SEEN OVER THE WEEKEND.

Bright blue fingernails on a girl at the Farm House fall party... Agitation over rumors of Clark Gable, Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor at the Cornhusker... Howard White, former B. M. O. C. in town for the game and party... Rally in the Tasty Pastry at intermission... with the entire group standing to sing the Cornhusker... John Jarmin entering to join in the chorus... Marion Brown and Carlisle Myer sipping cokes... Jean Doty whispering to Doug Dort over a booth top... Marian Kidd greeting a friend with a lusty "Hello"... Al Meredith and Phyllis Robinson pushing their way thru the crowd... Wade Meredith and Bill Cline helping to lead cheers... Herb Walt and Mary Ruth Reddish trying to learn the chant... Margaret Phillippe and Tom Cheney waving frantically at someone apparently on top of the stadium... Pershing Rifles in white duck uniforms... Adna Dobson's harrassed look as he rushed up and down the field carrying the line marker... Elizabeth Edison commenting on the thousands of dejected faces from her front row seat... and it was a lovely day, anyway.

N. U. EXECUTIVES DEFEND PRESENT ENTRANCE RULES

Entrance requirements, with emphasis on mathematics, Dean C. H. Oldfather of the arts and science college said, "high school mathematics is a part of present day general education, and some training in mathematics beyond that of arithmetic is to be expected of every person who calls himself educated."

Dean Oldfather also argued that if, for example, the mathematics requirements are eliminated, it will tend to determine the type of higher education that the student may select at an early stage. He pointed out that while some institutions are permitting high school students to enter without mathematics requirements, these students are allowed to register in but few of the colleges. In other words, the lack of mathematical training limits them to an unreasonably small group of courses. He also explained that if the university is forced to provide a great amount of general education, it is bound to have its effect on the amount of specialized training that it can offer.

"The mathematics requirements keep open the avenues of opportunity," said Dean Oldfather.

Thompson Presides.

Dean T. J. Thompson presided, with Dean F. E. Henzlik of the teachers college and Dr. O. R. Martin, acting dean of the college of business administration, taking part in the discussion. The college of arts and sciences was represented by Dean Oldfather, Dr. W. C. Breake, chairman of the department of mathematics; Dr. Harry Kurz, chairman of the department of Romance languages; Dr. E. Clifford Hendricks of the chemistry department; Dr. Joseph Alexis, chairman of the Germanics department, and Dr. Clarence Forbes, chairman of the classics department.

From teachers college in addition to Dean Henzlik were Dr. W. H. Morton, Dr. W. G. Rosenlof, Director R. D. Moritz and Dr. A. R. Congdon.

Dr. J. E. Kirshman and Dr. O. R. Martin represented the college of business administration. Dean O. J. Ferguson attended from the engineering college, and Dr. Harry Bradford from the agricultural college.

Mr. John W. Heisman, first full-time athletic director of old Buchtel college, died recently in New York City. He was the originator of the "Heisman shift" and one of the first advocates of the forward pass.

WOMAN'S JOB 'SNAP' IN U. S.—CRAWFORD

Feminine Equality in Russia, Siberia Unknown, Says Professor.

American women should be more appreciative of their husbands, Prof. R. P. Crawford told members of the Lincoln Kiwanis club Friday. Believers in the equality of women find a great surprise in the Russian and Siberian interpretation of women's rights, Crawford said. "Yes, they do have women's rights in a big way. Wherever there is a dirty job to be done, you will nearly always find the women doing it. Who sweeps the streets? The women. Who does the back breaking labor of laying the ties and rails on the railroad? The women.

"You might ask where the men are. I presume they are at home thinking. When an American begins to think and think, he may soon commit suicide. The Russian thinks and thinks and pretty soon goes to sleep.

"Women receive much more consideration in Japan. The man of the house invites his wife to the ice cream emporium. He has an American made ice cream soda while his wife enjoys a nice cool glass of ice water. Then they go out again very happily.

