AS JOHNNY SEES IT.

One of the pet gripes of the men on the campus is the way the female sex expect to be pampered and made over by the men. When it comes to the point where we have to call a girl three weeks in advance for a date, it's time for the men on the campus to swing into action.

Why does a lovely coed say no to a date for Friday on Wednesday just because she wants to make you think that she is dated up for weeks. And all the time she's reading "Gone With the Wind" Friday night? If it's pride, it's silly—it's making the girls sit at home and the boys look for other dates.

My lovely co-correspondent seems to be enticing one of the frosh by her feminine charms. Bob McCambell you'd better watch that siren. This by way of controversy.

Not all of my fan mail is unfriendly. I received a letter from an enthusiastic supporter today but I won't bore you with the copy. At any rate one person is running interference for me.

I wonder when it became a custom for the freshmen to wear their hats in classes. It would be my idea for the school to hire Charlie Brock to see that the freshmen wear their hats at the proper angle.

From all I've heard about these Ray twins, the new Kappa pledges, I wish someone would fix me up sometime. I saw Dick Kosman standing alone in front of the Drug today. Dick you are not losing that sweet poise and personality, are you? Where was Kitty?

AS MARY ANNA SEES IT.

Saturday night on one of those blind dates that Carrie Louise Meyer objects to so, one of the dating pledges lost her contact. So when a helpful soul turned on the light to search for the tobit, another of the little men said: "Let's turn out the lights." "My, my," murmured Kappa pledge Ann Husted, "how suggestive!"

Mary Marnell, now Theta, still flaunts her Stanford Kappa Sig pin, but claims it doesn't mean a thing. While on the subject of Theta pledges, I might add that when the phone rings more than three times and it's for a pledge, she's not allowed to take it. A word of warning—if you fellows want dates at that house, you'd better appear in person.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

Even Slim Meyer was a bit nonplussed when young sister, Betty, and her escort, Billie Sawtell, arrived home very late one night carrying a fence post.

Harold Rahn has finally anchored his Sigma Chi cross. The gal is D. G. Margaret Johnson, and it all happened this summer.

Fiji Waldo Deck has no end of competition from Minnesota men. In fact, Mil Holland is planning soon to trek north for a red letter weekend, and Mary Helen Husted is counting the days until the Minnesota game.

THESE FRESHMEN.

Eve Jane Sinclair says she's getting fed up hearing about the gorgeous freshmen. Which reminds me of a quip Leonard Dunker made. After a blind date with Lillian Roberts, Dunker remarked to a Tri Delt that he had been hearing about their smooth pledges, but hadn't as yet met any of them.

Anna Marie Ruth at the Alpha Xi Delta house seems to have a zoo complex. Every time she has a date she asks to go out to Antelope to see the animals. I always thought people went to the park to dance.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

A personal friend just came to me with her troubles. It seems that someone just asked her for a date to the military ball. Of course said friend hedged for time and made the usual excuses about letting him know later, etc. "Make up your mind. It's either now or the waste basket," replied the fellow.

THEY CARRY THE COLORS.

The first blue Monday of the year brought freshmen to their respective houses for their first taste of the lowly life of a pledge. The majority of the houses elected their officers Marador Cropper, Eleanore Berner, Maxine Wagner and Mary Stoddard head the pledge class of Alpha Phi. The D. G.'s let Betty Stevenson, Jane Cook, Joan Williams and Margaret Krause hold their reins.

At the Alpha Xi Delt house, Betty Rose Conway, Annette Biernbaum and Kathryn Horrigan took the lead. Thetas chose Priscilla Chain, president and as yet haven't disclosed the rest of their officers. Alpha O's put their stamp of approval on Mary Margaret Schmidt, Josephine Ley, Charlotte Utt and Lois Harpater.

New Chi O officers are Jean Hooper, Wilamene Erickson, Jean

Simonsen and Mildred Hill. Their closest neighbors, the Pi Phis, have as their favored few, Jean Parkinson, Jane Shaw, Betty Roach, Ruth Ross and Ruth Fox.

Alyce Blaufuss and Dorothy Campbell are head women in the Kappa younger set, with Doris De Long and Betty Dunn filling the same posts at the Tri Delt house, and Rita Rist, Betty Ann Eginton and Phyllis Long of Alpha Chi.

Gamma Phi elected Marian Bradstreet, Arlene Hawkins, La Vera Oakley and Mary Louise Kancel to carry the colors. Billie Sling lead the chase at the Kappa Delt house with Betty Bennett and Louise Wilkie to aid and abet her.

