

NEW MORTAR BOARD, INNOCENTS

Miss Elaine Benjamin Miss Donna Blatt Miss Betty Cherry Miss Jane Walcott Miss Martha Morrow Miss Marie Kotone Miss Genevieve Bennett Miss Winifred Nelson Miss Zsazsa Mull Miss Jane Bayliff Miss Jean Marvin
Webster Mills Robert Wadhams Al Moseman Winfield Elias Don Boehm John Howell Ed Murray Earl Hedlund David Bernstein Willard Burney Bob Martz Thurston Phelps Dick Brown

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Student Newspaper of the University of Nebraska

VOL. XXXVI—NO. 141.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1937.

PRICE 5 CENTS

Honoraries Reveal New Members

Exhibits, Horse Show to Open Ag Festival Today

SHOW FEATURES TEN CLASSES COMPETITION

With ten different classes of competition that promise everything from a modified steeple chase to the annual inter-sorority riding contest, the 1937 Farmers' Fair Horse Show will open in the State Fair Grounds Coliseum at 8:30 tonight. Officially opening the annual ag fair, the equine show is the largest spring horse show in the middlewest.

Fifteen women have entered the inter-sorority riding contest, and will compete for the Faulkner trophy awarded annually to the winner of the event. The women who will ride and the horses whose colors they will fly are as follows: Barbara Buffington, Alpha Phi; Janet Caldwell, Pi Phi; Victoria Seymour, Geraldine Wallace, Marion Magge, Virginia Wallace and Nan Talbot, Delta Gamma; Eloise Copenhaver, Alpha Delta Theta; Mary Davison, Marie Christensen, Lorraine Grant, and Adele Byers, Kappa Alpha Theta; Betty Reece and Blanche Wriester, Chi Omega; and Elsie Carlson, unaffiliated.

Novel Chair Race.

As a novel event this year's fair board has added a new inter-fraternity competitive class to the show program. The Greek chair race promises plenty of action and excitement, as competitors race the length of the arena and scramble for the chairs lest they be the one to lose out.

A modified olympic event has been added to the program which will provide plenty of thrills and spills. Each entry will take the course of ten jumps against time and the winner determined by a comparison of time made. The olympic was introduced last year and proved so popular that the board decided to make it an annual event. Earl Hedlund, manager of the horse show declared.

Three special exhibitions between competitive classes will lend the show the atmosphere of the nation's largest festivals. James Foster of Omaha is bringing his world famous high school horse, Ritzie McDonald, as a special attraction for the show. The horse, which will be ridden by Alan

AG COLLEGE GOES ON PARADE

Utilizing the theme of an old southern plantation, the grounds of the Agricultural college will be transformed into a fit setting for the "Cotton Pickers Revue" and the presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture, as well as the numerous exhibits and features planned for the 19th annual Farmers' fair.

The fair will start at 9 o'clock in the morning with the opening of all buildings on the campus. Exhibits of various projects and research work being done this year will be displayed and explained by students. Various projects of great interest to housewives and to farmers will provide an adequate reason for the wide attendance expected from all over the state.

Elsie Buxman, goddess of agriculture will preside over the fair

(Continued on Page 2.)

FINAL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR NBC BROADCAST

Pontiac Varsity Show Goes on Air From KFAB at 8:30 Tonight.

The University of Nebraska will go on a nationwide hook-up this evening when the Pontiac program goes under way in the coliseum at 8:30. Final selections for the cast of the program which will be broadcast over a chain of N. B. C. network stations, were made late last evening after a rehearsal in the coliseum.

The program will open with a presentation of one of the university's oldest songs, "Dear Old Nebraska U." It will be sung by Ne-

(Continued on Page 3.)

COLLEGES CELEBRATE FIELD DAY BY OUTINGS

Classes Dismiss at 11 for Baseball, Picnics, Convocations.

Picnics, baseball games, tall story contests, and convocations will replace Ivy day activities in the calendar for today when classes are dismissed at 11 o'clock in the Bizad, engineering, law and pharmacy colleges.

A noon picnic with afternoon field events and dancing at Antelope park are included in the plans of the Bizad executive board for that school. A field carnival and the annual law college banquet will take up the time of the legal students.

At Pioneer park will be the annual picnic of the pharmacy students, always held the day after Pharmacy Night in order to give the druggists a bit of relief after a strenuous week end. A convocation in the morning and field events at municipal baseball diamond are the festivities which engineers anticipate.

Feature of the business administration picnic will be the annual student-faculty softball game at two o'clock. A series of novelty races sponsored by the city recreational department, will precede the dancing at the pavilion. The festivities will close at 5:30 p. m.

