

CORNHUSKERS WHIP CYCLONES, 20-7

STATERS SHOOT WORKS IN QUEST FOR BIG SIX WIN

Amen, Plock, Andrews Tally For Scarlet in Opening Conference Tussle.

(Special to Daily Nebraskan.)

STATE FIELD, Ames, Ia.—A stubborn Iowa State football team battled on an even basis with Nebraska's Cornhuskers here yesterday until the fourth quarter when the Huskers pushed over two touchdowns to win their first Big Six conference game 20 to 7.

The regular eleven which turned back the Minnesota Gophers last Saturday saw little action, Coach Biff Jones using his reserve strength extensively. The Cornhuskers victory was marked by two dazzling 80 yard touchdown runs in the first and fourth quarters. Paul Amen, shortly after the Cyclones had scored on the Huskers in the first quarter, took the ball on an end-around play and galloped 80 yards down the sidelines behind perfect blocking for the Husker's first score. Doid converted.

Nebraska's second touchdown came when Marv Plock, misjudging an Iowa State punt, retrieved the ball on his own 28 yard line and scampered thru the entire Cyclone team for a touchdown. A frenzied attempt by Iowa State to tie the score during the closing minutes of the game by passing paved the way for the Huskers final touchdown. MARVIN PLOCK, Richardson Nebraska end intercepted a pass on the Cyclone's 18 yard line and carried it to the 11. Callihan picked up a yard thru center. Anderson sliced off tackle for four yards and the ball was resting on the 6 yard line. Harris Andrews smashed over tackle for the touchdown. The conversion was made from placement by Lowell English.

Repeating their first quarter performance against Minnesota last Saturday, the Huskers allowed the Cyclones to cross their goal within four minutes after the opening kickoff. Bill Kischer, brilliant junior quarterback, after losing a yard on a line

From State Journal. smash, circled the Husker right end for 25 yards bringing the ball to the Iowa State 46 yard stripe. Waite was stopped cold by Shirey on a reverse and a pass intended for Helleman was incomplete. On the next play, Reupke passed backward to Kischer who whipped a forward pass to Helleman that was good for 19 yards. Nebraska took time out. The following three plays, an end run, and two laterals found the ball resting on the Nebraska three yard line where it was pushed over by Kischer. Kischer booted the extra point.

The gridiron was in a soggy condition after it had rained all Friday night. The weather cleared shortly before the game started and the players were not hampered by the condition of the field.

Anderson Clicks At Quarter. John Howell, Husker regular quarterback, did not see action in yesterday's game. Bill Anderson did a good job of signal calling and punting but the Husker passing attack, which was almost a complete failure, needed Howell's arm and eye.

Again this Saturday, as was the case last Saturday, Nebraska's offensive failed to click. No touchdown was made as the result of a steady drive down the field. The Husker defense after a bad first quarter snapped out of a slump and succeeded in bottling up the shifty Iowa State backs.

NUBBINS DROP OPENING TILT Wayne Takes 'B' Team 20-2 As Bradford Stars.

Meeting opposition too powerful and too heavy for their own featherweight and lack of experience, the Nebraska "B" team lost their opener Friday night to Wayne Teachers at Wayne by a 20-2 score.

Stars of the game, played in a drizzling downpour, were Rusty Bradford, former Nebraska freshman player, and Murray, for Wayne, and Bud Cather and Bob Elliott for the Nubbins.

Wayne, Bradford, and Gatewood scored for the victors. The Husker tally came when Bradford was nailed behind his goal line.

Calling 'Em By Morris Lipp

Modesty forbids me from going into ecstasies over Friday's predictions of two-score grid games over the nation, but the temptation to reveal a hastily computed average is too great to overcome.

This week's average mounts to the unprecedented (for me) height of .833 which is nothing short of stupendous, according to the Journal night sports-writers, when you realize some of the upsets. Thirty tussles were called right, six went the other way and three ended in deadlocks.

Those six, though... were really upsets. Baylor 20, Arkansas 14, California 27, Washington State 0, Manhattan 3, Michigan State 0, North Carolina 13, N. Y. U 0, Southern California 14, Ohio

Three top-notchers resulted in ties, which this column tossed away as being half-right and half-wrong. Oklahoma 7, Texas 7, Duke 0, Tennessee 0, Notre Dame 0, Illinois 0. No scores for the Oklahoma A & M-Arizona match could be found, but the former was called for the win.

So, all in all, this column enjoyed a successful weekend in calling the winners, much more successful than last week's .555 but the tangible thrill of predicting the Gopher-Husker outcome o. k. sufficed me. In fact, the thrill, they tell me, was still lingering the following Monday.

Educational Psychology Graduates Receive Jobs

Several former students of the department of educational psychology and measurements have received teaching positions recently.

Among them are Dr. Robert Hardin, who was granted his doctor's degree from here in 1935, who is now assistant professor of industrial education at the University of Oklahoma and is in charge of that institution's $70,000 program for expanding the equipment of the department, and Dr. H. G. Stout, who received his degree this year, who recently has been appointed head of the department of education at Kearney State Teachers college.
