AS JOHNNY SEES IT

Nebraska's campus Wednesday was thrown into a frenzy almost equal to that of last Friday. Reason: Bob Wadhams, business manager of the Daily Nebraskan, got a haircut. And it was no ordinary haircut such as the pipe-smoking job usually gets when his hearing becomes impaired. On the other hand, it was closely cropped and well combed so that University students for the first time could gaze upon the full expanse of his beaming countenance.

All day Wednesday, students rallied through the halls of the bakery chanting "Wadhams got a haircut." The throng searched long and hard for Wadhams but it was futile for he was unrecognizable in his abbreviated coiffure. The student body owes me a vote of thanks for it was I who recommended the barber, Charlie of the Liberty.

Wadhams explained his let-down saying that during the 50 minutes it took to clip the wool, he and the barber were engaged in such a commendable conversation that he forgot entirely that his hair was being cut. Personally I think he was thinking too intently about the beer that Charlie buys each new customer.

It will be any day now at the Deit house. Pups, I mean. The place was in an uproar Wednesday night when the expectant Mrs. Delta couldn't be found but Doc Thompson dashed out in his p.j.'s and found her foxing with the Gov.'s bulldog.

Now there's a story about, concerning a romantic D.U. who snipped his pin on an innocent barbershop after the ceremony was duly finished, asked what it meant.

SOCIAL WHIRL

Sigma Chi pledges are going to be nice to their actives for a change and sling a house party for the old boys Friday night. If it's anything like their parties were last year, well, it's just too bad it's a closed affair. They do promise their dates good clean fun, and Ray Dein and Major Phelps will chaperone.

MAYBE HE SITS IN THE BALCONY

The Sigma Nu officers might take time to get a bit better acquainted with the various rooms. Someone called their house yesterday to speak to the president. But it seems that none of the pledges knew who he was so they had a terrible time.

CAME THE DAWN

Sigma Chi's Howie Austin has been seen in the company of a most attractive blond of late. Would you ever have guessed it at this time last year? It seems that the affair with Ruth Van Slyke ended in somewhat of a bang when that little brunette sent back her white cross accompanied by a rather expressive letter.

EASY MONEY

The Auggwan Gore staff will soon be offering Sarah Louise more money than a penny for her thoughts, that is if she keeps on in the same strain as her last two columns.

SINGING IN THE SHOWER

Another prank of the Sigma Nu came off Wednesday night right after their sneak when the frosh were given the works to the tune of 30 boards apiece. Somehow or other the pledges got a bit sore and dragged 3 actives out to a tree where they were more or less tied to the stake and pretty well doused with the hose. The upperclassmen set up a terrible howl.

AS MARY ANNA SEES IT

The Acacia younger set really foxed the actives Wednesday night, when they kidnaped President Jack McKinley and took him handcuffed and gagged away out to Ashland. A wild evening ensued for Jack when he was forced to sit on a table at a local restaurant and to carry an ash tray about for contributions from the other customers. Jack, however, made a gallant get away by means of an S. O. S. sent to his father on a paper napkin.

OUR DANCE TECHNIQUE

If Betty Cherney was mobbed by freshmen at the A. T. O.-Alpha Xi Deit house dance, it might have been because one of the girls gave out the information that Betty was their youngest and most innocent pledge. Someone else added that Betty couldn't dance very well yet, but she was really an awfully NICE girl.

AT LAST

Bob Wadhams had quite a few fans cheering for him yesterday when he appeared in Sosh with a brand new haircut, no less. "Wadhams has a haircut," the sissy.

FOR BEAUTY QUEEN WE NOMINATE

Johnny Howell whose charming face heads our column every day. Really, he's just the candidate for your—personality, self confidence, and everything else you could ask for.

HE HAD ME FOOLED

In quizz class Wednesday, Pat Peterson, prize at the Phi house, volunteered that Marco Polo was an English adventurer. "You're right," answered the quizz master, and did Pat look surprised.

The Kappa Sig's will do their part Friday night too. There is the annual barn dance where youse guys and gals will wear overalls and aprons and like it too. Dates are to be called for in hayricks, so dress the part.

New Trophy Arouses Interest in Kosmet Revue Curtain Skits.

(Continued from Page 1.) All groups to watch these time limits in their rehearsals, as they will be strictly upheld at judgments. No repetition of last year's show, which ran about an hour overtime is to be tolerated this year, they say.

