AS JOHNNY SEES IT.

Though it was a bit difficult to perceive much thru the flying blood and muck of yesterday's varsity-freshman fracas, I managed to pick up a few quips for the Nebraskan society reader.

In regard to the Jim Stuart, Helen Catherine Davis team, I wish to contradict a previous statement and say that it is now known that they are not really true loving it at all, instead there are plenty of domestic wars abrewing.

Of course, I only heard, but one of the better tales of the day is that of the Phi Psi's going on a Sigma Nu picnic and taking three quarts of cocoa milk.

It might be of interest to the fan to know what the well dressed football man will wear this year. Most of us fellows have gotten together and decided to adorn ourselves in scarlet jerseys with high necks and a sheer weight. Our pants will be of the knitted variety, just the shade of a green olive bordering ripeness. They will fasten at the front with a canvas belt and brass buckle.

Of course no man will be really dressed unless he wears black cleated shoes, preferably unshined. Then there are the accessories which most of the better dressed boys will wear, such as red steak over the eye, white tape about the ribs and ankles, and ducky little five pound helmets with chin straps.

However, after a consensus of opinion had been taken among the squad we decided that we would meet the Gophers dressed informally, thus no full length red socks.

AS MARY ANNA SEES IT

Flash—overheard in a local confectionery, Gene Knox, that blond D. U. from McCook, pricing five pound boxes of candy—this to be delivered Monday night.

Various fraternities were serenaded Thursday night with a super, super version of "Theta Laps" by the girls who live across the street from the Phi Psi house.

Interpretative or Interruptive?

Sign on the gym bulletin board. Wanted to buy one INTERRUPTIVE dancing costume. Tried to get that for my collection, but when I went back someone else had beaten me to it.

People who gripe about the condition of U hall should have seen a girl in teachers college, who, on trying to open a substantial looking door, was left holding the door knob.

Safety in Numbers?

Pat Jensen has disregarded the well known rule that it's really better to cut your quota to one man in every house. Friday night at the Turnpike, Pat was with a A. T. O. pledge Bob Adams. So when Junior Wilson, also A. T. O. turned up with another girl, fraternity brothers requested the orchestra to play "I Love You Truly" for Pat and Junior.

Full House.

The lucky people who have already bought their University Players ticket are going to be unhappy when that surprising comedy, "The Amazing Dr. Chittlehouse" is presented starring Roy Ramsey. In fact, all six plays are absolutely on the must list. Tassels will be selling tickets until Monday night, so don't neglect getting yours. There's just no question about it.

Social Whirl.

Alpha Phi actives entertained for their pledges at tea Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 at the chapter house. Guests were the pledges of all the other sororities. Mary Tracy, social chairman, was in charge of decorations, which according to all reports, were done elegantly in yellow and white carried out on the tea table by tapers and flowers of the two shades.

And, today, Carrie Raymond Hall's new social director, Miss Clementine Newman, will be honored at tea. Housewives, chapter presidents, and social chairmen from all houses on the campus have been invited to meet this charming newcomer.

Fledges of Delta Delta Delta are to be hostesses today to pledges of other sororities, from 3 to 6 at the Tri Delta house. In the receiving line will be Mrs. Coleman, national president of Mortar Board; Maxine Durand, Mrs. Paul Ream, Alene Mulliken, Dorothy Dell McClelland and Doris De Long. The tea tables will be done in the sorority colors, silver, gold and blue, and music furnished by Alice Redwood, Betty Ann Patton and Janet Reigner.

TURNPIKE TO FEATURE SUNDAY MATINEE HOP

Dancing Starts at Three O'clock Today; No Cover Charge.

Sabbath loafers who desire novel entertainment for long and tiresome afternoons will rejoice to hear of the Sunday matinee dances being introduced at the Turnpike beginning Sept. 26. Between the hours of three and seven French Grafroller and his orchestra will play. Special lunches will be served and there will be no cover charge.

NEW PLAYS BUREAU TO OFFER SIX $500 AUTHOR'S AWARDS

Seven Picture Companies To Give Assistance To Authors.

Any ambitious young play writers on the campus, or who have only recently graduated, are invited to submit original plays for entry in the second play competition sponsored by the Bureau of New Plays. Awards of $500 each will be made to the authors of the six best plays; these may be increased to scholarships of $1,250 or fellowship awards of $1,500 or more if the Bureau considers the author worthy of such offers and his work of sufficient merit. However, if a scholarship or fellowship is awarded, the author is expected to submit at least two plays within a year and a half of the award.

The purpose of the Bureau of New Plays is to work in connection with seven major motion picture companies—Columbia, MGM, Paramount, RKO, Twentieth Century-Fox, Universal, and Warner Brothers—in discovering and encouraging young authors interested in theatrical work. This help is not only financial but critical and advisory as well.

All plays submitted must be "full length, original, unpublished and unproduced by any professional theatre," to quote the Bureau. They must also be recommended in writing by the head of the English department of the University, or by his authorized representative.

Competition for these prizes opens Oct. 1, closes Dec. 15, and announcement of awards will be made not later than March 15, 1938.

The purpose of the change in dates is to allow students who have done their writing during the summer to revise them with the help of their professors before submission, and to avoid a concerted rush of students for recommendations at the last minute.

Clyde Davis Orchestra Comes Home to Lincoln

Most of you remember Clyde Davis whose orchestra hit this campus with such a bang last year about this time. The band has been taken over by Ken Nelsen and with several additions now is one of the leading musical crews of the middle west. The twelve musicians are led by Mr. Nelsen who returned from New York City to run his own band. While in New York, Ken played with such stars as Louis Prima, Red Norvo, and Joe Venuti. His band is expected to be one of the sensations of the campus for the fall season.

PLAY CONTEST EXTENDED

Manuscripts for the College Playwriting contest sponsored by the WPA Federal Theatre project and its National Collegiate Advisory committee will be accepted until Nov. 1.

The winning play will be given a run of at least one week at the WPA Federal Theatre in New York City. The successful playwright will receive fifty dollars a week for the play. The theme is unrestricted but plays dealing with contemporary American life are preferred.

INNOCENTS TO INJECT COLOR INTO STANDS WITH RED N FEATHERS

Last year the feathers injected a great deal of color and enthusiasm into the Cornhusker rooting stands, and we hope that they will be even more successful this year.

Distribution of feathers is not restricted to university students, but will be available to any fan calling for one at Gold's after Thursday morning.

ROUND AND ABOUT.

to take in games in this shoulder showing proximity with the participants, the milk toast pastime would lose countless devotees. Only the old women and the theorists and the coke spikers would remain in the stands. We have seen the light, we have been converted. You lie the mortal remains of a sit offish spectator.
