

Brownemen to Shoot the Works Tonight

Fired by the determination to knock Oklahoma off of its pedestal, the Nebraska Cornhuskers will shoot the works tonight in a desperate attempt to end the winning streak of the now famous Sooner "kids."

The Norman crew had a close call last Saturday night when the Huskers led them to the tape only to fall before the last minute Sooner drive. The crowd estimate for tonight's game runs well over 7,000.

With a large crowd on hand there should be a lot of yelling and enthusiasm, organized and otherwise. We don't attempt to defend or approve what follows but would like to present this clipping from the Daily Californian in regard to the enthusiasm of the cheer leaders and the organized cheering section. This "As Others See You" was written by a California rouser who witnessed the California-Nebraska basketball game last month. Under the title of "Three Cheers" the article follows:

By Betty Stecker '38.

After seriously considering the matter, we think Bob Wiley is a good yell leader. Please, Bob, don't let this go to your head.

We have seen the University of Nebraska yell leader, and have consequently realized why an improvised bear roosting section of three members was conspicuous in the midst of the Cornhusker roosting section.

Garbed in the conventional white flannels, and what Ired the Cal students—a red sweater, the mid-western cheer leader trucked about the floor seemingly humming to himself. His assistant, practically concealed behind the deprecating N and U on the front and back respectively of his sweater, must have been in charge of the arm work. It tired us out just to watch him exert himself to the extent of moving both fists up and down within a distance of at least six inches while leading a yell. The old idea that cold weather musters energy must be a myth.

And you women who think pom-poms are inane, and who advocate rooters caps for women should go east. Then you could wear a whole outfit including white skirt, red sweater, and red beret even to basketball games. There would be no more breaking of pom-pom sticks either—the women there just wave their arms back and forth.

We certainly have to hand it to Nebraska for having a wonderful basketball team. They never would have won that game on the enthusiasm of the student body.

In another spot in the paper Lincoln is classed as the worst college town in the country as far as eating places are concerned. The writer complains that "Buck's Bootery" is not the best place in which to get something to eat in spite of the directions as one of Lincoln's finest. Perhaps the officer was thinking of "Steve's Snackery" and had a little difficulty with the alphabet.

Huskies Take Final Title Fling

Scarlet Meets Sooner Team Tonight at 8

Paul Amen Captains Quint Against Top Ranking Oklahoma Five.

With everything to gain and nothing to lose, Nebraska's Cornhuskers will take the floor against Oklahoma University's "kid" team at the coliseum tonight.

PAUL AMEN

Paul Amen, senior forward, will captain the Husker team in the Oklahoma game. The game will be dedicated to Amen in honor of his last year as a Husker cager. In following home games, each senior will be named game captain and the game which he captains will be dedicated to him.

Still smarting from the 50-48 defeat by the Sooners last Saturday night which put them out of the running for a Big Six championship, the Huskers will probably open up and show a brand of ball similar to fast breaking type of ball used by the Sooners.

Husker Average Height Rises. Although a victory over Oklahoma would not improve the standing of the Huskers it would throw the Oklahomans into a two-way tie with Kansas university for first place in the Big Six race.

The average height of the Scarlet quintet jumped about an inch this week when Elmer Dohrmann, 6 foot 5 inch forward began working out on the first five, replacing Bill Kovanda and Grant Thomas who have been alternating at the spot all season. Dohrmann who had trouble in getting under way after a long football season, turned in good performances at both Kansas university and Oklahoma university last week.

Lineup Unchanged. The rest of the Husker lineup will remain unchanged. Parsons and Werner, guards; Ebaugh, center; Amen and Dohrmann forwards, being the most likely to get the starting call from Coach W. H. Browne.

Probable starters on the Oklahoma club will be Bill Martin, lone senior on the Sooner squad, and Marvin Mesch, sophomore who piled up 22 points against the Scarlet at Norman Saturday, at the guard positions. "Moon" Mullen, will hold down his usual pivot spot and Jimmy McNatt and Roscoe Walker, two sophomores, will occupy the forward berths.

NEBRASKA QUARTERBACK ELIGIBLE FOR NEXT YEAR

Thurston Phelps to Have One More Term of Varsity Competition.

