from artists as well as enthologists. Art commentators discovered something new and vigorous in this Negro art, and the collection of it became a rage that swept Europe.
It was discovered, however, that modern African sculpture is the product of an art in decadence since the exploitation and fall of the great African kingdom, and with the exception of masks from the Ivory coast and certain other places the figures are not in the purest tradition. The amount of influence of Negro art has had upon the west is a debated subject, but the wide spread interest in it is a break with the classical tradition.

Kirsch Praises Statuette.
Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the fine arts department, termed the statuette "an unusually beautiful and satisfying example of primitive African sculpture" and declared that "The demand for works of art of this sort has been so great, especially since some of the larger museums have sponsored exhibitions that attracted wide attention, that a large number of construction, of the filtration, aeration and chlorination plants for purifying the water, and of the famous aqueduct and its construction.

"On account of the rugged and diversified character of the country traversed by the Catskill aqueduct, several different types of construction were used," Deklotz stated.

He explained and showed pictures of the cut and cover type, the grade tunnel type, the pressure tunnel type, and the steel pipe siphon type of aqueduct and told why all were used in building this lengthy aqueduct from the Catskill mountains to New York City. In running the tunnel under the Hudson river the engineers were forced to go 1,100 feet below the river bed to find bed rock where the tunnel could be built.

Lucky for You
— It's a Light Smoke!

NO PENALTIES FOR THROATS!
—It's a light smoke
If you're hoarse at the game, it won't be from smoking . . . if yours is a light smoke—a Lucky. When the man with the basket yells "cigars, cigarettes," yell back for a light smoke . . . yell "Luckies!"

Guard that throat!
Block that cough . . . that raw irritation . . . reach for a light smoke . . . a Lucky! Whether you're shouting, and cheering the team, or just talking and singing and laughing at home, there's a tax on your throat you can hardly ignore. So when choosing your smoke, it pays to think twice. Reach for a light smoke . . . a Lucky . . . and get the welcome throat protection that only Luckies offer—the exclusive protection of the process, "It's Toasted." Next time you go places, take plenty of Luckies. They not only taste good, but keep tasting good all day long . . . for Luckies are a light smoke — and a light smoke leaves a clear throat—a clean taste.