The outin g, an annual affair, is held for the purpose of giving bizad students opportunity to know each other, and to promote good feeling between faculty and students. The bizad executive council headed by Robert Williams, president, is in charge of all arrangements. He is assisted by Quinn Scott, Edward Markytan, James Gray, Miriam Butler, Kay Rissler, Robert Avery and Norman Shaw.

All-University Dance. All university students are invited to attend the dancing which will begin in the pavilion at three o'clock and last until 5:30. Admission for those not attending the picnic will be 20 cents.

Initiation of new members into the Order of the Coif, national honorary law fraternity, is the important activity of the legal college's half-day vacation. The ceremony will take place at 11

(Continued on Page 4.)

MAY QUEEN AND MAID OF HONOR

Miss Jean Walt, president of Mortar Board, was crowned May Queen at the annual Ivy Day ceremonies Thursday morning. Maid of honor was Miss Jane Keefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Keefer of Lincoln. Miss Walt is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Walt of Lincoln.

JEAN WALT CROWNED 1937 QUEEN OF MAY

Jane Keefer Acts as Maid of Honor Amid Ivy Day Pomp, Ceremony.

With a blare of trumpets and a burst of applause marking her appearance, Jean Walt, Lincoln was crowned as the May Queen of 1937 amid the pomp and ceremony of the traditional Ivy day festivities. Miss Walt, daughter of Mrs. Fred Walt, is a senior in Teachers college and is the president of the active chapter of Mortar Board. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Preceding Miss Walt in the royal procession was Jane Keefer, who served as maid of honor during the ceremonies. Miss Keefer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Keefer of Lincoln and is a senior in the arts and science college. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Misses Krasne, Geister Pages.

Serving as pages for the coronation, Muriel Krasne of Fremont and Miss Virginia Geister of Garland trumpeted the approach of the royal procession. Attendants from each of the four classes followed the satin garbed pages up the white patch to the throne.

Presenting a background of spring color for the coronation, the attendants wore picture frocks of diaphanous organza in the primavere pastels—waitz one for the freshmen; heather pink for the sophomores; aquatone for the juniors; and cornflower yellow for the seniors. The dresses were fastened with a softly draped bodice above a streamer belt, puff sleeves held high, and a neckline that pointed to a front V. The skirts fell gracefully to a floating "ack fullness, and were caught at intervals with English daisies. Their costumes were completed with prim, little wattleau hats of matching organza, ruffled and slightly peaked in the oriental manner. Open toe sandals, and fitted gloves to match the shades of their dresses completed the costumes. All carried round Colonial bouquets of daisies.

Freshmen Lead Procession.

Freshman attendants who lead the procession to the throne were Marie Eggers of Omaha and Jean Meents of Omaha. Sophomores were Bonnie Burn of Lincoln and Patricia Jensen of Deadwood, S. D. The four junior attendants included: Kathryn Winqest of Holdrege, Virginia Anderson of Omaha, Katherine Kilback of Hoodriver, Ore., and Agnes Novacek of Milligan. Seniors were Ardis Graybell of Neligh and Vera Wekesser of Lincoln.

A gown of sheer white was worn by the May Queen for the ceremony. Patterned along Princess lines, the gown was very fitted and straight, falling in full and soft folds to the hemline. Her court train was shirred to the dress a little below the waist and tiny buttons marched from the waist up on the back of the dress. Sleeves of the dress were short and puffed, the bodice was gathered full and caught at the low V neckline by a brilliant clip. The long veil was of white silk tulle, falling from the shoulderline. Miss Walt wore white sandals and long white kid gloves to complete her costume. Her bouquet was made up of white roses and calla lilies.

Miss Keefer Veiled.

The maid of honor presented a charming picture as she approached the throne. She was dressed in a starched lace gown of Dresden pink color, patterned on Spanish lines with a short sleeved

(Continued on Page 3.)

Maxine Durand, Wadhams Named to Top Positions

Tapping of 13 new members to the Innocents society and the masking of 12 women who will form the new Mortar Board society brought a climax to an eventful day of university Ivy Day festivities. Set under bright skies in a warm spring atmosphere, a drama that brought tears of enthusiasm to the eyes of many parents and students was formed as the traditional ceremonies of tapping and masking the outstanding activity students of the junior class took place.

MOSEMAN GETS HARDEST TAPPING

Tapped as the 34th president of the Innocents Society by William Marsh of Fremont was Bob Wadhams of Lincoln, who is a member of Sigma Nu. Among his activities are junior class president, assistant business manager of the Daily Nebraskan, junior-senior prom committee, debate team, and associate member of Kosmet Klub. Perhaps the hardest "tapping" was endured by Albert A. Moseman of Oakland when Sam Francis Hebron brought him to earth as the new vice-president of the men's

(Continued on Page 3.)

