

HUSKERS CHALK UP 29-18 VICTORY

COLORADO QUINTET, BROWNE MEN CLASH IN SLAM BANG TILT

Southpaw Paul Amen Blocks a California Basket

Cornhusker Forward Paul Amen leaps to stop a basket tossed by Golden Bear Lewis Goldenson, No. 7, in a tense moment of the Nebraska-California game Saturday night. Lending moral assistance to Paul are Floyd Ebaugh, No. 32, and Alton Werner.

YOU CAN'T GET THE WHOLE HOG IN A SANDWICH

Did you go to the California game Saturday night? There was sure a raft of people there, wasn't there? Or should we say a rafter full? Unofficial count said that it was a near record crowd or in other words hovered about the 8,000 mark. And, think of the profit in basketball! The next time we see Business Manager John K. Selleck with that "I wish we could get bigger crowds" expression, we're gonna be awful disgusted with John.

We saw him from the balcony going around the coliseum taking a nose count. He looked like the crowd was only fairly pleasing to him. It's a little like complaining because you were born with a silver spoon in your mouth—in- stead of a platinum one. If we are right and Mr. Selleck does expect to get more than 8,000 people into the coliseum for a basketball game, we want to help, because such a feat won't be easy.

We can't overlook the fact, Mr. Selleck, that some 500 of the people there Friday night couldn't see the game. Of course the play by play description of Harold Petz as he would say, "please don't smoke in here" soothed the complaints of those unfortunate beings. Incidentally, Petz isn't fooling when he says don't smoke. You'd be surprised how much a smoke filled court hampers the average basketball player. Getting back to our problem of "putting a size 11 pedal extremity into a No. 5 shoe," we can't overlook the fact either that bleachers completely enveloped the arena and there was about a two coat veneer of humanity on those bleachers. Where we sat it was just two bad for the man who lost control of his emotions and stood up to cheer, for when he turned to recover his seat, it had vanished, just like a cow track in the soft mud. A little farther down they were packed so tight that they had to count off to breathe.

Well, Mr. Selleck, if we're going to get more than 8,000 people in that coliseum were going to have to be ingenious. First of all, Mr. Selleck, we thought that by building balcony over balcony like a stack of wheat cakes that the capacity could be greatly increased. Then too, think of the number of fans that could be seated if the bleachers were constructed a la ferris wheel. We estimate that the crowds could be tripled. No one person would get to see the entire game, but each would at least get to witness a third of the fray. Two-thirds of the time he would be spent in making the revolution when the floor would not be in view. But think of the suspense as you awaited your allotted glimpse of the action.

Still more could be crammed into the field could be dangling from the rafters those canvas and elastic baby seats; you know, the

Buffalo Cagesters Bow To Nebraska Speed, Superior Passing.

Colorado university's Buffalo basketball quintet bowed to the superior speed and passing of the Nebraska Cornhuskers last night in a slam bang game which ended 29-18.

The game was a ragged affair the whole route. During the last ten minutes of the tilt, when Coach W. H. Browne turned the game over to the second team, the crowd of about 6,000 was kept in an uproar of laughter as the two teams tumbled and scrambled about the floor in frantic attempt to gain possession of the sacred pill.

Amen High Scorer.

The Huskers got away to an early lead accounting for 11 points while their opponents scored but 2. Paced by Paul Amen who was high point man of the game with 12 counters, the Huskers displayed a crisscross offense which baffled the invaders. After whipping the ball around out court for a few moments a Husker would break loose and drive in for a setup. The half ended with the Huskers out in front by a score of 15-8.

Just after the second half had opened, Paul Amen was forced from the game because of a sprained ankle. At this point the Buffaloes trimmed the Husker lead to 4 points which was as close as they got. The Scarlet immediately opened up and widened the margin to 15 points, 27-12. Then the Nebraska seconds entered the game and things began to happen. Lloyd Grimm's headlong drives into the basket seemed to bring out the football in the Coloradoans and the Nebraskans retaliated with an equally good brand of ball. Both teams spent a good part of the time on the floor squirming for the elusive oval.

In a preliminary game, the Nebraska B team trounced the Freshman team by a score of 19-9.

The box score:

Nebraska	fg	ft	Colorado	fg	ft
Amen f	3	3	Greve f	2	2
Thomas f	1	3	Thurman f	2	2

GRAPPLERS HOLD INTRA-SQUAD TILT NEXT THURSDAY

Varsity to Meet Novices In Practice Session For Minnesota.

An intra-squad practice meet has been scheduled for the Nebraska wrestling squad in preparation for the first dual meet of the year which will be held on Feb. 4, when the Minnesota grapplers are encountered in Lincoln. The Nebraska squad has been divided into kind that have two holes thru which the tot sticks its legs. This would avoid any waste space overhead. Fans occupying these seats would get a double thrill as they jump to their feet with excitement for those seats have no foot board and plenty of the "bouncy bouncy" element.

