

HUSKER FOOTBALLERS WILL DRILL SATURDAY FOR VISITING COACHES

Mentor Jones to Put Boys Thru Light Workout in Demonstration.

Chilly breezes greeted the Cornhusker football team yesterday as Coach Biff Jones sent it thru one of the most strenuous workouts of the spring schedule. Tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock the Husker gridsters are to give a demonstration in the form of a light football game to the high school coaches who have converged here attending the N. H. S. A. A. basketball tourney now in progress at the coliseum.

After the usual calisthenics routine, Mentor Jones sent three full squads thru a light dummy scrimmage. The first squad found Rich and Dohrmann at ends; Peters and Mehring at guards; Doyle and Hutcherson playing the tackles; Brock at center; with Burrus as his alternate; and Howell, Rohrig, Andrews and Dodd made up the backfield which did plenty of ball fugging.

Blocking Improves. Most of the afternoon's practice period was devoted to open field blocking and covering of kicks. The blockers worked in doubles protecting the mail carrier while the ends were sent down the rectangle after the punts which spiraled off the educated toes of Howell, Andrews, Dodd, Smith, Phelps and Rohrig. Time and again the coach extolled the blockers for their fine work by saying, "Nice blocking." The blocking, heretofore not any too good, has been improving quite rapidly due to the exacting rehearsals given the forward wall by Line Coach Lyman. However, the work of the linemen is still far from being infallible and Professor Lyman, sensing this verity, herded the primary rampart to the east corner of the field and put it thru some shoulder blocking tactics.

Flinging of the ball thru the ozone and another easy scrimmage brought the curtain to the day's activities.

BOLERO COMES BACK IN STYLE SPOTLIGHT

Tops for all occasions this spring are separate jackets, and especially chic is the bolero, only recently returned to the fashion spotlight. The entire country has caught "Bolero mania."

As popular for evening as for street wear, these jackets are equally smart in the short, fitted Spanish style or in the loose Mexican mode. Of gay trim, the bolero is worn with a bright sash for afternoon frocks, and without the sash for formals. A plain colored dress and simple accessories gain added dash when spiked with a vivid jacket, and sash.

To be effective, the bolero must be as severely tailored as a man's suit, as jaunty as a "jigger" coat, and as feminine as a teagown. According to some fashion experts, the cut off line of the jacket has a tendency to make short people look taller; also other stylists disagree here. Whatever it does, the bolero is here to spend the spring, and smart women everywhere are accepting its casualness and dash with delight.

"I believe that in a well balanced academic community, with proper arrangements for social life among the students, the liberal element in education is largely supplied indirectly." Harvard university's President Conant believes that special courses to provide training for citizenship or to make liberal education available are unnecessary.

The soft "Little" suit is smartly worn by Eileen Donley, brunette Delta Gamma. The two-piece button-front style is youthfully becoming in a lovely shade of dusty rose. Loosely pleated pockets, fine, narrow kid belt, straight, boxy skirt—details of utmost popularity and importance.

Shown with a black acetate scarf, this suit may also be worn with a blouse. Shiny fabric gloves by Van Raalte have link wristlets. The black patent purse adds a touch of dressiness to the ensemble along with the dress-up Ball-bundle straw off-the-face bonnet. The grosgrain streamers in back are for school girls—the cord. The Suit and Hat may be found on Rudge's Second Floor. Scarf, Purse and Gloves from Rudge's Street Floor.

SWIMMERS MEET GRINNELL SQUAD HERE SATURDAY

Ludwick, Hagelin, Thornton, Barry Lead Husker Tank Team.

Nebraska's Scarlet and Cream tankmen will be the hosts to the Grinnell college mermen in the coliseum pool Saturday at 3:30 p. m. Coach Jack Minor's teams have not dropped a meet to this aggregation in the last three years. Altho the score in favor of the Huskers was one sided last year, it is expected that the Iowans will put up a scrappy fight this year.

