

SOCIAL CHAIRMEN ASK LIMITATIONS ON HOUSE DANCES

Hope to Make Campus Ruling Of Four Party Maximum On Greek Houses.

Attempting to make a campus regulation of their agreement limiting week end house parties to four in a single evening, representatives of the Social Chairmen organization will propose such legislation before the Interfraternity council when it meets tonight.

The social chairman's group, organized last year to improve the existing conditions between campus houses and the local musicians' union, completed negotiations last month with a compromise favorable to both bodies. The students' part of the agreement was to lessen the union's work by distributing the house parties over a longer period of time than the policy of forbidding more than four houses to hold parties on one evening. In opposition to this policy which was approved by a strong majority of the group, seven parties were held in campus houses last Friday night.

Formerly in Agreement.

"There was an agreement made last year by the social chairman's group providing that there should be only four house parties on a single evening," declared Bill Hollister, chairman of the committee in charge of negotiations with the union, "and the members of the group agreed to it again this year. Due to the fact that a few of the houses have failed to co-

UNION BODY TO VIEW SCHOOL STRUCTURES OF IOWA, WISCONSIN

Committee of Ten Leaves Wednesday to Compare Building Plans.

Outlining the purpose of a four day investigation trip to neighboring campuses with Student Union buildings, Chancellor E. A. Burnett declared that the group would compare the three buildings as to arrangement, management, and cost of financing.

The group of ten scheduled to make the tour will leave Wednesday for Iowa State university at Ames. The union buildings at Iowa university in Iowa City, and at Wisconsin university in Madison will also be visited during the tour, which will end Saturday evening or Sunday morning.

"We are going to try by our investigations to ascertain what facilities to include in our building, and the best general arrangement for the contents of the building," the chancellor stated. "We hope to discover what management is necessary, and what system of operation most successful. In short, we want to gather all the information that will help us to plan the best building possible."

Those scheduled to make the trip are Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Regent A. C. Stokes of Omaha, Amanda E. Heppner, dean of women; Dr. E. F. Schramm of the university geography department and faculty adviser to the Interfraternity council and Kismet Klub; L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent; L. F. Gunderson, finance secretary; Prof. L. B. Smith, chairman of the architectural department; Architect Walter Wilson, designer of the building plans already prepared for the university; Arnold Levin, president of the Student Council, and Marylu Petersen, vice president of the Student Council.

1936 N STAMP DRIVE NETS TOTAL OF $185

Misses Meents, Meyer Make Record Sales For Freshmen.

With a total sale of 18,500 N stamps the A. W. S. board closed its drive Saturday, with the annual celebration of homecoming. The campaign, which began the first of this month, was conducted by 21 teams made up of representatives from all organized women's houses on the campus.

Topping the list of freshman saleswomen was Jean Meents of Alpha Omicron Pi, selling a total of 1,285 stamps. Barbara Meyer, freshman from Delta Gamma, was second with 510 sales.

Among the sophomore team groups Lois Cooper and Carol Sinna of Alpha Xi Delta placed first, selling 3,420 stickers. The Kappa Kappa Gamma team, composed of Harriet Cummer and Elizabeth Waugh, sold 2,900 to place second in this division.

Selling at the price of a penny the fund from the sale of stamps will go into the general treasury of the A. W. S. Individual and group prizes for first and second places respectively will be awarded next week.

ROOSEVELT, LONDON RELAX TO WATCH AMERICA BALLOT

White House Aspirants Stay Home Awaiting Decision Of Citizen Electorate; History of Next Four Years Determined Today.

Today is the day—the big day. It is the first Tuesday after the first Monday, November 3rd of the year 1936. Today is the day that political parties and their candidates have nervously looked forward to for the past year. It is the day that will decide the guiding hand of our federal government the next four years, that will mark the pages of our current histories into the days of the future, that will determine, favorably or unfavorably, our destinies of democracy for the years to come. It will prove voting to be not a "mere formality" and that it behooves every one to vote in this election. Undoubtedly true, it is one of the most important twelve hours that history can record.

