

NEBRASKA CAMPUS SOCIAL WHIRL

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS

North winds blowing dead leaves around the tennis courts. . . Bill Sweeney swagger coated and cheery bustling across Twelfth street. . . Virginia Chain's wide brimmed felt sombrero—we suspect the Texas Centennial. . . Evel Younger peering through the glass door into a Pol. Sci. class. . . Crowd of boys on the steps of Pharmacy hall gazing heavenward. . . Birdien Jensen pointing out friends in the Tassel group picture. . . The miniature whisk broom on the rear end of Sid Baker's blue hat. . . Dick Fischer and Bernie Smith tracking down a hamburger. . . That morning after the night before look on three out of five pledge faces. . . Bill Smith's Ford roadster, probably minus more paint today than it was yesterday, if possible. . . A. T. O. Shellenberg much tousled as to hair returning from a touch football game. . . Clyde White meanders through the Rag office. . . Margaret Phillippe's veiled brown hat, tip tilted. . . The night scene on the campus, one bright light in Bessie hall.
