

Shucks HOW DO YOU SPELL BAYLOR, TEACHER?

Baylor! When first we heard the news of the Texas school's addition to the Huskers' 1939 grid schedule, we stopped and reflected. Baylor! Baylor, let's see, where had we heard that name before? Oh yes, it was on the aspirin tablet, we thought. Or was it? Then we went to the library, looked up the name and found that it was a university and that it had a football team.

This column will be brief cause we're so dumfounded at such a selection. For years, Nebraskans have been waiting for their favorite team to schedule a "name team." Now, when they get the opportunity, why did they schedule Baylor? Oh we know, that Baylor had an eleven that would up in the upper strata somewhere, but we'll venture that 9 out of 10 don't know where the school is located. That's no reflection on that institution; it may be one on our own stupidity, but nevertheless we would still like to see some school with a magnanimous name chucked into the next vacancy on the Cornhusker grid slate.

Yearbook Proofs Must Be Returned Saturday Not only must the picture for the Cornhusker be taken, but the proofs for the same must be returned before Christmas vacation starts, announces Manager Howard Linch. Photographer Townsend will be the judge as to whether the return of the proofs was preceding the deadline.

Browne Alters Lineup; Werner Moved to Guard

Results of a shakeup in the first string varsity lineup this week were found, one sophomore getting his first chance as an opener and a forward being shifted to guard.

The shifting came after the Huskers dropped their opener last week end to the Ohio State Buckeyes. Al Werner, who played at forward in the Ohio State game was shifted this week to a guard spot when Lloyd Grimm found it difficult to get used to the change from the sod of the football field to the maple of the basketball court.

In Werner's forward position, Grant Thomas, Kearney sophomore is slated to start. Thomas turned in a good performance last week-end and has been showing up well in practices. He will be the only sophomore on the starting lineup.

Other than these two spots, the first five will remain the same. Ebaugh will play center; Parsons, guard, and Paul Amen, forward.

Ebaugh Game Captain. Floyd Ebaugh, towering center from Superior, Neb., will captain the Scarlet and Cream in its first home game of the season against South Dakota university tonight. Ebaugh is a senior and is playing his third season on the Nebraska team at center.

Coach W. H. Browne was in Omaha last night scouting a game between Creighton university and South Dakota. The South Dakotans are reputed to have a team of veterans which triumphed over the Huskers last year at Vermillion, S. D., in an overtime game. The probable starting lineup: Nebraska South Dakota. Amen Thomas Ebaugh Werner Parsons Parns Ingalls Scifler Vothel Nestim Edberg. Officials: Patk Carroll, Rockhurst, and

W.A.A. INTRAMURAL PROGRAM TO INCLUDE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Sports Calendar in Spring Brings Out Net Stars For Competition.

Tennis in the future will be a part of the W. A. A. intramural sports program instead of a separate club as in the past. The change was made at the last meeting of the W. A. A. council.

Members of the council believe that under the new plan, tennis as a W. A. A. activity will function more successfully. It will allow more individuals to participate as well as give intramural points to the houses represented by the individuals.

Council Maps Tourney. The month when the tennis tournament will be scheduled has not been decided by the council. It will be held in the spring when weather conditions are favorable.

According to the new plan each organized group may send out one doubles team and two singles teams to compete in the elimination tournament against other houses. Groups will be responsible for choosing their own players from a tennis tournament within their own group. Girls playing on the singles team may also play on the doubles team according to the discretion of the group they represent.

BAYLOR REPLACES IOWA ON HUSKERS' 1939 GRID SLATE

Texans to Meet Nebraska Oct. 21; Next Hawkeye Game Set for 1940.

Maj. Lawrence Jones, head football coach and athletic director, announced Wednesday that Baylor university of Waco, Tex., will meet the Husker gridmen at Memorial stadium on Oct. 21, 1939.

The southwest team replaces Iowa on the Nebraska's 1939 slate. However, Coach Jones said that the Hawkeyes would resume relations with this school in 1940.

