

Cornhuskers Retain Big Six Title

FRANCIS BREAKS SHOT PUT RECORD WITH 51 91-2 TOSS

Individual Scoring Honors Go to Lloyd Cardwell With 15 Points.

By Joe Zelle.

Two of the greatest athletes ever to flaunt Scarlet and Cream colors, Lloyd Cardwell and Sam Francis ended their athletic collegiate careers yesterday at Memorial stadium by setting the pace as the Huskers scored 67 1/2 points to win the Big Six track and field championship.

One new record was written in the books as Sam Francis threw the shot put 51 feet 9 1/2 inches to eclipse the old mark of 51 feet 3 3/4 inches established by Elwyn Dees of Kansas university. Other schools scored as follows: Kansas 49 1-2, Kansas State 37, Oklahoma 25, Iowa State 24 and Missouri 22.

In helping his teammates retain their '36 diadem, Cardy took individual scoring honors by virtue of garnering 15 points. He won the broad jump at 23 feet 9 5/8 inches and the 220 yard low hurdles in 24.4 besides placing second in the 120 yard high hurdles and fifth in the discus. Jack Richardson of Kansas was also a double winner, taking the 100 yard dash in 10.1 and the 220 yard chase in 22 seconds flat.

Simmons Surprises in Quarter.

The biggest surprise of the day came in the 440 yard race as Bob Simmons, Nebraska quarter miler, amazed the 5,000 fans, coaches and officials by turning in a first in the time of 49.1. Matched against such stars as John Cunningham of Iowa State and James Jesson of Kansas State, the Husker star was predicted to place fourth at the best. Running the mile chase in a dead heat of 4:22.9, Wilson Andrews and Fred Matteson, both of N. U., set a new Nebraska varsity mark for this event. The old record was held by Glenn Funk in the recording of 4:28.

Lloyd Eberhardt of Kansas State and Bob West of Nebraska put on a spirited battle in the 880 yard amble with the former winning in the time of 1:54.4. It was in this hotly contested event that Rex Kirkman, titian-haired runner from Missouri, dropped to the cinders from sheer exhaustion after staying in the race for about 500 yards.

Pegging the javelin 188 feet 11 1/4 inches, Felton Durand of Kansas turned in a first and was trailed by Nathan Anderson who threw the spear 186 feet 4 1/2 inches. Ray Noble and Don Bird, both of K. U., tied for first in the pole vault with a catapult of 13 feet even. Warren Kelley of Missouri retained high jump honors won last season as he leaped over the bar yesterday at 6 feet 2 inches.

Three Discus Titles.

For the third consecutive year, Paul Fanning, K-Aggie ace, won the discus event. His winning throw at this meet in the platter-throwing diversion was good for 150 feet 4 3/4 inches. The Iowa State mile relay squad of John Cunningham, Robert Dean, William Stoufer and Orville Schmidt came within one-tenth second of tying the conference mile mark of 3:17.6 established by Kansas State.

Six Nebraska seniors finished their athletic careers yesterday in aiding the Huskers capture their fifth Big Six outdoor crown. Les Pankonin, Dick Fischer, Lloyd Cardwell, Sam Francis, Bob Warnke, and Fred Matteson will no longer be attired in athletic togs doing duty for the Cornhuskers.

The summary:

100 yard dash: Won by Richardson (K);

HUSKER GOLFERS GRAB BIG SIX CHAMPIONSHIP

Rounding the turn at noon, Reed and Simpson led the field with a tie count of 73 strokes apiece.

During the morning tests, the Sooners were burdened with six less strokes than the Huskers and at the noon time halfway mark it looked like an Oklahoma crown. However, the post meridian play found steady, well studied shots bringing the Huskers slowly to the front.

FIRST MUSEUM FIELD PARTY PULLS OUT FOR STATE FOSSIL SEARCH

Other Parties Ready. Almost simultaneously with the close of school, several other museum parties will have been packed and will head for important sites in the far western end of Nebraska. C. E. Schultz and his student scientists will spend considerable time in and about Broadwater, Harrison, Crawford and Bridgeport, not only exploiting the fossil beds, but attempting to bring to light important data concerning the age of man in the middlewest and other Pleistocene problems.

Still other university field parties will be working along the valleys of northeastern Nebraska. Dr. E. H. Bell and his several groups will establish camps early in the summer thruout the entire eastern end of the Niobrara valley, where they will continue the work at Lynch and other known prehistoric camp sites.

FIRST YEARBOOK HAD DONKEY AS HONORARY BOARD MEMBER

Numbers of the "Sombrero" continued to be issued until 1907, when the name was changed to "The Cornhusker," which is an amalgamation of the junior annual and the senior classbook which used to be issued by the seniors alongside the junior annuals.

With a total of nearly 40 publications as its predecessors, the 1937 Cornhusker makes its appearance, a successor to past annuals, but presenting, in its several entirely new features and in its policy "to acclaim the activities of the present rather than repeat those of the past," a really new type of publication, a progress as definitely forward as the flight of the Thunder Bird which constitutes its theme.