THE POWERS THAT BE.

Fraternity pledges, too, had their first taste of politics, but all in good clean fun. The results, anyhow, are: Doug Taylor, Bob Midbrook, Angus Nichols and Dick Boyer who'll govern the new Deltas. At the Beta house, all offices went to Grand Island boys, Ed Huswalt, Herbert Glover and Sid Hardeeman.

Way out at Farm House, Marvin Cruise, Art Moseman, Lyle Shoat and Myron Christianson are in the ruling class. The eyes had it for Brandon Backlund, Cedric Johnson and Fred Saitman at the Phi Delt quarters, and Joe Elliott and Al Baum will lead the way at the Psi Gam house.

The Phi Pias may not have hour dances this semester, but they are having pledge officers: Chauncey Sheldon, Bob O'Connell, Maynard Schwartz and Bob Fuchs. John Jones, Jack Marquardt, Bill McKerney and Arthur Forman will preside over freshman Sigma Chis. The Sig Ep leaders are Walter Savidge, John Brown, Ernest May and Frank Regan.

Frank Scott, Ted Heikess, Bill Jolpe and Claude Deitz head the list of uninitiated Theta Xis, as do Bill Kilpatrick, George Hall and Milton Kuska of Phi Sigma Kappa. Zeta Beta Tau, Stuart Ganz and George Frischer came out ahead. Bus Knight, Jack Cole, Howard Marshall and Gene Richardson will carry on for dear old Sigma Nu. Ralph Staubbaum and Don Keister take up their duties soon as Theta Chi pledge president and treasurer respectively.

12 STAFF POSITIONS OPEN ON AG MONTHLY

Filings Must Be Submitted In Ag Hall Room 301 By 5:00 Today.

With yesterday's 5 o'clock meeting postponed, students interested in filing for positions on the Cornhusker Countryman have until 4 p. m. today to apply for the following staff positions:

Assistant agriculture editor, Art editor, Business manager, Three assistants in the editorial department, Three assistants in the business department, Three assistants in the circulation department.

According to E. T. Prescott, publication advisor, all students interested should present their applications in room 301, Ag hall, before the 4 p. m. meeting.

CROSS COUNTRY MATERIAL LOOKS BRIGHT TO SCHULTE

Team Loses West But Kuper, Andrews, Brownlee and P. Owen Return.

Despite the loss of Bob West, major letterman both in cross-country and track, who is not taking enough hours to compete, the 1937 cross-country squad shows a promising array of material.

Wilson Andrews, John Brownlee, Al Kuper, and Paul Owen, all lettermen in track, Fred Koch and Bob Allen, members of the 1936 cross-country machine, are returning along with a host of promising sophomores, headed by Jack Calnon and Roy Gatch, who were awarded freshman numerals last year. With this potential talent on hand, the outlook for "Pa" Schulte's boys during the current season would seem anything but pessimistic.

The Huskers open with Iowa State at Ames. After this, the unofficial schedule calls for meeting with Kansas State, Missouri, and Oklahoma, in addition to the Big Six championships at Manhattan. All races with the exception of the last will be run between the halves at football games.

'BLUE PRINT' STAFF TODAY INAUGURATES SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

October 10 Set as Deadline For Engineering College Monthly's Copy.

The staff of the Blue Print, publication of the engineering college, today is launching an intensive drive for subscriptions. As a goal the engineers are aiming at 250 paying readers.

In opening the drive the subscription hunters will concentrate upon the freshmen by making a personal canvass of all the laboratories meeting today. Later in the week the upperclassmen will be contacted. As yet, no publication date has been set, but according to general manager of the publication, Harry Langston, Oct. 10 is the deadline for the first issue.

Publication Staff.

The publication staff consists of Langston, general manager, Gerald Gillan, editor, and Jay L. King, business manager. Department heads are Francis Libershal Sledge, p.; J. F. Freed, Engines and Nebraska Engineers; G. M. Gillan, Alumnus; and Gillan and Langston cover. The editor of Technical Notes has not yet been appointed.

The publication board is made up of Dean O. J. Ferguson, Prof. M. I. Evinger, Prof. Niles H. Barnard, Langston, Gillan, and King.