If all these inventions do not suffice our crowd count, Mr. Selleck, then we have one last suggestion. We could do away with the playing floor entirely and cover it with bleachers. In this manner we could seat more people and no one would miss any of the game.

two groups for the practice meet—the novices and freshmen versus the varsity squad.

The tentative lineups for Thursday's grapple has been set as follows:

Varsity	Novice
Webster	Kuska
Claire	Burns
Luke	Cather
Williams	Skogvold
Knight	Horn
Fidler	Braser
Yost	Condon
Johnson	Anderl

Coach Jerry Adams indicated that the probable lineup for the Minnesota meet would include Fred Webster, 118, Lee Claire, 126, Bill Luke, 135, or Wayne Smiley, Jim Knight, John Williams, or Don Shelberg 145, Ray Tomes, Jerry Adams, or Milford Smith 155, Paul Fidler 165, Carl Lauretson or Carl Yost 175, and DeLoss Johnson heavyweight.

The athletes' nemesis, intelligibility, struck the squad hard, taking Bud Cather 135, and Charles Meigel 126, and may even remove Bill Luke from the team.

Strong in 145 and 155 Pounds.

Competition is strongest in the 145 and 155 pound divisions, with Jim Knight, John Williams and Don Shelberg about even in the 145 pound class and Ray Tomes, Jerry Adams, and Milford Smith battling it out for the call in the 155 pound class. Knight, high point of the Nebraska team last year and third high point man in the Big Six, is on the inside track in the 145 pound class and Tomes is leading the field in the 155 pound division.

Whitman, who won a major letter two years ago, has an injured shoulder and may be out of action for three or four weeks.

The match which was tentatively scheduled for Jan. 14 and 15 with Southwestern State Teachers and Central State Teachers of Oklahoma has been indefinitely postponed. This meet may be held next semester but negotiations are not complete as yet. The complete schedule will be made public in a few days.

W. Endres Bahls, who graduated from here in electrical engineering in 1929, and is now with the Radiotron division of RCA will read a paper entitled "A New Type of Vacuum Seal" at the winter program of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Bahls is a Lincoln boy.

Huskers Rank as Favorites On East-West Classic Trip

Autographed Game Spheroid Presented to Biffer's 13 Year Old Son.

By John Stuart.

"Big Elmer Dohrmann for his receiving of flips and all around play, Sloan of Arkansas for his heaving of passes, and Sweeney from Notre Dame on the East team for his speed on going down on kicks are in my mind the most outstanding players that participated in the East-West game" stated Biff Jones yesterday.

"Biff" also commented on the fine blocking and tackling of Fred Shirey as well as his excellent handling of the ball on laterals. He thought all the boys from this section of the country which included Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Drake as well as Nebraska "did mighty fine" and certainly gained the respect of their fellow players from other sections of the country.

Game Gave Satisfaction.

"The boys derived a great deal of satisfaction out of this game," "Biff" explained that this East-West game which ended in a charity game, the proceeds of which go to the Shrine hospital in San Francisco to be used for the caring for crippled children. He stated that the players thus felt that it was more than just another post-season game. About $450,000 has been raised for this hospital since the series of games started and about $50,000 was contributed this year.

Unlike some of the other bowl games, the only compensation the coaches and players received was a fine sweater and Elgin watch. An interesting trophy lying on Biff Jones desk is a football, containing the autographs of all the players and coaches who participated in the East-West game, which was presented to his thirteen year old son, Lawrence, who went with him to California.

Players Live in Frats.

The boys arrived in California on December 20, and during the two weeks' stay remained at a fraternity house on the 9,000 acre campus. Dohrmann and Shirey were among two of the most popular fellows on the West team, all of whom stayed at this frat house and thus became well acquainted. Besides meeting at the game, the players on the opposing teams had a chance to get acquainted at a dinner given in their honor at the Palace hotel after the game. Of all the games played in 13 years of the East-West series, Jones stated that this last game was the most interesting even though it did end in a tie. The capacity crowd was thrilled by the passing of the West team. They completed 14 out of 29 heaves and a player in the backfield on the opposing team remarked that he thought he was in a baseball game—the ball was thrown about so much.

"BIFF" JONES From Lincoln Journal

Bierman Opposes Jones.

Commenting on having Bernie Bierman of the mighty Gophers, Jones merely remarked that they have always been good friends, he highly respected his northern neighbor, and he was very pleased to have such an outstanding man as his opponent.

Our coach was not worried in the least in the rapid increase of "bowls" which has been going on in the past few years. He was very much in favor of the Shrine classic. In his opinion, if the bowl situation became more acute, something would have to be done as allowing no more bowls to present an increase. As for increasing the length of the playing season, he remarked that the weather and the necessity of football players getting back to their classrooms would prevent any such possibility.
