organizations, along with pictures of the presidents of the groups. All the plans are as yet indefinite, Miss Clizbe stated that a new color scheme will probably be used and several new features will be added.

"Since 'N' books have become more and more an important help, not only for freshmen, but for upperclassmen as well, we plan to make this year's issue even more complete than previous ones have been," Miss Clizbe stated. "The 'N' book will go on sale at the beginning of school next fall."

Staff Announced.

Staff members on the editorial side of the publication were announced Monday by Miss Clizbe. They are as follows: Jane Walcott, Barbara Rosewater, Helen Pascoe, Mary Arbitman, Josephine Rubnitz, Louise Magee, Barbara Selleck, Mary Jane McMullen, Phyllis Jensen, Ruth Sic, and Dorothy Bentz.

The business staff, composed of members of the Y. M. C. A., has not yet been definitely decided, but will be announced in the near future.

MISS STOWELL GIVES SENIOR PIANO RECITAL

Miss Evelyn Stowell, student with Herman Schmidt, presented her senior piano recital at the Temple theater Sunday afternoon. Outstanding selections on the program were the Brahms intermezzo played with lyric beauty of tone; the Brahms rhapsody, and the Tchaikowsky, which displayed a high degree of brilliancy and technical finish.

A high point was the Mozart concerto, whose demands she met adequately, both in technique and interpretation. The program was: Brahms, Intermezzo, A. 2nd Op. 78, No. 3; Rhapsody, G minor, Op. 78, No. 2; Bachmannoff, Melodie, B major, F major; Arsenky, Etude, F sharp major; Tchaikowsky, Theme and Variations; Mozart, Concerto, A major, 4th movement, andante semplice, presto grazioso.