The actors have left the stage and they await their true acceptance and rejection by the voters of these United States. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, taking the leading role in the radio drama,

13 SCHOLARSHIPS TO GET AWARDS AT BIZAD BANQUET

J. F. McDermott to Speak At Affair Scheduled For Wednesday.

Thirteen scholarship awards will be presented to high ranking Bizad students at the annual Bizad banquet to be held Wednesday evening at the chamber of commerce. Among the awards are ten William Gold keys, to be presented to the ten highest students in last year's freshman class.

Other awards to be given high ranking students include the Delta Sigma Phi gold key, to the male student ranking highest in the professional Bizad courses; the Alpha Kappa Psi citizenship award to the male Bizad who ranked highest in both scholarship and extra-curricular activities; and the Phi Chi Theta citizenship award, to be given to the girl ranking highest in scholarship and activities.

Tradition Begun in 1924.
Twelve years ago marked the beginning of the presentation of the William Gold keys to the ten freshmen who rated highest in scholarship. They were first presented at the annual convocation. Five years later, with the inauguration of the Bizad banquet, they were presented at that affair.

J. F. McDermott of Omaha, vice president of the First National bank of Omaha, will be the principal speaker for the banquet. He will speak on "Current Monetary Problems."

McDermott, Master Speaker.
Prof. Karl M. Arnold, professor of money and banking, says about Mr. McDermott: "I have heard Mr. McDermott speak on a number of occasions. He is a master in presenting his subject so that it will be really worthwhile, and at the same time injects a highly humorous vein into his discussion."

Dean O. R. Martin will be in charge of presenting the honors and introducing the speaker.

RED PERKINS TO PLAY FOR PITT GAME PARTY

Colored Band to Provide Rhythm for Second Coliseum Affair.

Playing for the coliseum party following the Pittsburgh game on Nov. 14, will be Red Perkins and his orchestra, a band that satisfactorily filled a previous engagement on the campus, was the announcement made yesterday by Victor Schwarting, committee member in charge.

"This band is one of the finest colored orchestras in the country," Schwarting announced, "and its music should provide a fitting climax for the remaining big football game of the season. Because of the popular reception the Perkins troupe received on the campus last spring we feel sure that no disappointment awaits those who attend the next coliseum party."

Schwarting announced further that a new type of contest will provide added entertainment for the dancers. The details of this competition have not as yet been worked out. Unusual decorations are also being planned the committee announced.

Early announcement is being made of this all-university affair in order to insure its success. Full details of the party will be published as soon as the committee completes the arrangements.

Henry McLemore to See Husker-Pitt Grid Tussle

Henry McLemore, United Press sports columnist, will cover the inter-sectional clash between the Nebraska Cornhuskers and the Pittsburgh Panthers at the Nebraska Memorial Stadium here Saturday, Nov. 14.

Jack Ellis Will Captain Huskers in Kansas Game

John "Jack" Ellis, robust Omaha tackle, will act as game captain for the Cornhuskers in Saturday's game with Kansas, Coach Dana X. Bible announced Monday.

Ellis is a heavy right tackle, weighing 210 pounds, but is surprisingly fast in his position. He has seen plenty of service in every game this season, and it has been seldom make yardage thru his tackle berth. This is Ellis' last year with the Cornhuskers.

