

Campus CAPS and GOWNS

THE POPULUS CAMPI HAVE SPOKEN, AND EVEN THO none but a few of the higher-ups know the outcome of the elections, rumors are rife. It's said that the spoils of the sweetheart election are divided between D. G. Magee and Tri Delta Van Horne with Elizabeth in a slight lead. And what's more we've heard that the candidate for Honorary Colonel, supported solidly by the engineering college, and just about as solidly by the Ag campus has a majority over the other five aspirants. Looks like a bit of an upset for several houses on the campus, and even in the D. G. house, for if Miss Magee steps out on the Stuart stage the day of Kosmet Klub, Jean Doty has certainly lost most of her chances for Prom Girl.

For the Military Ball, you'll want a tiny tropical bird nestling in clusters of curls, or a veil fastened by red velvet roses. These hair ornaments and many others in HOVLAND SWANSON'S ACCESSORY SHOP, first floor.

There are publicity hounds and then there are more. The method by which Tri Delta Ruth Vanatta makes herself into a fashion model for this month's Awgwan is reminiscent of alumna Bob Pierce's tricks. (You know, anonymous contributions to the goss section about the antics of Mr. Pierce.)

LINCOLN ARMY AND NAVY STORE, 202 So. 11th St. Complete line of ladies' riding boots, breeches and jackets.

Anything to see the big game, and so we hear that two or three Phi Gams stowed away on the Oklahoma train. True Nebraska spirit, we'd say.

X may mark the spot but MODERN CLEANERS will certainly take it out. Send your fall clothes to SOUKUP AND WESTOVER'S MODERN CLEANERS for that seasonal renewal that Nebraska's night life requires. F2377.

After their extraly successful opening week, the University Players have been unusually happy this week. They appreciate, of course, the brilliancy of their own efforts, and they appreciate, too, the efforts of Tassels in selling tickets. To Margaret Phillippe in particular they sent an expression of their gratification in the form of a framed picture of the pep organization's members, inscribed with words of their appreciation of her services.

Cold winter winds have been blowing just enough to let everyone know it's time to have Evans Cleaners renovate the heavy coat in time to be prepared for what's ahead. Call B6961 and have your coat cleaned in time to wear when you sit in the frosty air at the homecoming game.

AG STUDENTS TO ELECT QUEEN AT ANNUAL FORMAL

 Interest of those who plan to be there. With the purpose of securing a more representative list of candidates, of creating wider student enthusiasm, and of eliminating last minute "urged" filings, the executive board has accepted the following rules:
 1. Only Ag girls (89-125 hours) may be a candidate.
 2. Candidates must be carrying 12 hours successfully, and must have completed 27 hours during the preceding two semesters at the University of Nebraska with an average of 80.
 3. All girls meeting the above requirements will be filed as candidates unless they indicate otherwise when notified by the presentation committee. (Withdrawals may not be made later than Thursday noon.)
 4. The armer's Formal Queen shall be elected by the men—one ballot will be given each couple at the door.
 5. One of the Ag executive board faculty sponsors will be present to supervise the counting of ballots.

For school wear you'll do some high-stepping in Culver's brown kid and suede combination shoes. They're not only proper for sports wear, with their buttoned wind-shield front, but will be just as appropriate for dress occasions. Their price is only five dollars, too, and if you have those tapering, slender feet, they'll fit them perfectly.

Speaking of University players and fresh man a ivete—here's one young Kappa pledge who bought a lick-et because some high-pressure saleswoman told her it would mean one extra night out a month.

High and low, coeds search for hose. That is, until they find MAGEE'S Humming Bird hose at 79 cents a pair.

Cats to dates, that's what it amounted to Friday night when Edith Houston wanted to stay home from an extra special party to take care of the Chi O's verra special mascot, a little straw-colored kitten.

What with the new shorter dresses and the flared skirts a gal has to have good looking legs. Ben Simons with that in mind have stocked Trezor hose at 55 cents and $1. There's a luscious two thread affair for evening and very fancy afternoon in a flattering off-black. And for school there are four and five-threads in every color from concertina to gun metal. Ben Simon's first floor.

At the Park last night, Jean Doty and Ted Bradley, the inseparables, separated! And at the Cornhusker later, separated again. A permanent break—or maybe a bit of a campaign stunt.

Hi a llow'en, and Homecoming, and Nebraskians will certainly be celebrating that week-end what with Benny Mer-off playing for the Homecoming party, and the Phi Psi's and D. U's holding a bit of a celebration Friday evening.

In case of a tie, the presentation committee, supervised by the Ag executive board faculty sponsor, will have the power to decide the issue by chance.

Earl Heady and Marjorie Francis, chairman and co-chairman respectively of the ticket committee, are carrying on an intensive drive for ticket sales and report that the tickets are very much in demand. Those who have tickets are: Melvin Beerman, Denis Clark, Leo Cooksley, Denver Grey, Clifford Heyne, Glenn Klingman, Gladys Morgan, Morris Peterson, Ann Soukup, Willis Stonebreaker, Frank Svoboda and Pauline Walters.

MAJOR PSYCHOLOGY MAGAZINES PUBLISH INSTRUCTORS WORK

University Department Gains Recognition in Nation's Leading Journals.

Gaining national recognition for its work in the various fields of psychology, the university department with its staff is well represented this month in the major psychological journals of the nation with the publication of several articles by University of Nebraska professors.

J. P. Guilford of the psychology department has written an article on the "Unitary Traits of Personality and Factor Theory," which is appearing in the American Journal of Psychology. Professor Guilford has conducted many experiments and devoted a great deal of study to this subject and the data so gathered are presented in this treatise.

"Emphatic Responses of Children in Relation to Artistic Talent" is the subject of a discussion by M. E. Walton, also of the university department of psychology. The results of Walton's study of this topic are published in the Psychological Monograph, one of the outstanding publications in this field.

Also in a current issue of the American Journal of Psychology, is an article written jointly by Elysbeth Allen and J. P. Guilford, entitled the "Factions Determining the Affective Value of Color Combinations."