Four Big Six Champs. Tomorrow's meet will give campus fans an opportunity to see Ralph Ludwick, Pete Hagelin, Bob Thornton and Jack Barry, newly crowned Big Six champions, in their respective events. The mermen have earned 18 wins in 21 starts in three years and they will be seeking their 19th victory in the meet Saturday. Minnesota's Golden Gophers have been the only successful opponents of the Nebraska boys since 1934. The four Huskers that won conference championships at the annual Big Six meet last week will go to Minneapolis March 26 and 27 to enter in the national intercollegiate championships.

Texas Tuesday. Texas university will close the Husker swimming season in the coliseum Tuesday. At this meet Nebraska's will be able to see Adolpha Keefe, Texas freshman, who holds Olympic records and world records in every event from 25 to 1,500 yards. The Longhorns are Southwest conference champions.

The lineup for the Grinnell meet will include Ralph Ludwick, back stroke; Pete Hagelin, dashes; Bob Thornton, breast stroke; Jack Barry, distance; John Krause, breast stroke; Doug Dort, dashes; Krause, distance, and Ken Jones and Leask, diving.

The officials for the meet will be Rudy Vogeler, Lincoln, referee; Tom Leake, head timer, and Al May, clerk of the course.

Best for any spring is navy... with Betty Van Horne of Delta Delta Delta showing the 1937 version. Clever is the Roman striped grosgrain ribbon "buttoned on" the full length of the dress. A short bolero... tapered sleeves short bolero... is most flattering over the nipped-in waistline beneath! The slight swing skirt still prevails. Accessories show fashions significance in rimbous-like off-the-face straw with the ever-youthful back streamers. High-cut gabardine sandals are 1937's with all-around strap. Navy purse and gloves are faultlessly ensembled... the tucked fullness of the pouch bag being complemented in the ruffle of the gloves.

An undergraduate Aladdin who never even rubbed on a Harvard Lampoon to transform an old-fashioned pump into a beer sprouter had his plan—to keep the tank filled with enough beer to last 24 hours—spoiled by the alarm of a passing student.

SPRING BLOUSES FOLLOW FASHION WITH NEW DETAIL

Blouses that look like sweaters and blouses of frilling organdie or eyelet embroidery. Printed with ingenious little designs, and even made of men's striped shirting, with tailored collar and tie.

Nest little tailored shirts in different fabrics are in big demand with tailored suits. Tailored handkerchief linen blouses with rows of stitching are good as is crisp white pique in a perfect suit blouse with tucked bosom and removable studs. Vests are made of stripes of grosgrain, V in front, square in back, in eggplant and dull char-tuse.

Crisp white organdie has short sleeves and the tiny scallops stitched all over like little waves imported organdie shirtwaist with tucks and minute white buttons strewn at random over the front and the high collar that ties in a bow. Pockets that turn down at the corners.

Spring Style Leaders Suggest Gay Accessories to Give That 'Different' Look to Costumes

What's different this spring? Accessories have reached a new high. If your costume is a plain color, go gay with your accessories, but if there is a vivid print in the offering, play it up with sophisticated accessories in subtle colors.

For instance, plain colors need brightness. Try a touch of color on your hat or boutonniere, match a couple of your accessories to one another in contrast to your costume, or snap a large jeweled clip on your hat or lapel—it's smart. And have you seen those tricky belts made from tie hemp or raffia which fasten in dashing sailor knots or reflect the pirate influence? Let's go nautical.

Patent Leather Gloves.

Gloves of patent leather or patent leather trimming are the latest. And jewelry is colorful and worn most everywhere. The newest thing is the wearing of clips, colored stones, or pins at the neckline or lapel. Hats are exciting this spring—make yours of the swooping off-the-face variety, a rolling-brim sailor, a turban, or a pillbox and you will be in step with spring.

Fancy shoes are in—cut, slashed and punched with wonderful designs and open heels and toes. Slate blue is the new color in shoes and is extremely effective when worn with prints having a matching background. Shoe materials are of all varieties, but especially popular are gabardine, reverse calf and kid. That brownish-red leather shade shown in this spring's shoes is seemingly taking the place of the British tan of last year.

Be chic in colored hosiery to match your shoes. You'll find it in that devastating reddish shade or in slate blue. Bags are of all shapes and sizes.