Husker grid fans will be glad to hear that Thurston Phelps, the "Exeter Earthquake," will be eligible for Biff Jones' 1938 signal calling job. At present he is working out with the track squad, and will report for the spring football sessions which open Feb. 28th.

THURSTON PHELPS

The Big Six rule states that an athlete who has enough credit hours to graduate in the spring, is not eligible to compete the following year. However Phelps is fortunate enough to be just two hours short of the required number of hours. Phelps saw much action last fall and it was his accurate pass to little Marv Plock that downed Missouri, 7 to 0. An all stater in high school, he has been hampered by a bad knee, and he has never been able to hit his stride. Nebraska will be in need of a quarterback with the graduation of All Big Six Johnny Howell, and the Exeter lad should fill the bill.

The graduate school of social work received ten requests for graduate students for positions in Nebraska, Iowa and Washington. Miss Nan I. Gerry, instructor in the school of social work, conducted an institute on case work before the meeting of the Southeast Association of Assistant Directors Thursday.

Dr. Ernest F. Witte, director of the graduate school of social work, attended the meeting of the social science groups at Atlantic City recently.

MARTIN ONLY SENIOR ON OKLAHOMA SQUAD

BILL MARTIN

Lone senior on Oklahoma's sophomore basketball team this campaign is Bill Martin, 180 pound guard, lead hound of the fast breaking Sooner pack.

Martin led the Big Six conference in scoring last season until an attack of influenza laid him low late in the year. He was high point scorer of the Oklahoma team and outstanding free goal shot in the conference. He will be seen in action tonight when the Sooners clash with the Cornhuskers in the coliseum at night at 8.

SOONER COACH

HUGH McDERMOTT

Here's Hugh McDermott, canny little Scotchman who is bringing his team of sophomores to the coliseum floor tonight with four wins and no losses.

The Sooners have finished in the first division of the Missouri Valley and Big Six conference races 12 of the last 14 years and have won 122 and lost 80 conference games for a lifetime percentage of 60.3.

BETA'S EDGE VICTORY FROM SIGMA NU, 16-15

A.T.O.'s, Phi Gam's, S.A.M.'s Sig Ep's, D.U.'s, Kappa Sigs Also Win.

Class A intramural basketball teams swung into action for the second time last night. All scheduled games were not played and the competition was limited to Leagues 1, 2, 3, and 4.

The feature game in League 1 was the 16-15 conquest of Beta Theta Pi over the Sigma Nu. Center Sid Held again led the scoring attack for the Betas, scoring 8 points. Townley was best for the losers with 5. The other League 1 tilt saw the A.T.O.'s recuperate from their early defeat at the hands of the Betas by swamping the Phi Psi's 22-7.

In League 2 Phi Gamma Delta again impressed with a decisive 26-8 win over the Farm House

FAST BREAKING SOPHOMORES

VERNON MULLEN ARVIN MESCH ROSCOE WALKER JIMMY McNATT

These four fast breaking sophomores, with Senior Bill Martin, will be trying to make it five in a row tonight on the coliseum boards when the Sooners meet Nebraska in a return engagement. The Oklahoma crew finished ahead of the Cornhuskers in Norman last Saturday night by a score of 50-48. Should the Sooners win, another obstacle in the way of the loop crown will be removed.

Scherer and Baum led the Fiji scoring attack with 8 points apiece while Stout, with 4, was best for the losers. The other game played in League 1 saw Sigma Alpha Mu edge Zeta Beta Tau 10-8. High scorer of the game was Kaplan of the losers who scored 8 points.

Sigma Phi Epsilon smothered Sigma Chi 29-5 to hang up an impressive win in League 3. Durfee was high point man for the winners with 8 counters while Cleveland was best for the Sigma Chi. Delta Upsilon decided Lambda Chi Alpha 16-12 in the other League 3 game. In League 4, Kappa Sigma surprised by scoring a decisive 18-8 victory over the Delta Tau Delta who were handicapped by the absence of Center Charley Brock. For the Kappa Sigs Herndon, sharpshooting guard led the scoring attack with 6 counters. Johnny Howell garnered 4 points to lead the Delta. In the other League 4 game Foster scored 6 points to lead Theta Chi to a 25-8 victory over Pi Kappa Alpha.