This will be the fourth opponent from the south that has appeared on the Scarlet and Cream grid. During Mentor Bible's first season here, in 1929, the Cornhuskers and Southern Methodists fought to a scoreless stalemate.

In 1932, these two outfits met at Dallas, and Nebraska came out on the long end of a 21-14 victory. Texas A. & M. was subjugated, 13-0, in 1930 by the Biblemen and in 1933 Texas U. was manhandled, 26-0, by Nebraska.

The contract between Baylor and Nebraska was made on a one year basis. Nebraska's 1939 grid slate: Sept. 30, Indiana at Bloomington; Oct. 7, Minnesota at Lincoln; Oct. 14, Iowa State at Ames; Oct. 21, Baylor at Lincoln; Oct. 28, Kansas State at Manhattan; Nov. 4, Missouri at Columbia; Nov. 11, Kansas at Lincoln; Nov. 18, Pitt at Lincoln; Nov. 25, open; Nov. 30 (Thanksgiving), Oklahoma at Lincoln.

SHIREY, DOHRMANN, BROCK NAMED ALL-SOONER FOES

Husker Tackle Picked as Captain of Opponent Eleven.

Three members of Nebraska's Big Six football championship squad, Elmer Dohrmann, Fred Shirey and Charley Brock, were selected on the all foe team chosen by the University of Oklahoma gridgers. Fred Shirey was named captain of the eleven.

On the Sooner all-opponent outfit are Dohrmann, Nebraska, and Nelson, Missouri, ends; Shirey, (captain), Nebraska, and Kreuger, Kansas State, tackles; Brock, Iowa State, and Graham, Tulsa, guards; Brock, Nebraska, center; White, Tulsa, Cleveland, Kansas State, Kischer, Iowa State, and Douglass, Kansas, backs.

Honorary captain for the 1937 Oklahoma U. team went to Al Corrotto.

VIOLATIONS BRING FINES

Police Tickets Issued Those Not Stopping at Sign.

A fine of five dollars and costs, amounting to $9.70 was given a junior in Teachers College in Municipal court yesterday morning for failure to stop at the stop sign at 14th and S. This is the second university student within a week to be fined for this offense, an engineering junior paying a fine of five and costs, amounting to $10.70 last Saturday.

This stop sign was installed some time ago at the request of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. At all times when the sign is up, a member of this fraternity will be stationed there with full power to stop all cars. The numbers of all cars failing to observe the sign will be taken and turned in to Sgt. Regler.

Biff Jones Faces '38 Grid War Minus Eight Regulars

Reserve Problem Confronts Coaching Staff; Frosh Look Promising.

BY WALTER E. DOBBINS.

Losing six regular linemen and half of his starting backfield along with some capable reserves, Major Biff Jones has a tough assignment ahead of him when he starts grooming his Cornhusker grid charges for the 1938 pigskin campaign. Gone are Elmer Dohrmann, Paul Amen and Johnny Richardson, ends; Fred Shirey and Ted Doyle, tackles; Bob Mehling, Lowell English and Gus Peters, guards; Quarterback Johnny Howell and Halfback Harris Andrews from the 1937 squad.

Experienced replacements are available, however, for every position but there still remains the problem of reserves.

Grimm Returns to Flank. At end Lloyd Grimm, a standout as a wingman during the past season, will be back along with Kenneth Shindo, a minor letter winner. Bob Kahler, a squaddie who did not compete during the season just closed, will be available. The rest must come from the freshmen ranks.

Best of the yearling crop are Fred Preston, Fairbury, 6-3 1/2, 195 pounds; Ray Prochaska, Ulysses, 190, 6-1 and Leo Hann, Grand Island, 190, 5-11. Others include Don Fitz, Lincoln; Royals Kahler, Grand Island and Frank Elam, Falls City.

Jack Ashburn, Tilden; Theos Thompson, Lincoln; Fred Griffin, Sutherland and Dick Hitchcock, Lincoln, will also be battling for berths on the varsity squad.

