Link's 'Datter' Reigns as May Queen.

By Ed Steeves.

That man behind the perennial cigar is Coach Link Lyman, line coach. The balled tobacco is pointing at a higher angle than usual because yesterday his little "datter", age 14 was crowned queen of the May at Irving junior high. All yesterday afternoon he was a flitting about carrying big smiles all over his face. You could tell by his expression that his one small daughter in the throes of the spring blossoms made him twice as happy as all 11 men out on a tall Saturday's gridiron.

LINK LYMAN From Lincoln Journal

Biff Jones was worrying a little yesterday about the eligibility of his men next year. If any athlete intends to compete in any competitive sport this summer, Jones advises them to confer with him first to see if the Big Six rulings will allow it.

Jones is quite right, too, for while most of the men who have entangled themselves in technicalities of Big Six rulings have usu-

EYES DON'T WEAR OUT, BUT DISEASE DESTROYS VISION

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (ACP). Eyes do not wear out; so why try to save your vision by cheating yourself of reading, sewing or the movies? It is only disease, explains Dr. Theodore L. Terry, instructor in ophthalmology at the Harvard University medical school, that destroys vision. Diseased conditions, he declared, can often be discovered in examinations before the patient notices any symptoms. Important signals of danger are rainbow-like halos around artificial lights and blurred vision early in the morning which clears as the day advances. Read when, where and how you like, said Dr. Terry, but get enough light, use glasses if glasses are necessary and have an eye examination every two or three years.

Princeton 'Free Week' Puts Upperclassmen on Own Resourcefulness

PRINCETON, N. J. (ACP). Criticism that college students are not allowed to break their shackles long enough to exercise initiative is being met at Princeton University by the introduction of a "free week," during which upperclassmen can carry on and study independently. This plan designed for juniors and seniors, will be conducted experimentally for one year. Upperclassmen are being released from classrooms for the week preceding the annual spring vacation. An outstanding feature of the Princeton curriculum has been the amount of self-education expected of juniors and seniors. The free study week is being established to give the student even more chance to use his own resourcefulness.

Acacia's Track Title Protested In Trophy Race

Fraternities Charge Use Of Ineligible Men in Intramural Meet.

Acacia was still holding tenaciously to her margin in the intramural race for the Jack Best trophy yesterday, although a protest has been filed against the legality of her track title.

With a lead of 45 points not counting the track markers, Acacia's chances to retain the all-year title this annum depend upon the decision of the intramural committee. The complaint registered at the intra Greek office states that the winners of the annual track meet played ineligible men.

Should the objection be overruled the H. st. boys would have the cup undisputedly; should their points be thrown out of the ledger, Sigma Nu, who won third in the meet, would step into the lead.

Final tallies, omitting the disputed track counters, stand with Acacia leading 841, Alpha Tau Omega second 796, Sigma Nu third 794, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fourth 716.

'Indian's' Huskers Win 17 Cinder Titles in 24 Years

Saturday's Victory Marked Fifth Championship in Big Six Circle.

By Bob Dreibus.

Twenty-four years ago Henry "Indian" Schulte sent his first track team into competition at Missouri. Since that time the genial Husker mentor's cinder and field artists have emerged from the wars with the winner's laurels no less than 17 times—a great tribute to a man who is recognized the world over as a genius in his field of athletic endeavor. The triumph that the Indian's runners scored in yesterday's Big Six track and field meet was a golden double win, for the Huskers also left the track last year with the crown on their respective heads. Crowns seem to run in pairs for the Husker coach's track teams. Last year they won both the indoor and outdoor titles and repeated this year. Since the Big Six loop was organized in 1929 Nebraska has finished as low as third only once, have been runners-up three times, and finished with the crown five times.

Line Coach in Fall.

Schulte, known as "Pa" to Cornhusker fans, not only is a leader in track but also doubles as line coach during the football season. The venerable, bespectacled tutor spent his collegiate days as an athlete on the famed Michigan "point a minute" football squad under the famous grid coach, Fielding H. Yost.

Although inclined to be somewhat pessimistic about his team's chances of coming through on top in a pending meet, "Indian" never seems to be worried about the outcome once a meet has begun. With a word of advice here and a comment there, he is ever noting mistakes and sets about to correct them from the very start.

No More Stogies.

Until recent years the Indian was easily recognized by an ever present stogie, which, although rarely lit, was his one indulgence. Today he has given up the cigar smoking habit which was his trademark and has shifted his patronage to P. K. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame. To Cornhusker athletes, students, and fans, Henry Schulte is a part of the university. A tribute to the feeling which the great track coach has instilled in his "boys" was exemplified as Lloyd Cardwell, who will enter the books as one of the greatest of Husker athletes, embraced the Indian as he left the field following a record day of point scoring—not a part of the track meet to be sure but the tribute of an athlete to his coach.

COLGATE U STUDENTS TO STUDY DICTATORS

HAMILTON, N. Y. (ACP)—How dictators establish themselves and retain power over subjects is going to be studied next fall in a new course, "dictators and dictatorships," at Colgate university.

In announcing the new subject, Dr. Rodney L. Mott, director of the university's School of Social Sciences, explains that "an attempt will be made to show that dictatorships have come from writings of intellectuals who influence public opinion, from economic factors, or from psychological post-war attitudes and military factors."

"In the latter stages of the course the students will take up the actual operations of a government under a dictator with such subjects as the new constitution in dictator-controlled nations, the relation of the state and industry, religion, civil liberties and propaganda considered as points for study."

"Dictators are here to stay, for a while at least," concluded Dr. Mott, "and the students might just as well know how they work. It will be a part of their education."

'Viewers With Alarm' Of Today Likened to 2800 B. C. 'Gloomsters'

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (ACP). Sermons of today's "gloomsters," who view the world "with alarm," are much like those preached scores of centuries ago.

So said Dr. Frederick C. Perry, president of Hamilton college, on the basis of writings taken from an Assyrian tablet, dated 2800 B. C.

"The earth is degenerating in these latter days," reads the ancient stone slab. "There are signs that the world is speedily coming to an end. Bribery and corruption abound."

"The children no longer obey their parents. Every man wants to write a book, and it is evident that the end of the world is speedily approaching."

Henry Busse Played On Battered Trumpet In U. S. First Years

When Henry Busse first came to the United States almost 25 years ago, he brought with him a battered trumpet which he used in starting his musical career. When the genial maestro brings his famous orchestra to the Turnpike this Friday night, he will have with him a trumpet that was made according to his own specifications. In the trumpet the tubing has been changed to eliminate coarseness of tone, and produce a soprano effect.