Workers to Aid Entrants

Every Kosmet Klub worker has been assigned to one or more groups who have filed skits for the fall show. Each man is expected to get in touch with the skitmaster of the group to which he has been assigned immediately and to give the act all assistance possible. A list of workers and their assigned groups is as follows:

- Leonard Tanker, Chi Phi, Delta Upsilon, Merrill Lund, Kappa Sigma, Roy Pruitt, Alpha Tau Omega, George Ross, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Sigma Phi, Dick Ryan, Sigma Xi, Ralph Reed, Theta Chi, Fred Simer, Phi Kappa Psi, Robert Nelson, Beta Sigma Psi, Sigma Kappa, Kenneth Ellis, Phi Gamma Delta, Bob Malstrom, Ag college caterer club, Alpha Xi Delta, Grant Thomas, Sigma Chi, Bob Zesch, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Chi Omega, Harold Stroman, Arcels, Charles Rie, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Delta, John Guttry, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Irvin Sherman, Pi Kappa Alpha, Zeta Beta Tau, Warren Romas, Delta Gamma, Phi Grant, Phi Mu, Roy Bryhill, Gamma Zeta Beta, Bob Wirth, Pi Beta Phi, Dick DeBrowne, Delta Delta Delta, Louis Ball, Alpha Omicron Pi, Ross Voder, Kappa Alpha Theta, Orval Hager, Alpha Phi, Jack Crawford, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jean Wolf, Raymond Hall.

AG COLLEGE CAMERA CLUB TO SEE FOREIGN PICTURES AT MEETING

Dr. D. F. Keim to Present Films Taken in Europe Last Summer.

All Ag college students have the opportunity to see and hear Dr. D. F. Keim, chairman of the agronomy department, present color pictures of his recent European tour tonight at 7:30 p. m. at an open meeting sponsored by the Ag College Camera club.

Traveling thru the British isles and the continent Dr. Keim shot the high spots of his stay in England, Scotland, Wales, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and France, and brought them back on 1,200 feet of film. The professor will add interest to the moving pictures with an accompanying commentary.

A new line of instruction will be given this year to the members of the camera club by Dr. Ray Morgan of the dairy department and a skilled photographer, who advised the students in the art of picture taking last year. Aid in developing and printing pictures are added this year. As a branch of the creative activities group, the camera club instruction is for improving the picture taking technique of interested students.

All that is required of a member is that he attend meetings when they are announced. There are no fees of any kind attached to the privilege.

SCOUTS HEAR ILLINOISAN

Alpha Phi Omega Entertains Other Chapter Members.

Instructor W. S. Gregory, former member of the Phi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega in De Kalb, Ill., and John McBride of Aeta chapter in Syracuse, N. Y., spoke at the Alpha Phi Omega rubber smoker held Wednesday at the chamber of commerce building. They described the projects that the fraternity carried out on their campuses and were welcomed to Alpha Sigma chapter.

Edmund Dudek, who recently returned to America after studying in Prague, Czechoslovakia, on a scholarship, spoke about scouting in Czechoslovakia and described economic conditions in the rural districts of that country. Fifteen rushees attended the meeting which was led by Barney Ingram, president, and Harold Knootz, vice president with E. B. Dawson, Cornhusker Council scout executive, assisting.

Life of the Outdoor Scene Artist Becomes That of Last Inspirations, Kirsch Believes.

Many Works on Display

About a third of the works in the exhibition have appeared in shows such as those sponsored by art museums in Chicago, Denver, Kansas City and the Water Color society of Philadelphia. The rest, however, are being shown publicly for the first time. A number of the paintings were done during the past year.

Of special interest to students is a collection of campus sketches which Mr. Kirsch drew for the 1935 Cornhusker. An aquatint of the stadium, suggestive of the recent Minnesota game, is entitled "Nebraska's Goal."

Display of Weaving

In addition to Professor Kirsch's exhibition, Miss Louise E. Mundy, assistant professor of design, has a display of weaving in the glass cases of Gallery A. Miss Mundy spent a portion of the past summer working at the famous weaving colony at Penland, N. C. In one of the cases she is exhibiting some of the work which she did there. In another case she shows her collections of woven articles from various parts of the world, including native weaving from Smyrna and Egypt, and an American hand woven coverlet made in 1848.

Exhibition visiting hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on week days and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Sundays.

Highlights On the Air

BY ELWOOD RANDOL.

Guest star on Hollywood Hotel tonight will be Dolores Del Rio, dark eyed beauty from below the Rio Grande. The screen star will be heard in a preview version of her new picture, "Lancer Spy," an original story written by Gregory Ratoff who will also appear on the program with George Sanders, Peter Lorre and Sig Ruman in supporting roles. "Lancer Spy" is a story of secret agents who meet, fall in love, and the fate of their countries hangs in the balance while they try to work out their salvation. Hollywood Hotel is aired over KFAB this evening at 8.

Chesterfield presents Hal Kemp and Alice Faye (below) this evening at 7:30 in songs from Hollywood. Melodies which have originated in the film capital of the nation will be featured on the program. Miss Faye joined Kemp last July and since that time her songs have become one of the highspots on the Friday night airwaves. She was starred in the recent Twentieth Century-Fox film, "Wake Up and Live." Chesterfield will present the latest football scores on the Eddie Dooley sports review which will come tomorrow at 5:30. Paul Douglas, ace CBS announcer, is also on the program, which is heard over KFAB.

Bess Flynn, author of the Mutual's two ace serial programs, "We Are Four and Bachelor's Children," has been laid up with the flu and during the siege has dictated all her radio scripts to a secretary from her bed.

