SHUCKS NOW EATING HUMBLE PIE, BUT HAPPY.

We are now eating the juiciest and most delicious piece of humble pie we ever et! Nebraska did not succumb to the mighty Gophers, but versa visa, and by a five point margin, 14-9—yipee!

It's still a mystery to many, as to how it happened. We're not trying to belittle the 1937 Huskers, the mightiest band of scarlet warriors we ever saw, but two touchdowns with only two first downs earned, is no phenomena to "sneeze at."

Quoting Fred Ware, Nebraska's staunchest sports scribe and backer, "I just can't figure it out. They won, but with those statistics: how?"

From the Gopher bench came wails of Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Journal. "Minnesota was only good for 9 points and Nebraska was good for 14, but honest," moaned the northern writer, "our defense wasn't five points weaker than yours."

Comparing notes before the game, Minnesota agreed that their backfield was better than last year as was their pass defense, but that their line was weaker. Nebraskans admitted that their line was better, but that they lacked ball toters and pass defense. Just opposites, the two schools claimed.

Then came the game! Nebraska intercepted every pass that came her direction and couldn't make an inch thru the Nordic's "weaker" line. Both Husker scores came by virtue, directly or indirectly, of forward passes and the Northerner's power was thru the line. All of which belies every pre-game statistic that was supposedly conclusive.

One point the staunch Nebraskans should note is that all the breaks were on their side. Even when McIlravy did a beautiful clip on the 12 yard line in the first half, the penalty was called off because of a mutual violation by Minnesota. Lady luck followed the Huskers thusly thruout the game.—But, as some wise man some place said at some time, "It's a good team that takes advantage of the breaks."

It was Biff Jones' first Husker team on the Memorial field and are the sons of the Scarlet and Cream ever kissing his pedal extremities at this point! His teams (not one, but two) ran hard, blocked hard, played like madmen, and most important of all, came thru in the pinches. Here probably lies the explanation of the glorious upset of the Gophers. Nebraska was hitting the ball harder than were the invaders during said "pinches."

Nebraska's dynamic squad, that has none of the predicted "weak spots," played under the conditions for which they have been praying. It was a sultry day, all the players were in condition, and it was played on the home field. Perhaps the angle which Elmer Dohrmann gave us Friday was a potent factor too. The altitudinous end declared that the uptown betting inspired the boys into frenzied football with the will to knock off the defending national champs.

New kickoff rule come in handy to Huskers on first touchdown march... Minnesota made first touchdown in ten plays... the place kick which Uram missed after Gopher touchdown was the first he had muffed in five years... Joe Benda, Notre Dame scout, believes Brock slated for All American this year... Bierman is only coach that writes the referee a note when he substitutes... Huskers look good on basketball type play this year with four multi laterals yesterday... Huskers did not have ball in Gopher territory until second quarter... Nebraska has good kicker in Howell, even better than expected.

Fumbles more costly to Minnesota than to Nebraska since the latter scored both touchdowns thru Bierman baubles... English will take Sam'l Francis place as place kicker... Mariucci has been offered $7,000 annually to play professional hockey... Nordics have 63,000 tickets sold for Notre Dame and Northwestern games... McIlravy and Gmitro both hurt twice during ahe game. The second time on the same play and both critically injured... there were nine injuries during the game... best thing on the team seems to be a pass combination of Andrews to Dohrmann or Callihan... Jones has still never lost an opening game!

SORORITIES LEAD IN SKIT FILINGS TO KOSMET KLUB

(Continued from Page 1.) usual this year, there will be no extension on the deadline, as has sometimes been done in the past, none has yet formally filed. Due to the fact that the revue is coming several weeks earlier than and the Klub hopes that as many groups as possible will file tomorrow and not wait until the actual deadline.

Filings made to date reveal an unusual amount of promise according to "Doc" Winfield Elias, president of the Klub. Judging of acts will begin during the week following the deadline, and at the first viewing those acts showing least possibilities will be eliminated. A second and final judging will be conducted during the week following the first, with definite selection of those acts to appear in the Saturday morning revue at that time.

Date for filings of candidates for Nebraska Sweetheart will be announced sometime in the near future, according to Elias, Sororities planning to offer a candidate should be making their selection very soon he stated. Following a vote by the entire student body later in the month, the successful candidate will be revealed as the 1937 Nebraska Sweetheart at the revue on Nov. 6.
