

FROSH GRIDSTERS TAKE TO STADIUM FOR DRILL TODAY

Full-Time Game on Calendar for Freshmen Pigs

In order to give his fresh gridsters a chance to put into actual play what they learned, or should have learned, in their battle with the varsity Monday, Coach Ed Weir will send his proteges thru a full time scrimmage tonight at the varsity practice field. Most of the yearling's time will be taken up with the running of Iowa State and Minnesota plays in an effort to be able to give the varsity a few headaches when they scrimmage next week. Today's scrimmage will take the place of the usual Wednesday tiff, which was put aside in favor of the varsity tiff. As yet Weir has announced no definite starting lineup but it will probably be about the same as the one which started against the first team Monday.

Boys Mighty Good. Asked what he thought about the showing the freshmen made Monday, Weir stated that he thought the boys did mighty swell in view of the fact that they had no time to organize an offense and little time to perfect their defense.

Monday's game brought out several bright spots in the freshman squad, and probably the brightest one was Rusty Bradford, the all-state back and state broad jump champion from Mitchell. His passing was the best seen in the frosh stables for a number of years according to the coaches. His passes travel like bullets and seldom miss their mark.

Jim Mather of Arapahoe showed himself to be an excellent prospect as a kicker, and Eldon McElroy of Tecumseh played a fine defensive game in the backfield. Gale Haner of Hastings and Herman Rohrig of Lincoln proved that they were plenty shifty ball jugglers.

Three Quarterbacks. Among the first year quarterback candidates are Otto Huebner of Glenwood, Ia., Charley Shuey of Columbus, and Roy Petch of Scottsbluff. Huebner is a stellar defensive man along with being a fine field general and an excellent passer. Shuey handled the second team very nicely and did some fine defensive work, while Petch, who can pass and run, did his share of the signal calling. The end positions seem to be pretty well taken care of by Bob Kahler of Grand Island and Harold Garnick of Ord, who are both tall rugged boys. Bert Cramer of Superior also turned in a fine performance Monday and is making a serious bid for a first string position. Also the tackle candidates are not plentiful. Weir has hopes of making Rudy Becker, 245 pounder from Schuyler, a useful article.

Guard Competition Keen. The guard position is the scene of a lively battle with Adna Dobson and Bill Pfeiff of Lincoln heading the list. Lloyd Wright also of Lincoln and Leland Yant of Waverly are making it plenty tough for them as a result of their fine showings Monday. Wright a 190 pounder was clocked in 10 2-10 seconds for the century while still in prep school.

The center position is the only post on the team that seems to be sewed up. Bob Burruss and Bob Moody of Omaha are putting up a great fight for the starting place. They were both former Omaha central stars and the difference in their ability is very slight, if any. Burruss appears to be a little more aggressive and a little better defensive man, while Moody is a slightly better passer. The scrimmage tonight is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock.

NUBBINS GET MENU OF STIFF WORK FROM ELY

'B' Men Show Promise of Talent in Work-out with Varsity.

Work, work and more work was the menu offered yesterday to the Nubbins by their astiduous preceptor, Lawrence Ely, Coach Ely herded his pupils onto the regular playing field where they rehearsed with Coach D. X. Bible's varsity squad.

Four flankmen—Grimm, Shindo, Smith and Mercier—all of whom saw action in the Kearney fracas last Friday, practiced with the first string ends in downing offensive kicks. All four ends showed promise of becoming adept flankmen, and should offer acute competition to varsity ends for starting berths in the Iowa State-Nebraska game, which is to be held this coming Saturday at Memorial stadium.

Art Ball, Ernie White, Hugo Hoffman and Marvin Plock, who also participated in the "B" encounter at Kearney, were returning kickoffs, and were turning in creditable tasks of eluding would-be tacklers. Bill Anderson, one of the vital cogs in the Nubbins' first triumph, was practicing with the varsity kickers, Sam Francis and Ron Douglas. Anderson says he probably know, is slated to see play in the Iowa State game, barring the injury nemesis.

even but we'll take Northwestern. Mississippi State-H o w a r d: Mississippi is tops here. Ohio State-N. Y. U.: Ohio State is the choice. Texas-Louisiana State: Louisiana State has the stuff. Texas Christian-Arkansas: Yale-Cornell: Bow down, sons of Eli.

The University 4-H Club had almost a hundred at its first meeting Tuesday evening. Everyone who attended enjoyed the program. The officers of the Club were surprised and gratified at the large turnout and the enthusiasm manifested. This club will be heard from a lot this year.

"With malice toward none and charity toward all," this so-called column is going to attempt to pick the "winners" in Saturday's grid classics—north, south, east and west. Just how true these predictions are today will be discovered Saturday when those final guns bark.

Without further ado, off we go: Nebraska-Iowa State: Huskers by three touchdowns.

Kansas-Washburn: Sophomore Jayhawkers aren't good enough. Kansas State-Oklahoma A. & M.: K-Aggies get our nod.

Missouri-Cape Girardeau State Teachers: Not enough room for Teachers.

Oklahoma-Colorado: Mighty close, but we say Boulder.

Utah-Arizona: Also close, but Arizona is the choice.

Wisconsin-Marquette: Wisconsin is due.

Washington-Idaho: Huskies' loss to Gophers carries no weight.

Lehigh-Dickinson: Lehigh by a high tally.

Colgate-Ursinus: We never heard of Ursinus.

C.-C. N. Y.-Brooklyn: City College will shine.

Chicago-Vanderbilt: Watch Vanderbilt.

Navy-Davidson: Annapolis is the favorite.

Army-Washington & Lee: Just a parade for the West Pointers.

Tulane-Alabama Poly: Good and close but we say Alabama.

Syracuse-Clarkson: Syracuse.

Southern California-Oregon: Trojans are always good.

South Carolina-Duke: Duke is the one.

Pittsburgh-West Virginia: A setup for Pitt.

Tennessee-North Carolina: Both teams have new coaches but Knoxville is our pick.

Holy Cross-Providence: Boys from Holy Cross have the goods.

Harvard-Amherst: Harvard, by all means.

Hardin-Simmons-Texas A. & M.: Coach Bible's ex-stompin' ground is the tops here.

Georgia Tech-Sewanee: Engineers from Georgia Tech.

Georgia-Furman: It is true what they say about Dixie!

Fordham-Franklin-Marshall: Fordham's Rams are powerful.

Dartmouth-Vermont: Good of Dartmouth.

Brown-Rhode Island: Brown.

Alabama-Clemson: Ricketty ram, Alabama!

Lone Star state boys will take it.

Southern Methodist-Texas A. & I.: Mustangs will run wild.

Brigham Young-Montana

State: Close but we say Montana.
Princeton-Williams: Good start for Princeton.
Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech: Fighting Irish triumph.
Indiana-Centre: Hoosiers get our nod.
Michigan U-Michigan State: Michigan State easily.
Northwestern-Iowa: P pretty