UNI ORCHESTRA GAINS PLAUDITS OF 2,500 AT SYMPHONIC CONCERT

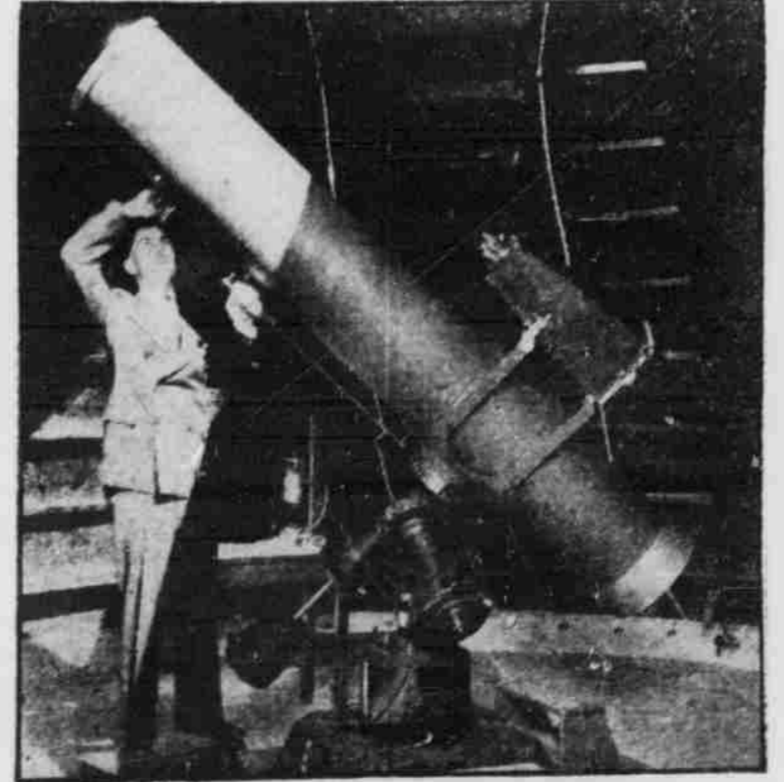

75 Musicians Participate In Presentation at Coliseum Sunday.

Playing from a flower-banked podium on the Coliseum stage Sunday, the University symphony orchestra, under the direction of Raymond R. Reed, presented a well-received concert to a large audience of 2,500.

The orchestra of seventy-five, doubled since last year, and its director won the crowd's highest degree of appreciation for their six symphonic numbers each of which indicated noticeable improvement in the group. Instantly appealing to the audience and receiving the most applause was the orchestra's presentation of Hadley's "Silhouettes," four very colorful and contrasting movements in Spanish, Italian, Egyptian, and Irish rhythms.

Most classic piece of work by the orchestra was Symphony No. 40 in G Minor by Mozart. In Handel's "Sarabande" the string section of the orchestra was given the opportunity to show their great improvement. Slavonic Dance No. 8 by Dvorak and Bach's "Bourne" were also well received by the audience.

University's New Reflector Telescope Ready for Action

Nebraska's new telescope of the reflector type is shown with Carl F. Rust, university astronomer, looking thru the "eye." The bowl-shaped building, which looks like an enlarged, silver beehive on a campus, was constructed by NYA during the summer and the telescope was made in university laboratories. Dome is of wood and the building rests on a circular steel track, allowing scientists to turn the opening in any direction. Box-like device fastened on the lower part of the tube is Rust's camera. Thru an exposure of eight or ten hours it will photograph clearly distant objects in the solar system. Announcement will be made soon concerning the opening of the observatory for public inspection.

MUSIC FACULTY TO GIVE SERIES RADIO PROGRAMS

Broadcasts to Begin Nov. 3 Over KFAB; Miss Cox, Mr. Schmidt Play.

A new series of radio programs by faculty members of the school of music will start this Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 over KFAB.

The first recital will feature Catherine Cox, instructor in violin, accompanied by Herbert Schmidt, instructor in piano. Similar programs will be presented weekly hereafter at the same time. Carl Frederic Stekelberg, professor of violin, assisted by Mrs. Stekelberg at the piano, and Lenore Burkett Van Kirk, will present the seventh musical convocation of the year at the Temple theater at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Program is as follows: Sonata for Piano and Violin, Cesar Franck; allegretto ben moderato, allegretto poco mosso, by Mr. and Mrs. Stekelberg; Toccata in the Night, by "Il Trovatore," Verdi, Mrs. Van Kirk.

PLAYERS BOAST TALENTED CAST FOR COMEDY HIT

Misses Compton, Viele to Play Opposite Ramsay In Leading Roles.

With the announcement of the cast for the second University Players play of the season, rehearsals for the Broadway comedy "Three Men on a Horse" draws near completion for the opening night on Monday, Nov. 9.

Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary and star of many university plays in the past, takes the leading role as Irwin Trowbridge, the meek little man whose specialty was writing Mother's day greeting cards.

Playing opposite Ramsay in the stellar feminine parts are Eleanor Compton, as Irwin's wife, Audrey, and Julia Viele as Mabel, a gambler's girl friend.

Race Track Story.

Three gentlemen of the race track who "borrow" in order to capitalize on his system of betting the horses are Waldemar Mueller, as Pat; W. Frederic Pletten, as Charley; and Paul Bogen, as Frankie.

Allen Gatewood portrays Clarence Dobbing Irwin's brother-in-law, and Don Boehm plays Henry, the hotel bar tender. Delford Brummer takes the part of Mr. Carver, president of the greeting card company for which Irwin works. Elevator boy at the hotel is Maurice Reynolds.

Other characters are Robert Weaver, the tailor; Robert Johnson, the delivery boy; Virginia Amos and Larue Sorrell, newspaper reporters; and Helen Rice, the hotel maid.

Played on Broadway.

Opening on Broadway in January, 1935, "Three Men on a Horse" is now entering its 93rd week of continuous playing in New York. Two road companies successfully toured the country with the comedy last year, and the play had a long run in Chicago.

The story concerns the "smashing" of Irwin Trowbridge, by three broke gamblers who want to test the system of betting on the races that he has doped out as he comes out and from New York each day. Consequent family complications for Trowbridge and the problems of the greeting card company benefit of its ace verse writer furnish comedy and suspense to the play.

STUDENT BODY TO INVADE JAYHAWK STATE FOR GAME

Band, Tassels, Corn Cobs To To Lead Rally March At Lawrence.

With an estimated four hundred students riding the Kansas special and many more making the trip in cars, loyal Nebraskans will descend bodily upon Lawrence, Kansas, for the Nebraska-University of Kansas football game, Saturday, Nov. 7.

The brilliantly attired Cornhusker band, the Tassels, and the Corn Cobs will lead the contingent of Nebraska rooters on a rally march thru the streets of Lawrence before the game, demonstrating the enthusiasm of the invaders taking part in the annual out-state trek.

"Special" Leaves Sat. at 7.
The special train will leave the Union Pacific station here at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and will arrive in Lawrence at noon. Leaving Lawrence at midnight Saturday, the special will return to Lincoln at 6 o'clock, Sunday morning.

Betty Van Horne, student council chairman in charge of arrangements for the annual migration, urged that "all students making the trip should join the party on the special if possible. Not only will students find the trip more enjoyable if they join the group in taking the special, but the possibility of auto accidents will be avoided."

The roundtrip fare is $4.00, the admission to the game $2.20. Tickets will be available all week at the students' activities office in the Coliseum.

Sponsors for the party will be selected by Dean J. T. Thompson and will be announced tomorrow.

ANNUAL EXTENDS ORIGINAL OFFERS FOR 14 DAY DRIVE

Corn Cobs, Tassels, Staff Climax Cornhusker's Final Campaign.

Climaxing one of the Cornhusker's most intensive sales campaigns, Corn Cobs, Tassels, and staff salesmen will swing into two week extension of the drive, Saturday, Nov. 7, to the end of the drive, Sunday, Nov. 8.

"For the purpose of accomplishing a more complete coverage of the entire campus this year than ever before, the sales will continue at the original prices until Nov. 15," Baker stated. "Because of the new features emphasizing all phases of student life on the campus, we want to give all students an opportunity to purchase this book."

One of the conditions to this year's book will be a section of candid photos taken in class rooms showing students and professors depicting true classroom procedure. Baker declared that he wanted every student to take home a book with his own picture taken in classrooms.

Photographers Backed Heavily.
Bill Marsh, editor-in-chief of the annual, stated yesterday that all

KOSMET STARTS SALES CAMPAIGN FOR FALL REVUE

Martin Issues Ducats to Workers for Annual Production.