On the business side of the publication are Carter Gant, local advertising; Harold Bishop, alumni subscriptions; Barton Berg, student and faculty subscriptions; and N. H. Miller, circulation. Other members of the staff are: Charles Adelsack, W. B. Berg, Harry W. Brown, R. P. Connett, Bernard J. Dalton, Jay Forrester, H. E. Haynes, Arthur Larson, Paul Lindestrom, Frances Lotterle, Louis Lundstrom, Emanuel Olson, V. H. Paulson, W. W. Reedyte, J. D. Smith, N. P. Stout, and Glen Cameron.

UNIVERSITY RIFLE CLUB START YEAR SEPT. 29

Freshmen Invited to First Sharpshooter Meeting in Nebraska Hall.

The University Rifle club will hold its first meeting Wednesday, Sept. 29, in room 210, Nebraska hall, at 5 p. m. Freshmen in particular are invited to attend, not only to better their chances of making the team, but to help their scores in rifle marksmanship instruction.

All students in good standing are eligible, and if interested, are invited to attend. The annual club dues of $1 are used to purchase medals, equipment, and to help pay for trips taken by the varsity team.

Shooting Range Opens.

The range in Andrews hall will be opened Monday, Oct. 4, and thereafter will be opened Mondays and Wednesdays from 1 to 4, and on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 8 to 4. Staff Sergeant McGinsey will be on duty Wednesdays and Fridays, and Sergeant Engle Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Club members will use the range for practice from the opening date to Nov. 2. Intramural competition will be held Nov. 3 to 10. The remainder of the semester will be devoted to tryouts for teams. There will be places for 10 men on the varsity team, 15 on the R. O. T. C. team, and 10 on the freshman team.

55 FRESHMEN NAMED TO ROTC JUNIOR BAND FOLLOWING TRY-OUTS

Gray-Clad Musicians to Play During Varsity-Frosh Game Saturday.

Freshman band tryouts resulted in the admission to the R. O. T. C. junior band of 55 musicians, whose names were announced by W. T. "Billie" Quick in a meeting at Memorial stadium Tuesday afternoon.

Late tryouts may still be made by appointment with Mr. Quick, band director, altho there is an oversupply of trumpets. Lyman D. Spurlock will be in charge of the freshman band until Mr. Ledwith returns or until his successor is appointed.

Band Appears Saturday.

The band will make its first public appearance this Saturday at the freshman game if this contest is held as scheduled. The junior group will also play with the football band at all home football games but will not march on the field between halves. The freshmen will wear gray uniforms as contrasted to the blue, scarlet and cream outfits of the senior band. Uniforms will be checked out Thursday.

As the Varsity band assembled for its first meeting also, the freshmen were arranged into some semblance of order and marched a short distance. Music was distributed and the first practice was announced to be Wednesday.

New Fresh Personnel.

Members of the freshman band, chosen by tryouts, to date are as follows:

Cornhuskers Frolic in Dogpile With Biff Jones

Head Coach Biff Jones, that stolid army major, received quite a robust reception when the Husker grid practice season opened last week. Led by Sophomore Charley Brook, stand-out center, a contingent of grid-ders including Art Ball, Bob Kahler, Fred Shirey and Bob Mehring pounced upon The Biffer on the opening day in this traditional dogpile.

Elmer Dohrmann, Gus Peters and Johnny Richardson are biding their time for a leap atop the pile of football beef beneath which groined the prostrate figure of Biff.

Assistant Coaches Link Lyman and Harold Browne were accorded the same welcome by the Cornhuskers who did more than make their presence felt.

BOYLEN TO SUCCEED CHARLES ROGERS AS STAGECRAFT TUTOR

New Instructor Will Handle All Stage Designing For 1937 Players.

Alfred Boylen has been secured by the department of speech as the successor of Charles Rogers, former instructor of stagecraft, who has moved to Amherst college at Hanover, New Hampshire. Stagecraft is a course of instruction in lighting effects, general stagecraft, and stage design. Other of Mr. Boylen's duties will be to handle these jobs for the University Players productions thruout the year.

Before coming here this year, Mr. Boylen studied lighting at Yale under Prof. Stanley McCandless, who is one of the outstanding authorities of lighting in the country. He also specialized in scenery construction, theater planning, and production details. Before attending Yale he went to the Polytechnic college in Troy, N. Y., where he studied electrical engineering.

The past two summers Mr. Boylen has been with summer theaters. The year before last he was with the Lake Placid club, where in only three weeks he had to completely rebuild the stage and design all of the scenery for a production. The members did the actual work, but Mr. Boylen did all the designing. Last year he had charge of the lighting at the Milford, Conn., summer theater. His biggest job at Yale was to take care of the lighting for the drama, "Accent of F-6." There were 125 lighting changes in the production.