Mills and Schwartzkopf. Bob Mills of Lincoln and Sam Schwartzkopf, another former Red and Black lineman, top the list of tackle candidates. Right behind them are Vernon Neprud, Ver.; Orville Kingery, Lincoln and a host of first year men headed by Leonard Gauger, Wauneta, 225; Ed. Thompson, Wisner, 220; Elliott Wilson, Alliance, 215; Royal Helzer, Lincoln, 205 and Forrest Behm, Lincoln, 195. Adna Dobson and Bill Pfeiff, another pair of Lincoln huskies, look like the sure thing at guard. But Arlo Klum, Shenandoah, Ia, who has recovered from a knee operation; Warren Alfson, Wisner, and Bill Herrmann, Osceola, squad members during 1937, will be bidding for a place in the sun.

Most promising of the freshmen group are Leonard Muskin, Omaha, 185; Paul Goetowski, Fitchburg, Mass., 190; Everett Lomax, Wilcoxville, 175; Johnny Clemens, Cedar Rapids, Ia., 170, and Vernon Cutshall, Lincoln, 171.

Charley Brock, as we all know, will handle the center position most capably. His chief understudy, Bob Ramey, too will be back. So will Bob Burruss, third stringer last fall.

Fred Meier, Lincoln; Clark O'Hanlon, Blair; and Leo Benson, Lincoln, are the yearling pivot men.

Bright Backfield Picture.

The backfield picture is of a brighter hue. To begin with, Thurston Phelps, who developed into one of the greatest passers ever to wear the Scarlet, expects to be on hand to call signals. Jack Dodd and Marvin Flock each have another season and so does Bill Callahan.

That quartet of ball carriers is a better-than-average backfield to start with. But the Biffer has a string of other hopefuls—Bill Anderson, Bud Cather, Bob Morris, Jim Mather, Hugo Hoffman, and Roy Petsch—all holdovers from last fall. Petsch, like Bob Kahler, did not compete, but should be ripe for duty.

Coaches Ed Weir and Adolph Lewandowski point with pride to the freshmen backfield crop. On paper it is the best in several seasons.

Harry Hopp, Hastings, 172; Vike Francis, Ft. Morgan, Colo., 200; George Knight, Lincoln, 176; Edsel Wibbles, Wolbach, 200; and Eldon Nuernberger, Wakefield, 190, appear to be the outstanding performers. Floyd Newton, North

NUBBINS BATTLE KEARNEY NORMAL IN SECOND GAME

Wilson, Borman, Therien, Hulbert, Duncan Open for Nebraska.

Coach Randall Watkins' Kearney Teachers quintet, holding a recent 35-18 win over Hebron junior college, will meet the Nebraska Nubbins this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the ag college floor. This will be the second test for the Husker reserves as they downed Luther college, 41-39, in an extra period game in the season's opener.

Dow Wilson of Dow City, Ia., and Ivan Borman of Papillion, forwards; Bob Therien of Lincoln, center; and Max Hulbert of Lincoln and Bruce Duncan, guards, will likely be on the floor for the opening tipoff. Others who should see action are Irving Yaffe of Omaha; Kenneth Lord of McCook; Bruce Campbell and Ralph Fitz both of Lincoln.

Midland comes here Saturday at 3 p. m. to tackle the Huskers. The visitors' lost their initial venture of the season to Wayne, 38-24. Myron Brock, brother of Nebraska's famous grid pivotman, and Frank Smagacz are the bright lights on the Fremont squad.

OVER 50 WOMEN PRACTICE IN FIRST RIFLE WORK-OUT

Team Selection, Elimination Tournament Scheduled After Vacation.

More than 50 members participated in the second practice of the girls' rifle club held Thursday between the hours 6:30 and 10:30. The club for this year was organized last week.

Lorraine Grant, head of the organization, is optimistic concerning the club's program for the year. She states that there are more than a usual number of good markswomen from whom to choose teams.

Immediately after vacation members will be placed on teams to run off an elimination tournament. Later the 15 outstanding shooters will be given further training in order to form a varsity team.

The club this year is planning matches with other clubs throughout various states. According to Miss Grant, several matches have already been arranged. The first will probably take place in late January.