Deanna Durbin was practically snowed under by all the orchids she received from fellow movie stars last week in Hollywood immediately after the premiere of the 1937 Cantor show. Ken Murray and Cantor spent a half hour in the Brown Derby and an hour outside signing autographs. Hal Kemp and the boys are playing one night stands up and down the coast after concluding their long engagement at the Coconut Grove. Jack Oakie and Parkyakarkus have signed for "Radio City Revels" which goes into production next month. Saymore Saymore claims the following catch for one month's fishing: Three sharks, 7 yellowtail, 176 bass and 543 mackerel. "Sugar" Kane of Jack Oakie's college has been rated the most popular young radio lady by the UCLA college boys. Stuart Erwin is finding photography pretty strenuous. He was taking pictures on a Hollywood gridiron and got mixed up in a scrimmage somehow and is still nursing his bruises. Patsy Kelly, who's a member of the cast of the new Phil Baker show, tells of the time she arrived in Hollywood from New York and couldn't sleep. It was so quiet. So she got Hal Roach to get a couple of trucks to rattle back and forth past the house until she got used to the screaming quiet.

Oscar, famous chef of the Waldorf will be the guest of Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit as they edit the Magazine of the Air this morning over KFAB at 10:00. There will also be a column on food preparation by Bill Adams and a dramatic sketch revealing the adventures in "Carol Kennedy's Romance."

Pauline Lord, actress of stage and screen, will be presented by Ted Hammerstein as the starring guest on the Hammerstein Music Hall which will be heard on KFAB at 7:00. Also to be heard as visiting artists are Michael Loring, radio and motion picture singer, and Rose Blane, vocalist.

MIKE SAYINGS

"Now this festival of Thanksgiving, the Pilgrims did use to have it every once in a while, that is true, but they didn't invent it. They just brought it over from England with them. It's an old English custom called Harvest Home—called that because that's the time when the harvest is brought home."—Norma Stirling in her Funny Things program over CBS.

COACH KNIGHT NEEDS BASEBALL MATERIAL TO SHAPE UP SQUAD

Pitching, Catching Staffs Weakened by Absence Of 1937 Seniors.

Coach Wilbur Knight issued a desperate call for new baseball material today when only a dozen diamond aspirants turned out for the first drill session Monday night. With a squad badly depleted by graduating men, Knight must seek replacements from sophomores and freshmen. The pitching and catching staffs are the weakest and consequently pill hurlers and receivers will find their services most in demand.

Practices will continue on the ag college diamond every afternoon except Friday thru the month of October. Since the spring weather conditions in Nebraska are usually unfavorable for extended rehearsals it is vitally necessary that fall practices be held in order to get the nine in proper shape for league competition. All men who are not active in some regular fall sport are urged to report at the practices and try for a position on the Varsity nine.

12 Lettermen Returning

Twelve lettermen will be back from last year to form the nucleus around which the new Varsity squad will be built. Lettermen returning are Andrews, Denning, Schumaker and Stall, pitchers; Borman and Sundstrom, catchers; Amen, first base; Harris, shortstop; George, third base; Dohrmann, Klein and Johnson, outfielders.

Altho the 1938 schedule has not as yet been definitely drawn up, it will include every team in the Big Six as well as Minnesota from the Big Ten, Oklahoma Aggies and in reiterating his call for more players, Knight declared that the make-up of the squad for the southern trip would largely be conditional upon participation in fall practice.

Others of comparable caliber. In addition a southern trip is being planned for the spring vacation period.

BOLKER APPOINTED 'PRAIRIE SCHOONER' BUSINESS MANAGER

Editor Wimberly Announces Selection of Omaha Student.

Norman Bolker, Omaha pre-med student, has been appointed to the position of business manager of the Prairie Schooner, according to an announcement by Mr. Lowry Wimberly, editor of the publication. Mr. Bolker has done writing for Prairie Schooner for several years. His poem, "Section Gang," appeared in the 1937 summer edition of the magazine and was read on Ted Malone's poetry hour over the NBC network.

The Prairie Schooner is a literary quarterly of national reputation for its publishing of stories, articles and poetry of literary merit. Mr. Wimberly, one of the magazine's founders and editor for 20 years, reports that contributions come from all over the United States and from England. The magazine is published by Mr. Wimberly and students of the University of Nebraska. The next issue of the Prairie Schooner will be on sale late this month on news stands and in Mr. Wimberly's office in Andrews Hall. "Several articles written by Nebraskans will appear in the new issue," Mr. Wimberly stated.

Miss Bettye Zabriskie Gives Musical Program At Temple Wednesday

Miss Bettye Zabriskie, cello instructor of the School of Music, played to an appreciative group of music lovers Wednesday afternoon at the Temple theater, when she presented the second in the School of Music's series of weekly recitals. The program included three movements from the "Sonata in D major" (Locatelli); "Adagio" from Dvorak's Concerto in B minor; "Nocturne in C sharp minor" (Chopin); "Papillon" by Faure; "Danse du Diable Vert," a composition by Casadio; and the "Variations in E flat major," the theme from Beethoven's "Magic Flute."