MORTAR BOARDS SELECT TWELVE JUNIO

With the masking of Maxine Durand by Jean Walt, retiring president of the Mortar Board, the afternoon work of women's senior honorary organizations' was well under way. By virtue of her being the first girl to be masked, Miss Durand will serve as president next year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Durand of Morrill and is a junior in the college of arts and sciences. Miss Durand's activities include: Member of the A. W. S. board in her junior year, re-elected member of A. W. S. board for next year, Y. W. C. A. cabinet for two years, member of Good Counselors, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Varsity of the Latop. She is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Miss Durand

Serving as next year's vice president of the senior honorary organization will be Eloise Benjamin, who was masked by Mary Yoder, retiring vice president. Miss Benjamin is the daughter of Mrs. M. F. Benjamin of Lincoln. Registered in the college of arts and sciences, Miss Benjamin has the following activities: Treasurer for two years, will serve as vice president of the Talsels next year, member of Student council this year and re-elected for next year, national president of Phi Sigma Chi, Y. W. C. A. staffs, Good Counselor, and Iota Sigma Phi. She is a member

(Continued on Page 4.)

N. U. PROFESSORS TAKE ACTIVE PART IN SCIENCE MEET

Over 200 Delegates to Attend Academy of Sciences Convention.

A prominent part in the 47th annual convention of the Nebraska Academy of Sciences, which opens today for a two day session, will be played by Nebraska faculty members. Held in conjunction with the Nebraska section of the Mathematical Association of America, Nebraska Council of Geography Teachers, Nebraska Science Teachers association and Nebraska Die-

(Continued on Page 3.)

Engineers' Night Vies With Ivy Day for Color, Activity

Throngs Witness Latest in Scientific Discovery at Open House.

Ivy Day by no means ends with the recession of the newly crowned queen with her court, as attested to by the throngs which crowded the campus last night from 7 to 10 o'clock to enjoy Open House Night. Neon and electrical signs, and outdoor sound movies added to the general festiveness of the scene, reminding one of a fair—a fair showing the latest in scientific achievement as reflected in the work of university students.

Smoke pouring from the mechanical engineering building was ingeniously colored fiery red by means of lights within the chimney and seemed indicative of the bustling activity going on inside. All of the various machines were going full force as well as a number of special exhibitions. One of the most popular, drawing even several police officers to watch, was in connection with the flow of molten iron from a large furnace into a series of troughs and moulds. Another exhibition at which one peered thru smoked glass, showed electric arc welding at a temperature of 6500° F. and oxy-acetylene welding at 6300° F. At a liquid air demonstration given four times by Prof. J. W. Haney various fruits and vegetables were frozen so hard they could be chipped like stone by a hammer, and mercury was frozen so hard the tit could be used as the hammer.

Use Electric Eyes. Electric engineers kept track of the number of visitors passing thru their building by means of an electrical eye. Here the spectators were shown a miniature telephone exchange, and broadcasting station, and were allowed to send the message telegrams in a teletype demonstration. One thing which particularly seemed to arouse curiosity, but of which none appeared able to discover the secret, was a coffee pot, suspended by a small wire inside a glass case, which continuously poured coffee into a cup with absolutely no visible means of refilling the pot. Agricultural engineers had pre-

(Continued on Page 4.)

Students May Secure Free Pontiac Tickets

Free tickets of admission to the university's broadcast of the Pontiac Varsity show Friday night at 8:30 o'clock from the Cornhusker coliseum may be secured from the following:

- Daily Nebraskan office in U Hall.
- Student activities office in the coliseum.
- Alumni office in the Temple theater.
- Daily Nebraskan booth in the Temple theater.
- Miss Schnurr in Ag hall on ag campus.
- Mrs. Erickson in School of Music office.

THETAS, BETAS SCORE WIN IN GREEK SINGS

Jane Eldridge, Jim Begley Lead Victorious Groups In Annual Contest.

The songs "Theta Lips" and "Beta Loving Cup" carried off first places for Kappa Alpha Theta and Beta Theta Pi in the inter-sorority and interfraternity spring sings yesterday. Receiving the sorority cup from Barbara DePutron, former president of the A. W. S., was Jane Eldridge, who directed the Thetas. Jim Begley accepted the fraternity cup from Bob Shellenberg, president of Kosmet Klub, in behalf of the Betas.

Placing second in the morning division of the Greek sing was Sigma Alpha Epsilon with the song "Violet," followed by Delta Upsilon with "Down Among the Dead Men." Sigma Phi Epsilon, who won last year's sing, and

(Continued on Page 4.)