"But seriously enough, women do play a big part in carrying out the Russian program. It is a common saying among travelers that if you want to get something done in a hurry, hunt up one of the women employees of the hotel dining car, or business house. They are catching on to the English language and American ways of doing things much more rapidly than the men. The whole family may work in Russian and earn as much as fifteen hundred roubles a month. According to their rate of exchange that is three hundred dollars in American money, but in reality it is very much less than that in buying power and probably would not purchase as much as one hundred dollars in America."

If you're looking for a nip and tuck marathon race, be on deck.

SMITH'S DRAWINGS DISPLAY IN TEMPLE

Architecture Professor Submits Municipal Building Plans.

A group of five architectural drawings which Prof. L. B. Smith, chairman of the department of architecture at the University of Nebraska, submitted to Harvard university in 1931 in partial fulfillment of his master's degree are now on display in the department's drafting rooms in the basement of the Temple.

The five drawings all show various details in the construction of a municipal building. The first plate shows a front view of the completed structure, and the ground floor plan; the second, a transverse section, and the second floor plan; the third, the rear elevation, and the basement plan; while the last two show the details, one, a section thru the lobby, and the other a transverse section thru the court room.

Campus CAPS and GOWNS

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH, AND THAT AGE OLD SUPERSTITION. Wer're included to wonder a bit, for thru devious channels, tales of both weal and woe reached our ears. A certain D. U. celebrating the Pitt game in advance, had unfortunate contact with the Pastry detective Friday night. Alpha Phi's Virginia Kenner and Margaret Collins stayed up 'til the wee sma' hours studying for an exam that wasn't given. And another pledge in the 'Phi house burned holes in her best date dress as well as in her sorority mother's dressing table scarf. Or the other hand, Johnston Snipes in a mood of skepticism, walked under ladders and played with black cats with no ill effects. And the Kappas entertained United Press columnist, Henry McLemore at the house Friday night. What's more he didn't talk about journalism, but danced with each one of the sistern several times. Friday the thirteenth—well we don't know.

Discriminating Christmas shoppers will find the new Connoisseur's Shop opening Monday on HOVLAND & SWANSON'S FIRST FLOOR a veritable treasure trove.

Among delectable gifts, all inexpensive, to be found here are cigarette boxes and bookends decorated with McClelland Barclay figures, hammered aluminum fruit bowls and trays, lovable wooly dogs, and imported French dolls, of various sizes, ranging in price from $2.50 to $5.50.

In view of all the complaints we've heard from both masculine and feminine sources, mourning the fact that they haven't dates for the military ball, we feel we might be offering a humanitarian service by initiating a date bureau. Anyone interested in such a proposition may leave their name at the Daily Nebraskan office.

Fun galore is in store for you at the LINCOLN ROLLER RINK, 1709 O, skating, 15 cents; adm. 10 cents.

Here's something new. Playboy Sigma Nu Harry Haney, has made use of his pin. It's now in the possession of Frances Boldman, Delta Gamma.

Mother used to be pretty good at mending clothes, but now it's possible to send your apparel to SOUKUP & WESTOVER MODERN CLEANERS and get even better results. Call F2377 and have that torn formal mended.

And something new in Nebraska spirit, when people started "The Cornhusker" Friday night, students stood up in booths and removed their hats (as well as they could).

Sigma Chis are always ready to protect a brother. Recently they called Barbara Rosewater to ask her why she didn't give brother Bill Butt a better deal. Naive Rosewater, it seems, was stumped.

If Friday the thirteenth turned out to be truly unlucky and you upset a bottle of ink on your dress, let Evans Cleaners take care of Where is Susie's five pound box howl the Tri Deltas. And they have good reason, for Susan Stoll is wearing the P. A. D. pin of the Daily Nebraskan's legal advisor, Allen Berkman, and out in the open too.

We wouldn't want to dispute the Awgwan's statement, but what's this about Delta Gamma Lincoln Magee? With said D G in possession of Phil Oxnam's Beta pin, why does the humor publication bother about Bob Funk and Charles Reilley?

If you would sleep becomingly and well, you'll go to MAGEE'S for Van Raalte's Slumber-Wyns. They're made of fine lisle, with knit cuffs and anklets and smoothie corded ties. You'll find them in pett pink, light blue, melon, and green for $1.95 at MAGEE'S downstairs lingerie shop.