Kosmet Klub workers will inaugurate an intensive sales campaign this morning for the Annual Fall Revue at which the Nebraska Sweetheart will be presented. Ross Martin, business manager of the dramatics organization announced yesterday.

Issuing over a thousand tickets for the beginning of the sale, Bob Maritz, chairman of the ticket committee, stated his expectancy for one of the most successful sales drives of recent years resulting from the unusual talents already displayed in the preliminary judging of but a few of the 27 skits entered to compete in winning a place on the show program.

The show which is a conglomeration of original skits planned and produced by various fraternities, sororities, and organized groups on the campus is scheduled for Saturday morning, Nov. 21, at the Stuart theater. Beck-Jungbluth's popular Lincoln orchestra has been hired for the show.

Twelve or 14 skits will be selected for inclusion in the show program, when final judging and elimination begins on Thursday evening of this week. All houses wishing to have their act included must have it viewed for the preliminary judging before Thursday, according to an announcement of Bob Shellenberg, club president.

COUNCIL TO DECIDE ON FATE OF PLEDGE CLUB

Constitution of Freshmen Organization Voted on Wednesday.

Fate of the Inter-Pledge Council will be decided when its constitution is presented to the Student Council at its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon. If the constitution is approved by the Student Council, it will be presented before the Faculty Committee, where the final approval must be given before the pledge council can swing into action.

Being presented with the constitution is a party petition. The Inter-pledge Council is petitioning for a dance, to be restricted to the pledges of the social fraternities and sororities on the campus. It would be held November 20. The orchestra and place will be decided pending the approval of the Student Council and the Faculty Committee.

Because no action may be taken by the Inter-pledge Council until the final approval of the constitution, no meeting will be held this evening.

FOUR UNI STUDENTS TO SERVE ON STATE CHRISTIAN COUNCIL

Three-Day Conference of Nebraska Society Ends Sunday.

Placing four university students in executive positions and on committees, the Christian youth meetings of the Student Christian Movement, and the Nebraska Christian Youth Council came to an end Sunday afternoon after three days of worship, lectures, study, and recreation.

Don Rice was chosen treasurer, Jenny Neill, vice president, Carolyn Kile and Henrietta Sanderson were elected to membership on the program committee for the next conference which will be held in Columbus next fall. The conference voted to accept the invitation of the Methodist and Congregational churches to attend their summer gathering at Crete.

Delegates of the conference, which represented ten different denominations, listened Sunday to reports of seven national and world-wide youth meetings given by students who attended the Swissland conference; Gordon Williams on the Swamwich, England, meet; Howard Peterson on the Indianapolis, Jenny Neill on the Lakeside, Alvin Wilks on the Estes Park, and Howard Kalterborn on the Crete conference.

The meeting adjourned Sunday afternoon after a significant recreation service under the direction of June Elrod. It was estimated that 120 delegates attended from twenty Nebraska towns.

BARB COUNCILS JOIN IN PLANNING HOUR DANCE

Eddie Edison Will Furnish Music for Unaffiliated Student's Affair.

Introducing a new kind of party to University social affairs, the Barb A.W.S. and Barb Inter-club council will sponsor a free hour dance for unaffiliated students not living in organized houses, from 7:30 to 9:30 Friday night, Nov. 6, at the Armory.

"All Barb students will be welcome at the dance," stated Dean Worcester, in charge of arrangements, "but we issue a particular invitation to those Barbs not living in organized houses. The affair was planned especially for them."

Music for the dance will be furnished by Eddie Edison. Refreshments will be available.

The affair may lead to a series of Barb hour dances, sponsored by the Barb A.W.S. and Inter-club council, Dean Worcester stated.

Prof. Sears Returns to Campus for Brief Visit

Dr. Paul Sears, former member of the Nebraska botany staff and now head of the botany department at the University of Oklahoma, has been visiting for the past week with faculty friends on the campus. Dr. R. J. Pool, head of the botany department, entertained at a luncheon at the University club Monday noon in Dr. Sears' honor.
